TREATIES, ENGAGEMENTS, AND SANADS relating to THE CENTRAL INDIA AGENCY

INTRODUCTION.

THERE are in the Central India Agency (besides the States in the Bundelkhand and Baghelkhand Agencies, which are treated separately as differing in many respects from other parts of Central India) seven States under direct treaty engagements with the British Government; namely, Gwalior, Indore, Bhopal, Dhar, the Dewas States (senior and junior branches), and Jaora, and ninety-four minor States and Estates, which are either held under agreements mediated between them and their superior Chiefs by the British Government, or are held direct from the British Government though not by treaty.

Of the greater States Bhopal and Jaora are Muhammadan, and the rest are Hindu (mostly Rajput or Maratha).

Of the minor States, four, viz, Kurwai, Muhammadgarh, Basoda (Nawab) or Haidargarh Basoda, and Pathari, are Muhammadan, and the rest Hindu.

The multiplicity of petty Chiefs, and the peculiarity of the tenures on which they hold their States, founded as they are on the measures adopted for the pacification of the country after the Pindari war, necessitate on the part of the British Government in Central India and Malwa more interference in the affairs of the Chiefs than it is usual or expedient to exercise in the States of Rajputana. Under the Marathas, as had previously been the case under the Muhammadan governors, the petty Chiefs in Central India exercised but limited powers within their respective States; and on the establishment of British supremacy in these provinces the officers of the British Government naturally assumed the position of arbiters of all differences by which the public peace could be disturbed, and of judicial functionaries to whom all sentences of life and death were referred, except in the case of offences committed within the jurisdiction of the larger States, which had vitality enough to preserve peace within their limits. The minor Chiefs, other than those in whose favour an exception has been made by the Government of India, refer all serious cases, more especially those involving capital punishment, whether inter-jurisdictional or not, to the political agents concerned

A list of the various payments made under treaty or otherwise by or to the British Government is appended to this introduction.

Rules for the amicable settlement of boundary disputes between the States of Central India by mutual agreement; and, failing that, for their judicial settlement by a boundary commission, for the demarcation of the boundary; for the erection of pillars and for their preservation; for the exaction of penalties from States whose subjects infringe the settlement; and for appeals from the decisions given, were laid down by Government in 1862. These rules formed the basis of those prepared in 1877 and at present followed in settling disputed boundary cases in Central India and Rajputana. They were slightly modified in 1891, chiefly with a view to the better protection of boundary marks.

The area of Central India, excluding Bundelkhand and Baghelkhand is about 54,596 40 square miles, with a population, by the census of 1901, of 5,765,431. These figures include railways and cantonments. Inclusive of Bundelkhand and Baghelkhand, the area of Central India is about 78,771 90 square miles, and its population, by the census of 1901, 8,628,781.

Regarding the States which are in direct treaty relationship with the British Government nothing further need be said in this place.

The case of what are commonly called the Mediatized Chiefs is somewhat complicated, and the following remarks will serve to elucidate the subject :—

At the close of the Pindari war the districts in Malwa and Central India were in so disorganized a state as to be unsafe even for troops to pass through. It had been the policy of the Chief Maratha powers during the preceding years of anarchy to reduce to subjection the petty Rajput Chiefs within their influence. The Maratha leaders parcelled out the districts among themselves either by mutual agreement or caprice, or according to their power to enforce obedience to their will and authority. Thus it came to pass that at the time of the introduction of the British power, the smaller States were found under tributary obligations to Sindhia, Holkar, or the Puars of Dhar and Dewas, and sometimes to all these Chiefs. The tributary claims of the Maratha States were occasionally fixed and well defined, but generally varied, both in amount and in the regularity of their enforcement, with the power to exact them. Many of the smaller Chiefs, who had been driven from their possessions, found refuge in the hill fastnesses and jungles, and avenged themselves by levying contributions from, or altogether destroying, the detached villages which had been usurped by the stronger powers. Their example was imitated by men who, without any claims to territorial inheritance, had influence enough to gather round them a sufficient number of robbers to make themselves feared. Unable to suppress such outrages, the larger States found themselves compelled to purchase the good-will of the plundering leaders by allowing them a share of the revenues of their districts as black-mail, or tankha, on condition of their abstaining from aggressions.

Such a system could only exist in the absence of a power sufficiently strong to enforce peace and good order. For the pacification of the country all parties eagerly solicited the interference of the British Government, who the more readily undertook the task because of the opportunity which it afforded them of breaking the continuity of the influence of the Maratha powers, with whom they had recently been engaged in a contest for empire, by establishing throughout Malwa a succession of Rajput Chiefs and others owing the security of their estates and the comparative independence of their position to the intervention of the British Government. The policy pursued by the British Government was to declare the permanency of the rights existing at the time of the British occupancy on condition of the maintenance of order ; to adjust and guarantee the relations of such Chiefs as owed mere subordination or tribute, so as to deprive the stronger powers of all pretext for interference in their affairs ; and to induce the plundering leaders to betake themselves to peaceful pursuits either by requiring their superiors to grant them lands under the British guarantee, or by guaranteeing to them payments equivalent to the tankhas which they levied.

The results of these measures, as described by Sir John Malcolm, were a virtual surrender of the supremacy over the petty States * and Chiefs to the British Government ; the reduction of the military classes to the control

* The three schedules appended to Malcolm's Report on Malwa (History of Central India) contain lists of most of the Chiefs who had received guarantees. The engagements with nearly all of these will be found in the following pages of this book. But of some whose names are entered in Malcolm's lists no trace can now be found. It will be convenient for purposes of reference to note these here :—

Extract from the schedules appended to Malcolm's History of Central India, showing those petty Chiefs, Girasias, etc., who received guarantees at that time, but who cannot now be traced.

No.	Names of Chiefs and those on whom they have claims.	Amount, and conditions under which it is paid.
SCHEDULE II.	17 Rawal Nawal Singh on the Nawab (Bhopal).	5,000 Rupees annually to be paid from the kachahri.
	45 Nawal Singh on Holkar .	40 Rupees annually. (Note.— This Nawal Singh is supposed to be the same as No. 17.)
	49 Rao Zallm Singh on Kota .	400 Ditto ditto,
SCHEDULE III.	13 Bishan Singh, Mandloi, with Bhikaji, Kamasdar of Dargaon.	Bishan Singh claimed certain dues from the pargana which the Kamasdar refused as being unjust. On reference, Sir J. Malcolm decided that the former should have 3 per cent. dami land, agreeably to the existing sanad; Rupees 4 bhet from each village; Rupee 1 bhet for each renewed patta; two villages in inam; and quarter of the collections on sayar, etc., 29th November 1819.
	20 Sudhan Singh of Bhillwara with Bhawani Das.	This was a dispute between Sudhan Singh and Bhawani Das, because the latter appropriated to himself the donations to the god Devi; settled that Sudhan Singh pay Bhawani Das a certain sum, and the latter not to interfere with the collections made from devotees, 4th December 1819.
	23 Mohan Singh with the Holkar State.	Mohan Singh's father held 300 bighas of land for village service from the Government, but on his death the land was resumed; settled that Mohan Singh receive a grant of 100 bighas in inam, June 1820.
	25 Unkar Lal, Zamindar, with Manik Ramjani.	Unkar Lal to pay Rupees 500 annually to Manik Ramjani, whose nose had been cut off at the instigation of Unkar's mother, and who also was plundered of all her property, September 1820.
	35 Rao Devi Singh Gond .	A jagir of Dhairi, and a bhet of Rupees 5, and Rupees 2 per cent, on the revenue from each village in Nimanpur Makrai. (Note.— A settlement of this kind was made direct between the Dhar Darbar and Devi Singh, but not under the guarantee or through the mediation of the British Government. No trace of such guarantee is to be found among the Darbar records.) of the British power ; and the cessation of ruinous interference in the affairs of the smaller States on the part of their more powerful neighbours.

From the guarantee thus given no deviation was permitted. "Where any circumstances," says Sir John Malcolm in his report on Malwa, "call for the interference of the British Government and an engagement or guarantee is given, no departure from that is permitted. It is indeed by the maintenance of the impression that the signature and seal of a British officer is, to whomsoever granted, the completest of all securities for his rights, privileges, or possessions, that our power over the multiplicity of States and Chiefships depends ; and it is, above all others, a point upon which we can never with safety admit the slightest evasion, much less deviation." In later times, however, when long years of peace have obliterated the memory of the embarrassments which the Girasia leaders were able to create, their guaranteed rights have occasionally been lost sight of. The larger States have forgotten that their claims over the less powerful Chiefs were only established by a power stronger than their own ; and it has been their policy to encroach on the guaranteed rights of their subordinates, which they justly consider to be marks of dependence, and gradually to reduce the subordinates to entire obedience to themselves.

On the other hand, the guaranteed Chiefs, relying on the protection of the British Government and the limitation imposed on the power of their superiors, have not unfrequently attempted to assume a degree of independence to which they are not entitled. It has proved a matter of much difficulty for the officers of the British Government to hold both parties fast to their engagements ; but the necessity for a strict adherence to the engagements concluded in 1818 is as strong now as it was then. The degree of interference exercised by the British Government in the affairs of the guaranteed Chiefs varies with the nature of the engagements concluded, which were very numerous and diverse in character, some being in the form of engagements between the superior State and the subordinates guaranteed by the British Government ; others being sanads or deeds issued by the representative of the British Government either alone or conjointly with the ruler of the superior State ; and others being mere orders or parwanas issued by the superior Chief to which the representative of the British Government attached his signature as guarantee. But although there is very great diversity in their tenures, the guaranteed Chiefs may all be divided into two great classes, vis., first, those Chiefs in the administration of whose affairs the interference of the superior is excluded by the express terms of the guarantee ; and, secondly, those Chiefs whose sanads contain no such stipulation. The policy of the British Government towards the guaranteed Chiefs in respect to the devolution of the guarantee, the recognition of successors whether natural or adopted, and the levy of nazarana, is governed by the following general rules:—

(1st) The guarantee given by the British Government descends in all cases to direct heirs.

(2nd) When there are no direct heirs the previous recognition by the British Government of an adopted heir is, as a rule, essential to the continuance of the guarantee: with this previous sanction the guarantee descends to an adopted heir.

(3rd) When previous sanction has not been obtained, the guarantee does not descend to adopted heirs, unless the adoption subsequently obtains the formal sanction of the British Government.

(4th) When there are no heirs, direct or adopted, the escheat of the guaranteed estate or tankha is to the superior Chief and not to the British Government.

(5th) When the interference of the superior in the affairs of the subordinate Chief is expressly barred by the terms of the guarantee, the decision of all questions relating to succession, direct or by adoption, rests solely with the British Government.

(6th) When there are direct heirs to an estate or tankha, the sanad for which does not expressly bar the interference of the superior Chief, the decision regarding the succession and the continuance of the guarantee rests solely with the British Government; but the superior Chief has a right to be heard if he has any reasonable objections to bring with reference to either (a) the legitimacy, or (b) the directness of the descent.

(7th) When there are no direct heirs to such an estate or tankha, and the British Government sanctions the succession of an adopted heir, the superior is entitled to a hearing of his claim to the escheat; but he has no concurrent authority with the British Government in deciding the question of succession, nor, where a British guarantee is involved, can he take any step in recognition of an adopted heir in advance and independently of the British Government.

(8th) Tankhadars have no power over the tankhas beyond their own lives, and no right to burden them with sums payable after their death.

(9th) When the terms of the guarantee exclude the interference of the superior Chief, the subordinate Chief is not liable to pay nazarana. In other cases a nazarana equal to one-fourth of the net revenue of the guaranteed estate or tankha may be levied by the superior Chief on the occurrence of a succession by adoption to the guaranteed estate or tankha. On such occasions the superior Chief gives to the subordinate a dress of honour equal in value to one-fourth of the nazarana.

(10th) None of the mediatized Chiefs have power of life and death. They must submit all trials for heinous crimes, and all sentences of death, or transportation or imprisonment for life, to the local officers of the British Government.

In the year 1889 Rules were framed, with the approval of the Government of India, for facilitating the pursuit, apprehension and extradition of criminals between some of the States of Central India, such as Bhopal, Rajgarh, and Narsingarh. These rules are now observed by all the States in Central India.

Daly, or Residency, College.—Before 1882 there were no special arrangements for the education of the sons and other relations of Chiefs in the Central India Agency. In that year a separate building was taken for the purpose, and a suitable staff entertained. In 1885 a new college building, which had been specially constructed from subscriptions given by the Chiefs and leading Nobles, etc., of Central India to commemorate the services to Central India of General Sir Henry Daly, was formally opened by the Viceroy under the title of the Daly (or Residency) College. The Gwalior and Indore Darbars have built separate boarding houses attached to the college. In 1905, as a result of a movement which was instituted by the representative Chiefs from Central India, who were present at the Ajmer conference on Chiefs' colleges in March 1904, the Government of India decided to place the Daly College at Indore on the same footing as the Mayo College at Ajmer. Twelve lakhs of rupees were subscribed by the ruling Chiefs and Thakurs of Central India, about two-thirds of which forms an endowment fund for the college, the remaining third being devoted to the construction of boarding houses, and other buildings.

The amounts given in column 2 are taken from the table of treaty payments issued by the Comptroller of India Treasuries. These amounts fluctuate according to the variations in the rate of exchange between Hali Sicca and the British currency. The question of adopting a fixed rate is receiving attention.

I.—GWALIOR RESIDENCY.*

(1) GWALIOR.

Ranuji, the founder of the Sindhia family, began his career in the service of Balaji Baji Rao Peshwa, by whom he was appointed to a command in the Paigah or body-guard. From this point his rise to the first rank of the Maratha Chiefs was rapid. He died in 1750 in Malwa, where he had acquired some possessions, and was succeeded by his eldest son, Jayapa, who was killed at Nagor in 1759. Jayapa was followed by his son, Jankuji, who was in 1761 wounded and taken prisoner at Panipat and was put to death. His uncle, Madhuji Sindhia, the youngest son of Ranuji, then succeeded to the Chiefship.

Madhuji Sindhia was present at the battle of Panipat in 1761, in which he was severely wounded. After the disastrous flight of the Marathas, Sindhia, like other Maratha Chiefs, lost his possessions in Malwa. On the return of the Marathas to Hindustan in 1764, the most active of the predatory leaders was Sindhia, whose formidable army, organised under French officers, made him in reality the ruler of Hindustan, though nominally the servant of the Peshwa.

Madhuji Sindhia played a most important part in the struggle which took place for the Peshwaship after the death of Madhu Rao Balal in 1772 (see Peshwa, Vol. VI). He was the chief support of the party of Nana Farnavis. It was the policy of the British Government to secure peace by concluding a separate treaty with Sindhia, and then using him as a mediator with the other parties; but Sindhia's ambition and his insistence on some of the inadmissible conditions of the convention of Wargaon (1779) defeated the negotiations which had more than once been commenced. The reverses, however, which he met with from a force which had invaded his territories from Bengal for the purpose of creating a powerful diversion brought him to terms, and a Treaty (No. I) was concluded with him by Colonel Muir on 13th October 1781, by which the respective forces of Colonel Muir and Sindhia were withdrawn, and Sindhia agreed to use his good offices to effect a peace, and failing that to remain neutral. Peace* was concluded with the Marathas by the treaty of Salbai on the 17th May 1782, Sindhia being the guarantee for its observance. Under the third article of this treaty the right of the British Government to the pargana and town of Broach was recognised. In June 1782, Government conferred these on Sindhia (No. II) in consideration of his services, on condition of trade remaining unmolested. A separate Treaty was concluded on the 30th September 1785 (No. III) for the regulation of trade and the duties to be levied at Broach.

By the treaty of Salbai the independent power of Madhuji Sindhia in his relation with the British Government was first recognised, but in all other respects he continued ostentatiously to profess subjection to the Peshwa. The system of neutrality which the British Government then pursued left Sindhia at liberty; and he availed himself of the opportunity to establish his power over the northern parts of Hindustan, and to obtain control over the person of the Emperor of Delhi. Sindhia made overtures to share in the alliance against Tipu in 1793, but the conditions he proposed, that the British Government should defend his possessions in Hindustan and aid him in his wars with the Rajput States, were inadmissible. After the peace with Tipu in 1792 see Vol. IX, No. XLII the feelings of Sindhia, who was probably jealous of the increasing ascendancy of the British Government, were rather hostile than friendly. It was partly through his influence that the proposals made by Lord Cornwallis in 1793 to the Nizam and the Peshwa for a definite treaty of guarantee against Tipu were defeated.

Madhuji Sindhia died in 1794, and was succeeded by his grand-nephew, Daulat Rao Sindhia, who was too young to carry out any dangerous designs which Madhuji Sindhia might have entertained. During the distractions which followed the death of Madhu Rao Narayan Peshwa in 1795, Sindhia gained an ascendancy which enabled him to place Baji Rao in power; to usurp most of the possessions of Holkar, and to secure to himself the fortress of Ahmadnagar, which gave him the key to the entrance into the territories of the Peshwa and the Nizam. The power of Sindhia, whose army was commanded by French officers, was at this time most dangerous to the British Government. When by the treaty of Bassein in 1802 the British Government had recovered its influence at Poona and established a subsidiary force there, Daulat Rao Sindhia entered into a league with the Raja of Berar to defeat the objects of the treaty. The deceit and evasion with which Sindhia met the overtures of General Wellesley for an amicable adjustment of their differences rendered war inevitable. In the campaign which followed the power of Sindhia was completely broken both in upper and central India. He was compelled to sue for peace, and to sign the Treaty of Sarji Anjangaon (No. IV) in 1803. By this he was stripped of his territories in Hindustan and south of the Ajanta hills, with the exception of some hereditary villages, and resigned his claims on subordinate Chiefs, with whom the British Government had made treaties.

Article 15 of the treaty of Sarji Anjangaon left Sindhia the option of becoming a party to the defensive alliance concluded by the British Government with the Peshwa and the Nizam, and bound the British Government, in the event of his so doing, to maintain a subsidiary force of six battalions to be paid for out of the territories ceded by that treaty. Sindhia agreed to the alliance; and by a separate Treaty (No. V) concluded on the 27th February 1804, arrangements were made for the subsidiary force to be stationed near Sindhia's boundary, but within British territory.

The discontent which Sindhia felt at the determination to deprive him of Gohad and Gwalior, under Article 9 of the treaty of Sarji Anjangaon, induced him to enter into a correspondence with Holkar which nearly led to an open rupture. Among other acts of hostility he attacked and plundered the Resident's camp and detained the Resident a prisoner. As Sindhia refused to release the Resident he was informed that his conduct had annulled the treaties with him; that Government were at liberty to deal with him as they might think fit; and that the surrender of the Resident must precede any friendly intercourse. The change, however, in the policy of Government on the arrival of Lord Cornwallis, who independently of any reference to the settlement of differences with Sindhia, deemed it inexpedient to retain possession of Gohad and Gwalior, led to the renewal of negotiations on the basis of restoring these territories.

A Treaty (No. VI) was accordingly concluded on the 22nd November 1805, which confirmed the treaty of Sarji Anjangaon except in so far as it might be altered by the new treaty; ceded Gwalior and Gohad to Sindhia; abolished the pensions of fifteen lakhs a year paid by Government to Sindhia's officers; constituted the Chambal the northern boundary of Sindhia's territory; deprived Sindhia of all claim to tribute from Bundi or any State north of the Chambal and east of Kotah; bound the British Government not to make treaties with Udaipur, Jodhpur, Kotah, or other Chiefs tributary to Sindhia in Malwa, Mewar, or Marwar, or to interfere with the arrangements which Sindhia might make in regard to them; and granted an assignment of four lakhs a year to Sindhia, and jagirs of two lakhs to his wife, Baiza Bai, and one lakh to his daughter, Chimna Bai.

In the Pindari war the plundering Chiefs looked for support to Daulat Rao Sindhia as the most powerful of the Maratha Princes, and one whose feelings were hostile to the British Government. He was also subjected to strong solicitations from the Peshwa, who was endeavouring to restore the broken Maratha confederacy. Sindhia made no movement indicative of a design to aid the Peshwa, although he was no doubt hesitating as to the line he would take. When the resolution was formed to commence a system of political alliances against the Pindaris, negotiations were early opened with him, and the disposition of troops was so made as to compel him to either enter into the views of the British Government or range himself on the side of the Pindaris at the very outset. The points to be carried were his co-operation against the Pindaris and the abrogation of article 8 of the treaty of 1805, which restrained the British Government from forming engagements with the Rajput States. This treaty indeed had been regarded as substantially annulled in consequence of Sindhia's repeated infractions of it by his secret intercourse with the Pindari leaders. Still Government was willing, if Sindhia cordially entered into its measures, to leave him in all other respects the full benefit of former treaties and to guarantee to him the tribute of those States. To secure his co-operation, he was to surrender the tribute for three years; to put his troops in fixed positions, whence they were not to move without the consent of the British Government, and to give up the forts of Asirgarh and Hindia both as security for the lines of communication and as a guarantee for the performance of his engagements. These objects were secured by the Treaty of 5th November 1817 (No VII)

The open defection of the Peshwa and the Raja of Berar shook the fidelity of Sindhia to his engagements. The strong fortress of Asirgarh was not surrendered as stipulated for by the treaty, and it therefore became necessary to reduce it by force. In the captured fort a letter was found in which Sindhia directed the Governor to obey all orders of the Peshwa, who, by attacking the Residency at Poona, had declared war with the British Government. In consequence of this want of good faith Sindhia was required permanently to cede the fort of Asirgarh.

In the following year, 1818, a Treaty (No. VIII) was made with Sindhia for the adjustment of boundaries, the British Government receiving Ajmer and other districts, and ceding lands of equal value.

Daulat Rao Sindhia died in March 1827. He left no son, and had repeatedly evaded the advice of the Resident to adopt a successor, leaving it to the British Government to do what they might think proper. In accordance, however, with what was believed to be the last wishes of Daulat Rao, a youth of eleven years, named Mugat Rao, of an obscure branch of the family, but declared to be the nearest relation of Daulat Rao, was adopted; was married to the grand-daughter of Daulat Rao, by Baiza Bai; and was placed in power with the title of Ali Jah Jankuji Rao Sindhia, and under the regency of Baiza Bai. Baiza Bai acknowledged this succession most reluctantly, and maintained that it was her late husband's intention that she should hold the government during her life. She even pressed on the British Government the conclusion of a new treaty, in order that she might obtain the formal recognition of her right to exercise the powers of regent during her life. But although Government did not enter into this treaty, and although in 1830 they insisted on the Bai using the young Maharaja's seal in all official communications, she still clung to the hope of keeping the government in her own hands, and took no steps to train the young Chief for the future exercise of power. The restraints under which the youth was held by the regent became at last intolerable to him, and he fled from the palace and took refuge with the Resident. A reconciliation was with difficulty effected; and as Government gave no definite decision on the rights of the parties, the seeds of dissension remained and the quarrel finally came to a crisis in 1833.

The Baiza Bai's rule had then become most unpopular, and the cause of the young Maharaja was espoused by a large portion of the army; the Bai was compelled to retire from Gwalior territory and the Maharaja was acknowledged by the British Government. To such a length was the principle of absolute neutrality carried at this time that Government declared it was a matter of indifference whether the Maharaja or the Bai was at the head of the Gwalior State, and that the only object of Government was to preserve the general tranquillity and its own reputation, recognising such ruler as might be placed by the popular voice at the head of the administration. The Bai was prohibited from using her asylum in British territory or any dependent State for the purpose of organizing an invasion of Gwalior, but she was left at liberty to return to Gwalior and rely on the support of her own subjects. The Resident was even censured for having called in the contingent in support of the Maharaja's authority, and it was ruled that the legitimate purpose for which the contingent was formed was the suppression of plunderers and the repulse of external enemies.

By the Treaty of 1817 Daulat Rao Sindhia had engaged to furnish a contingent * of 5,000 horse and assigned for its support the annual payments made to him by the British Government, and also the tribute from the States of Jodhpur, Bundi and Kotah. After the close of the war the contingent was reduced to 2,000 horse at the monthly cost of Rs. 1,20,000, but this amount was in excess of the funds allotted to meet it. It was therefore agreed (No. IX) in February 1820 to reduce the force so as to bring the cost within the sum originally assigned for its payment, and that for the debt due on account of it by Sindhia certain districts should be temporarily transferred to the British Government. On the death of Daulat Rao his annual grant of four lakhs, which he had assigned in part payment for the contingent, ceased and some other arrangement became necessary. A loan of eighty lakhs of rupees at 5 per cent. was taken from the Baiza Bai, but as this arrangement proved inconvenient, the loan was paid off; and in 1830 the funds allotted for the payment of the contingent stood as follows :—

* This account of the early history of the contingent up to the year 1833 is taken from Sutherland's Sketches, pages 152, 153, and 160.

Allowance of Baiza Bai from the British Government	. Rs. 2,00,000
Kotah tribute	„ 1,06,118
Kotris „	„ 10,998
Jodhpur „	„ 1,04,004
Ratlam and Sailana tribute	„ 1,21,380
Revenues of Garhakota	„ 35,000
Do. of Malthon in Saugor	„ 20,000
Do. of Yawal, Chopra, etc., in Khandesh	„ 90,000
TOTAL	6,87,500

The total was still less than the cost of the contingent, which was Rs. 7,09,224.

When the Baiza Bai fled from Gwalior the revenues of her jagir were no longer available for the payment of the contingent, and a corresponding reduction of the force became necessary. But this was no sooner resolved on than the Darbar demanded that the revenues of the Khandesh and Saugor districts, which had formed part of the territories restored to Sindhia under the 6th article of the treaty of Sarji Anjangaon, should be given back; that only the tributes from the Rajput States, amounting to Rs. 3,42,500, should be retained; and that the contingent should be still further reduced to correspond with this diminution of the funds. By the treaty of 1820, it was optional with the Government of India, on the extinction of the debt, either to restore these districts, or to pay rent for them, or to give other lands in exchange.

It was finally arranged that besides receiving the Rajput tributes the Government of India should retain the management of the districts of Garhakota and Malthon in Saugor, which yielded Rs. 75,000; that the Khandesh districts should be restored to Sindhia; and that in lieu of them Sindhia should pay a sum of Rs. 66,926-8 a year, which was equivalent to their net revenues. No written engagement was concluded, but the contingent was reorganised in accordance with the above arrangement, and Sindhia promised to take measures for the proper management of the country, and to respect the settlements which the Government of India had made with the Bhils.

The Court of Directors, however, were of opinion that the restoration of the districts was not required by the terms of the engagement of 1820; that Sindhia was not likely to respect the Bhil settlements; and that there was danger of the country relapsing into anarchy by its transfer to Sindhia's government. They therefore desired that measures should be taken for obtaining the retrocession of the districts to the British Government. But the Darbar was unwilling to part with them, and Government at last resolved not to press the matter. The Darbar, however, was emphatically told that Government would not permit these districts to become haunts of oppression and disorder dangerous to neighbouring territories, and that if mismanagement should occur of a nature to endanger the security of the surrounding districts, the parganas would be at once taken possession of by the British Government and not again restored.

In 1823 the districts of Kandwai, Barwai, Punasa, Sailani, and the village of Dhangaon, and in the following year the districts of Asir (with the exception of three towns), Bhamgarh, Mundi, Bilora, Atud, Deori, and Piplod, were made over (No. X) by Sindhia to the management of the British Government. Deori was subsequently ceded permanently to the British Government in exchange for Shujawalpur, but the tenure of the other eleven districts remained unchanged. The measure was in a manner forced on the Darbar, who long continued to urge their right to the restoration of the districts. But in 1837 it was decided that the transfer of these districts to the administration of the British Government was an arrangement not revocable at the will of the Gwalior Darbar, and that the districts could not be relinquished without disappointing the expectations of the people and danger to the general tranquillity and to the freedom of commercial intercourse with Bombay. These districts were ceded to the British Government in full sovereignty under the treaty of 1860.

In 1831 the exchange of the pargana of eastern Shujawalpur for Sindhia's districts of Deori, Gaurjhamar, Chanwarpatha, Tendukhera and Naharmau was negotiated. The revenues of Shujawalpur were about Rs. 90,939, and those of Sindhia's districts Rs. 87,305. A money payment of Rs. 3,634 remained therefore to be made to the British Government by the Gwalior Darbar. The Court of Directors disapproved of this exchange of territory, but as the arrangement was convenient for both parties, and its cancellation would be very unpleasant to the Gwalior Darbar, Government finally resolved not to disturb it. The Resident, however, was required, without inviting complaints, to use his influence to prevent injury to the inhabitants. Guarantees were given for life to four persons who had received jagirs in Shujawalpur from the British Government. Rajan Khan, a Pindari leader, brother of the notorious Chitu, had also received a life grant of lands in Shujawalpur. He died during the negotiations for the exchange and the lands, the value of which had been excluded from the estimated value of Shujawalpur, were continued to his family, and Sindhia was required to abstain from any arbitrary measure of resumption. Questions of succession to this jagir are usually decided by the British Government and the decision is communicated to Sindhia.

The rule of Maharaja Jankuji Sindhia was very weak. Although the Baiza Bai† had no strong party within Gwalior territories, she did not cease to intrigue and to use freely for this purpose Rs. 37,00,000 deposited in the Benares treasury, which sum, by the arbitration of the British Government, acquiesced in by Sindhia, was declared to be her private property. The Mama Sahib, the Maharaja's maternal uncle, occupied the post of minister during the greater part of his rule. But the court was a constant scene of feuds and struggles for power among the nobles, while the army was in a chronic state of mutiny. The weakness of the internal government prepared the way for the hostilities with the British Government which broke out shortly after the Maharaja's death, and resulted in an entire change of the British policy towards the Gwalior State.

Jankaji Sindhia died on the 7th February 1843. He had no children, and had expressed no wish regarding the succession, although repeatedly and earnestly urged by the Resident to do so. Tara Rani, the Maharaja's widow, a young girl of twelve years of age, adopted, with the concurrence of the Chiefs of the State and the army, Bhagirat Rao, son of Hanwant Rao, usually called Babaji Sindhia. He was the nearest relative, though a very distant one, of the late Maharaja, and the adoption was recognised by the British Government. The boy was then about eight years of age. On his accession he assumed the title of Ali Jah Jayaji Rao Sindhia. The adoption of a boy too young to administer the government rendered necessary the appointment of a regent. The Mama Sahib, who appeared to possess the greatest influence and was attached to British interests, was chosen by the Chiefs of Gwalior as regent. His selection was reported to give universal satisfaction to the troops and people; and he was accordingly recognized by the British Government as the responsible head of the State during the minority, and was assured of support. For three months affairs went on smoothly; but intrigues were carried on against the Mama Sahib in the palace by a party headed by Dada Khasgiwala, who gained over a portion of the army to his cause. The commencement of the intrigue is attributed to apprehensions instilled into the mind of the young Maharani that the Mama Sahib, whose daughter was married to the Maharaja, would supersede her authority, and it ended in the expulsion of the Mama Sahib from Gwalior and the establishment of the influence of Dada Khasgiwala, notwithstanding the remonstrances of the Resident and the British Government.

Dada Khasgiwala showed himself to be hostile to the interests of the British Government. Offices were taken from those who were supposed to be favourable to the maintenance of friendly relations, and persons, who at the request of the Resident had been expelled from Gwalior by the late Maharaja, were recalled and restored to office. Such proceedings could not be viewed otherwise than as an affront to the British Government. They were accompanied by the assemblage of large bodies of mutinous troops at Gwalior, by a threatened attack on Sironj in the territories of the Nawab of Tonk, where the Mama Sahib had taken refuge, and by disorders on the frontier at a time when war on the Sutlej was impending. Moreover it was necessary to secure the communications of the British army by the re-establishment of a friendly government in its rear at Gwalior. Thus the direct interference of the British Government was demanded in the interests, not only of the Gwalior State, but also of the British possessions.

Accordingly, the representative of the British Government was withdrawn from Gwalior until either a settled government should be established at Gwalior or his intervention should be solicited by the Maharani and the Chiefs for the restoration of order. Before final measures were taken the Resident wrote to the Maharani in reply to a letter in which she had invited his return, stating the conditions under which alone friendly relations could be re-established, and requiring the banishment of Dada Khasgiwala, whose presence was the only obstacle to the restoration of friendship. This letter was intercepted by Dada Khasgiwala, whose right to interfere in the affairs of the State had never been admitted by the British Government, and he concealed its contents from the Maharani. This act was considered to be a virtual assumption of the powers of government by Dada Khasgiwala and a supersession of the authority of the Maharani and the young Chief, whose position and supremacy the British Government were bound by treaty to maintain. A demand was therefore made for Dada Khasgiwala's surrender as the preliminary condition of further friendly intercourse. The objects proposed by the British Government were the surrender of the person of Dada Khasgiwala as reparation for the affront that had been offered to Government; security for the tranquillity of the frontier; and the reduction of the mutinous army, which possessed the real power in Gwalior and overawed the government of the State. Dada Khasgiwala was seized by the Chiefs who were favourable to the restoration of peace, but he was released by the portion of the army whose support he had bought; and it was only on the advance of a British force towards Gwalior that he was surrendered.

It remained now to negotiate measures for the formation of an efficient government and the reduction of the army. For this purpose an interview was agreed upon between the Governor-General and the Maharaja to take place at Hingona on the 26th December 1843. The day passed without the appearance of the Maharani and her son, who were held in restraint by the mutinous troops. On the 29th December, when the British army was taking up its advanced ground, it was fired on by the Gwalior troops. The battles of Maharajpur and Panniar were fought on the same day and ended in the total defeat of the Gwalior army, and the conclusion on the 13th January 1844 of a Treaty (No. XI) by which it was agreed that territory yielding eighteen lakhs a year should be ceded to the British Government for the maintenance of a contingent force, and other lands for the payment of the debts of the State to the British Government and the expenses of the war; that the army should be reduced to 6,000 cavalry, 3,000 infantry, and 200 gunners with 32 guns; that the government, during the minority, should be conducted according to the advice of the British Resident; and that the just territorial rights of the Gwalior State should be maintained by the British Government.

From this time till the mutinies of 1857 there was little change in the relations of the British Government with the Gwalior State. By the mutiny of the contingent in June 1857 the Political Agent was forced to quit Gwalior. The counsels, however, of Dinkar Rao (afterwards Sir Dinkar Rao, K.C.S.I.), the Maharaja's able minister, who, during the four preceding years of his tenure of office, had reformed the internal administration, were strongly in favour of British interests. In June 1858 the Maharaja was deserted by his troops on the approach of the rebels under Tantia Topi, and compelled with his minister to seek refuge at Agra. On the 19th June Gwalior was retaken by Sir Hugh Rose's force and the Maharaja was re-established in his palace. From that date the confidence of the Maharaja was withdrawn from his minister, to whom he conceived an intense dislike. Dinkar Rao vacated office in December 1859, and Balaji Chimnaji was appointed in his stead with the concurrence of the British Government. In 1868 Balaji Chimnaji having become incapacitated by old age for the performance of his duties, Ganpat Rao Khadke, who was afterwards created a Knight Commander of the Order of the Star of India, was appointed Diwan. After Dinkar Rao's removal the Maharaja himself superintended the whole of his affairs until his death in 1886.

For his services during the mutinies Sindhia was informed that lands yielding three lakhs of rupees a year would be added to his territories; that permission would be given to him to raise his infantry from 3,000 to 5,000 men, and his artillery from 32 to 36 guns; that the arrears due to the British Government on account of the deficiency in the revenues of the districts assigned under the treaty of 1844 would be remitted, and no payments would in future be claimed should these revenues fall short of eighteen lakhs; and that the annual payment of Rs. 10,000 out of the revenues of Barwa Sagar in the Jhansi district would be hereditary. These modifications of the treaty of 1844 were embodied in a new Treaty (No. XII) concluded on the 12th December 1860. This was based upon certain proposals which had been made in 1854, but had in the interval remained in abeyance, for an exchange of territory with Sindhia. The new treaty provided for the restoration to Sindhia of lands from the assigned districts yielding three lakhs of rupees a year ; for the cession of the town of Burhanpur and the district of Zainabad in exchange for the town and part of the district of Jhansi ; for the exchange of Sindhia's five districts in Guzarat, the pargana of Kanjia, the annual payment from Barwa Sagar, and all his territories south of the Narbada, with the exception of seven hereditary villages, in return for lands of equal value on the Sind and Betwa rivers; for the cession to the British Government in full sovereignty of all the districts, etc., assigned in 1844 which might remain after the above exchanges should be effected ; and for the substitution of a subsidiary force costing not less than sixteen lakhs a year in the place of the extinct contingent.

All pensionary and charitable allowances and religious endowments assigned on the lands transferred to Sindhia under the treaty of 1860 in exchange, whether originally ceded districts or British territory, are paid by the British Government ; because, though the treaty of 1860 provided for the calculation of the value of the lands to be mutually exchanged on the gross revenues, all cash assignments of the nature in question, which were very common with the Marathas, were deducted in the valuation statement of the Gwalior Darbar. In the case of the pargana of Nimach, which was given as a reward to Sindhia for services during the mutiny, the Maharaja was informed that the continuance of pensions and allowances was discretionary. The aggregate annual charge on both the lands exchanged and those given in reward was Rs. 7,462-11-5 ; deducting from this Rs. 5,189-13-9, chargeable to the revenues of Nimach, an annual payment of Rs. 2,272-13-8 is made on this account.

Subsequently to the conclusion of the treaty of 1860 it was ascertained that the Char Thana estate, which formed one of the items of the assignments under the treaty of 1844, had never been taken over by the British Government, and had been allowed virtually to cease to form one of the ceded items, as its revenues never appeared in the annual accounts, which were made up without reference to them. A note to this effect was entered opposite this item in schedule A appended to article 7 of the treaty of the 12th December 1860, and the necessary corrections were made in the number of villages, and in the amount of their gross value in schedule C. Char Thana was subsequently included in the exchanges with the Gwalior State, the Darbar receiving credit in the account for its gross value Rs. 1,197-6-8.

In 1861 the Maharaja gave up the hereditary villages in the Deccan reserved to him under the 4th article of the treaty for an equivalent on the Pahuj river.

In 1864, after the exchanges effected by the treaty of 1860 had been finally adjusted between the British Government and the Maharaja, there still remained a balance of Rs. 4,994-0-10 in his favour in excess of the land, and as there was no land then available an annual cash payment was made to him. To this arrangement Sindhia was averse, and it was eventually decided to give him an equivalent in land out of the pargana of Bhandar, in the Jalaun district, which had been ceded to the British Government under the treaty of 1860. It was also decided to cede to the Maharaja territory of the annual value of Rs. 10,000 as an equivalent for lands taken up for the extension of the Morar cantonment, the Maharaja being left to settle the details of compensation with the proprietors and others interested in the alienation of the land.

In the meantime the British Government had undertaken negotiations for the transfer to the Nizam of ten ancestral villages possessed by Sindhia within the Hyderabad territories. These villages had enjoyed an exemption from the jurisdiction of the Nizam's Government, which in the interests of the general peace of the country could not be allowed to continue. Sindhia consented to cede these villages to the British Government on condition of receiving from it an equivalent in lands bordering on his territory north of the Narbada, while the British Government were to transfer the ten villages by a separate exchange to the Nizam, receiving in lieu of them an equivalent in Hyderabad villages on the Bombay frontier (see Hyderabad, Vol. IX). The villages were valued by a British officer, by whose decision Sindhia and the Nizam agreed beforehand to be bound, at Rs. 15,000 a year.

It was settled that all these exchanges should form one transaction and be included in a supplementary treaty. An annual payment to Sindhia of Rs. 452-9-4, representing village-rights and holdings in the Poona Collectorate, was afterwards included in the list of claims. From this must be deducted an annual payment by Sindhia of Rs. 325-13-9 on account of other holdings in the Deccan and the equivalent of the revenue of the jagir of Anai in the Poona Collectorate, viz., Rs. 2,602-13-0 per annum, which at the request of the Maharaja was conferred by the British Government on his minister, Dada Ganpat Rao Khadke. The result of the settlement showed that territory to the annual value of about Rs. 27,500 had to be made over to the Maharaja and his heirs in perpetuity, and a Treaty

(No. XIII) embodying these arrangements was concluded with Sindhia on the 2nd December 1871. The account was finally closed by a cash payment of Rs. 29,658-1-9, representing one year's payments on account of the balance due under the treaty of 1860 for the land ceded for the Morar cantonment and for Sindhia's Hyderabad villages, up to the date of the actual transfer of the villages ceded in exchange to him.

After the capture of Gwalior by the force under Sir Hugh Rose in 1858, British troops continued to occupy the fort of Gwalior. During the negotiations, however, which ended in the treaty of the 12th December 1860, Lord Canning promised that the fort should be restored to Sindhia when this could with safety be done. This promise was repeated to Sindhia by Lord Elgin. Its fulfilment depended on the withdrawal of the British force from Morar to some more eligible station, which was at that time contemplated. It was, however, decided in 1864 that the cantonment of Morar should be maintained, and this necessitated the continued tenure of the Gwalior fort by British troops. Sindhia agreed on the 29th March 1864 to give up his right to the restoration of the fort on receiving an increase of twelve guns to his artillery, and on condition that his flag should fly on the ramparts of the fort; that he should be saluted from its guns; and that if at any time the British Government should withdraw from its occupation he should be allowed to occupy it with his own troops. The documents (No. XIV) recording these arrangements, viz., Sindhia's letter of the 29th March, and the Governor-General's letters of the 12th April and 21st December 1864, which modify the 9th article of the treaty of 1860, are held to constitute supplementary articles of that treaty. The twelve guns referred to were supplied in the shape of two complete batteries of 9-pounder guns. In 1865 Sindhia received two 18-pounder guns in place of two of smaller calibre which were given up.

In 1856 the Maharaja being anxious to have the army under his immediate control withdrew the troops, amounting to 1,500 infantry, 12 guns, and 4,000 cavalry, from provincial service, and proposed to entertain in their place a body of Najibs 3,000 strong for police. These 3,000 men were to be formed into three police corps; one to be stationed in Malwa, another in the Chambal district, and the third in Isagarh and the Bundelkhand frontier. This was sanctioned by Government on the understanding that the Najibs were to constitute a police and not a military force. In process of time these men came to be regularly drilled soldiers, and in 1866 the Maharaja urged that the Najib battalions should be organised on the same quasi-military footing as British police battalions were at the time of the enlistment of these men. He also asked that article 9 of the treaty of 1860 might be modified, so as to admit of these men being added to the regular strength of the army. The request was negatived as being contrary to treaty and opposed to the conditions on which the Maharaja had been allowed to raise the Najib battalions. The Maharaja accordingly reorganised them on the footing of police.

In 1855 the Gwalior Darbar agreed to spend four lakhs of rupees on the construction of the portion of the Agra and Bombay road running through its territory. Up to the time of the mutiny Sindhia had paid three lakhs of rupees, and from 1858, when the construction of the road was resumed, to 1860 between two and three lakhs more. In the latter year a fresh arrangement was made by which the Maharaja agreed to contribute Rs. 50,000 a year for six years towards the completion of the road, and thereafter an annual sum of Rs. 12,000 towards its repairs. In 1867 Sindhia agreed after some discussion to allot, in lieu of the annual payment of Rs. 50,000 for the Agra and Bombay road, Rs. 63,000 annually for such portions of six roads named by him as lay in Gwalior territory; this sum was to be apportioned by the British Government in any way it pleased until four-fifths of the entire cost of the roads had been made up. In 1883 it was found necessary to reconsider these arrangements, and it was then agreed for the future that, after the payment by Sindhia of the arrears that had accumulated under the former condition, he should contribute in April of each year Rs. 50,000 towards the repair of roads in his territory in lieu of all his existing payments under that head.

In August 1887 the council of regency made a formal request that all the roads in Gwalior territory then under the charge of the Public Works Department of the Central India Agency should be made over to the administration of the Gwalior State. The Government of India agreed to the transfer on the condition that the roads which are important from an imperial point of view should be kept in thorough order and to the satisfaction of the Government of India, who would make arrangements for examining them from time to time; and that if at any time the State should fail to keep the roads up to the required standard, the Government would resume charge, the whole cost of such resumption and of future maintenance being chargeable to the Gwalior State. The transfer was accordingly carried out with effect from the 1st of June 1888, and the yearly contribution of Rs. 50,000 formerly paid by Gwalior ceased from that date.

In 1890 an Agreement (No. XV) was made by the British Government between the Gwalior and Ratlam States for the construction by the former of a metalled road, of which a portion runs through the Ratlam State.

The Raja of Amjhera,* tributary to Sindhia, formerly paid to the Gwalior State a yearly tribute of Hali Rupees 35,000, under an engagement mediated by the British Government. This tribute was part of the sums assigned in 1844 for the payment of the contingent, and is now payable by Sindhia to the British Government under the treaty of 1860. Besides this the Maharaja contributes Hali Rupees 20,000 a year towards the payment of the Malwa Bhil Corps. Formerly Sindhia contributed only Hali Rupees 8,000 to this corps and the Raja of Amjhera contributed Hali Rupees 4,000. But when Amjhera was confiscated and made over to Sindhia in consequence of the rebellion of the Raja in 1857, the arrangement was made subject to a payment of Hali Rupees 20,000, no further contribution being required on account of Gwalior.

In 1859 Sindhia agreed to give all land which might be required for railway purposes in Nimar, and to compensate the proprietors, except in cases where the property was of special value. Jurisdiction over all persons residing within railway limits was to rest with the railway authorities; but disputes between railway servants and Gwalior subjects were to be referred to the Agent to the Governor-General for Central India. On the transfer of Nimar to the British Government in 1861, compensation to the amount of Rs. 5,098 was paid by Government on account of land taken up by the railway. In 1864 the Maharaja agreed (No. XVI) to cede to the British Government, in full sovereignty, such land as might be required for either of the then proposed lines of railway from Indore to the valley of the Narbada and Baroda, and also to exempt from transit duties all through traffic by the lines in question. Sindhia subsequently preferred a request that all the concessions regarding the treatment of offences and offenders within railway limits, which had been accorded to Holkar in the case of a similar grant of lands for railway purposes, might also be extended to him; this was agreed to, and the terms settled between the British Government and Holkar were detailed in an explanatory Memorandum (No. LIX).

In 1860 Sindhia consented to the construction of a bridge by British agency over the river Chambal. After considerable discussion it was decided that Sindhia should share with Dholpur in the net profits of the bridge and ferry at Rajghat, and that Dholpur should receive a moiety of the profits appertaining to Sindhia's ferry at Khantri (see Dholpur, Vol. III).

In 1865 Sindhia, having lost his infant son, the third in succession which had died, obtained the sanction of Government to adopt an heir to his

* See below Mediatized Chiefs.

State. The privilege of adoption had been granted by Government in 1862 (No. XVII). The selection fell on Ranaji Sindhia, who was received at Gwalior with honour, and styled Chhota Maharaja. In 1870 Ranaji Sindhia voluntarily acknowledged his complicity in a plot against the Maharaja's life, and at Sindhia's request the Government withdrew their recognition of Ranaji Sindhia as the Maharaja's heir.

In 1866 Sindhia preferred a claim that holders of rent-free estates in those portions of the assigned district of Bhandar which became British territory under the operation of article 7 of the treaty of the 12th December 1860, should have their titles to their estates therein confirmed in perpetuity by the issue of a sanad from the British Government under the terms of article 3. The Maharaja was informed that the terms of clause 4 of article 3 were not intended to apply to any portion of the assigned districts restored to him under the territorial exchanges provided for therein, and that he was free to deal with them as he pleased, but that he must faithfully carry out the term of that clause in respect of the landowners enjoying special rights in the British lands transferred to him, as would be done in respect of the same class of persons in the Gwalior lands transferred in exchange to the British Government; lastly, that the conditions in question were not applicable to the portions of the assigned districts transferred to the British Government in full sovereignty under article 7, as the transfer had not been subject to any such conditions.

In 1866 certain rules were sanctioned by the Government of India for enforcing the responsibility of Native States for mail robberies committed within their territories. Sindhia asked to be specially exempted from the operation of these rules on the ground of the comparative excellence of his police arrangements; but the request was disallowed, and the Maharaja was informed that it rested with him, by still further improving his police, to avoid the chance of being affected by the penalties of the rules.

In September 1872 Sindhia offered the British Government a loan of seventy-five lakhs of rupees for the construction of a railway between Agra and Gwalior, and in January 1873 a further sum of seventy-five lakhs for the construction of a line from Indore to Nimach, on condition that interest on these loans at four per cent. should be paid to him and his successors in perpetuity by the British Government, and that he should be allowed certain privileges in respect of free carriage on the line. He undertook to cede free of charge all the lands required for the railway, its stations, buildings, etc., and engaged that no transit duties should be levied on through traffic. He also ceded plenary civil and criminal jurisdiction on the lines. These loans were accepted in a kharita from the Viceroy, dated the 29th April 1873 (No. XVIII).

In 1875 Sindhia sat as a member of the mixed commission by which Malhar Rao, Gaekwar of Baroda, was tried for an attempt to poison the British Resident at Baroda.

In 1877, on the occasion of the Delhi Assemblage held to celebrate the assumption by Her Majesty Queen Victoria of the title of Empress of India, Jayaji Rao Sindhia, who had been created a Knight Grand Commander of the Star of India in 1861, was granted a personal salute of 21 guns, and was made a Councillor of the Empress. At the same time the title of Hisam-us-Saltanat was conferred upon him, and he was given the honorary rank of a General in the British army. He was subsequently made an Honorary Knight Grand Cross of the Order of the Bath, and a Companion of the Indian Empire.

In August 1877, owing to the unusually small rainfall of that year and the consequent distress in Sindhia's northern districts, which entailed heavy expenditure in relief operations, the Maharaja obtained from the British Government a loan of fifty lakhs. It was arranged that the amount should be repaid in eleven years from the interest annually payable to Sindhia on his railway loan (No. XIX). The balance, Rs. 13,77,847-15-9, was paid off in 1887.

In 1878 the British Government concluded an Agreement (No. XX) with Sindhia, by which he undertook to limit the production of salt in his State to 54,000 maunds in any one year; to prevent the export from his State of any salt manufactured in it; and to stop the import into, or passage through, his dominions of all salt which had not paid duty to the British Government. He further engaged to impose no duties whatever on salt that had already been taxed by the British Government, and to take possession of any stocks of foreign salt then existing within his territories until satisfactory arrangements for its disposal should have been made with the British authorities. The agreement also included an article prohibiting the export from his State of any intoxicating preparations, such as bhāṅg, ganja, opium, etc. In consideration of, and as compensation for, the above concessions, the British Government, while reserving its right to revise the agreement, if necessary, agreed to pay to Sindhia Rs. 3,12,500 annually in half-yearly instalments. This agreement came into force on the 1st October 1878.

In 1879 Sindhia accepted liability for the cost of the maintenance of convicts of the Gwalior State sentenced to transportation at the Andamans, and also of prisoners convicted of offences committed in Gwalior territory and confined in British jails in India. There is no special extradition treaty with Gwalior; and surrenders are effected in accordance with the procedure for the time being in force in British India.

In 1882 the Maharaja gave, free of charge, all the land in Gwalior territory required by the Indian Midland Railway Company for the extension of the railway from Gwalior to Jhansi, and from Jhansi in the direction of Bhopal. Later, in 1888, Sindhia also ceded (No. XXI) plenary civil and criminal jurisdiction over these lines.

In 1885 a Postal Convention (No. XXII) was concluded by the British Government with the Gwalior State to facilitate the exchange between the imperial post office of British India and the post offices in the territories of the Maharaja, of correspondence, money-orders, etc. This convention came into force on the 1st of July 1885, was subsequently modified by an additional Agreement (No. XXIII) which was concluded in 1888, and came into operation on the 1st July of that year. The convention was revised in 1898 (No. XXIV), and was brought into force with effect from the 1st April 1899.

In 1885 the question of the surrender to Sindhia of the Gwalior fortress, which had been occupied by the British since 1858, was again brought under discussion. It was eventually decided to make over the fortress to the Maharaja together with the cantonment of Morar. In return for this concession, Sindhia agreed to pay to the British Government a sum of fifteen lakhs of rupees on account of expenditure incurred upon the fort, and to transfer to the British Government the town and fort of Jhansi.

At the same time Sindhia was allowed to increase his infantry by 3,000 men, but it was stipulated that he should not bring his regular cavalry beyond the actual strength at which it stood in November 1885. The terms of the transfer were embodied in Kharitas, dated the 24th February 1886 and 13th June 1888, addressed by the Viceroy to the Maharaja Sindhia (Nos. XXV and XXVI) and in a Kharita, dated the 7th September 1888, sent by that Chief to the Governor-General (No. XXVII).

The intention of the Government to effect this transfer was announced by His Excellency the Viceroy at a Darbar at Gwalior on the 2nd December 1885. The actual evacuation of Gwalior and Morar by British troops took place on the 10th March 1886, and on the same date the town and fort of Jhansi were made over to the Government of the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (known then as the North-Western Provinces) by the Gwalior authorities. By a proclamation dated the 10th June 1886, made under 28 and 29 Vic. c. 17, s. 4, the ceded territory was declared to be subject to the Lieutenant-Governorship of the United Provinces.

Maharaja Jayaji Rao Sindhia died on the 20th June 1886, and was succeeded by his son Madho Rao under the title of Maharaja Madho Rao Sindhia. Madho Rao was born on the 20th October 1876, his mother, Sakhiya Raja Sahiba, being the daughter of Dapu Sahib Jadau, a Maratha noble of Gwalior.

In accordance with the wishes of the late Chief, and with the concurrence of the Government of India, the administration of the Gwalior State during the minority was entrusted to a council of regency, which was appointed in September 1886. Rao Raja Sir Ganpat Rao Khadke, who had been for more than 20 years Diwan and Karbhari to Maharaja Jayaji Rao, was appointed president of the council, and seven members were selected from the principal Sardars and officials of the State. This administrative body was empowered to carry on the government of the Gwalior State in consultation with the Resident, who was instructed to supervise their proceedings, and to suggest measures for the improvement of the administration. Reforms were initiated in almost every branch of the government; and special efforts, which met with a considerable measure of success, were made to suppress crime, and more particularly organised dakaiti, throughout the State.

The accession to the gadi of Maharaja Madho Rao Sindhia was signalized by the abolition of all transit duties throughout the Gwalior State. This important measure was announced by a notification dated the 25th September 1886.

In 1887 the council of regency offered the Government of India a loan of three and a half crores of Government Rupees, to bear interest at the rate of four per cent. per annum. This investment of a portion of the accumulations of State treasure, amounting to upwards of six crores, was approved by the Government of India, and the terms were embodied in an Agreement (No. XXVIII). It was arranged that the repayment of the loan should be made by annual instalments of 12 lakhs, commencing one year after the Maharaja should come of age (No. XXIX). The capital balance due from the Government of India on the 15th December 1905 amounted to Rs. 2,18,00,000.

Rao Raja Sir Ganpat Rao died on the 17th August 1888, and with the concurrence of the Government of India the junior Maharani, Sakhiya Raja Sahiba Sindhia, was nominated to act as regent during the minority of her son, Madho Rao. Bapu Sahib Jadau, one of the members of the council of regency and His Highness' maternal grandfather, was installed as president of the council. It was, however, clearly laid down that the Maharani should have no administrative powers and no right of interference with the conduct of public affairs. In May 1891 the Maharani regent was appointed to be a member of the Imperial Order of the Crown of India.

Arrangements were made for the education and training of the young Chief, and in February 1890, with the concurrence of the Maharani regent and the council of regency, Mr. J. W. D. Johnstone, Principal of the Daly College at Indore, was appointed tutor to His Highness. In January 1891 the young Maharaja was married to a daughter of the Satara family in Bombay.

In 1890 the council of regency placed at the disposal of the Government of India, for the purposes of imperial defence, a force of two regiments of cavalry consisting of 1,200 sabres, and a transport train of 500 ponies. This offer, which was made in the name of the Maharaja, was accepted by the Government of India.

On the 4th September 1894 Her Highness the senior Maharani, Lakshmi Bai Sindhia, died after a long illness.

On the 15th December 1894, under orders from His Excellency the Viceroy, Maharaja Madho Rao Sindhia was invested with ruling powers, the council of regency being dissolved. Under the new government the members of the council continued to retain in their hands, with but few changes, the administration of the several departments, subject to the orders of His Highness the Maharaja, to whom all matters for decision were to be referred.

In 1890 the Gwalior Darbar agreed to the construction of two lines of railway, one from Bina on the Indian Midland railway to Guna, and the other from Ujjain to Bhopal by way of Sehore. The former line was completed and opened for public traffic in 1895, and the latter in 1897. The working of both these lines was made over to the Indian Midland Railway Company (see appendices Nos. I & II), which was subsequently amalgamated with the Great Indian Peninsula railway system. Full civil and criminal jurisdiction over these lines was ceded by the Darbar, but no formal agreement on this point was drawn up.

In 1894 the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway Company having contemplated the construction of the Ujjain-Ratlam railway and its extension to Delhi, the Darbar applied for permission to construct the line from Ujjain to Nagda. The Government of India had decided that the line should be constructed as an imperial railway, but in deference to the wishes of the Maharaja they acceded to the Darbar's request to own, and pay for, the railway, on the understanding that it should be constructed and worked by the Bombay, Baroda, and Central India Railway Company. The Darbar ceded land for, and full civil and criminal jurisdiction * over, the line between Ujjain, Nagda, and Ratlam. No formal agreement was executed. The working of the Ujjain-Nagda section (26 miles) of the Ujjain-Ratlam railway was handed over by the Gwalior Darbar to the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway Company on the same terms as the Godhra-Ratlam railway (see Appendix No. III). The line was opened for public traffic in 1896. The agreement and the schedules thereto were subsequently revised (Appendix No. IV).

In March 1895, at the request of the Government of India, the Maharaja's transport corps joined the British expeditionary force for the relief of Chitral. The corps returned to Gwalior in September 1895, after having received the thanks both of the General Officer Commanding the expedition and of the Government of India.

In November 1895 Maharaja Madho Rao Sindhia was invested with the insignia of a Knight Grand Commander of the Order of the Star of India.

In the same year, in view of the extension of railway communication, and of the consequent facility with which Bhilsa, Basoda, and the surrounding Gwalior districts could be reached, the following districts of the Isagarh Prant were transferred to the political charge of the Resident at Gwalior :—

(a) From the Bhopal Agency—

(1) The Gwalior districts of Bhilsa and Mungaoli.

(2) The Estate of Agra-Barkhera ;

(b) From the Guna Agency—

(1) The Ranod pargana.

In 1896 the cantonment of Sipri, with all its buildings, was made over to the Gwalior Darbar at a valuation of Rs. 50,000.

In November of the same year the petty States of Raghugarh, Paron, Garha (Jamner), Umri, Bhadaura, Dharnaoda, Sirsi, and the Chhabra pargana of the Tonk State, and the Bajrangarh district of the Gwalior State, formerly under the political control of the Officer Commanding the Central India Horse at Goona, were transferred to the charge of the Resident at Gwalior.

* Letter from the Chief Secretary, Gwalior Darbar, to the Resident at Gwalior, No. 600-R., dated the 28th February 1895.

In the same year Maharaja Madho Rao Sindhia placed his transport corps, consisting of 450 ponies and 150 carts, at the disposal of the Government of India for service on the north-west frontier. The good services of the corps were acknowledged by the Government of India.

The extension of the Bina-Guna railway to Baran was in the same year (1896) sanctioned by the Government of India, the line running through the territories of the Gwalior and Tonk States. The Gwalior portion of the line was constructed at the cost of the Gwalior Darbar, while the Chhabra section, which lies in Tonk territory, was constructed from funds advanced by the Maharaja of Gwalior to the Nawab of Tonk. The line was opened for public traffic in 1899. In the same year full and exclusive power and jurisdiction of every kind were ceded by the Gwalior Darbar over the lands in that State which were, or might hereafter be, occupied by the line (No. XXX). The line is worked by the agency of the Indian Midland railway (see Appendix No. V), which was subsequently amalgamated with the Great Indian Peninsula railway system. The Tonk Darbar being unable to refund the money advanced by the Maharaja Sindhia for the construction of the Chhabra section, sold it to the Gwalior Darbar on the terms contained in the Agreement (No. XXXI) of 1905.

In 1897 the construction within the Gwalior State of two sections of the Gwalior light railway of the 2 feet gauge, one from Gwalior to Sipri, a distance of 73·81 miles, and the other from Gwalior to Bhind, a distance of 52·33 miles, was sanctioned by the Government of India at the cost of the Gwalior Darbar. Both sections were opened for public traffic in 1899. The question of jurisdiction over these lines is left in the hands of the Darbar so long as the lines remain isolated, but the Darbar have agreed to its cession to the British Government in the event of its assumption by the latter becoming necessary. These sections are worked by the Indian Midland railway, subsequently amalgamated with the Great Indian Peninsula railway (see Appendix No. VI).

In 1898 Maharaja Madho Rao Sindhia was granted the honorary rank of Colonel in the British army.

In the same year British currency was introduced in the Gwalior and Isagarh Prants. Imperial rupees are now (1906) current throughout the State.

In 1900 the Maharaja placed at the disposal of the British Government 300 trained artillery horses for service in South Africa. This assistance was suitably acknowledged by the British Government.

An Agreement (No. XXXII), dated the 22nd January 1900, was entered into with the Maharaja Sindhia providing for the effective control and discipline of the Imperial Service troops maintained by the State when serving beyond its frontier.

In May 1900 the Kaiser-i-Hind medal of the first class was conferred on the Maharaja.

The Maharaja's grandfather, Sir Krishna Rao Bapu Sahib Jadau, K.C.I.E., died on the 9th August 1900.

In September of the same year the Maharaja, accompanied by Lieutenant Spence of the Central India Horse, proceeded on field service to China, where he was attached to General Gaselee's staff. His Highness subsequently placed at the disposal of the British Government a fully equipped hospital ship for the use of the sick and wounded of the China expeditionary forces at an initial cost of 20 lakhs of rupees.

In 1901 the Maharaja was created an Aide-de-Camp to His Majesty the King.

In the same year sanction was accorded by the Government of India to the extension of the Gwalior light railway from Gwalior to Sabalgarh on the same condition as that applied to the line already opened ; namely, that jurisdiction over the line may be retained by the Darbar so long as the line remains isolated, but that the Darbar should cede the jurisdiction, etc., when its assumption by the Government of India should become necessary. A portion of this extension was opened for public traffic in 1903, the remainder a year later. The line is worked by the Great Indian Peninsula railway.

In August 1902, Maharaja Madho Rao Sindhia attended the Coronation Darbar of His Majesty the King in London, and while in England received the China medal from His Majesty. During this visit the university of Cambridge conferred upon him the honorary degree of LL. D. His Highness's mother, the Dowager Maharani, was in charge of the State during the Maharaja's absence in England.

The Maharaja attended the Coronation Darbar at Delhi in January 1903. In the following month he was invested at Gwalior with the insignia of a Knight Grand Commander of the Victorian Order by His Royal Highness the Duke of Connaught on behalf of His Majesty the King.

In 1904 the Maharaja offered to increase his Imperial Service troops by an addition of a third regiment of cavalry of 695 sabres; two battalions of infantry mustering 996 each; and a transport corps of 100 carts. The offer was accepted by the Government of India.

In the same year the sanction of the Government of India was obtained by the Darbar to the extension of the Gwalior-Sabalgarh light railway from Sabalgarh to Sheopur. The line is at present (1906) under construction.

The Government of India decided in 1905 to accept a contribution from the Gwalior Darbar towards the cost of constructing that portion of the Nagda-Muttra railway which lies within Gwalior territory, the net earnings or losses being divided between the Government of India and the Darbar in proportion to the capital invested. In February 1906 the Darbar ceded (No. XXXIII) to the British Government full and exclusive power and jurisdiction of every kind over the lands in the Gwalior State which were, or might hereafter be, occupied by the Nagda-Muttra railway.

In December 1905 His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales paid a visit to Gwalior, in the course of which he was pleased to announce, under instructions from His Majesty the King, the appointment of Maharaja Madho Rao Sindhia as honorary Colonel in the 1st Duke of York's Own Lancers (formerly known as Skinner's Horse).

The area of the Gwalior State is slightly over 25,000 square miles, the population, according to the census of 1901, is 2,933,001; and the revenue from all sources is about $1\frac{1}{2}$ crores of rupees.

The military forces maintained by the State consist (1905) of 440 artillery men, with 36 guns classed as serviceable; 12 squadrons (1897) Imperial Service cavalry; 2 battalions (1902) Imperial Service infantry; 3,243 irregular cavalry, excluding police; and a transport train of 725 ponies and 300 carts.

The salute of the Chiefship is 19 guns, and the Maharaja receives within his own territories a local salute of 21 guns. These salutes were finally approved in Her Majesty's Order in Council, dated the 26th June 1867.

The liability of the State to the payment of nazarana on succession has not been decided.

PERGUNNAH of BAROACH, dated the 21st March 1783.

This is to certify, that as the Governor-General and Council have of their own free will and accord, and on behalf of the Company, conferred upon me their entire right to the two shares of the fort, city, and pergunnah of Baroach, I have therefore accepted of the same, and will retain them always in my own possession. And I hereby agree that the English shall carry on trade as usual in the said city and pergunnah and no improper molestation shall be offered to them; and also, I will not permit any other European nation excepting the English to trade in any shape in the said city and pergunnah.

NO. III.

TREATY with MAHARAJAH MADHO RAO SINDIA, relative to the HONOURABLE EAST INDIA COMPANY'S TRADE at BAROACH, dated the 30th September 1785.

Whereas a Sunnud, bearing date the seventeenth day of Rubee-oos-sance of the year one thousand one hundred and ninety-seven of the Hegira, corresponding with the twenty-first day of March, one thousand seven hundred and eighty-three of the Christian era, was granted by Maharajah Soubadar Madho Rao Sindia, declaring that the English should carry on trade as usual in the city and pergunnah of Baroach, and that no improper molestation should be offered to them, the said Sunnud specifying also that no European nation excepting the English should be permitted to trade in any shape in the said city and pergunnah; and whereas, in the said Sunnud, the particulars of the duties, etc., to be taken and the settlement of concerns of trade were omitted, and doubts have arisen on these subjects, which Maharajah Soubadar Madho Rao Sindia is willing to remove: For this purpose, and to support the English trade in the city and pergunnah of Baroach, We, the Governor-General and Council of Fort William in Bengal, appointed by the King and Parliament of Great Britain to direct and control all political affairs of the Honourable English East India Company in India, on the one part, and Maharajah Madho Rao Sindia Bahadoor on the other part, agree to the following Treaty containing seven Articles, and bind ourselves and successors to the full and invariable observance of them.

ARTICLE 1.

Maharajah Soubadar Madho Rao Sindia Bahadoor agrees that in every year in which the English Company carry on trade in the district of Baroach, the duties thereon shall be taken according to the Treaty with the Nawab of Baroach, in the year one thousand seven hundred and sixty-four; that is to say, on the cotton which is purchased from Baroach, on every candy of Surat weight, one and a half Rupees and four felloos shall be paid, and the duty on other articles which are imported or exported by the Company shall be one Rupee eight annas for every hundred Rupees; and besides these established articles of the Company's trade, whatever other articles come from English individuals shall be subject to a duty of six Rupees in every hundred thereon, conformably to the usage which existed when the Company had possession of Baroach. The Governor-General and Council agree that the English shall not unite any Hindostanee in their trade, and that in case of such partnership, such duties shall be paid thereon as are paid upon the commerce of the merchants wearing turbans. The Governor-General and Council consent that the duties stipulated to be paid upon the Company's trade shall be paid by the Company's Resident at Baroach to the Amil of that district.

ARTICLE 2.

It has been the old established custom, on the wreck of any ship, vessel or boats within any of the ports in the neighbourhood of Baroach, that the owner of the port should take possession of the goods; but as at this time a firm friendship exists between the government of the English Company and Maharajah Soubadar Madho Rao Sindia Bahadur, the Governor-General and Council have requested that the goods of the ships, vessels, and boats of the English that may be wrecked in the river of Baroach, may be released and Maharajah Soubadar Madho Rao Sindia Bahadoor agrees, for the sake of friendship, that when any ship, vessel, or boat belonging to the English shall be wrecked in the river Nerbudda which belongs to the district of Paroach, and the Amil of Baroach may save any goods which bear the mark of the English, the Amil shall deliver all such goods to the Company's Resident at Baroach who shall reimburse the amount expended in saving and keeping them.

ARTICLE 3.

Some disputes having arisen between the English and subjects of the Maharajah belonging to the fort of Baroach, in respect to the time of passing into the fort and out of it, it is now agreed, and the Maharajah has directed, that at the times when it is customary that the gate should remain open, the people belonging to the Amil of Baroach shall not prevent the going and coming of the English or their dependants, but that the gate shall be shut at the appointed hour, and none of the English or their dependants shall have any right to enter the fort, or go out of it, after that time. The English are not then to desire that the gate may be opened for them, not even to give intelligence of the arrival of any ship that may come into the port at night.

ARTICLE 4.

Maharajah Soubadar Madho Rao Sindia Bahadoor engages that the servants of the English factory, and their household attendants, and the tradesmen such as carpenters or smiths, or porters who work in the Company's factory, and do not work anywhere but in the factory, shall be under the protection of the Resident at Baroach, and the Amil of Baroach shall in no manner molest them for duties or customs, etc. And when any crime committed or supposed to have been committed, by any such persons, shall be discovered, the Amil of Baroach shall send notice to the Company's Resident that he may examine and pass judgment upon such persons, or the Company's Resident shall send back such persons to the Amil, that whatever is proper in the case may be done by him; and the Governor-General and Council agree that when any tradesmen, etc., working in the Company's factory, shall go into the town of Baroach, and work also with other merchants and townsmen, the Amil of Baroach shall take the duties for such tradesmen, etc., according to the practice now in use with respect to the persons not working for the English only. For the sake of obviating any disputes that might occur on this point, the Company's Resident at Baroach shall prepare a list of the servants of the factory, with their descriptions and stations, and deliver it to the Amil.

ARTICLE 5.

The Governor-General and Council agree that the Company's Resident at Baroach shall not afford protection to any person of the town who may fly from the Amil and resort to the Resident for it, but shall, conformably to friendship, deliver up such person to the Amil.

ARTICLE 6.

It is agreed that the Resident at Baroach shall not entertain more sepoys than the number necessary for the protection of the English property in the factory, which number has been fixed at fifty men. It is also agreed that the English in future shall not beat the drum in the factory, as is the custom in the Company's districts. Such persons as may be in the train of sowarce of the Resident may have distinguishing badges, but are not to carry muskets.

ARTICLE 7.

Maharajah Soubadar Madho Rao Sindia Bahadoor engages in respect to the debts recently incurred by the inhabitants of Baroach to the Company's subjects, or such as may be incurred in future and not duly paid, that the Amil of Baroach shall examine the claim in the kutcheree of his own Adawlut, and enforce the payment of whatever may be proved to be just; and in respect to the debts which were owing from the inhabitants of Baroach to the Company's subjects at the time when Baroach was given to Madhajee Sindia, the Amil shall ascertain whatever may be due, and if the debtor be in good circumstances, he shall force him to pay immediately; if not in good circumstances, he shall fix on proper periods of payment by instalment, and oblige the observance of them.

The parties mutually swear, according to their respective faiths, to abide by this agreement.

ADDITIONAL ARTICLE to the foregoing TREATY, dated the 9th January 1786.

Whereas in the first Article of the Treaty concluded between the Honourable Company and Maharajah Soubadar Madho Rao Sindia, relative to the trade and other matters of the town and pergunnah of Baroach, it is specified that in every year in which the English Company carry on trade in the district of Baroach, the duties thereon shall be taken according to the treaty with the Nawab of Baroach, in one thousand seven hundred and sixty-four, that is to say, on the cotton which is purchased from Baroach, on every candy of Surat weight, one and a half Rupee and four felloos shall be paid and the duty on other articles, which are imported or exported by the Company, shall be one Rupee eight annas for every hundred Rupees. And whereas the extent of the Company's trade at Baroach, in respect to the weight of cotton and the amount of piece goods was not exactly known to either of the parties, and the specification of the same was required by Maharajah Soubadar Madho Rao Sindia, the Governor-General and Council of Bengal, in compliance with the wishes of Maharajah Soubadar Madho Rao Sindia, having written to the Governor and Council of Bombay on this subject, and ascertained the annual trade of the Honourable Company at Baroach to consist of eight hundred candies of cotton of Surat weight, and piece goods to the amount of one lakh and fifty thousand Rupees, prime cost;

it is therefore mutually agreed to, that for every candy of cotton to the amount of eight hundred candies the Honourable Company shall pay a duty of one and a half Rupee and four felloos; and for piece goods to the amount of one lakh and fifty thousand Rupees, prime cost, a duty shall be taken of one Rupee eight annas for every hundred Rupees; and that if ever a greater quantity of cotton or piece goods than what is here specified shall be purchased on account of the Honourable Company, they shall pay the same duty for such excess as has been settled with regard to English individuals.

Signed by Maharajah Sindia; at Bursar on the 7th of Rubre-ool-Awul, in the year 1200 of the Hegira, corresponding with the 9th of January 1786.

But it is agreed, that in case it should suit the interests of the Maharajah's Government to decline to enter into the Treaty abovementioned, such refusal shall not affect any of the other stipulations of this Treaty of Peace, which are, in every respect, to be binding on the contracting parties, their heirs and successors.

TREATY of ALLIANCE with DOWLUT RAO SINDIA,—1804.

TREATY of ALLIANCE and MUTUAL DEFENCE between the HONOURABLE the ENGLISH EAST INDIA COMPANY and the MAHARAJAH ALI JAH DOWLUT RAO SINDIA BAHADUR, and his children, heirs and successors, settled by MAJOR JOHN MALCOLM, on the part of the HONOURABLE COMPANY, and by BAPOO EETUL PUNT and MOONSHEE KAVEL NYN, on the part of the MAHARAJAH DOWLUT RAO SINDIA, after having communicated to each other their full powers, the said JOHN MALCOLM being deputed to the Court of DOWLUT RAO SINDIA by MAJOR GENERAL the HONOURABLE ARTHUR WELLESLEY; the HONOURABLE MAJOR-GENERAL aforesaid being invested with full powers and authority from His EXCELLENCY the MOST NOBLE RICHARD, MARQUIS WELLESLEY, KNIGHT of the MOST ILLUSTRIOUS ORDER of SAINT PATRICK, one of HIS BRITANNIC MAJESTY'S MOST HONOURABLE PRIVY COUNCIL, appointed by the HONOURABLE COURT of DIRECTORS of the said COMPANY to direct and control all their affairs in the EAST INDIES.

Whereas, by the blessing of God, the relations of friendship and union have been happily established between the Government of the Honourable Company and that of the Maharajah Ali Jah Dowlut Rao Sindia Bahadoor by a recent Treaty of Peace, the two Governments aforesaid, adverting to the complexion of the times, have now determined, with a view to the preservation of peace and tranquillity, to enter into this Treaty of general defensive alliance, for the reciprocal protection of their respective territories, together with those of their several allies and dependants, against unprovoked aggression and encroachments of all or any enemies whatever.

ARTICLE 1.

The friendship and union established by the former Treaty between the two States shall be promoted and increased by this Treaty, and shall be perpetual: the friends and enemies of either State shall be the friends and enemies of both, and their mutual interests shall henceforward be inseparable.

ARTICLE 2.

If any person or State whatever shall commit any act of unprovoked hostility or aggression against either of the contracting parties, and, after due representation, shall refuse to enter into amicable explanation, or shall deny the just satisfaction or indemnity which the contracting parties shall have required, then the contracting parties will proceed to concert and prosecute such further measures as the case shall appear to demand. For the more distinct explanation of the true intent and effect of this Article, the Governor-General in Council, in behalf of the Honourable Company, hereby declares that the British Government will never permit any power or State whatever to commit with impunity any act of unprovoked hostility or aggression against the rights and territories of the Maharajah Dowlut Rao Sindia, but will, at all times, in compliance with the requisition of the Maharajah, maintain and defend the same, when such requisition is made, in the like manner as the rights and territories of the Honourable Company are now maintained and defended.

ARTICLE 3.

With a view to fulfil this Treaty of mutual defence, the Maharajah agrees to receive, and the Honourable East India Company to furnish, a subsidiary force of not less than six thousand regular infantry, with the usual proportion of artillery, and with the proper equipment of warlike stores and ammunition. This force is to be stationed at such place near the frontier of Dowlut Rao Sindia as may hereafter be deemed most eligible by the British Government, and it will be held in readiness at such station to proceed as soon as possible for the execution of any service on which it is liable to be employed by the condition of this Treaty.

ARTICLE 4.

And it is further agreed that in conformity to the stipulations of the fifteenth Article of the Treaty of Peace, concluded by Major-General Wellesley, on the part of the Honourable Company, and by Bapoo Eetul, Moonshee Kavel Nyn, &c., on the part of Maharajah Ali Jah Dowlut Rao Sindia, that all charges and expenses of the six battalions abovementioned and of their ordnance, attillery, military stores, and equipment shall be defrayed by the Honourable Company out of the produce of the revenues of the territories ceded by the Maharajah Ali Jah Dowlut Rao Sindia to the said Company, by the second, third, and fourth Articles of the aforementioned Treaty of Peace, which territories are specified in a statement annexed to that Treaty.

ARTICLE 5.

Grain and all other articles of consumption, and provisions, and all sorts of materials for wearing apparel, together with the necessary number of cattle, horses, and camels, required for the use of the subsidiary force, shall, whenever the aforesaid force is within the territories of the Maharajah, in consequence of his requisition, be entirely exempt from duties; and whenever any further force of the Honourable Company shall, in consequence of war with any other State, be in the dominions of the Maharajah, they shall, in like manner as the subsidiary force, be exempt from all duties upon the aforesaid articles of necessary use and consumption: and it is also agreed that whenever any part of the army of the Maharajah is in the territories of the Honourable Company, for purposes connected with the fulfilment of this Treaty, that no duties on grain, camels, wearing apparel, &c., as stated above, which the party of the army of the said Maharajah may require, shall be collected: and it is further agreed that the Officers of the respective Governments, while they are in the fulfilment of the Articles of this Treaty, either with the army or in the territories of the other, shall be treated with that respect and consideration which is due to their rank and station.

ARTICLE 6.

The subsidiary force will, at all times, be ready, on the requisition of the Maharajah, to execute services of importance, such as the care of the person of the Maharajah, his heirs and successors, the protection of the country from attack and invasion, the overawing and chastisement of rebels or excitors of disturbance in the Maharajah's dominions; but it is not to be employed on trifling occasions.

ARTICLE 7.

Whereas it is agreed in the thirteenth Article of the Treaty of Peace that the Maharajah Ali Jah Dowlut Rao Sindia shall never take or retain in his service any Frenchman, or the subject of any other European or American power, the government of which may be at war with Great Britain, or any British subject whatever, European or native of India, without the consent of the British Government, the Maharajah now further engages that he will hereafter never employ in his service, or permit to reside in his dominions, any European or American whatever, without the consent and acquiescence of the British Government; the said British Government, on its part, engaging that it never will employ, or permit to reside in its dominions, any person subject of the Maharajah or others, who shall hereafter be guilty of crimes or of hostility against the person or government of the aforesaid Maharajah Dowlut Rao Sindia.

ARTICLE 8.

As, by the present Treaty, the union and friendship of the two States is so firmly cemented, that they may be considered as one and the same, the Maharajah engages neither to commence nor to pursue in future any negotiation with any principal States or powers, without giving previous notice and entering into mutual consultation with the Honourable East India Company's Government: and the Honourable Company's Government, on their part, declare that they will have no manner of concern with any of the Maharajah's relations, dependants, military chiefs, or servants, with respect to whom the Maharajah is absolute: and that they will, on no occasion, ever afford encouragement, support, or protection, to any of the Maharajah's relations, dependants, chiefs, or servants, who may eventually act in opposition to the Maharajah's authority; but, on the contrary, at the requisition of the Maharajah, they will aid and assist to punish and reduce all such offenders to obedience: and it is further agreed that no officer of the Honourable Company shall ever interfere in the internal affairs of the Maharajah's government.

ARTICLE 9.

As the chief object and design of the present defensive alliance is the security and protection of the dominions of the contracting parties, and their allies and dependants, from all attack whatsoever, the Maharajah Dowlut Rao Sindia engages never to commit any act of hostility or aggression against any State or Chief in alliance with the Honourable Company, or against any other principal State or power; and in the event of differences arising, whatever adjustment the Company's Government, weighing matters in the scale of truth and justice, may determine, shall meet his full approbation and acquiescence.

ARTICLE 10.

The contracting parties will employ all practicable means of conciliation to prevent the calamity of war, and for that purpose will, at all times, be ready to enter into amicable explanations with other principal States or powers, and to cultivate and improve the general relations of peace and amity with all the principal powers of India, according to the true spirit and tenor of this Treaty; but if a war should unfortunately break out between the contracting parties and any other State or power whatever, then the Maharajah Ali Jah Dowlut Rao Sindia Bahadur engages that the English force, consisting of six battalions, with their guns, etc., joined by a detachment of his army, consisting of six thousand of the Maharajah's infantry, and ten thousand of his Pagah and Sillahdar cavalry, which force the Maharajah engages always to keep ready, shall be immediately put in motion for the purpose of opposing the enemy: and the Maharajah also engages to employ every further effort for the purpose of bringing into the field the whole force which he may be able to supply from his dominions, with a view to the effectual prosecution and speedy termination of the said war. The Honourable Company, in the same manner, engage on their part (on such event occurring), to employ in active operations against the enemy as large a force as the service may require, over and above the said subsidiary force.

ARTICLE 11.

Whenever war shall appear probable the Maharajah Ali Jah Dowlut Rao Sindia engages to collect as many Binjarics as possible, and to store as much grain as may be practicable in the frontier garrisons. The Company's Government also, with a view to the effectual prosecution of the war, engages to adopt similar measures in their frontier garrisons.

ARTICLE 12.

The contracting parties entertain no views or conquests of extension of their respective dominions, nor any intention of proceeding to hostilities against any State or principal power, unless in the case of unjust and unprovoked aggression, and after the failure of their joint endeavours to obtain reasonable satisfaction, through the channel of pacific negotiation, according to the tenor of the preceding Treaty. If, contrary to the spirit and object of this defensive Treaty, war with any State should hereafter appear unavoidable (which God avert), the contracting parties will proceed to adjust the rule of partition of all such advantages and acquisitions as may eventually result from the success of their united arms. It is declared that in the event of war and of a consequent partition of conquests between the contracting parties, the shares of each Government shall be equal, in the division of any territory which may be acquired by the successful exertions of their united arms, provided that each of the contracting parties shall have faithfully fulfilled all the stipulations of this Treaty.

ARTICLE 13.

The interests of the contracting parties being identified by this defensive alliance, it is agreed that the Honourable Company's Government shall be at liberty to employ the whole or any part of the subsidiary force established by the Treaty in the quelling of any disturbances which may arise within their territories, or in the performance of any other service which may be required by the said Honourable Company's government, provided such service shall not interfere with any other duties on which the said subsidiary force is liable to be employed under the conditions of this Treaty. And if disturbances shall at any time break out in any part of the Maharajah's dominions which lays contiguous to the frontier of the Honourable Company, and to which it might be inconvenient to detach any proportion of the subsidiary force, the British Government, in like manner, if required by Dowlut Rao Sindia, shall direct such of the Company's troops as may be most conveniently stationed for the purpose, to assist in quelling the said disturbances within the Maharajah's dominions; and if disturbances shall at any time break out in any part of the dominions of the British Government which lays contiguous to the frontier of the Maharajah, the Maharajah, if required by the British Government, shall direct such of his troops as may be most conveniently stationed for the purpose, to assist in quelling the said disturbances within the dominions of the British Government.

ARTICLE 14.

In order to strengthen and confirm the friendship established between the two States; it is agreed that neither of the two contracting parties shall enter into any alliance, or have any concern with the tributaries or chiefs of the other: and, in order to support the independent authority of both Governments, it is agreed and declared, that hereafter neither of the contracting parties will give protection or countenance to the rebellious tributaries and subjects of the other, but they will use their utmost endeavours for the apprehension of such rebels, in order that they may be brought to punishment.

ARTICLE 15.

The Honourable Company agree to exert their influence to maintain the observance of such usages on matters of form and ceremony, and other customs, as shall appear to have been fixed on all points of intercourse and communication between the Peishwa and his ancestors, and the Maharajah Dowlut Rao Sindia and his ancestors: and the English Government also agree to recognize the rights of Dowlut Rao Sindia to all possessions he holds, whether by written Sunnuds, or by grants, or by the unwritten authority of the Peishwa, according to former usage, provided such Sunnuds do not interfere with the faithful fulfilment of the Treaty of Peace; and provided also that in all cases where disputes may arise, on the subject of possessions held by unwritten authority, the Maharajah Dowlut Rao Sindia agrees to refer it to the arbitration of the said British Government, who will decide, with reference to former usage, on the principles of truth and justice. The English Government further agrees to use its endeavour to prevent any acts which have been done by Dowlut Rao Sindia, or his ancestors, under the authority reposed in him or them by the Peishwa, or his ancestors, from being subverted provided their being supported is strictly consistent with the preservation of the honour and dignity of His Highness the Peishwa, and of the stipulations of the Treaty of Peace.

ARTICLE 16.

This Treaty, consisting of sixteen Articles, being this day settled by Major Malcolm, on the part of the Honourable Company, and by Eetul Punt and Moonshce Kavel Nyn, on the part of Dowlut Rao Sindia, Major Malcolm has delivered one copy thereof, in Persian and Mahratta and English signed and sealed by himself, to the said Maharajah, who, on his part, has also delivered one copy of the same duly executed by himself: and Major Malcolm by virtue of a special authority given him in that behalf, by Major-General the Honourable Arthur Wellesley (himself vested with full powers as before stated), hereby declares the said Treaty to be in full force from the date hereof, and engages that a copy of the same from the Governor-General in Council, in every respect a counterpart of that executed by himself, shall be delivered to the Maharajah Ali Jah Dowlut Rao Sindia, in the space of two months and ten days, and on the delivery of such copy, the Treaty executed by Major Malcolm shall be returned.

TREATY with DOWLUT RAO SINDIA, with the Declaratory Article annexed,—1805.

DEFINITIVE TREATY of AMITY and ALLIANCE between the HONOURABLE ENGLISH EAST INDIA COMPANY and the MAHARAJAH ALI JAH DOWLUT RAO SINDIA BAHADOOR, and his children, heirs and successors.

Whereas various doubts and misunderstandings have arisen respecting the clear meaning and interpretation of parts of the Treaty of Peace concluded between the British Government and Dowlut Rao Sindia, at Surjec Anjengaum, on the 30th December 1803, with a view of doing away all such doubts, and of preventing the recurrence in future of any misunderstanding, this definitive Treaty of amity and alliance is concluded between the two States by Lieutenant-Colonel John Malcolm, acting under the immediate direction and superintendence of the Right Honourable General Gerard Lake, Commander-in-Chief of His Majesty's and the Honourable Company's Forces, &c., &c., &c., and vested with full powers and authority from the Honourable Sir George Hilaro Barlow, Baronet, appointed by the Honourable Court of Directors of the said Company to control and direct all their affairs in the East Indies, and Moonshee Kavel Nyn, vested with full powers and authority, on the part of the said Maharajah Dowlut Rao Sindia.

ARTICLE 1.

Every part of the Treaty of Peace concluded by General Sir Arthur Wellesley, K.B., at Surjee Anjengaum, except what may be altered by this engagement, is to remain binding upon the two States.

ARTICLE 2.

The Honourable Company can never acknowledge that Dowlut Rao Sindia has any claim or right, grounded on the Treaty of Surjee Anjengaum, to possess the fort of Gwalior or the territories of Gohud ; but, from considerations of friendship, it agrees to cede to the Maharajah that fortress, and such parts of the territory of Gohud as are described in the accompanying Schedule.

ARTICLE 3.

As a compensation for this cession, and to remunerate the English Government for the annual expense incurred in supporting the Rana of Gohud, Dowlut Rao Sindia agrees, on his own part and that of his Sirdars, to relinquish, after the 1st of January 1806, all right and claim whatever to the pensions of fifteen lakhs of Rupees granted to several of the chief officers of his State, by the seventh Article of the aforesaid Treaty of Surjee Anjengaum.

ARTICLE 4.

The Honourable Company agree to pay to Dowlut Rao Sindia the arrears due upon the pensions granted by the seventh Article of the Treaty of Peace, as above mentioned, up to the 31st of December 1805, and also the balance due upon the revenues of Dholepore, Rajah-Kerrah, and Baree up to the same date, making deductions on the following heads:—

- 1st.—Pensions forfeited by Bappoo Sindia and Sudasheo Rao, by acts of hostility towards the British Government, to be stopped from the date of their hostility.
- 2nd.—Plunder of the British Residency.
- 3rd.—Cash advanced by Mr. Jenkins to parties of the Maharajah's troops.
- 4th.—Charges of collection, etc., for the provinces of Dholepore, Baree, and Rajah-Kerrah.

ARTICLE 5.

With a view of preventing any misunderstanding relating to their respective possessions on the quarter of Hindustan, it is agreed that the river Chumbul shall form the boundary between the two States, from the city of Kotah to the west to the limits of the territories of Gohud to the east, and within that extent of the course of the Chumbul, Dowlut Rao Sindia shall have no claim or right to any rule, tribute, revenue, or possessions on its north bank ; and the Honourable Company shall have no claim or right to any rule, tribute, revenues or possessions on the south bank of that river. The talooks of Bhadek and Sooseperarah, which are on the banks of the Jumna, will, however, remain in possession of the Honourable Company.

ARTICLE 6.

By the fifth Article of this Treaty, which makes the river Chumbul the boundary of the two States, from the city of Kotah to the west to the limits of the territories of Gohud to the east, the Maharajah resigns all pretensions and claims to any tribute from the Rajah of Boondee, or any other, on the north bank of the Chumbul, within the aforementioned limits: also to the countries of Tank Ramporah, Bahraungaum, Zemeidah, etc., and to the districts of Dholepore, Rajah-Kerrah, and Baree, all which remain in the possession of the Honourable Company.

ARTICLE 7.

The Honourable Company, on consideration of the benefits derived from the Article which makes the Chumbul the boundary between the two States, and from friendship to the Maharajah, agree to grant him, personally and exclusively, the annual sum of four lakhs of rupees, to be paid by quarterly instalments, through the Resident at the Durbar; and the Honourable Company also agree to assign, within their territories in Hindustan, a jaghire (to be holden on the same footing as that enjoyed by Balla Bai) amounting to a revenue of two lakhs of rupees per annum, to Baiza Bai, the wife of Dowlut Rao Sindia, and a jaghire, amounting to the sum of one lakh of rupees per annum, to Chumna Bai, the daughter of that Chief.

ARTICLE 8.

The Honourable Company engage to enter into no Treaty with the Rajahs of Oodeypore and Jodhpore, and Kotah or other Chiefs, tributaries of Dowlut Rao Sindia, situated in Malwa, Meywar, or Marwar, and in no shape whatever to interfere with the settlement which Sindia may make with those Chiefs.

ARTICLE 9.

The Honourable Company are now engaged in a war with Jeswunt Rao Holkar, and using every exertion for his reduction; but should they hereafter make a peace, or enter into any agreement with that Chief, they engage not to restore to him, or desire to be restored to him, any of the possessions of the family of Holkar in the province of Malwa, lying between the river Tapti and Chumbul, which may have been taken by Dowlut Rao Sindia, nor will the Honourable Company interfere in any manner whatever in the disposal of those provinces; and they will consider Dowlut Rao Sindia at full liberty to make such arrangement as he chooses with Jeswunt Rao Holkar, or with any other branch of the Holkar family, respecting the claims of that family to tribute from the Rajahs, or others, or to any possessions situated to the north of the river Tapti and to the south of the river Chumbul: but it is clearly to be understood, that as the Company's Government agrees not to concern itself with the arrangements which Sindia may make with the family of Holkar, respecting their claims or hereditary possessions, situated between the Tapti and the Chumbul, that Government will not take part in any dispute or war which may be the result or consequence of such arrangements or settlement.

ARTICLE 10.

As Serjee Rao Ghaultka has acted in a manner calculated to disturb the friendship between the two States, the Maharajah agrees never to admit that Chief to share in his councils, or to hold any public employment under his Government.

ARTICLE 11.

This Treaty, consisting of eleven Articles, has been this day settled by Lieutenant-Colonel Malcolm, acting under directions of the Right Honourable Lord Lake, on the part of the Honourable Company, and by Moonshee Kavel Nyn, on the part of Dowlut Rao Sindia. Lieutenant-Colonel John Malcolm has delivered one copy thereof, in Persian and English, signed and sealed by himself, to the said Moonshee Kavel Nyn, to be forwarded to the Maharajah Dowlut Rao Sindia, and has received from the said Moonshee Kavel Nyn a counterpart of the said Treaty signed and sealed by the said Moonshee. Lieutenant-Colonel John Malcolm engages that a copy of the said Treaty, ratified by the Honourable the Governor-General in every respect a counterpart of the Treaty now executed by himself, shall be delivered to Moonshee Kavel Nyn, to be forwarded to the Maharajah, within the period of one month from this date, and on the delivery of such copy to the Maharajah, the Treaty executed by Lieutenant-Colonel John Malcolm, under the immediate direction of the Right Honourable Lord Lake, shall be returned; and Moonshee Kavel Nyn, in like manner, engages, that another copy of the said Treaty, ratified by the Maharajah Ali Jah Dowlut Rao Sindia, in every respect a counterpart of the Treaty now executed by himself, shall be delivered to Lieutenant-Colonel John Malcolm, to be forwarded to the Honourable the Governor-General, within the period of one month from this date; and on the delivery of such copy to the Honourable the Governor-General, the Treaty executed by Moonshee Kavel Nyn, by virtue of the full powers and authority vested in him, as abovementioned, shall also be returned.

Done at Mustafapoor, this 22nd day of November, Anno Domini 1805, or 29th of Shuban, in the year of the Hegira 1220.

DECLARATORY ARTICLES annexed to the TREATY concluded between the RIGHT HONOURABLE LORD LAKE, on the part of the HONOURABLE COMPANY, and MAHARAJAH DOWLUT RAO SINDIA on the 22nd November 1805.

Whereas objections have arisen to the terms of the fifth, sixth, and seventh Articles of the aforesaid Treaty, it is hereby agreed and declared that in lieu of those three Articles, the two following shall be substituted :—

ARTICLE 1.

With a view to prevent any misunderstanding relating to the respective possessions of the Honourable Company and Maharajah Dowlut Rao Sindia in the quarter of Hindostan, the Maharajah hereby agrees to cede to the Honourable Company all the territory north of the river Chumbul which was ceded to the Maharajah by the seventh Article of the Treaty of Surjee Anjengaum, that is to say, the whole of the districts of Dholepore, Baree and Rajah-Kerrah, and the Honourable Company shall have no claim or right to any rule, tribute, revenues or possessions, on the south bank of that river. The talooks of Bhadek and Sooseperarah, which are on the banks of the Jumna, will, however, remain in the possession of the Honourable Company.

ARTICLE 2.

The Honourable Company, from friendship to the Maharajah, agrees to grant to him, personally and exclusively, the annual sum of four lakhs of Rupees, to be paid by quarterly instalments, through the Resident at the Durbar. And the Honourable Company also agree to assign, within their territories in Hindostan, a jaghire (to be holden on the same footing as that enjoyed by Balla Bai), amounting to a revenue of two lakhs of Rupees per annum, to Baiza Bai, the wife of Dowlut Rao Sindia, and a jaghire, amounting to one lakh of Rupees per annum, to Chumna Bai, the daughter of that Chief.

TREATY of CONCERT and ALLIANCE with DOWLUT RAO SINDIA, dated the 5th November 1817.

TREATY of CONCERT and ALLIANCE between the HONOURABLE the ENGLISH EAST INDIA COMPANY and MAHARAJAH ALI JAH DOWLUT RAO SINDIA, BAHADOOR, and his children, heirs and successors, settled on the part of the HONOURABLE COMPANY by CAPTAIN ROBERT CLOSE, by virtue of full powers to that effect vested in him by HIS EXCELLENCY the MOST NOBLE FRANCIS, MARQUIS OF HASTINGS, KNIGHT of the MOST NOBLE ORDER of the GARTER, one of HIS BRITANNIC MAJESTY'S MOST HONOURABLE PRIVY COUNCIL, GOVERNOR-GENERAL, appointed by the HONOURABLE COMPANY to direct and control all their affairs in the EAST INDIES, COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF of HIS MAJESTY'S and the HONOURABLE COMPANY'S FORCES, &c., &c., &c., and on the part of HIS HIGHNESS DOWLUT RAO SINDIA by RAM CHUNDRU BHASKUR, duly empowered by His HIGHNESS to that effect.

Whereas the British Government and Maharajah Ali Jah Dowlut Rao Sindia Bahadoor are mutually actuated by a desire to suppress the predatory power of the Pindarees, and to destroy and prevent the revival of the predatory system in every part of India ; the following Articles have been agreed on for the purpose of giving effect to the mutual wishes of the two States.

ARTICLE 1.

The contracting parties engage to employ the forces of their respective governments and of their allies and dependants in prosecuting operations against the Pindarees and any other bodies of associated freebooters ; to expel them from their haunts, and to adopt the most effectual measures to disperse and prevent them from re-assembling. With this view the forces of the two Governments and their respective allies will immediately attack the Pindarees and their associates, according to a concerted plan of operations, and will not desist until the objects of this engagement are entirely accomplished. The Maharajah further agrees to employ his utmost efforts to seize the persons of the Pindaree leaders and their families, and deliver them up to the British Government.

ARTICLE 2.

The Pindaree hordes having established themselves in the territories of the Maharajah and other neighbouring States, it is hereby agreed that, on their expulsion, such of the lands occupied by them as heretofore belonged to the Maharajah, shall be immediately resumed by His Highness, who engages never to re-admit them to possession. Such of the lands now occupied by the Pindarees as belong to other States shall be restored to their rightful proprietors, provided they shall have exerted themselves to the extent required in expelling the Pindarees, and shall engage never to re-admit them, or in any way to connect themselves with those freebooters. Those lands shall otherwise be delivered over to Maharajah Dowlut Rao Sindia, and be held by him on the same conditions.

ARTICLE 3.

Maharajah Dowlut Rao Sindia hereby engages never to re-admit the Pindarees or any other predatory bodies into his territories, or in any manner to give them the smallest countenance or support, or to permit his officers to do so ; on the contrary, His Highness promises to issue the most positive orders to all his officers, civil and military, and to enforce them, by the severest penalties, to employ their utmost efforts to expel or destroy any bodies of plunderers who may attempt to take refuge in His Highness' territories. All officers disregarding His Highness' orders are to be considered and dealt with as rebels to the Maharajah and enemies of the British Government.

ARTICLE 4.

Maharajah Dowlut Rao Sindia is the undisputed master of his own troops and resources. With a view, however, to the more effectual accomplishment of the objects of this Treaty, His Highness agrees that the divisions of his troops (which taken together shall amount to 5,000 horse) employed in active operations against the Pindarees or other freebooters, shall act in concert with the British troops, and in conformity to the plan that may be counselled by the officer commanding the British divisions, with which His Highness' troops may be appointed to act in concert. With the same view it is agreed that a British officer shall be stationed with each division of the Maharajah's troops, to be the channel of communication between them and the British Commanding Officer ; and to forward the other purposes of their conjunct operations, His Highness engages that all his officers, civil and military, shall afford every degree of support and assistance in their power, in procuring supplies or otherwise to the British troops operating in his territory ; and any failure in this respect shall subject the offending party to be considered and treated as a rebel to His Highness and an enemy of the British Government.

ARTICLE 5.

Maharajah Dowlut Rao Sindia engages that the divisions appointed to act in concert with the British troops shall be maintained in a state of complete equipment, both men and horses, and regularly paid. In order to provide effectually for the latter object in such a manner as shall prevent all future discussion or dispute, His Highness consents to renounce, for the next three years, the payments now made by the British Government to him, as well as to certain members of his family and ministers of his Government, and that those sums shall be disbursed towards the payment of His Highness' troops, through the British officers stationed with them : and the British Government agrees at the conclusion of the war, and after His Highness' troops shall have received what may be due to them, to pay any balance that may remain to His Highness. With the same view, the Maharajah Dowlut Rao Sindia likewise consents to relinquish in the fullest manner to the British Government, for a period of two years, the tribute which he is entitled to receive from the States of Jodhpore, Boondee, and Kotah.

ARTICLE 6.

It is agreed that the troops of Maharajah Dowlut Rao Sindia, cavalry, infantry, and artillery, shall occupy, during the war, such positions as shall be designated by the British Government, and shall not change them without the express concurrence of that Government, any unconcerted movements being calculated to derange the joint operations of the forces of the two States, and to give advantage to the enemy. It is also agreed, in order to ensure the due execution of the stipulation contained in this Article, that the British Government shall be at liberty to station an officer in each of the divisions of the Maharajah's army abovementioned.

ARTICLE 7.

The force that will be put in motion by the British Government, and that actually in the service of Maharajah Dowlut Rao Sindia, being fully sufficient to chastise the Pindarees and effect the objects of the present Treaty, His Highness agrees, in order to prevent the possibility of collusion between his officers and the Pindarees, not to augment his forces during the war, without the concurrence of the British Government. His Highness expressly engages to prohibit his officers from admitting into the ranks of his army, or otherwise harbouring or protecting, the Pindarees, or other freebooters; and all persons neglecting or disobeying these orders are to be considered and treated as rebels to His Highness and enemies of the British Government,

ARTICLE 8.

With a view to the more effectual prosecution of the joint operations of the two Governments, and to the facility and security of the communication of the British troops with their supplies, the Maharajah, reposing entire confidence in the friendship and good faith of the British Government, agrees that British garrisons shall be admitted into the forts of Hindia and Asseergurh, and shall be charged with the care and defence of those forts during the war, and shall have the liberty of establishing depôts within them. The flag of Dowlut Rao Sindia shall, however, continue to fly in the fort of Asseergurh, and His Highness shall be at liberty to station a killadar, with a personal guard of fifty men, in the said fort; but it is clearly understood that the actual command of that place as well as of Hindia, and the disposal of the warlike stores that may be found in those forts, shall be vested exclusively in the British Commanding Officers. Any part of those stores that may be damaged or expended, while the forts in question are occupied by the British troops, shall be accounted for, and the value made good to His Highness. For the more effectual performance of this stipulation, inventories shall be taken by officers, on the part of both Governments, at the time of the occupation of the forts by the British Government. The present garrisons (with the exception above stated in regard to Asseergurh) shall move out of the forts. The Maharajah will thenceforward have no further concern with the Sebundeas of the garrisons, but His Highness' other troops, including the Paigah, etc., shall encamp at such places as may be prescribed by the British officers, in conformity to the provisions of the 6th Article. The territories depending on the forts above-mentioned will continue to be managed by the officers of the Maharajah, who will receive every support from the British Government and its officers. The whole, or such portion of the revenues as may be necessary, shall be appropriated to the payment of the Maharajah's troops acting in concert with the British divisions, as stipulated in the 5th Article; and a faithful account of the whole shall be rendered to His Highness after the conclusion of the war. The two forts above-mentioned, and the territories dependent on them, will be restored to the Maharajah as soon as the operations against the Pindarees or their confederates shall be brought to a termination, in the same condition in which they may be delivered up to the British Government. All private property will be respected; and the inhabitants of the towns or villages depending on the forts will enjoy the protection of the British Government, or be permitted to depart with their property, if they think proper.

ARTICLE 9.

The main object of the contracting parties being to prevent for ever the revival of the predatory system in any form, and both Governments being satisfied that to accomplish this wise and just end it may be necessary for the British Government to form engagements of friendship and alliance with the several States of Hindostan, the 8th Article of the Treaty of the 22nd November 1805, by which the British Government is restrained from entering into Treaties with certain Chiefs therein specified, is hereby abrogated and annulled; and it is declared that the British Government shall be at full liberty to form engagements with the States of Oudeypore, Jodhpore, and Kotah, and with the State of Boondee, and other substantive States on the left bank of the Chumbul. Nothing in this Article shall, however, be construed to give the British Government a right to interfere with States or Chiefs in Malwa or Guzerat, clearly and indisputably dependent on, or tributary to, the Maharajah: and it is agreed that His Highness' authority over those States or Chiefs shall continue on the same footing as it has been heretofore. The British Government further agrees and promises, in the event of its forming any engagements with the above-mentioned States of Oudeypore, Jodhpore, Kotah, and Boondee, or with any others on the left bank of the Chumbul, to secure to Dowlut Rao Sindia his ascertained tribute and to guarantee the same in perpetuity to be paid through the British Government; and Dowlut Rao Sindia engages, on his part, on no account or pretence whatever, to interfere in any shape in the affairs of those States without the concurrence of the British Government.

ARTICLE 10.

If (which God forbid) the British Government and the Maharajah shall be compelled to wage war with any other State, on account of such State attacking either of the contracting parties, or aiding or protecting the Pindarees or other freebooters, the British Government, having at heart the welfare of Dowlut Rao Sindia, will, in the event of success, and of His Highness' zealous performance of his engagements, make the most liberal arrangements for the consolidation and increase of his territories.

ARTICLE 11

Such parts of the Treaty of Surjee Anjengaum, and of the Treaty concluded on the 22nd November 1805, as are not affected by the provisions of the present engagement, remain in full force, and are mutually binding on the contracting parties.

ARTICLE 12.

This Treaty, consisting of twelve Articles, having this day been concluded, subject to the ratification of the Governor-General and Maharajah Ali Jah Dowlut Rao Sindia, Captain Close engages to procure the ratification of the Governor-General in five days from this date, or sooner if possible; and Ram Chandru Bhaskur engages to obtain His Highness' ratification before sunset this evening.

Done at Gwalior, this 5th day of November, in the year of our Lord 1817, corresponding with the 24th day of Zilhuj, 1232 of the Hegira, and with the 11th Ashwin Vud, in the year 1218 of the Arabic era.

NO. VIII.

ENGAGEMENT between the HONOURABLE the ENGLISH EAST INDIA COMPANY and MAHARAJAH ALI JAH DOWLUT RAO SINDIA BAHADOOR, dated the 25th June 1818.

Whereas by the 14th Article of the Treaty of Poona, concluded on the 13th of June 1817, all the rights and territories of His Highness Rao Pundit Pradhan in Malwa were ceded to the Honourable East India Company; and whereas some of those territories are contiguous to, and intermixed with, those of Maharajah Dowlut Rao Sindia; it has therefore been agreed, for the mutual convenience of both States, that certain exchanges of territory should take place; and the British Government hereby transfers to Maharajah Ali Jah Dowlut Rao Sindia, his heirs and successors, all its rights and claims to the districts and territories mentioned in the annexed Schedule, No. 1; and Maharajah Ali Jah Dowlut Rao Sindia, for himself, his heirs and successors, hereby transfers to the British Government all his rights and claims of every description to the places mentioned in the accompanying Schedule, No. 2.

Moreover the British Government having resolved to restore to Maharajah Ali Jah Dowlut Rao the fort and territory of Jawud, etc., the Maharajah on his part engages, on his recovering that district, to establish such an administration there as shall afford security for the peace of the country, and the prevention of the revival of the predatory system. The Maharajah further engages to recall Jeswunt Rao Bhao, for whose future conduct the Maharajah will be responsible, and will require him to reside at a distance from Jawud, on a provision to be assigned him by the Maharajah either in jaghire or in any other manner His Highness may prefer.

It is further stipulated, that in the event of Hindia and Asseergurh being restored by the British Government to the Maharajah, previous to the entire cessation of operations against the Pindarees, etc., the Maharajah engage that in lieu of the revenues of those districts, which by Treaty have been set aside for the payment of the contingent to be employed against the Pindarees, a third year's tribute on the States of Kotah and Jodhpore shall, in the event of its being required, be assigned for that purpose.

In witness whereof Maharajah Ali Jah Dowlut Rao Sindia has hereunto affixed his seal, and Captain Josiah Stewart engages to obtain and deliver to Maharajah Dowlut Rao Sindia, without delay, a counterpart of this engagement, with the ratification of the Most Noble the Governor-General.

Done at Gwalior, this twenty-fifth day of June in the year of our Lord 1818, corresponding with the twentieth day of Shaban, 1233 of the Hegira, and with the 7th of Jeshat Vud, in the year 1219 of the Arabic ENGAGEMENT between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT and the MAHARAJAH DOWLUT RAO SINDIA, dated the 6th February 1820.

Whereas the Maharajah Dowlut Rao Sindia agrees to give up for three years the annual payments made by the British Government to himself and certain other persons of his Court, and also the tribute to which he was entitled from the Rajpoot States (for three years), for the purpose of maintaining a body of Auxiliary Horse; and whereas the whole of that amount has already been paid by the British Government to the Maharajah's troops and a considerable balance remains due to the British Government; it has now been agreed between the Maharajah and the British Government that the body of Auxiliary Horse to be maintained by His Highness shall be reduced, so that the abovementioned funds, namely, the annual payments formerly made to the Maharajah and his family and ministers, together with the tribute due from the Rajpoot States, may be fully adequate to the payment of the force.

It is further agreed that, for the liquidation of the debt incurred by the Maharajah to the British Government for the payments already made to the Auxiliary Horse, as well as for the expenses of those Horse until the funds appropriated for their maintenance become available, the following districts shall be made over, from the commencement of the year 1877 Sumbut, to the British Government, viz. :—

IN KANDEISH.

1. The Pergunah of Yawul.
2. Ditto Chopra.
3. Ditto Pachora.
4. Ditto Lohara, 12 villages.
5. Possessions in Gurra Kota and Maltoun, intermixed with those of the British Government, together with the fort of Gurra Kota.

And whereas all the abovementioned districts are intermixed with the possessions of the British Government, it is further agreed that, after the liquidation of the debt due by the Maharajah, the British Government shall either restore those districts to His Highness, or continue to hold them, paying a fair rent for them, or grant to His Highness other lands of equal value, in lieu of them, which may be more conveniently situated, whichever mode may appear best to the British Government.

Done at Gwalior, this sixth day of February, in the year of our Lord 1820, corresponding with 20th day of Rubee-oos-sanee, 1235 of the Hegira, and with 7th Magh Vud Suptumee 1220 of the Arabic era.

TRANSLATION of an AGREEMENT between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT and the MAHARAJAH DOWLUT RAO SINDIA, regarding the NIMAR DISTRICTS,—1823.

Whereas by an arrangement formerly effected by Major-General Sir John Malcolm, it was agreed that the Maharajah Dowlut Rao Sindia should pay annually the sum of Rupees four thousand and thirty-eight towards the support of certain Girassia Chiefs in Nimar, which contribution not having been paid for upwards of four years, a debt has consequently accumulated to near Rupees twenty thousand; and whereas the pergunnahs of Dhurgaon, Burwee, Sylanee, Poonassa and Kandwa, which adjoin certain provinces belonging to the British Government in Nimar, are now so desolate that the Maharajah does not receive the proper revenue of them, and in consequence of the disorder which prevails in them, great inconvenience is occasioned to the adjacent districts of the British Government in that quarter: Therefore, in order to remove those inconveniences and to provide for the payment of the debt before-mentioned, as well as to secure the punctual discharge for the future of the annual contribution above noticed of Rupees four thousand and thirty-eight, it is hereby agreed by the Maharajah that the aforesaid pergunnahs including their dependencies shall (with the exception of certain long established rights or charitable grants as Nankar Pudarick and Dhermdow) remain in the possession of the Honourable Company.

The British Government consents that, after deducting the amount of the debt mentioned in the preceding Article, and after deducting the annual contribution of Rupees four thousand and thirty-eight, together with the expenses of management, the whole remaining revenue to be collected from the districts abovementioned shall be paid annually to the Maharajah for ever; and as the expenses of management cannot now be correctly ascertained, it is likewise agreed that whatever sum those expenses may amount to during the first year that the pergunnahs aforesaid remain in the possession of the British Government, the same amount shall be considered for ever afterwards the fixed and permanent annual charge on that account.

And whereas certain Girassia Chiefs in Malwa are by former agreement entitled to receive from the Maharajah's Government certain Tankha dues in the payment of which difficulties have been sometimes made by the Maharajah's officers, it is hereby agreed by both Governments that as long as those payments shall be faithfully and regularly discharged, the Girassia Chiefs shall continue to receive them from the Maharajah's kamavis-dars, but if at any time the Maharajah's officers hesitate to make the payments in question, it is understood that the British Government shall be at liberty to discharge them and to add the amount of those payments to the deductions already agreed to be made from the revenue of the districts abovementioned.

Done at Gwalior, this 10th day of November 1823 corresponding with the 6th of Rubee-al-awal, in the year 1239 of the Hegira, and with the 8th of Karsick (Shoodh), in the year 1880 Sumbut, or 1224 of the Arabic era.

In the year Soor (Shuru) Sun, Araba Assooroon (Ashrin), in the month of Mohurram and on the 25th day, corresponding with A.D. 1824, I request that in the district of Nimar, the undermentioned mahals may be received from the charge of kamavisdars and transferred in kamavish (khalsa) to the charge of the English:—

- | | |
|-----------------------|-----------------------|
| 1. Kundwae pergunnah. | 4. Sylance pergunnah. |
| 2. Burwae. | 5. Dhungaon Mosa. |
| 3. Poonassa. | |

These five mahals are transferred from the aforesaid years in kamavish in order that they may be restored to prosperity and re-peopled. Whatever may be collected shall be paid into the Sircar's treasury year by year; this is exclusive of the Domallagaon, the Padaruk Zumeen, which must be continued according to custom. When the mahals are restored to prosperity, and shall have reached their Kumal Juma, they must be shown (in Mahrattée "Anoon dakwae").

In the year Kumus (Khams) Assooreen, Moeatcein-wo-Aluf, and the 22nd of the month of Suffer, A.D. 1825, the Government of the Company having stated that certain mahals are not prosperous, but on the contrary very much depopulated, and requested that they might be transferred to its management to be restored to prosperity; for this reason the following mahals are transferred:—

- | | |
|--|---|
| 1. Assore (Asir), excepting Hussainpoora, Surbaugh, Soodeepoora. | 6. Deore pergunnah, including the talookas of Tendokerra, Narmon, the pergunnahs of Gower, Jakur and Sowlate. |
| 2. Bangurh pergunnah. | 7. Pecmplode (Piplod) pergunnah. |
| 3. Moode pergunnah. | |
| 4. Belora talooka. | |
| 5. Attode (Al'od) talooka. | |

The above seven mahals are from the above-mentioned year transferred to the Company according to its request for the purpose of being restored to prosperity. When they shall have reached their Kumal Juma they shall be shown (in Mahrattée "Anoon dakwunee"). After the Malnuskoor (this includes Sebundee, Nemnook, Durukdar, &c.) shall have been settled, the remainder of the collections, as in other mahals, according to the kistbundee, shall be paid into the Sircar's treasury always excluding Duorundae, Wurchasun, Paduruke Zumeen, and Gaon Domale, Natkhasgee, Ameene, &c., which must be continued according to custom.

No. XI.

TREATY between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT and the MAHARAJAH JYAJEE RAO SINDIA, dated the 13th January 1844.

TREATY between the HONOURABLE ENGLISH EAST INDIA COMPANY and MAHARAJAH ALI JAH JYAJEE RAO SINDIA, BAHADOOR, and his children, heirs and successors, settled on the part of the HONOURABLE COMPANY by FREDERICK CURRIE, ESQUIRE, and LIEUTENANT-COLONEL WILLIAM HENRY SLEEMAN, by virtue of full powers to that effect vested in them by the RIGHT HONOURABLE EDWARD, LORD ELLENBOROUGH, one of HER BRITANNIC MAJESTY'S MOST HONOURABLE PRIVY COUNCIL, GOVERNOR-GENERAL, appointed by the Honourable Company to direct and control all their affairs in the East Indies; and on the part of HIS HIGHNESS JYAJEE RAO SINDIA by RAO RAM RAO PHALKIA BAHADOOR SIUMSHERE JUNG, DEO RAO JADHOW MAMA SAHEB, DUBEER-OD-DOWLAH MOON-SHEE RAJAH BULWUNT RAO BAHADOOR, OODAJEE RAO GHATGIA, MOOLLA JEE, and NARAYUN RAO BHAOO YUMAJEE, Potnuees the Sirdars nominated to conduct the affairs of the Government during His Highness' minority.

ARTICLE 1.

Every part of the Treaty of Peace concluded by General Sir Arthur Wellesley, K B, at Surjee Anjengaum, on the 30th December 1803, and of the Treaty of alliance and mutual defence, settled by Major John Malcolm at Boorhanpoor, on the 27th February 1804, and of the definitive Treaty of amity and alliance, with the declaratory Articles annexed, concluded by Lieutenant-Colonel John Malcolm, at Moostafapoor, on the 22nd November 1805, and of the Treaty concluded between Captain Robert Close, on the part of the British Government, and Maharajah Ali Jah Dowlut Rao Sindia, on the 5th November 1817, as well as every part of all other Treaties and Engagements between the two States, which may be now in force, except in so far as may be altered by this engagement, is to remain binding upon the two Governments

ARTICLE 2.

Whereas the late Maharajah Junkojee Rao Sindia engaged to defray all the charges of a force, to be commanded by British officers, and constantly stationed within His Highness' territories, for the protection thereof and the preservation of good order therein, and the cost of such force hitherto has been about Company's Rupees 5,00,000 per annum, and the revenues and receipts set apart and assigned for the maintaining of the said force, together with other revenues now received by the British Government on His Highness' account, amount to the sum of about Company's Rupees 5,46,000 ; and whereas it is expedient to increase the amount of such force and to make permanent provision for defraying the charge thereof, it is therefore agreed between the British Government and His Highness the Maharajah Jyajee Rao Sindia, that in addition to all the revenues and other receipts already set apart for the purpose of maintaining the said force, or received by the British Government on His Highness' account, the revenues of the districts enumerated and territory described in the Schedule A. to this Treaty shall be appropriated to the maintenance of such force.

ARTICLE 3.

It is further agreed that if the revenues of the districts so enumerated and described in such Schedule A, together with the revenues and payments mentioned in the foregoing Article as set apart for the payment of the said force, or heretofore received on His Highness' account, shall, after defraying thereout all the charges of civil administration, exceed the sum of Company's Rupees eighteen lakhs, the surplus shall be paid over to His Highness Maharajah Jyajee Rao Sindia ; and if the said revenues and receipts shall fall short of Company's Rupees eighteen lakhs per annum, the deficiency shall be made good by His Highness.

ARTICLE 4.

And it is further agreed, for the better securing of the due payment of the revenues of such districts enumerated and described in Schedule A., and for the better preserving of good order within the same, that the civil administration thereof shall be conducted by the British Government, in the same manner in which the civil administration of the other districts belonging to the Maharajah, of which the revenues are similarly assigned, is conducted by the British Government for His Highness.

ARTICLE 5.

And whereas there is now due to the British Government the sum of ten lakhs of Rupees, more or less, as may hereafter appear on examination of the accounts, on the score of charges of the contingent force, and a further sum of one lakh, on account of advances made to Her Highness Baiza Bai, and on other accounts, and the charges of the present armament, of the British Government may be estimated at ten lakhs (after deducting therefrom the expense of furnishing to His Highness six thousand men, with artillery and stores, free of cost to His Highness, under the provisions of the Treaty of Boorhanpoor), and a further expenditure of five lakhs will be incurred by the British Government in affording compensation for losses sustained during, and in consequence of, the late hostilities, and in other charges connected therewith ; it is further agreed that His Highness shall pay to the British Government the sum of twenty-six lakhs of Rupees within fourteen days from the date of this Treaty, and in default thereof that the revenues of the several districts enumerated in Schedule B, attached to this Treaty, shall, together with the civil administration of such districts, be made over to the British Government until such time as the said sum of twenty-six lakhs of Company's Rupees shall have been paid, together with interest, at the rate of five per cent. per annum upon the same.

ARTICLE 6.

And whereas the British Government is bound by Treaty to protect the person of His Highness the Maharajah, his heirs and successors, and to protect his dominions from foreign invasion, and to quell serious disturbances therein, and the army now maintained by His Highness is of unnecessary amount, embarrassing to His Highness' government and the cause of disquietude to neighbouring States, it is therefore further agreed that the military force of all arms hereafter to be maintained by His Highness, exclusive of the contingent above provided for, shall at no time exceed nine thousand men, of whom not more than three thousand shall be infantry, with twelve field guns and two hundred gunners, with twenty other guns; and His Highness the Maharajah engages to take immediate measures for the reduction of his army within the number above specified, and the British Government engages on its part to assist His Highness therein, should such aid appear to be required.

ARTICLE 7.

It is further agreed that His Highness will discharge all pay due to the troops disbanded, and also give a gratuity of three months' pay to such of the officers, non-commissioned officers, and privates of the corps disbanded, as may not be re-enlisted in the contingent or in any new corps formed by His Highness.

ARTICLE 8.

And inasmuch as it is expedient to provide for the due administration of the government during the minority of His Highness the Maharajah, which minority shall be considered to terminate when His Highness shall have attained the full age of 18 years, and not sooner, that is, on the 5th Magh Vud Sumbut 1909, or 19th day of January A.D. 1853, it is further agreed that during such minority the persons entrusted with the administration of the government shall act upon the advice of the British Resident in all matters whereon such advice shall be offered, and no change shall be made in the persons entrusted with the administration without the consent of the British Resident acting under the express authority of the Governor-General.

ARTICLE 9.

And it is agreed that the following persons shall, in the first instance, constitute the Council of Regency, and that the first-named person shall be President of the same. Rao Ram Rao Phalkia Bahadoor, Shumsher Jung, Deo Rao Jadowh Mama Saheb; Dubeer-ood-dowlah Moonshee Raja Bulwunt Rao Bahadoor; Oodajee; Rao Ghatgia; Moolla Jee; and Narayun Rao Bhao Yumajee Potnuvees,

ARTICLE 10.

And inasmuch as it is fitting that Her Highness Tara Bai should have a suitable provision now made for the maintenance of her court, it is further agreed that the sum of Rupees three lakhs shall be annually set apart for that purpose, and be at Her Highness' sole disposal.

ARTICLE 11.

And it is further agreed that the British Government shall, as heretofore, exert its influence and good offices for maintaining the just territorial rights of the Maharajah and the subjects of the State of Sindia at present existing in the neighbouring and other Native States.

ARTICLE 12.

This Treaty, consisting of twelve Articles, has been this day settled by Frederick Currie, Esquire, and Lieutenant-Colonel William Henry Sleeman, acting under the directions of the Right Honourable Edward, Lord Ellenborough, Governor-General, on the part of the British Government, and by Rao Ram Rao Phalkia Bahadoor, Shumsher Jung; Deo Rao Jadow Mama Saheb; Dubeer-ood-Dowlah Moonshee Rajah Bulwunt Rao Bahadoor; Oodajee Rao Ghatgia; Moola Jee; and Narayun Rao Bhao Yumajee Potnuvees, on the part of the Maharajah Jyajee Rao Sindia, and the said Treaty has been this day ratified by the seal of the Right Honourable Lord Ellenborough, Governor-General, and by that of His Highness Maharajah Jyajee Rao Sindia.

Done at Gwalior, this thirteenth day of January, in the year of our Lord one thousand eight hundred and forty-four, corresponding with 22nd Zilhuj 1259 Hegira, and ratified the same date.

No. XII.

TREATY between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT on the one part, and MAHARAJAH ALI JAH JYAJEE RAO SINDIA BAHADOOR, and his children, heirs and successors, on the other part; settled on the part of the BRITISH GOVERNMENT by COLONEL SIR RICHMOND CAMPBELL SHAKESPEAR, KT. and C.B., AGENT to the GOVERNOR-GENERAL in CENTRAL INDIA, by virtue of full powers to that effect vested in him by HIS EXCELLENCY the RIGHT HONOURABLE CHARLES JOHN, EARL CANNING, G.C.B., VICEROY and GOVERNOR-GENERAL of INDIA and one of HER MAJESTY'S MOST HONOURABLE PRIVY COUNCIL, and on the part of HIS HIGHNESS JYAJEE RAO SINDIA by JUGDEO RAO MOHURKUR, COMMANDER-IN-CHIEF, and BALAJEE CHIMNAJEE, Durbar Dewan, nominated by HIS HIGHNESS to conduct this negotiation,—1860.

Whereas a Treaty was concluded on the 13th day of January, A.D. 1844, corresponding with 22nd Zilhedge 1259 Hegira, between the Honourable East India Company and Maharajah Ali Jah Jyajee Rao Sindia; and

Whereas, in execution of the declared intention of the British Government to give to the Maharajah, in acknowledgment of services rendered by His Highness in 1837 and 1858, territory yielding a gross yearly revenue of three lakhs of Company's Rupees, it has become expedient to restore a portion of the districts assigned to the British Government by the above-mentioned Treaty; and

Whereas it will be to the advantage of both contracting parties that other portions of the said Assigned Districts be restored to the Maharajah in exchange for the possessions of His Highness, situated in the Bombay Presidency, and to the south of the river Nerbudda, and elsewhere; and

Whereas it has been found inconvenient that the sovereignty of the Assigned Districts should remain with the Maharajah, while their civil administration and management remain with the British Government; and

Whereas it has been declared on the part of the British Government that if the revenue and receipts of the Assigned Districts should fall short of 18 lakhs of Company's Rupees per annum, the deficiency shall not be claimed from the Maharajah, and by the above declaration the provisions of Article 3 have been abrogated; and

Whereas, with reference to the sixth Article, it has been declared that the military force in the Maharajah's service may, with certain limits, be increased; and

Whereas the fifth, seventh, eighth, ninth and tenth Articles of the above-mentioned Treaty relate to matters of a temporary nature, and have been fulfilled, or are no longer applicable to the existing relations between the two Governments;

Therefore it is agreed by the contracting parties that the Treaty of the 13th January 1844 shall be abrogated, and that in its place the following Articles shall be substituted:—

ARTICLE 1.

All Treaties and engagements, between the two Governments, previous to that of the 13th of January 1844, shall, except in so far as they may be altered by this present engagement, remain binding upon the two Governments.

ARTICLE 2.

The British Government restores to the Maharajah from the Assigned Districts now in its possession territory yielding a gross revenue of three lakhs of Company's Rupees per annum, as a free gift and willing acknowledgment of His Highness' services during the years A.D. 1857 and 1858.

ARTICLE 3.

The Maharajah transfers to the British Government in full sovereignty the whole of His Highness' possessions in the Punj Mahals and to the south of the river Nerbudda, also pergunnah Kunjeea on the Betwa river, on the following conditions:—

1st.—That, for the lands transferred by His Highness, the British Government shall give in exchange lands of equal value, calculated, on both sides, on the present gross revenue.

2nd.—That, in lieu of all tributes and perquisites now derived by the Maharajah from the lands to be transferred by His Highness, the British Government shall for the future pay to the Maharajah from the British Treasury at Gwalior an equivalent in Company's Rupces, calculated at the average rate of batta which has prevailed during the last six months.

3rd.—That each government shall respect the conditions of existing leases until their expiry, and that, in order that this may be made clear to all concerned, each government shall give to its new subjects leases for the same terms of years, and on the same conditions as those which they at present enjoy.

4th.—That each government shall give to its new subjects "Sunnuds" in perpetuity, for the rent-free lands, the jaghires, the perquisites, and the hereditary claims (i.e., "Huks" and "Wuttuns") which they enjoy at present under the other government.

ARTICLE 4.

On the same terms and conditions as those specified in the foregoing Article, the Maharajah Sindia transfers to the British Government the whole of His Highness' present rights and interests in both lands and perquisites in the districts of—1st.—Ahmednuggur.

2nd.—Kandeish.

3rd.—Poonah.

4th.—Sattara.

5th.—Sholapoor.

6th.—Pergunnah Beri in zillahs Agra and Muttra.

7th.—His jaghire in zillah Ajmere.

The hereditary Kusba and Dhakilla villages named below are especially excluded from the above transfer, and will remain, as hitherto, in the possession of the Maharajah, and continue with His Highness on the same terms as heretofore—

Names of villages.

2. Village Jamgaon.
3. Pepulgaon.

4. Village Ghoseporece.
5. " Deoolgaon.
6. " Kunnari Khair.
7. " Kusba Patus.

ARTICLE 5.

On the terms and conditions specified in Article 3, the British Government transfers to the Maharajah Sindia, in full sovereignty, the city and fort of Jhansi and lands in their vicinity and on the Pahooj, equal in value to those transferred by the Maharajah under Articles 3 and 4.

ARTICLE 6.

When the calculations based upon the above conditions shall have been completed, the two governments will exchange "letters of transfer" for all the districts which are included in the above propositions, and it is mutually agreed that this exchange of "letters of transfer" shall on no account be delayed beyond 1st May 1861, and that each Government shall enjoy the rubbee kist now on the ground.

ARTICLE 7.

On the completion of the above arrangements the Maharajah Sindia will transfer to the British Government the full sovereignty of all the Assigned Districts which shall then remain in its possession.

ARTICLE 8.

With reference to Article 7, the British Government engages to keep, in the place of the late contingent force, a "subsidiary force" constantly stationed within His Highness the Maharajah's territories, the whole expense of which shall not be less than (16) sixteen lakhs of Company's Rupees per annum.

ARTICLE 9.

The military force of all arms hereafter to be maintained by His Highness shall at no time exceed—

TRANSLATION of a KHUREETA from the MAHARAJAH SINDIA to the GOVERNOR-GENERAL'S AGENT FOR CENTRAL INDIA dated 9th August 1861.

AFTER COMPLIMENTS —States that Article 4 of the Treaty of 12th December 1860 secured His Highness the continued possession, as heretofore, of seven villages and two muzrahs in Jangaon in the Deccan, but His Highness, consequent on the increased friendship between the two governments, and for their mutual benefit, has now consented to the transfer to the British Government in exchange, of these his hereditary villages, as above; and has received equivalents for them on the Pahooj: he therefore requests him (the Governor-General's Agent) to apply to His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor-General of India in Council, to cancel that part of Article 4 of the said Treaty which refers to the villages in question.

TRANSLATION of a KHUREETA from the AGENT, GOVERNOR-GENERAL, FOR CENTRAL INDIA, to HIS HIGHNESS THE MAHARAJAH SINDIA, dated 14th October 1861.

AFTER COMPLIMENTS.—I have submitted to His Excellency the Viceroy Your Highness' khureeta to me of date 9th August 1861, and I am directed to inform you that your request has been acceded to, that that part of Article 4 of the Treaty of 12th December 1860, which specially reserved to Your Highness the seven hereditary villages and two muzrahs in Jamgaon in the Deccan, may be cancelled, Your Highness having received equivalents for them on the Pahooj.

2. The Governor-General has decided that the best mode of complying with Your Highness' request will be to append to the copy of the Treaty, which is in Calcutta, and to the copy which is with Your Highness, copies of Your Highness' khureeta to me, and this my reply with the English translation of each of them in the margin. I therefore forward the above-mentioned papers which I beg Your Highness will direct to be appended to the Treaty of 12th December 1860.

ENGAGEMENT executed by MAHARAJAH ALI JAH JYAJEE RAO SINDIA under Article 7 of the TREATY of 12th December 1860, transferring to the British Government the full sovereignty of the districts assigned for the maintenance of the Gwalior Contingent in 1844, remaining with the said Government on the completion of the territorial exchange arrangements provided for by the above named Treaty.

Whereas under Articles 2 and 3 of the Treaty, dated 13th January 1844, between Maharajah Ali Jah Jyajee Rao Sindia and the British Government, certain districts and receipts enumerated and described in Schedule A appended to the said Treaty, and of which a copy is appended to this deed, were assigned for the maintenance of the Gwalior Contingent :

And whereas certain of these districts, or portions thereof, as detailed in Schedule B appended hereto, have recently been restored to Maharajah Sindia under the operation of Articles 2 and 5 of the Treaty dated 12th December 1860, subsequently entered into between His Highness and the British Government, and the said Maharajah has engaged by Article 7 of the latter Treaty on the completion of the arrangements provided for therein, to transfer to the British Government the full sovereignty of all the Assigned Districts which shall then remain in its possession :

And whereas the arrangements so provided for have now been completed, and the Assigned Districts and receipts described in Schedule C appended hereto, remain in the possession of the British Government :

Therefore Maharajah Ali Jah Jyajee Rao Sindia hereby transfers to the British Government the full sovereignty of the districts so enumerated in Schedule C., viz.

AFTER THE USUAL COMPLIMENTS.—Your friend has become aware that Your Excellency would wish to continue the occupation of the fortress of Gwalior by a British garrison in the event of the maintenance of the Morar cantonment as the Head Quarters of the subsidiary force, and that, with reference to intimation given to your sincere friend by Lords Canning and Elgin, the late Viceroys and Governors-General, that the fort should be made over to your affectionate friend, notwithstanding these assurances, it is the free wish of my heart, and I hereby convey my written and formal consent to the occupation of the fort of Gwalior by British troops as long as the Government of India may deem such to be advisable on the condition that my flag continues to fly from the ramparts, and I am saluted from its guns according to established custom.

That should the Government of India at any time and for any reason or cause decide on withdrawing the garrison of British troops, in such case the fort would be occupied by myself in such force as is deemed sufficient for its security.

That with reference to this subject, I have requested Major Meade, Agent, Governor-General, and Major Hutchinson, the Political Agent, to submit certain requests to Your Excellency, which I hope may meet with favorable consideration.

May I always be considered a well-wisher, and occasionally be favoured with accounts of Your Excellency's welfare.

To the MAHARAJAH of GWALIOR.

MY HONORED AND VALUED FRIEND,—I have received with pleasure Your Highness's friendly letter, dated 29th March 1864, conveying, on certain conditions, your written and formal consent to the occupation of the fort of Gwalior by British troops as long as the Government of India may deem such to be advisable.

In consideration of Your Highness having consented to the above arrangement and of the friendship which the British Government entertains for you, I, provided it be decided to retain the British troops at Morar, will agree to modify the ninth Article of the Treaty concluded with Your Highness on 12th December 1860, so far as to increase the number of guns which Your Highness is permitted to possess, from thirty-six (36), which is the number fixed in Article 9 of the above Treaty, to forty-eight (48).

MY HONORED AND VALUED FRIEND,

I have already through my Agent in Central India expressed my sense of Your Highness's liberal and enlightened offer to place at the disposal of the Government of India a sum, payable in five years, aggregating 150 lakhs of Rupees, for the construction of two lines of railway, one from Gwalior to Agra and the other from Indore to Neemuch

I have now the pleasure to communicate formally to Your Highness the acceptance by the British Government of the loan on the conditions stated in the agreements made with General Daly on 19th November 1872 and 11th January 1873.

I understand also from General Daly that Your Highness will provide, free of charge, all the land required for the railways, the stations, buildings, &c., and that no transit duties will be levied on through-traffic; also that no royalty or dues of any kind will be charged by Your Highness on materials required for the railways either procured from or in transit through Your Highness's territories; that the whole of the arrangements as to construction, equipment and maintenance of the lines, and the management of the lines after they are open, as well as plenary civil and criminal jurisdiction within the lands occupied for railway purposes from the date of the land being made over, are to rest exclusively with the British Government; and that the British Government alone has interest in and the receipt and control of the receipts of the lines.

The proofs which Your Highness has given of an earnest desire to extend the advantages of railway communication to your country have afforded me much gratification. The expressions of your heartfelt attachment to the British Government which General Daly has reported to me are fully reciprocated.

I beg to express the high consideration I entertain for Your Highness, and to subscribe myself Your Highness's sincere friend.

DETAILED REGULATIONS, drawn up by the DIRECTOR-GENERAL of the POST OFFICE of INDIA and the GWALIOR DURBAR, for the purpose of giving effect to the POSTAL CONVENTION between the IMPERIAL POST and the GWALIOR STATE POST, which was approved and confirmed by the GOVERNMENT of INDIA on the 26th October 1898.

REGULATION 1.

The Imperial Offices of Exchange (Neemuch, Ujjain Railway station, Jhansi and Agra) and the Gwalior State Offices of Exchange (Neemuch, Ujjain and Lashkar) shall be the channels of exchange for all insured and value-payable articles and articles giving rise to accounts; and the Agra Post Office shall prepare and adjust the accounts resulting from the exchange. Any other Imperial Post Offices (including sections of the Railway Mail Service) and Gwalior State Post Offices, conveniently situated for this purpose, may, with the concurrence of the Chief Postal Authority of the Gwalior State and the Postmaster-General of the North-Western Provinces and Oudh, be placed in communication with one another, but articles exchanged by these offices shall not give rise to any account.

REGULATION 2.

The offices of exchange shall daily send to, and receive from, each other a mail bag, which may contain—

- unregistered correspondence, paid and unpaid;
- registered correspondence;
- paid registered and unregistered parcels;
- insured letters and parcels;
- value-payable articles.

Other Offices and Sections of the Railway Mail Service placed in communication with one another shall likewise exchange mail bags daily, but such mail bags shall not contain any insured or value-payable articles.

REGULATION 3.

Every registered insured and value-payable article posted in British India for delivery in the Gwalior State, shall be accompanied by a receipt to be signed by the addressee. This receipt shall be prepared by the Imperial Post Office of posting, and shall be presented with the article by the Gwalior State Post Office of delivery to the addressee, whose signature shall be taken on the receipt, which shall then be filed in the office of delivery.

REGULATION 4.

In the case of registered, insured or value-payable articles exchanged with the Imperial Post, the Gwalior State Post shall use forms of receipt and acknowledgment printed in English precisely similar to those used in the Imperial Post, and shall be responsible that all the necessary entries are filled in in English. The receipts when signed by the addressee shall be filed in the office of delivery.

REGULATION 5.

Acknowledgments of delivery of insured letters and parcels, whether delivered in British India or in the Gwalior State, shall in every case be obtained by the offices of delivery and furnished to the senders without any additional charge. Similar acknowledgments shall be obtainable by senders of registered articles on payment of the fee prescribed in the Indian Postal Guide. All acknowledgments shall, in the case of articles posted in British India, be prepared by the Imperial Post Office of posting, and in the case of articles posted in the Gwalior State, by the Gwalior Post, and shall be signed by the addressees and returned to the offices of posting for delivery to the senders.

REGULATION 6.

All insured letters and parcels shall pass through the offices of exchange with usual forms containing necessary entries. Insured letters shall be transferred from one Office of Exchange to the other enclosed in sealed outer envelopes.

REGULATION 7.

Value-payable articles intended for delivery in the Gwalior State shall be forwarded by the Imperial Office of Exchange to the State Office of Exchange entered in the daily list, and accompanied by money order forms ready filled up in favour of the senders. On delivery of a value-payable article, the money order appertaining thereto shall be used as the means of remitting to the sender the sum recovered from the addressee (less commission when not prepaid by the sender) and shall be entered in the list of money orders in the same way as other money orders issued in the Gwalior State. Value-payable articles posted in the Gwalior State for delivery in British India shall be transferred by the State Office of Exchange to the Imperial Office of Exchange for disposal, the amounts to be recovered from the addressees, and remitted to the senders by means of money orders, being specified in the daily list.

REGULATION 8.

Money orders payable in the Gwalior State shall be forwarded by the Imperial Office of Exchange to the State Office of Exchange entered in a list (in the annexed Form 3A) which shall be prepared in duplicate. Both copies of the list shall be forwarded, with the money orders, to the State Office of Exchange, which shall retain the original and return the duplicate list duly signed, and after careful verification, to the Imperial Office of Exchange. These lists shall be numbered in a consecutive series commencing from the 1st of each month. The money orders shall bear the numbers assigned to them by the offices of issue, and these numbers shall be entered in the lists. Lists shall not be prepared when there are no money orders to communicate, but if any list is not received in due course, the Imperial Office of Exchange shall, on receiving information to that effect, transmit without delay a second copy of the list in duplicate.

REGULATION 9.

Money orders, in the form prescribed in the Indian Postal Guide, issued by the Gwalior State Post Offices and payable in British India, shall be forwarded by the State Office of Exchange to the Imperial Office of Exchange entered in a list (in the annexed Form 3) which shall be prepared in duplicate. Both copies of the list shall be forwarded, with the money orders, to the Imperial Office of Exchange, which shall retain the original and return the duplicate list, duly signed and after careful verification, to the State Office of Exchange. These lists shall be numbered in a consecutive series commencing from the 1st of each month. The money orders shall not bear any serial numbers, but they shall be entered opposite to the printed numbers in the list. Lists shall not be prepared when there are no money order transactions to communicate, and if any list is not received in due course, the State Office of Exchange shall, on receiving information to that effect, transmit without delay a second copy of the list in duplicate.

REGULATION 10.

Each list shall be carefully verified by the receiving office of exchange, and corrected when it contains simple errors, such corrections being noted in red ink in both copies of the list. When a list shall contain errors or irregularities which cannot be rectified without previous communication with the despatching office, the receiving office shall request an explanation from the despatching office, forwarding a copy of the list. This explanation shall be given with as little delay as possible, and in the meantime the payment of orders dependent on the irregular entries shall be suspended.

REGULATION 11.

The amounts of money orders received by the Imperial and State Offices of Exchange shall be paid by the offices of payment to the payees named, in full without delay, subject to the conditions governing the lapsing and forfeiture of money orders and the treatment of undeliverable money orders laid down in the Indian Postal Guide. The acknowledgments signed by the payees, whether in British India or in the Gwalior State, shall be returned through the offices of exchange.

REGULATION 12.

On the 5th of each month, by which time the principal Imperial Office of Exchange (Agra) will have received from the State Office of Exchange (Lashkar) all the lists bearing dates in the previous month, these lists as well as the Imperial lists bearing dates in that month shall be made the subject of a monthly account current in the annexed Form 4, which contains special provisions for the adjustment of commissions realized in advance by the office of posting for money orders to be issued in payment of the value of value-payable unregistered packets. This account shall be based on the corrected lists as corrected by the receiving office, any entries at the time under suspension pending explanation being omitted.

The account shall also include under the head "special items" any necessary adjustments of previous accounts (such as adjustments on account of suspended entries); a detailed statement of such special items being annexed to the account and the correspondence or other documents forming the authority for each special item being quoted opposite it in the statement. A copy of the account current shall be furnished without delay to the State Office of Exchange. If the balance of the monthly account current is in favour of the Gwalior State, the Postmaster of the Imperial Office of Exchange shall immediately pay the amount to the credit of the Gwalior State at Lashkar; if it is in favour of the Imperial Post Office, the Postmaster of the State Office shall on receipt of the account current make arrangements to pay the amount to the Postmaster of Agra.

REGULATION 13.

If a money order, payable either in British India or the Gwalior State, is undeliverable, the amount thereof shall be repaid to the remitter and entered in the usual course in the lists of money orders.

REGULATION 14.

As soon as possible after the 1st of April of each year the Imperial Post Office shall, from an examination of the monthly accounts current of the previous year, determine the average balance on account of money orders due to or from the Gwalior State on the last day of each month. When such average balance is not less than Rs. 5,000, the indebted Postal Administration shall make over to the other the sum of Rs. 5,000 or the multiple of that sum which shall most nearly approximate to the actual average monthly balance. This sum will remain in the hands of the Postal Administration to which it is entrusted as a fixed imprest. It will not be shown in the monthly accounts current and will be subject to revision at the beginning of the following year.

REGULATION 15.

All unpaid foreign articles and parcels, intended for delivery in the Gwalior State, shall pass through the Offices of Exchange. The postage and customs duty (if any) due on such foreign articles or parcels shall be noted in a list for recovery by the State Office of Exchange, which shall remit the amount in cash to the Imperial Office of Exchange. These transactions shall not be entered in the account current.

REGULATION 16.

The following records appertaining to the exchange of registered, insured, and value-payable articles, parcels, and money orders between Imperial Post Offices and Post Offices in the Gwalior State shall be kept with due care for a period of twelve months for purposes of reference :—

REGULATION 17.

The Director-General of the Post Office of India conjointly with the Gwalior Durbar may make any additions to, or modifications in, these regulations, which may be advisable in the interests of the Imperial or Gwalior State Post Offices; provided that no such addition or modification shall be repugnant to any of the Articles of the Postal Convention between the Imperial Post Office and the Gwalior State, which was approved and confirmed by the Government of India on the 26th October 1898.

REGULATION 18.

The Director-General of the Post Office of India shall have authority to issue, from time to time, such instructions as may be necessary for the guidance of Imperial Post Offices in carrying out the details of the Postal Convention, and the Gwalior Durbar shall have similar authority in respect of Gwalior State Post Offices. A copy of the instructions issued by the Director-General of the Post Office of India shall in every case be furnished to the Gwalior Durbar, and a copy of the instructions issued by the Gwalior Durbar shall similarly be furnished to the Director-General of the Post Office of India for information.

REGULATION 19.

For ordinary correspondence affecting the preparation, transmission or correction of lists, accounts, etc., or relating to cases of loss, damage or other irregularities connected with the exchange of articles, the Offices of Exchange and the Offices of the Chief Postal Authorities of the Imperial Post Office and the Chief Postal Authority of the Gwalior State shall be the medium; but in matters involving questions of procedure, the offices of correspondence shall be the office of the Director-General of the Post Office of India on the one hand, and the Gwalior Durbar on the other hand.

No. XXV.

KHARITA, dated Rangoon, the 24th February 1886, from HIS EXCELLENCY the VICEROY and GOVERNOR-GENERAL of INDIA to HIS HIGHNESS the MAHARAJA SINDIA.

When I had the pleasure of visiting your capital in December last, I informed Your Highness in public Durbar that Her Majesty's Government had determined to restore to you the fortress of Gwalior and the cantonment of Morar.

The arrangements for the evacuation of the fortress are now complete, and it will shortly be handed over to Your Highness's troops. I therefore take the opportunity of addressing to Your Highness this friendly letter, which will be delivered to you by my Agent in Central India, Sir Lepel Griffin, and will serve as a lasting record of the arrangement lately concluded between Your Highness and the British Government.

Your Highness has agreed that the following conditions shall be attached to the transfer of the fortress and cantonment :—

(1) That Your Highness shall in exchange for the cantonment of Morar make over in full sovereignty to the British Government the town and fort of Jhansi.

(2) That Your Highness shall pay to the British Government 15 lakhs of rupees on account of the cost incurred on the fortifications and buildings in Fortress Gwalior.

(3) That the British garrison at present stationed in the fortress and at Morar shall be withdrawn and maintained at such stations as may appear to the Government of India to be convenient, the obligation to assist Your Highness contained in Article 6 of the Treaty of the 13th of January 1844 remaining in force.

On the other hand I have agreed that Your Highness shall be at liberty to raise, in addition to the infantry force which may be entertained by you under existing treaties and engagements, 3,000 drilled infantry soldiers, on the understanding that the regular cavalry in your service is not increased beyond its present strength of 2,000 men. These conditions are in all respects satisfactory; and it is a source of deep gratification to me that a measure to which Your Highness attached so much importance should have been carried out during my tenure of the office of Viceroy. I trust that Your Highness will not fail to recognise in the restoration of the fortress and cantonment a signal proof of the good-will of the British Government and of their confidence in Your Highness's loyalty to the Crown,

No. XXVI.

TO HIS HIGHNESS MUKHTAR-UL-MULK, AZIMUL IKTIDAR, RAFIUSH-SHAN, WALA SHIKOH, MOHTASHAM-I-DAURAN, UMDAT-UL-UMRA, MAHARAJ ADHIRAJ, ALIJAH, HISAM-US-SALTANAT, MAHARAJA MADHO MAHARAJ SINDHIA BAHADUR-SHRINATH, MANSUR-I-ZAMAN, FIDVI-I-HAZRAT-I-MALIKA-I-MUAZZAMA-I-RAFI-UD-DARJA-I-INGLISTAN, of GWALIOR.

MY HONORED AND VALUED FRIEND,

In December 1886 the Commissioner of Jhansi and Sardar Santaji Rao Temak, on behalf of the British Government and the Gwalior Durbar, respectively, met to arrange for the late exchanges of territory in the neighbourhood of Jhansi.

The following terms were agreed to by both these trusted officers :—

- (1) The villages to be exchanged are those scheduled in the Commissioner of Jhansi's letter No. 1398, dated 27th February 1886.
- (2) The estimate of the annual value of the villages in list B made by the Commissioner, viz., Rs. 23,648, falling at 6 annas 4 pies the acre, is accepted.
- (3) The small portion of Tori-ki-Sarai, which is west of the Pahuj, shall be included with the Bhandar villages in list A.
- (4) The annual value of the Tori-ki-Sarai land, west of the Pahuj, shall be completed and added to the annual value of the villages in list A.
- (5) Whatever difference between the annual values of the two tracts shall then remain will be made good by a cash payment of twenty years' purchase.
- (6) The British Government will retain the zemindari rights it has acquired in certain patches of land in villages in list A, and its lien upon lands hypothecated for loans under Act XVI of 1882 : provided that the revenue demand on those lands shall be a first charge on them. Should the Gwalior Government desire to acquire the lands or redeem the lien upon them, the British Government will raise no objection.
- (7) Public buildings shall be transferred by either party, as on former occasions, without payment.
- (8) The Bhandar ferry shall be managed by the Gwalior State.
- (9) The Paran Kothi will remain the property of the British Government, but be reserved for the use of the Durbar officials.

I desire now to receive Your Highness's formal acceptance of these conditions and of the subsequent arrangements which gave effect to them.

Further, Your Highness is aware that in the territory recently transferred to the Gwalior Government, proprietary and other rights of landholders and tenants are involved; and I, therefore, trust that Your Highness will give an assurance that the Gwalior Durbar will adhere to the terms of the land settlement effected by the British Government in the ceded villages, and recognise the rights recorded thereat; and that the Durbar will respect all sanads for jaghirs or rent-free grants within the said villages which had been given or admitted to be valid by English authorities; and further that Your Highness will preserve intact all rights recorded as being in existence at the time of transfer in the revenue records prepared under the orders of the British Government.

I desire to express the high consideration which I entertain for Your Highness, and to subscribe myself,

Your Highness's sincere Friend,

Whereas His Highness Madhav Rao Scindia, Maharaja of Gwalior, G.C.S.I., maintains a Force of Imperial Service Troops for the purpose of co-operating, if need be, in the defence of the British Empire, and

Whereas it is necessary that the Imperial Service Troops of the Gwalior State when associated with troops of the British Army should be under the orders of the Officer Commanding the Combined Forces and subject to the like discipline and control as the Officers and soldiers of Her Majesty's Indian Army, and

Whereas it is not the wish or intention of the Government of India that a British Officer should be appointed to command any corps of Imperial Service Troops, though British Officers are employed in order to instruct and inspect the said Troops,

GWALIOR ;

The 27th February 1906.

(II).—MEDIATIZED CHIEFS IN THE GWALIOR RESIDENCY.

Excluding the confiscated State of Amjhera and the sanad State of Khaniadhana, there are seven mediatized Chiefs under the Resident at Gwalior. Khaniadhana, a petty sanad State, was transferred from the supervision of the Political Agent of Bundelkhand to that of the Resident at Gwalior in 1888. The Estate of Umri, and its offshoot Khiaoda, were not included in the last edition of this work presumably on the ground that they were not formally guaranteed. For many years past, however, they have been treated in practice as separate Estates and as possessing a prescriptive guarantee. The introductory remarks regarding the Central India States contain also some account of these mediatized States.

1.—AMJHERA.

This State always paid tribute to the paramount power, first to the Muhammadan governors of Dhar, and afterwards to the Marathas. By an Agreement (No. XXXIV) mediated by Sir John Malcolm in 1820, it was arranged that Amjhera should pay a tribute of Rs. 35,000 to Sindhia, who was excluded from all interference in the internal affairs of the State. This tribute was one of the items ceded by the treaty of 1844 with Sindhia for the payment of the Gwalior Contingent, and it is now paid to the British Government permanently by Sindhia under the treaty of December 1860.

The Raja of Amjhera rebelled in 1857, and his Estate was confiscated. It was decided that Sindhia, and not the British Government, had the claim to the territory. Previous to the mutinies Amjhera contributed Hali Rs. 4,000 to the Malwa Bhil Corps. Sindhia now contributes Hali Rs. 20,000 on account of the Gwalior territory and Amjhera.

2.—PARON OR NARWAR.

The holders of this Estate are descended from the Kachhwaha clan. The present holding has only existed since 1818, the Chief's immediate ancestors having been driven from Narwar in the beginning of the nineteenth century by the troops of Daulat Rao Sindhia. Through the mediation of Major J. Stewart, Acting Resident at Gwalior, the pargana of Paron and six villages were granted (No. XXXV) to Madho Singh of Narwar in December 1818 under the guarantee of the British Government. The Raja had been deprived of his hereditary possessions in Narwar by Daulat Rao Sindhia, and in retaliation he made frequent raids upon Sindhia's territories. The object of the settlement was to put a stop to his plundering expeditions.

Man Singh, who was a nephew of Madho Singh, joined the rebels during the mutinies, but surrendered in 1859 on condition of a free pardon and a suitable maintenance being granted to him. His former possessions were consequently restored to him under the same conditions as before his rebellion; i.e., under British guarantee. For his subsequent services in connection with the capture of Tantia Topi, a jaghir in perpetuity of the value of Rs. 1,000 a year was sanctioned for Man Singh, but as no land was available in the United Provinces, where he wished to obtain the grant of a village, he received a cash allowance of Rs. 1,000 a year instead.

Raja Man Singh died on the 31st December 1882, and was succeeded by his son, Gajendra Singh, then 14 years of age.

The Gwalior Darbar claimed the right of being consulted in regard to the succession, on the ground that the British guarantee had lapsed in consequence of Man Singh's rebellion and the confiscation of his Estate, and also on the grounds of custom and precedent. The Government of India, however, held that the arrangements made with Man Singh in 1859 had the effect of preserving the British guarantee; and accordingly determined that in the particular case, as the succession was one of direct descent, and the legitimacy of Gajendra Singh was not in dispute, the Maharaja was not entitled, as of right, to be consulted. It was at the same time intimated that, with this understanding, the Government of India would not object to the attendance of a Darbar official at the ceremony of installation.

Gajendra Singh was a descendant of the family of Kachhwaha Ajudhya Rajputs, who were established at Narwar before the Maratha invasion of Central India. He married in 1884 the daughter of the Chief of Sohawal in Baghelkhand.

The management of the Estate during Gajendra Singh's minority was in the charge of a kamdar under the supervision of the Political Assistant, Guna, but after 1886, it was carried on by the Raja himself under the same political supervision.

Gajendra Singh died on the 16th December 1898, leaving two sons, Mahindra Singh and Polindra Singh. The elder, Mahindra Singh, who was born on the 26th December 1892, was acknowledged as successor by the Government of India, and was installed on the 9th March 1899. Mahindra Singh, being a minor, is receiving education at the Daly College, Indore, and the Estate is being administered by the Resident through a kamdar.

The area of the Estate is 60 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 5,557; and the revenue is about Rs. 25,000 a year.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

3.—BHADAURA.

The five villages originally constituting this grant (No. XXXVI) were made over by Maharaja Daulat Rao Sindhia through the mediation of the British Resident to Raja Man Singh in 1820, on condition that Man Singh would put a stop to the depredations committed by one Sohan Singh Girasia, and would prevent theft. The grant comprised the quit-rent holding of villages yielding at that time an annual revenue of Rs. 2,300, half of which the Raja was to keep for himself, the other half being paid to Sindhia. The family are Sisodiya Rajputs, and held most of their present possessions before the Marathas came into Central India. Besides the villages originally granted by Maharaja Sindhia, this Estate includes the head-quarter village of Bhadaura, which was granted by the Emperor Shahjahan to the Umri family in A. D. 1634, and which was made over by them to the family of the present holders; and also the village of Rai Basai, which was granted by Raja Chhatar Singh of Marwar in 1731.

Man Singh was succeeded by Mohan Singh, who died in 1876, leaving as his successor Madan Singh. Madan Singh died in 1882, when his only son, Madho Singh, then six years of age, was acknowledged by the British Government as his successor. During the minority of Madho Singh the Estate was placed in charge of a kamdar under the general supervision of the Political Assistant, Guna. In 1894 Madho Singh was entrusted with the management of his Estate. Madho Singh died on the 3rd February 1899, and the succession of his cousin, Ranjit Singh, who was born on the 5th January 1887, was sanctioned by the Government of India. He was installed on the 15th April 1901. Ranjit Singh, being a minor, is receiving his education at the Maharaja Sindhia's Sardars' School, and the administration of the Estate is conducted under the supervision of the Resident through a kamdar.

The succession to the Chiefship was, in the cases of Mohan Singh, Madan Singh, and Ranjit Singh, the present Raja, recognised by the British Government without reference to the Gwalior Darbar, the relation of the Estate to Sindhia being marked only by the presence of the Gwalior Vakil at the installation ceremony. The Gwalior Darbar has never interfered in the affairs of the Estate, and boundary disputes between Bhadaura and Gwalior have always been determined by British officers.

The area of the Estate is 50 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 2,275; and the revenue about Rs. 5,000.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

4.—KATHAUN.

This grant (No. XXXVII) of three villages, yielding annually Rs. 4,000, was made to Thakurs Bhim Singh, Prithi Singh Ramchandar, and Chandarbhan in 1825, through the mediation of the British Resident at Sindhia's Darbar, on condition that they would serve the Government faithfully and protect the high road.

Hargayan Singh, who succeeded to the Estate in 1883, died on the 4th April 1892, and the succession, by adoption, of Thakur Pratap Singh, who was born in February 1865, was sanctioned by the Government of India in November 1894.

The area of the Estate is 5 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 3,505; and the revenue is about Rs. 7,000.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

5.—SIRSI.

Maharaja Daulat Rao Sindhia at first granted three-fourths of the revenue of the taluka of Sirsi to Bharat Shah in 1820, on condition that he would pay into the Gwalior treasury the remaining one-fourth, and honestly discharge the duties entrusted to him by reducing the Girasias and others to obedience. In 1837 a fresh Sanad (No. XXXVIII) was granted to Dewan Hindu Singh of Sirsi by Maharaja Jankuji Rao Sindhia, by which the payment of one-fourth of the revenue of the district to the Darbar, in accordance with the terms of the sanad of 1820, was remitted with certain conditions, and the Dewan agreed to provide thirty sowars and seventy footmen when required without pay for the first three months, but the Darbar has since dispensed with the fulfilment of this condition. The grant is guaranteed by the British Government.

Hindu Singh was succeeded by Bikramajit, who died in 1872, when the succession of his son, Bijai Bahadur, then seven years of age, was recognised. The management of the Jaghir was entrusted to a kamdar under the superintendence of the Political Assistant, Guna. Dewan Bijai Singh, who was put in charge of the Estate in 1886, died in March 1891, leaving no sons.

The succession of his younger brother, Kunwar Mihrban Singh, aged about 20, was sanctioned by the Government of India in 1891. He was also direct heir of the late Chief, being a lineal descendant of the original grantee. No nazarana was taken on this occasion either by the Government of India or by the Gwalior Darbar.

Mihrban Singh died on the 1st April 1901, when his only son, Jiwan Singh (formerly known as Jugmohan Singh), who was born on the 2nd April 1896, was acknowledged as successor by the Government of India. On this occasion also no nazarana was levied.

Jiwan Singh was installed on the 28th February 1903, and, being a minor, he is receiving education in the Maharaja Sindhia's Sardars' School, while the Estate is being administered by the Resident through a kamdar.

The area of Sirsi is 12 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 5,448; and the revenue is about Rs. 6,000.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

6.—RAGHUGARH.

The Chauhan Rajputs of Raghugarh are known by the name of Khichi, and are one of the oldest families in Malwa. The Khichis settled at Bāj-ranggarh in 1697 after the capture of Gagron by Raja Bhim Singh of Kotah. In 1780 Madhuji Sindhia stripped the family of their possessions and imprisoned the Raja, Balwant Singh, and his son, Jai Singh. From that time there was perpetual feud between Sindhia and the Khichi clan, it being the object of the latter to devastate Raghugarh and to make it an unprofitable possession, until Sindhia should be compelled to restore it to the family. Jai Singh maintained the war with Sindhia till 1818, when he died, leaving his title to be disputed by two claimants, Dhaukal Singh and Ajit Singh. With these claimants a Settlement (No. XXXIX) was made in 1819, through the mediation and under the guarantee of the British Government, by which Sindhia gave them the fort and town of Raghugarh and lands in their vicinity, supposed to yield an annual revenue of Rs. 1,42,848-8, with a provision that any revenue derived from these lands which exceeded Rs. 55,000 should be paid to the Gwalior Government, who, on their part, were to make good any deficiency. One hundred of the dependants of the Khichi family were also enrolled in the Gwalior Contingent in 1823. The Jaghir never yielded so much as Rs. 55,000, and the result of the above plan was that an annual balance was shown against Sindhia, which was advanced to the Khichis from the British treasury. Up to 1828 the Darbar paid these balances, but thereafter they demurred on the grounds that if the Jaghir were properly managed it would yield more than Rs. 55,000, and that the Khichis realised more revenue than was credited in the accounts.

The matter was complicated by disputes in the family, and at last, in 1843, with the consent and by the mediation of the British Government, it was arranged that the original agreement should be replaced by separate engagements with the three principal members of the family—Bijai Singh, Thakur Chhatarsal, and Ajit Singh. The Darbar on granting these fresh sanads stipulated for the payment of a nazarana of Rs. 30,000, to which Bijai Singh and Chhatarsal consented.

Garha.—A Sanad (No. XL) was accordingly granted to Bijai Singh, by which he received 52 villages selected from the Khichiwara lands and the right to certain collections specified in the sanad, on the understanding that he would continue to serve the Government as he had done up to that date; abstain from creating disturbances; not encourage robbers committing crimes in the territories of the British Government and Gwalior State; afford no protection to criminals; and establish police posts in his districts for the protection of travellers.

Bijai Singh died in 1880, and his son, Balbhadar Singh, then 13 years of age, was recognised by the British Government as his successor. The Jagir, which is known as the Garha Estate, was managed during the minority by a dewan under the general superintendence of the Political Assistant, Guna. Balbhadar Singh was installed on the gadi in January 1886, with the sanction of the Government of India.

Balbhadar Singh died on the 30th October 1900, and Dhirat Singh, his only son, who was born on the 6th June 1885, was recognised as his successor by the Government of India. He was installed on the 7th March 1903.

Dhirat Singh being a minor, his Estate is administered by the Resident through a kamdar, and he himself is receiving education in the Maharaja Sindhia's Sardars' School.

The area of Garha is 44 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 9,481; and the revenue is about Rs. 22,000.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized chiefships.

Dharnauda.—Chhatarsal also received a sanad similar to the one granted to the Garha Chief, by which he was given, on the same conditions, 32 villages yielding Rs. 9,000. Chhatarsal was succeeded by Mangal Singh, and he by Bharat Singh, who died in 1877, when his son, Bhim Singh, born on the 18th March 1860, was recognised as the Thakur of Dharnauda.

In 1896 the Thakur ceded land for the Guna-Baran Railway free of compensation,

The area of the Estate is 41 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 4,325; and its revenue about Rs. 9,000.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized chiefships.

Raghugarh.—A sanad similar to the two last mentioned was offered to Ajit Singh on condition that he relinquished his turbulent habits; abstained from plundering; and paid up the arrears of debt which he owed to the Gwalior Darbar; but he showed himself so faithless, and advanced claims so impracticable and absurd that all negotiations with him were suspended, and it was contemplated at one time to employ the Gwalior Contingent to reduce him to submission.

The villages comprising the Estate are not held under any sanad but merely on the strength of the original Agreement (No. XXXIX).

Ajit Singh was succeeded in 1857 by Jaimandal Singh, who died on the 29th July 1900, leaving a son, Bikramajit Singh, who, as he was considered unfit to rule the Estate, was set aside. He was, however, allowed to adopt Madrup Singh, a near relative, as his son and successor to Jaimandal Singh. Bikramajit Singh died on the 30th August 1905. Madrup Singh, who assumed the name of Bahadur Singh after his adoption, was installed as the Raja of Raghugarh on the 2nd December 1904. Bahadur Singh was born on the 8th March 1891.

Bahadur Singh being a minor, is receiving education in the Daly College at Indore; and his Estate is being administered by the Resident through a superintendent.

In 1896 the Raja of Raghugarh ceded land for the Guna-Bina railway free of cost.

The area of the Estate is 112 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 19,446; and the revenue is about Rs. 52,000.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

7.—KHANIADHANA.

Although owing allegiance to the British Government from the time of the Peshwa's cession of his sovereign power in Bundelkhand in 1817, the Chief of this State never executed any written engagement till the year 1862, when it was considered expedient to embody the terms of his allegiance in a Sanad (No. XLI) before granting him the privilege of adoption, which was conceded in the same year (No. XLII).

The Jagir of Khaniadhana originally formed part of the Orchha State, having been granted by Udot Singh to his younger brother, Aman Singh, about the year 1703 A. D. After the dismemberment of the Orchha State by the Marathas, the Peshwa granted a sanad for the jagir to Amir Singh Aharwali in 1751. Thereafter the sovereignty over Khaniadhana was for many years the subject of dispute between the Maratha State of Jhansi and Orchha, and after the lapse of Jhansi the British Government inherited the dispute. The Jagirdar indeed claimed absolute independence, both of the British Government and of Orchha; but in 1862 it was decided that, like the Hasht-Bhaya Jagirs (see Bundelkhand in Vol. V), the Jagir of Khaniadhana was directly dependent on the British Government, on the grounds that it had undoubtedly formed a part of the Maratha conquest in Bundelkhand, and had been granted to Amir Singh by the Peshwa, to whose rights the British Government had succeeded, and that for half a century at least Orchha had exercised no sovereign rights or jurisdiction whatever in Khaniadhana.

Raja Guman Singh, who succeeded his father in June 1863, executed a Deed of Allegiance (No. XLIII). He died in 1869, and was succeeded by his son, Chitra Singh, who was born on the 24th December 1865. During his minority the State was managed by the widow of the late Jagirdar, aided by the old officials of the State. Chitra Singh was invested with full powers in 1885.

At the Delhi Assemblage (1877) Chitra Singh received the title of Raja as a personal distinction.

In October 1888 the Chief ceded (No. XLIV) full jurisdiction, short of sovereign rights, over the land which he had agreed in 1884 to give in the Khaniadhana Jagir for the Jhansi-Bhopal section of the Indian Midland railway. As the circumstances of the jagir were deemed exceptional, compensation to the amount of Rs. 8,353-10-9 was paid in 1890 for the lands so acquired. It was at the same time intimated that this payment must be treated as a special case, and not as forming a precedent.

The area of Khaniadhana is 68 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 15,528; and the revenues are about Rs. 22,000.

There is a military force of 1 gun, 2 gunners, 7 cavalry, and 100 infantry.

Nazarana is levied (No. XLIII) by the Government of India from the State at the rate of a quarter of a year's net revenue on direct succession and half a year's net revenue on succession by adoption.

8.—AGRA BARKHERA.

The Thakur receives, under a Settlement (No. XLV) made with Thakur Nirbhay Singh in 1818 a tankha of Rs. 300 from Kurwai through the Political Agent in Bhopal. He holds a grant of twelve villages in Sindhia's territory and pays annually Rs. 1,001 as quit-rent direct to Sindhia (No. XLVI). The family also held the grant of twenty-eight villages in the Sironj district under British recognition; but these, as well as the grant from Sindhia, were confiscated for the rebellion in 1857 of Chhatar Sal, who was then Thakur. The sanads were lost during the rebellion, but copies of them were subsequently discovered, and these have been verified and acknowledged by the Gwalior Darbar (Nos. XLVII to LII).

By Sanad (No. XLVII) certain hereditary village rights are granted to the Thakur; by Sanad (No. XLVIII) he received three villages in jagir to defray his palki expenses; by Sanad (No. XLIX) he receives an annuity of Rs. 75 from three villages in the Shamshabad pargana; by Sanad (No. L) he receives a tankha of Rs. 444 a year. Sanad (No. LI) is a confirmation by Jankuji Rao Sindhia of the grants made to the Thakur in the foregoing sanads by Daulat Rao Sindhia. Sanad (No. LII) is a grant of five villages on an istimrari tenure of Rs. 1,501.

The villages included in Sindhia's territory were restored and regranted by the Government in July 1859 to Balwant Singh.

The Estate pays a tankha of Rs. 5,880 in all to the Gwalior Darbar, of which Rs. 2,502 are for the guaranteed portion of the Estate, and Rs. 3,378 for other holdings, namely, Rs. 2,101 for the six villages in the Phupher pargana, and Rs. 1,277 for the five Barwakhera villages.

Thakur Balwant Singh died on the 14th December 1891, and was succeeded, with the sanction of the Government of India, by Baldeo Singh, who was born on the 28th January 1876. Owing to the debts contracted by the late Thakur the administration of the Thakurate remained under the control of the Political Agent in Bhopal.

In 1897 arrangements were made to free the Estate from debts remaining unpaid at the time, and Baldeo Singh was entrusted with the management of his Estate, subject to the general supervision of the Resident at Gwalior until the debts were paid off.

In 1900 the Thakur was found to be involved in fresh financial difficulties owing to his extravagance, and the Estate was again placed under the management of the Resident at Gwalior until the liquidation of the debts has been effected and the affairs of the Thakurate have been placed on a satisfactory footing. This arrangement still continues.

The area of Agra Barkhera is 31 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 5,258; and the revenue about Rs. 19,000.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

9.—UMRI.

The family are descended from the Sisodia Rajputs of Udaipur.

The formal suzerainty of the Gwalior Darbar over the Estate was admitted by the Government of India, who also recognised the Darbar's rights to be consulted in cases of succession and to be represented at installation ceremonies. The Gwalior Darbar is not, however, permitted to interfere with the internal affairs of the Estate.

Raja Mohkam Singh, who is said to have succeeded his father, Bhim Singh, in 1820, died in 1880, and was succeeded by his grandson, Prithi Singh, in 1881, Prithi Singh's father, Randhir Singh, having died during the lifetime of his father, Mohkam Singh. During the minority of the Raja, who was installed in 1891, the Estate was managed by a kamdar under the supervision of the Political Agent, Goona, but the Raja has since been entrusted with the administration. Raja Prithi Singh was born on the 4th January 1872.

The area of Umri is 60 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 2,469; and the revenue is about Rs. 5,000.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

Khiaoda.—The Thakurate is an off-shoot of Umri. The present Thakur, Madan Singh, was born on the 27th April 1882. He succeeded his father, Sarwan Singh, in 1890.

Khiaoda is subordinate to Umri. But the latter is not authorized to interfere in the affairs of the former, or to exercise any jurisdictional rights; it is, however, entitled to levy nazarana on successions.

Owing to the embarrassed condition of the finances of the Estate, the administration has not been entrusted to the Thakur, but is conducted by a kamdar acting under the supervision of the Resident at Gwalior.

The area of Khiaoda is 10 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 857; and the estimated revenue is about Rs. 1,500.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

THE AGREEMENT of ROWJEE SAE AJEET SING JEE, RAJA of AMJHERRA, mediated by MAJOR-GENERAL SIR JOHN
MALCOLM BAHADUR,—1820.

I allow on the part of myself, my descendants, and the servants of the State that the long established tribute of the district when it was formerly flourishing was Halee Sicca Rupees 35,000, and that sum used to be paid to His Highness Dowlut Rao Sindia's Government. But latterly anarchy and confusion have almost ruined my district, and the Circar having benevolently considered its consequent decrease of revenue has settled that tribute, agreeably to the following detail, shall be paid to the jaghirdar of His Highness Dowlut Rao Sindia, Jye Sing Rao Ghatkee Sirjee Rao, or to whomever His Highness may order, being at a rate corresponding with the expected improvement of my district, vis.—

For the year of the Sumbut 1877 .	.	.	Halee Rupees	22,000
" " 1878 .	.	.	"	24,000
" " 1879 .	.	.	"	26,000
" " 1880 .	.	.	"	28,000
" " 1881 .	.	.	"	30,000
" " 1882 .	.	.	"	32,000
" " 1883 .	.	.	"	34,000
" " 1884 .	.	.	"	35,000

The country improving, the above sums will be yearly given. The Rupees are Halee Siccas, the accustomed percentage shall be allowed between the currency and the Salim Sahi Rupees. For and after the year 1885 Sumbut the full tribute of Rupees 35,000 to be given regularly. The tribute to be paid in two equal kists, half in Maugh Sood Poonum, half in Jeyt Sood Poonum, being old established usage, and likewise each year's tribute detailed above to be paid in two kists and in the same proportions. If the whole or any part of a kist is not paid when due, one and a half month law to be given, and at the expiration of that time I agree to the Circar's appropriating to itself lands or villages whose revenues are equal to the deficient sums, the revenue of such seized lands or villages to be afterwards credited to the tribute and to that kist for whose deficiency they have been taken; such lands or villages shall never be claimed by me or my descendants. It would be wrong to do so. But no persons, horsemen or karkoons, belonging to the Government of His Highness Dowlut Rao Sindia to be jaghirdar or any kamaisdar shall be allowed to remain in my district.

25th October 1820.

On the part of MAHARAJA DOWLUT RAO SINDIA BAHADOOR on the subject of tribute of the AMJHERRA DISTRICT. JEY SING RAO GHATKEE SIRJEE RAO being Jaghirdar.

Through the medium of Major-General Sir John Malcolm, Jey Sing has written on behalf of himself and his descendants that I and my servants, whoever they may be, shall in no way interfere with the family concerns of the Rajah, the conduct of his Government, or in the affairs of his district: we shall dispute on no such points.

The Circar in its goodness, considering the deteriorated state of the district, has settled the tribute as follows in details:—

						Halee Rupees.
For the year 1877 Sumbut	22,000
„ 1878 „	24,000
„ 1879 „	26,000
„ 1880 „	28,000
„ 1881 „	30,000
„ 1882 „	32,000
„ 1883 „	34,000
„ 1884 „	35,000

This is the tribute to be paid annually as detailed for [these eight years in Halee Siccas, and for 1885 of the Sumbut, and ever afterwards, the full established tribute of Rupees 35,000 shall be paid.

The tribute to be paid in two equal kists, as has obtained from time immemorial, one in Maugh Sood Poonum, the other in Jeyt Sood Poonum; besides this we shall demand no other money, whether for military or any other expenses. If I do so I shall act incorrectly, and moreover none of my troops or horse or karkoons shall remain in the district of Amjhera.

TRANSLATION.

Be it known from HIS HIGHNESS MAHARAJA JUNKOJEE RAO SCINDIA ALIJAH to DEWAN HINDOO SING DHUNDERA, of SIRSEE,—1837.

Your petition has been received. You say that you have received Taluka Sirsee under a Sunnud, which specifies that the grant was made for service, and requires that an account of the revenue thereof be rendered annually; that three-fourths of the yearly receipts be retained by you, and one-fourth paid to the State ; that you are responsible for peace being kept amongst Girassias and other (offenders) ; and that failure in the conditions of the grant would lead to its being forfeited. You represent that the estate is worth only Rupees 4,000 and no more, and beg that, as the State had consented to not receiving the fourth part of the receipts up to this time, the same indulgence may be continued for the future ; that the estate having been granted for service independently of the one-fourth demanded, you were prepared to do service and to pay without fail the fourth of the income on the whole amount should it be more than Rupees 4,000 (per annum).

That 30 horse and 70 footmen will be ready to serve wherever ordered, getting no allowances for the first three months of service. That you would not misbehave in any way and would not take part with, but deliver up all, thieves, freebooters, murderers, and dacoits, whether of your estate or others coming there from the Durbar or foreign territory. That you would co-operate with Durbar troops acting against disturbers of the peace, thieves, and other offenders, and that you would be responsible for the payment of compensation for robberies proved (to have occurred) within your State.

Enquiry will be made as to the jumma of Talooka Sirsee. The fourth part will not be demanded from it up to Rupees 4,000. In case of its exceeding that amount the said part will be taken on the whole jumma. Come to do service whenever called to do so. Keep down thieves, disturbers of the peace, and murderers as promised ; be loyal to the State, and act up to your other obligations as above stated. If you fail to do so, the estate will not be suffered to continue in your possession. Raise no objections to the continuance of the sayer chowkee stationed of old within your estate. Lalla Mohunlool, your vakeel, has made a petition at Gwalior to the following effect :—

In Sumbut 1877, or Sun Ishera Meatein, the Government granted two hundred and four villages, yielding a revenue of one lakh forty-two thousand eight hundred and forty-eight and a half rupees, situated in the vicinity of Ragoogurh, to the Kheechee Chiefs as the means of supporting themselves and their families. After this a karkoon on the part of the Sircar, accompanied by a mootasuddee on the part of the British Government, measured the lands and fixed their value; fifty-two villages, yielding a revenue of Rupees 15,000, were selected and allotted to us. II.—INDORE RESIDENCY.

The affairs of the Indore State were under the immediate political supervision and control of the Agent to the Governor-General in Central India until September 1899, when a separate Resident was appointed to conduct political relations with the Maharaja Holkar. In November 1903 the outlying portions of the Indore State, with a few exceptions, were transferred from the control of the Political Agents in Bhopal, Bhopawar, and Malwa to the charge of the Resident at Indore.

The cantonment of Mhow, the railway lands, and the area known as the Indore Residency Bazaars, to which the jurisdiction of the Governor-General in Council extends, are not in the Resident's charge.

(1)—INDORE.

The Holkar family who rule at Indore are Sudras of the Dhangar or shepherd caste. The first of the Holkar family who rose to eminence was Malhar Rao, who was born about the end of the seventeenth century, and was one of the most distinguished leaders in the first Maratha invasion of northern India. He died in 1766 at the age of 72, and was succeeded by his grandson, Mali Rao, who died insane nine months after his accession. The pious Ahalya Bai, the mother of Mali Rao, then took the management of affairs, and appointed as the commander of her army Tukaji Holkar, who belonged to the same caste, but was in no way related to Malhar Rao. For many years he served Ahalya Bai with the most devoted fidelity. Ahalya Bai died in 1795, and was not long survived by Tukaji Rao, after whose death in 1797 the power of the house of Holkar was nearly extinguished by quarrels in the family and by the dissensions which distracted the Maratha confederacy at the close of the eighteenth century. Tukaji Rao left four sons.

The fortunes of the family, however, were restored by Jaswant Rao, an illegitimate son of Tukaji Holkar, who in 1802 defeated the united forces of Sindhia and the Peshwa near Poona. The conclusion of the treaty of Bassein, by which the subordination of the Peshwa to the British Government was firmly established, defeated Jaswant Rao's hopes of possessing himself of the person of the Peshwa. In the following year, 1803, when Sindhia and the Raja of Berar combined against the British, Holkar promised to join the confederacy. But on the actual outbreak of hostilities he kept aloof, and apparently intended to take advantage of the war to aggrandise himself at Sindhia's expense. His schemes were, however, rendered hopeless by the peace with Sindhia, which ensued upon the conclusion of the Treaty of Sarji Anjangaon; and Holkar, after making a series of inadmissible proposals for an alliance, seems then to have hastily determined unaided and alone to provoke hostilities with the British. In the war which followed Holkar was completely overthrown. He was pursued by Lord Lake across the Sutlej, whither he had retired in the hopes of forming a combination with the Sikhs against the British Government, and on 24th December 1805 he signed a treaty (No. LIII) on the banks of the Beas, by which he was stripped of a large portion of his territories. See also Appendix No. VII.

The accession of Lord Cornwallis marked a change in the policy of the British Government, and it was considered expedient to withdraw from the connection formed with some of the minor Rajas in the conquered provinces to the west of the Jumna. Sir George Barlow was guided by the same policy notwithstanding the remonstrances of Lord Lake, who not only considered that the British Government was pledged to respect its engagement with these Chiefs, but also that the alliance with them interposed a strong barrier against the future encroachments of the Marathas. In pursuance of his policy, however, Sir George Barlow caused a declaratory article to be added in February 1806 to the treaty of December 1805 relinquishing to Holkar the districts of Tonk, Rampura, and other districts forming the ancient possessions of the Holkar family, which at one time it had been the intention of Government to cede to Sindhia in lieu of the annual grant of four lakhs of rupees assigned under the Treaty of 1805 (No. VI, article 7) to that Chief. By article 4 of the treaty with Holkar the district of Kunch in Bundelkhand was assigned as a life-grant to Bhima Bai Sahiba, daughter of Jaswant Rao Holkar. This lady died in November 1858, and the district of Kunch then reverted to the British Government. A pension of Rs. 20,000 a year was assigned for life to her grandson, Govind Rao Bolia, for the support of the old retainers of the family; but as Govind Rao did not devote this money to the purpose for which it was intended, the grant was resumed and the retainers pensioned for life by the British Government.

Soon after the conclusion of the treaty of 1805 Jaswant Rao Holkar poisoned his nephew, Khande Rao, the son of Malhar Rao, and murdered Kashi Rao, and thus became in name, as well as in fact, the head of the house, but soon after became insane. He died in 1811 at Bhanpura, leaving a son, Malhar Rao, during whose minority the State was torn by the most violent dissensions. Tulsa Bai, the favourite concubine of the late ruler, secured herself in the regency. In entering on the Pindari war it was the policy of the Marquess of Hastings to put a stop to the predatory system by a revival of the political alliances which had been abandoned in 1805. The weakness of Holkar, which formed an excuse for connivance at Pindari depredations, necessitated the intervention of the British to restore his government and to subdue his mutinous army. Proposals for an alliance were on the point of being offered when Tulsa Bai secretly expressed a desire to place the young Holkar and his government under the protection of the British power.

While negotiations were pending, however, information was received of the probable outbreak of hostilities with the Peshwa, and a hostile bearing was immediately assumed by Holkar's Darbar. It is probable that Tulsa Bai would have concluded the alliance with the British, but a sudden revolution was effected by the mutinous army, the regent was seized and barbarously murdered, and the Pathan Chiefs who headed the military faction, having pledged themselves to adopt the cause of Baji Rao, broke off the negotiations. Holkar's army sustained a complete defeat at Mahidpur on the 21st December 1817, and on the 6th January 1818 the treaty of Mandsaur (Mundisore) was concluded (No. LIV), by which the Maratha supremacy over many of the Rajput Chiefs, including Udaipur and Jaipur, was transferred to the British Government; the engagement between the British Government and Amir Khan was confirmed; four districts rented by Zalim Singh of Kota were ceded to him; Holkar lost all his possessions within, and to the south of, the Satpura hills; and his remaining territories came under the protection of the British Government. By article 6 of the treaty Holkar transferred the fort of Sendhwa to the British Government. But it was restored in 1856 in consideration of a payment of Rs. 16,000 for the construction of a bridge over the Gohi Nadi, and on the conditions that no alteration would be made in the existing customs duties on the Agra and Bombay road, and that the residents of Sendhwa were not allowed to suffer by the transfer of the fort to Holkar. In modification also of article 4 the Paritabgarh tribute, which was fixed at Salim Shahi Rs. 72,700 by article III of the treaty of 1818 with that State, was assigned to the Maharaja Holkar, in consideration of the political influence he had lost and the equivalent (Rs. 57,874-3-2 in British currency at the rate of exchange then obtaining is still paid by the Government of India to the Indore State, in spite of the subsequent depreciation in the value of the Salim Shahi coin in which payment is recovered from Paritabgarh.

The anarchy and confusion which prevailed in Holkar's territories previous to the conclusion of the treaty of Mandsaur had completely ruined the finances of the country. Tantia Jogh, Holkar's minister, set himself zealously to effect their recovery. Occasional loans were made to him by the British Government on the security of the Kunch jagir and the Partabgarh tribute, by which means the minister was enabled to discharge the arrears of the disbanded troops and other pressing demands. Of the troops retained a portion was set apart for the formation of the Mahidpur Contingent, others were sent into the districts, and only a select body of about 500 cavalry was retained at the capital, together with a sufficient force of infantry.

Two insurrections broke out in the year 1819, which added greatly to the difficulties of the minister's situation and served to retard the settlement of the country. One was occasioned by an impostor personating Malhar Rao Holkar, and the other by the pretensions of Hari Rao Holkar, cousin of the Maharaja. The impostor, whose real name was Krishna Kunwar, assembled a considerable force to the west of the Chambal, and kept the field for some months, supported by a body of Arab and Makrani mercenaries from the Guzarat border; but he was at length encountered by the Mahidpur Contingent, and his party broken and dispersed. He then fled to Kota, and being recognised by an agent of Holkar's government at that place, he was seized and brought to Indore, where he was kept in confinement for some time, but he was ultimately pardoned and set at liberty on account of his youth and his being a mere instrument in the hands of others. The insurrection of Hari Rao Holkar was less formidable; for soon becoming sensible of the folly of his enterprise he relinquished it, and threw himself on the generosity of his young cousin, who, it is said, was disposed to pardon him, but was dissuaded from his purpose by Tantia Jogh, who deemed it imprudent that he should be left at liberty to disturb the peace of the country. He was accordingly kept under confinement.

Serious disturbances broke out on the Rampura frontier in 1821, fomented by the Thakur of Bhatkheri and others, which were not finally quelled until the beginning of the following year and after the employment of the contingent under the guidance of a British officer. The results of the operations were that the Bhatkheri Chief's misconduct was punished by the sequestration of that portion of his Jagir which he held under Holkar's government; that Bhairur Singh, another of the leading insurgents, delivered himself up under the promise of subsistence; and that Ajit Singh, the Chief of the band of Sondhia plunderers, was sent with some of his companions to Sondhwara for a year's close confinement. Again towards the end of 1822 it became necessary to employ a detachment of British troops for the reduction of the fort of Barkhera, in which a body of insurgents had assembled and were committing various excesses in the neighbouring districts.

In 1826 an Agreement No. LV) was made with Holkar, Dhar, Dewas and other States in Malwa, securing to the British Government the exclusive right to purchase opium grown in Malwa, but, as the result of this arrangement was unsatisfactory, the monopoly was abandoned in 1829, and a transit duty was levied instead upon the opium in its passage through the British territories to the sea coast. The extent of poppy cultivation has greatly increased since the abandonment of the monopoly.

In the month of June 1829 the Begu Thakur, a feudatory of Udaipur, took possession of Holkar's district of Nandwas. The invader was expelled by a body of Holkar's troops, but the Thakur, about a year after the first aggression, again seized the same district, and was again driven off by Holkar's troops and the contingent. The Udaipur State was held responsible for the Thakur's aggression, and a demand of Rs. 24,000 in payment of the expenses incurred by Holkar in repelling the first attack was made upon the Maharana. This compensation was not paid until eight years had elapsed after the occurrences for which it was claimed. For the loss and expenses incurred by the second aggression of the Thakur no compensation was ever obtained to the dissatisfaction of the Indore Darbar.

Malhar Rao Holkar died in October 1833 at the age of twenty-eight. He had no son, but his widow and his mother adopted a child, who was said to be of the same caste and lineage as Malhar Rao. The British Government gave its sanction to this adoption, but at the same time did not bind itself to support the arrangement if it should appear to be illegal or subversive of the rights of any other party, or contrary to the wishes of the majority of the Chiefs and followers of the Holkar State. It was acknowledged as the spontaneous and unopposed act of the government of Indore, in which the people seemingly acquiesced. The child, between three and four years of age, was publicly installed on the 17th January 1834 under the title of Marhata' Rao Holkar. The adoption of Martand Rao, however, proved to be a ruse of the mother of Malhar Rao Holkar for the purpose of keeping the power in her own hands during a long minority. It was not indeed acceptable to the people who were in favour of the succession of Hari Rao Holkar, of whom mention has been already made. Hari Rao had been thrown into prison by his cousin in 1819 for rebellion, and had ever since been kept in rigorous confinement. He was released on the night of the 2nd February 1834 by a powerful body of his partisans, and received a ready welcome from the troops and people. The policy of non-interference prevented the Resident from giving active support to Martand Rao, although his installation had been acknowledged by the British Government. Serious disturbances followed. The wealthy merchants fled from Indore ; trade was suspended ; and the marauding Bhil tribes infested the roads and plundered many villages. As Hari Rao evidently had the popular voice on his side, and it was necessary to put a stop to the anarchy which prevailed, it was decided to support him, and he was eventually escorted into Indore by a detachment of the contingent under command of a British officer, and was formally installed on the 17th April 1834. Martand Rao was banished from the country and granted an allowance of Rs. 500 a month on condition of his resigning all claims to the succession.

The long imprisonment of Hari Rao had unfitted him for government. The management of affairs was left in the hands of his minister, Raja Bhao Phansia, whose oppressive and unpopular measures revived the hopes of Martand Rao's party. On the 8th September 1835 an attack was made on the palace for the purpose of assassinating the Maharaja and his minister. The attempt was unsuccessful, and resulted in the slaughter of the whole of the assailants.

At this juncture Hari Rao applied to the British Government for aid, but it was refused on the ground that the engagement to maintain the internal tranquillity of the country depended on the condition that the measures of its government were not directly or indirectly the cause of disturbance, and because the grant of assistance would require a continual interference in the internal affairs of the State, inconsistent alike with the position of Holkar and the policy of the British Government.

In 1841 the Maharaja adopted as his heir and successor Khande Rao, a boy of thirteen years of age, distantly related to the ruling family. Hari Rao died on 24th October 1843 at the age of forty-eight. Warned by the evils which resulted from the policy pursued on the accession of Martand Rao, the British Government took immediate measures to proclaim Khande Rao as the acknowledged successor to the gadi, and to make it known that no other claims would be recognised. Khande Rao died on 17th February 1844. He was never married, and there was no lineal heir to the State, and no person who had a legitimate right to adopt.

The nomination of a successor was therefore declared to rest exclusively with the British Government, and the Resident, Sir R. Hamilton, was instructed to make the selection in such a way as to show that it was manifestly the sole act of the British Government. The mother of Hari Rao Holkar, who was greatly respected by the people, and who had been associated with the Resident in the administration before Khande Rao's death, pleaded the claims of Martand Rao, but Government refused to select him, and intimated their intention of nominating the younger son of Bhao Holkar, if he should be found on enquiry to be the most eligible. The Resident thereupon declared in full Darbar the desire of the British Government to perpetuate the State of Holkar by the selection of a successor from amongst those eligible to such distinction; that the Mah Sahiba had pointed out the younger son of Bhao Holkar as a fit successor; and that the Governor-General, having a great respect for the Mah Sahiba, had determined to place him on the gadi. Three days thereafter, without waiting for instructions, the Resident installed the boy as Tukaji Rao II with all the formality of a hereditary Chief. For this serious departure from his instructions the Resident was severely censured and informed that by his proceedings an opportunity had been lost to Government of marking an important line of policy. In a letter, dated 9th November 1844, to the young Chief the Governor-General explained the conditions on which the State was conferred on him. This Letter (No. LVI) was declared to have the force of a sanad, and the Maharaja was required to present a nazar of 101 gold mohars on its delivery.

Martand Rao Holkar died without issue at Poona on the 2nd June 1849, and with his death ended the intrigues which from time to time endangered the peace of the country during the rule both of Hari Rao Holkar and his successor.

Tukaji Rao Holkar attained his majority in 1852, and was entrusted with the entire management of the affairs of the State.

During the mutiny of 1857 a portion of the Indore troops made an attack on the Residency, which obliged the officiating Agent to the Governor-General, Colonel Durand, to retire to Bhopal. The mutineers were also joined by the Malwa Contingent, a local corps stationed at Mahidpur, towards the maintenance of which Holkar paid an annual subvention of Rs. 1,11,214 in lieu of his obligation under article 11 of the treaty of Mandsaur. In recognition of his services during the mutiny Maharaja Tukaji Rao II received the thanks of the Government of India, and the expenditure of Rs. 3,06,992-8-3 incurred by him on the troops which had done duty for the rebel contingent was refunded. His Highness was further permitted to capitalise his contributions towards the contingent and the Malwa Bhil Corps. Accordingly, the State deposited Rs. 23,81,520 with the Government of India, the interest thereon at 5 per cent. being assigned as the payment for the future, "thereby relieving His Highness from all demands on account of the said contingent and Bhil corps, as well as from all pecuniary demands, present or future, and from service with troops" (No. LVII). The place of the disbanded contingent was taken by the Central India Horse, which was raised by the Government of India in 1858, one regiment being stationed at Agra with a detachment at Mahidpur. In 1894 the cantonment of Mahidpur was restored to the Darbar.

In 1862 the Maharaja was granted a Sanad (No. LVIII) guaranteeing to himself and his successors the right of adoption.

In 1864 Holkar agreed (No. LIX) to cede, free of charge, all land required specially for railway purposes; to compensate owners for land and buildings taken up by the line; to give full civil and criminal jurisdiction over this land to the British Government; and to remit all transit duties on through traffic. Certain conditions regarding the surrender of Indore subjects within railway limits were at the same time agreed to by the British Government. These conditions were embodied in the same memorandum (No. LIX).

In 1869 the Maharaja Holkar offered a loan of a crore of rupees to the British Government for the construction of a railway from Khandwa to Indore. The offer was accepted, and the terms of the loan were finally settled in the following year by a formal Agreement (No. LX). The construction of the railway was forthwith taken in hand by the Government of India and completed in 1877. The extension of the line northward to Ratlam, with a branch from Fatehabad to Ujjain, was undertaken in 1873, and was opened for traffic in 1878; and in 1877 its further continuation to Nimach was started, the necessary land in Indore territory being made over in each case in accordance with the terms of 1864 (No. LIX). The working of the line on behalf of the British Government was made over to the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway Company on the 1st January 1885, and this contract was renewed in 1901 and again in 1905 (see Appendices Nos. VIII to X).

In 1861 the Government of India, deeming it advisable to make the Maharaja Holkar's possessions and their own more compact, had authorised Sir Richmond Shakespear, Agent to the Governor-General in Central India, to institute negotiations for an exchange of territories with this object. The Maharaja agreed to cede a number of scattered villages in the Deccan and five in the United Provinces of Agra and Oudh (known at that time as the North-Western Provinces) for lands of equal value in the districts of Satwas-Nimawar and Nimar. The actual transfer of the lands was finally concluded in 1868, but the adjustment of the accounts in connection with the exchanges was not finally settled till 1881, when a Kharita (No. LXI) was sent to the Maharaja Holkar by the Government of India, intimating the conclusion of the negotiations and their approval of the arrangements that had been made. An account of these is given in the memorandum by Sir Henry Daly which was forwarded to the Maharaja with the kharita. The pargana of Barwaha in Nimar was included in the lands transferred to the Maharaja, on the condition that he abolished all transit duties on the trunk road between Indore and Khandwa. For certain iron works which had been established at Barwaha the Maharaja paid Rs. 50,000 in 1868.

By article 6 of the treaty of Mandsaur, which was concluded in 1818, Holkar had ceded to the British Government all his territories and claims of every description whatever within, and south of, the Satpura range of hills. But no exact demarcation of boundary was attempted till 1864, and its final settlement was only concluded in April 1873. In 1877, as an act of grace, and to commemorate the assumption by Her Majesty Queen Victoria of the title of Empress of India, it was determined to make over to the Maharaja Holkar a portion of this territory, comprising an area of 360 square miles on the Satpura frontier of the district of Khandesh.

In 1870-71 an exchange of territory was negotiated between the States of Indore and Jhabua, whereby Indore acquired the town and pargana of Pitlawad, and Jhabua, the town and pargana of Thandla. Simultaneously Indore's right to three-fourths of the sayer revenue at Pitlawad, Thandla, and other places in Jhabua territory was adjusted by assigning to Indore the sole sayer rights in the town and pargana of Pitlawad, and to Jhabua the sole sayer rights in Jhabua territory, Jhabua paying to Indore a compensation of Salim Shahi Rupees 7,172 a year based on the average receipts of the preceding ten years. The calculation included receipts from transit duties: and when that form of taxation was abolished in Jhabua territory in 1887, the yearly payment was correspondingly reduced by Rs. 5,893-4-2 to Rs. 1,278-11-10, at which it now stands.

In 1872 the Maharaja Holkar was required to relinquish the manufacture of arms in his own territory and their importation from abroad, on the ground that the accumulation of arms of precision and cannon in the Indore arsenals could not be justified for the purpose of internal safety or by the necessity of external defence.

In 1878 a Postal Convention (No. LXII) was made with Holkar to facilitate the interchange of correspondence between the Imperial post and the Indore State post.

In 1880 the British Government, having acquired a virtual salt monopoly, by the purchase of the salt sources of Rajputana, addressed the several States of Central India in which salt was not produced, proposing to them the abolition of the duties which they levied on salt passing through their territories and offering at the same time to compensate them for any loss which their revenues might suffer in consequence. The Maharaja Holkar consented (No. LXIII) to these proposals in 1881, on condition of receiving as compensation for his concession 45,000 maunds of salt annually from the British Government, to be delivered by them at Indore on payment of Rs. 2-12-0 per maund, the selling price of salt at Indore being then over Rs. 5 per maund. This compensation represented four times the amount of revenue which the Maharaja Holkar had derived from the abolished duties. Similar agreements were concluded with other States, and it soon became clear that, in consequence of an increased consumption, the British Government were in a position to reduce their own tax on salt. The price of salt consequently fell, and the Maharaja Holkar complained that the value of the compensation made to him in kind had been seriously affected, and he asked that it might be paid in cash. Both the justice and the propriety of the claim were questionable; but the Government of India conceded his request, and accordingly a supplementary Agreement (No. LXIV) was concluded on the 12th December 1883, under which the State receives Rs. 61,875 a year in lieu of the original payment in kind.

Maharaja Tukaji Rao II died at Indore on the 17th June 1886. He had been created a Knight Grand Commander of the Star of India in 1861; and in 1877, at the Delhi Assemblage, he was granted a personal salute of 21 guns and was raised to the dignity of a Councillor of the Empress. The aim of his administration throughout had been the development of the revenues of the State. He had adopted a definite, if heavy, system of land assessment, and had fostered irrigation. The prosperity which the State at present enjoys, and the large reserves in its treasury, may be traced to his initiative.

Tukaji Rao was succeeded by his elder son, Shivaji Rao, who was born on the 12th November 1859.

The first administrative act to signalise Maharaja Shivaji Rao Holkar's accession to the gadi was the abolition of all transit duties throughout the State.

In 1887 the Maharaja attended the Jubilee of Her Majesty the Queen Empress, and was created a Knight Grand Commander of the Star of India,

In 1892, in pursuance of an offer which the Government of India had accepted, the Maharaja formed an Imperial Service regiment of cavalry, which was subsequently converted, at the desire of the Government of India, into a transport train with a cavalry escort.

Between the years 1891 and 1895, railway communications in the State were extended by the construction of the Godhra-Ratlam and the Bhopal-Ujjain Railways, the Darbar providing land free of charge, and ceding full jurisdiction in respect of the sections of those lines in Indore territory.

Beyond this it is sufficient to say of Maharaja Shivaji Rao's tenure of power that his mal-administration became so serious that in 1899 a Resident was appointed to the direct political charge of the State in subordination to the Agent to the Governor-General, and the Maharaja was required to consult him in all important matters.

In January 1900 an Agreement (No. LXV) was entered into with the Maharaja for the effective control and discipline of the Imperial Service troops maintained by the State when serving beyond the frontier of the State.

In the same year the re-assessment of the land revenue of the State was undertaken.

In 1902, owing to the loss and inconvenience caused by the fluctuations in the exchange value of the existing Hali currency, the British rupee was adopted as the standard coin of the State; and, with the assistance of the Government of India, the conversion of the whole currency was carried out within a year to the extent of Rs. 3,59,67,000, which were recoined at the Bombay mint at the conversion rate of 100 British rupees for 118 Hali rupees.

In January 1903, Maharaja Shivaji Rao resigned the gadi in favour of his son, Tukaji Rao Holkar, who was born on the 26th November 1890. Though entirely dissociated from the administration, the ex-Chief retains the personal title of Maharaja and resides in the State, receiving an allowance from the revenues of the State of Rs. 4,00,000 a year.

During the minority of Maharaja Tukaji Rao Holkar III the State is administered by a council of regency under the supervision of the Resident. In this period, land has been made over on the usual terms, including a cession (No. LXVI) of full jurisdiction, for the construction of the Nagda-Muttra Railway through a portion of the State.

The State's treaty payments with the British Government are tabulated at pages 8 and 10 supra. The State also receives from other States the following sums annually:—

which has been converted into Rs. 58,577-1-0 British. Payment is made through the Bhopal Agency, and the tribute carries with it no rights of supremacy.

From the Jhabua State, as the result of the Thandla Pitlawad settlement, Rs. 1,400 on account of difference of revenue on land exchanged, and Rs. 1,278-11-10 in lieu of sayer rights. Also Rs. 2,014-12-0 on account of tribute on three Umraos' estates in Jhabua territory which have escheated to that Darbar; and Rs. 1,500 on account of the Khawasa estate. These sums are all in Salim Shahi rupees, but are paid in British currency at the current rate of exchange. The customs and Khawasa payments are made through the Bhopawar Agency, the others direct.

From fifteen Umraos* in Jhabua territory separate tributes, totalling Salim Shahi rupees 11,884-1-0. These sums were originally assigned to Indore by Jhabua in part satisfaction of its own obligations to the Maharaja Holkar, and are paid direct. The Maharaja Holkar possesses no suzerainty over these Umraos.

The area of the Indore State is 9,500 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 850,690 as compared with 1,099,990 at the census of 1891. The latter figure was admittedly only an approximate one so far as the Bhil tribes were concerned, and therefore the decrease in population is probably not so serious as the difference in the returns suggests. The revenue of the State has averaged Rs. 54,00,000 during the five years 1901—1905.

The military establishment consists (1905) of an Imperial Service transport train of 200 carts, with a cavalry escort of 200; two regiments of cavalry 800 strong; two regiments of infantry, each of a nominal strength of 500; and two batteries of artillery of 210 gunners, with 12 guns.

The liability of the Indore State to the operation of the nazarana rules has not yet been decided.

The Maharaja is entitled to a salute of 21 guns within his own territory, and 19 outside it, which was finally approved in Her Majesty's Order in Council, dated the 26th June 1867.

* Jaknaoda, Jamli, Barwet, Bureta-Gehendi, Sarangi, Gugri, Karwar, Baori, Raipuria, Umarkot, Kodli, Hanmantia, Naogaon, Unterbela, and Bori.

 The Maharaja also owns some Mirasi lands in the Khandesh district; the village of Supra on istimrari tenure in the Jaora State; the village of Datwara as a jagir in the Barwani State; and certain patelki land in the Hyderabad State.

NO. LV.

SUBSTANCE of an ENGAGEMENT in Persian between the BRITISH GOVERNMENT and MAHARAJAH HOLKAR'S GOVERNMENT regarding Opium,—dated 18th February 1826.

ARTICLE I.

The British Government engages to take annually from Maharajah Holkar's Government 5,000 Surat maunds of pure opium in cakes, each maund consisting of four punseerees and each punseeree weighing 401 Oujein Halee Rupees, or 391 new or 407 old Furrackabad Kuldar Rupces; and to pay for the same at the rate of 30 Furrackabad Kuldar or Oujein Halee Rupees. If a higher price than this should be given for purchases from others, the Maharajah's Government shall be entitled to a similar price. The said quantity of opium to be delivered and weighed in all November at the Honourable Company's godowns at Indore or Mahidpore as may be desired by the Company's Opium Agent. Whatever quantities the Opium Agent or his deputies may object to as adulterated, damp, or otherwise faulty, shall not be taken, but pure and prime opium such as the Agent is in the practice of purchasing from the merchants of Malwa shall be taken.

ARTICLE 2.

The British Government will pay the Maharajah's Government for the opium as above stipulated in three equal instalments—the first on the 1st January, the second on the 1st of March, and the third as soon as the opium has been delivered and weighed.

ARTICLE 3.

The Maharajah's Government engages to confine the cultivation of poppy in his territories within an extent calculated to yield a quantity not exceeding in any year 6,000 Surat maunds of dry opium. Of this produce 5,000 maunds are to be delivered to the British Government, and the remainder to be appropriated by the Maharajah's Government for necessary purposes.

ARTICLE 4.

If a diminution should take place in the cultivation of poppy within the Maharajah's territories, or the crops be damaged by inclemency of weather, and the Maharajah's Government finds itself in consequence unable to complete the stipulated quantity of 5,000 maunds from the produce of its own territories, and the same should be made clearly manifest to the Company's Opium Agent, in such case, and provided the Opium Agent should be able to make purchases in the Malwa markets at Rupees 30 per punseeree, the Maharajah's Government will complete the stipulated quantity by purchases in the markets. But if the Opium Agent should be unable to purchase in the markets at that price, then the Maharajah's Government will not be required to make up the deficiency, notwithstanding which the British Government will gratuitously, in consideration of the intimate union subsisting between the two governments, make up to the Maharajah's Government the difference to the full price of 5,000 maunds at Rupees 30 the punseerec as stated in the 1st Article.

ARTICLE 5.

The Maharajah's Government engages to prevent to the best of its power the exportation of opium from his territories not having the sanction of the British authorities, and to confine the sale of opium for internal consumption in his territories to venders under its license. Any quantities passing in or out that may be stopped of their own motion by the officers and agents of the Maharajah's Government shall be delivered over to the Company's Opium Agent, and the Maharajah's Government shall receive two-thirds of the value of the same rated at Rupees 30 per punseeree, or less in property to its quality if of inferior quality. The British authorities moreover shall be at liberty to cause to be stopped and to appropriate any opium herein prohibited which they may discover passing to and fro in the Maharajah's territories, and for all such the Maharajah's Government shall receive one-third of the value rated according to the quality as above stated.

ARTICLE. 6.

The British Government being anxious that the Maharajah's Government should sustain no loss from this arrangement whether in transit collections or otherwise, but on the contrary being desirous of obliging and benefiting it, agrees to give it at the end of the year in addition to the price of the opium as settled in the first Article a bonus of Rupees five per punseeree on the quantity therein stated, provided it shall have observed faithfully the conditions of this engagement.

ARTICLE 7.

This engagement shall hold good as long as the British Government may deem it expedient to maintain special arrangements for the control of Malwa opium.

This engagement consisting of seven Articles, is settled at Indore this 18th day of February 1826, A.D., corresponding with the 10th of Rujub 1241 Hegira, and the 11th of Magh Soodee 1882 Sumbut, by Mr. Gerald Wellesley, Resident, &c., on the part of the British Government, and Etul Punt Tantiag Jog, &c., on the part of the Maharajah's Government, and in confirmation thereof counterparts, ratified with the seal and signatures of the Governor-General in Council and the Maharajah, shall be exchanged between the contracting parties.

TO HIS HIGHNESS MAHARAJA TOOKAJEE.

After compliments.—Your Highness' letter, dated 5th July last has been duly received. In that letter allusion is made to the death of his late Highness Khumdee Rao, which had been reported to me by the Resident at Indore, and it is stated that the ceremonies customary on the occasion had been duly performed. Your Highness further remarks that at the conclusion of the period of mourning you had been, by the great kindness of the British Government, installed as successor to the vacant guddee; and Your Highness proceeds to state that it will be your aim and object so to conduct the duties of the office to which you have been called as to promote the welfare and happiness of the people of the Holkar State.

The intelligence of the early death of the late Maharaja was a cause of much grief to me. By that event the guddee of the Holkar State became vacant, there being no one of the Holkar family remaining entitled to succeed to the principality or to adopt an heir to the guddee.

It became therefore necessary for the Governor-General to make an arrangement for the administration of the government of the Holkar principality.

Having an earnest desire to promote the interests of the Chiefs and people of the State, and to preserve the honour and prosperity of the principality, the British Government determined on this occasion to make such an arrangement as would conduce to the accomplishment of these ends and would at the same time, it was believed, be agreeable to the feelings of the remaining members of the family of the late Hurree Rao Holkar and of the Chiefs and nobles of the principality.

Actuated by these motives, I was induced to direct the British Resident at Indore to nominate Your Highness to the occupation of the vacant guddee.

I have every confidence that Your Highness will, to the utmost of your endeavour, administer the duties of the government in which you have been thus installed in a manner befitting your high station, and with a becoming impression of the importance of the interests which will on your coming of age be entrusted to your care.

It is the intention of the British Government in thus bestowing on Your Highness the principality of the Holkar State, that the Chiefship should descend to the heirs male of Your Highness' body lawfully begotten, in due succession, from generation to generation.

Until the period of Your Highness coming of age the affairs of the government will be administered in your behalf, as at present, by a competent Regency acting under the general superintendence, and in all matters of importance the instructions of the British Resident, who will make arrangements for the education of Your Highness during your minority in a manner suitable to Your Highness' future high destinies.

All existing engagements with other Chiefs and States made by the Chiefs of Holkar and in force at the time of the death of the late Maharaja will continue binding on Your Highness and on Your Highness' Government.

Fort William, the 9th November 1844.

2nd.—That the British Government shall guarantee interest at 5 per cent. per annum to be paid in perpetuity and for ever on the said sum of Rupees 23,81,520.

3rd.—That the amount of interest accruing on the said sum of Rupees 23,81,520 at 5 per cent. per annum shall be assigned to the British Government in lieu of the payments for the Mehidpur Contingent and the Malwa Bheel Corps, this arrangement relieving His Highness Holkar from all demands on account of the said Mehidpur Contingent and the Malwa Bheel Corps, as well as from all pecuniary demands, present or future, and from service with troops.

The above engagement having been entered into between the British and Holkar Governments, it is hereby agreed and recorded that, as the said agreement will stand good for ever between the two Governments payments will be made into the British Treasury within the period of ten years of the aggregate sum of Rupees 23,81,520 (twenty-three lakhs eighty-one thousand five hundred and twenty) commencing from 1865, by fixed annual instalments of Rupees (2,38,152) two lakhs thirty-eight thousand one hundred and fifty-two, and that the Holkar Government will consider itself relieved from the said year 1865 from demands of any description, present or future, on the said account.

TO HIS HIGHNESS MAHARAJ ADHIRAJ RAJ RAJESHWAR SAWAI TOOKAJEE RAO HOLKAR, BAHADUR, G.C.S.I.
C.I.E., INDORE.

MY HONORED AND VALUED FRIEND,

The Agent to the Governor-General in Central India has at length been able to report to me the conclusion of the negotiations for the exchange of territory which have been so long pending between Your Highness and the Government of India.

I have now the pleasure to inform Your Highness that I approve and confirm the transfer to the possession of Your Highness of the 231 villages in Taluka Nimawar, and the 176 villages in the district of Nimar, of which the names, revenues, and other particulars are given in schedules A and B of the memorandum by Lieutenant-General Sir H. Daly enclosed in this letter.

That memorandum correctly summarizes the results of the negotiations, and I feel assured that Your Highness will not fail to perceive, in the constant desire to meet Your Highness' wishes which has been evinced by my predecessors throughout the course of the negotiations, evidence of that friendly spirit which I am confident will ever characterize the relations of the British Government with Your Highness' loyal and distinguished family.

I beg to express the high consideration I entertain for Your Highness, and to subscribe myself

(Sd.) RIPON,

*Dated SIMLA,
The 25th May 1881.*

Viceroy and Governor-General of India.

MEMORANDUM of TERRITORIAL EXCHANGES effected between the GOVERNMENT of INDIA and HIS HIGHNESS MAHARAJA
HOLKAR, G.C.S.I., from 1861 to 1880.

Whereas the Government of India deemed it advisable to obtain from His Highness Maharaja Holkar, by exchange of territory, the proprietary rights held by His Highness in certain lands in the Deccan, negotiations to effect an exchange of territory were commenced in 1861 by Sir Richmond Shakespear, Agent to the Governor General for Central India.

2. The lands in which His Highness ceded proprietary rights were—
- 9 villages of Taluka Chandore.
 - 6 villages in Poona Collectorate.
 - 3 villages in Ahmednagar Collectorate.
 - 3 jaghire villages in Ahmednagar Collectorate.
 - 1 jaghire village in Khandesh Collectorate.
 - 1 jaghire village in Sholapur Collectorate.
 - 5 jaghire villages in the Bulandshahar District of the North-Western Provinces.
3. The lands given in exchange in full sovereignty by the Government of India were—
- 231 villages in Taluka Nimawar, of which were—
- | | |
|-----------------|-----|
| Khalsa villages | 134 |
| Quit-rent „ | 55 |
| Rent-free „ | 42 |
- 176 villages in the District of Nimar, of which—
- 113 were villages in pergunnah Barwai.
 - 32 were villages in Pergunnah Dhargaon.
 - 30 were villages in Pergunnah Kasrawad.
 - 1 Mandlesur.

4. Schedule A attached gives the names of all the villages noted above, together with the revenue as fixed by agreement for each.

5. Schedule B gives the gross and net revenue as finally fixed and agreed to by the contracting parties of the lands given and taken in exchange, as well as the Huqs, cash payments, etc., debitable to each.

6. The following is the detail of the negotiation step by step :—

The Satwas-Nimawar Pergannah was transferred to His Highness Maharaja Holkar on 23rd June 1861. No equivalent in land or cash was received until 31st July 1865 on which (date) the Chandore estate was taken over from Maharaja Holkar.

The Nimar Pergannahs were transferred to the Maharaja on 23rd October 1867, and the Bulandshahar jaghire taken over from His Highness on 27th October 1867.

The Poona* villages were not taken over till the 30th November and 1st, 2nd, and 3rd December 1868, and the Ahmednagar* villages till 29th January and 6th June 1868.

The jaghire villages in the Deccan were taken over in February 1867, January and April 1868, and March and September 1872.

7. The concessions made to the Maharaja in the course of the Satwas-Chandore exchange were as follows :—

1.—In exchange for the proprietary right in nine villages in the Deccan His Highness received 231 villages in Satwas-Nimawar in perpetuity.

II.—The Government of India accepted the Maharaja's own valuation of Rupees 33,314-15-8 for his nine villages, although this sum was in excess of what he had already agreed to accept, and obviously included several items which the Government of India would be unable to recover.

III.—The district of Satwas-Nimawar was valued at the amount of its land revenue only, the abkari revenue being excluded from the calculation.

The net gain to the Maharaja on this account was Rupees 2,156-10-6 a year.

IV.—The claim to a deduction of Rupees 3,209 from the amount of Holkar's Deshmookhi huqs in commutation of service was waived, and the total amount of these huqs, Rupees 11,410, was credited to the land instead of to the cash account to which they properly belonged.

V.—No interest has been claimed on account of the deferred payment to the Government of India of revenues of Satwas-Nimawar, which, without giving any equivalent, the Maharaja enjoyed from June 1861 to July 1865. The annual land revenue derived from the district by the Government of India before transfer was Rupees 28,872. The Revenue for the four years therefore would amount to Rupees 12,15,488, and on this sum several years' interest has been foregone.

VI.—In August 1872 the Government of India yielded to the Maharaja's request to be credited with the sum of Rupees 5,835-15 on account of repairs to Public Works alleged to have been made at his expense in Chandore after the transfer of that estate to the Government of India.

VII.—Finally the capitalization of the Maharaja's annual contribution towards the maintenance of the Mehidpur Contingent and the Malwa Bheel Corps, which it was originally intended should be treated in close connection with the territorial exchanges, was in 1865 carried out separately at a loss to the British Government of rather more than 5½ lakhs of rupees.

8. The corresponding concessions made to the Maharaja in the course of the Wabgaon exchange were as follows. :—

I.—In exchange for the proprietary right only in fourteen villages in the Deccan and five villages in the North-Western Provinces, the Maharaja obtained rights of sovereignty over 176 villages in Nimar.

II.—The value of the Maharaja's villages, on his own computation, amounted to Rupees 38,072 a year. The total revenue of the Nimar lands transferred to His Highness was Rupees 47,701.

III.—Abkari revenue was not included in the valuation of Nimar lands.

IV.—The lapsed jaghire of Chotta Kasrawad, with a land revenue of Rupees 2,099 a year, was conceded to the Maharaja.

V.—No charge was made to His Highness on account of Government buildings at Mandesur of the value of Rupees 13,225.

VI.—No interest has been claimed on account of deferred payment to the Government of India of the revenue of villages which the Maharaja did not give up for some time after he received possession of the Nimar Pergannahs. Moreover, the Nimar Pergannahs were handed over to Maharaja Holkar under a light assessment at the expiry of the settlement, and the reassessment since made has given the Indore Darbar three or four times the revenue which the Government of India received from the districts, and three or four times the value of Holkar's hereditary lands and huqs in the Deccan.

9. As shown in Schedule B, the annual amount due by the Indore Darbar on account of excess of land made over is Rupees 5,285-6-4.* This sum will be deducted annually from the sum of Rupees 30,000† paid by the Government of India on account of Kesorai Patan, vide page 338, Volume III, and the POST OFFICES in the TERRITORIES of HIS HIGHNESS the MAHARAJA HOLKAR.

ARTICLE 1.

There shall be mutual exchange of correspondence between the Imperial Post Office of British India, hereinafter termed the "Imperial Post," and the Post Offices in the territories of His Highness the Maharaja Holkar, hereinafter termed the "Indore State Post."

The term "correspondence" shall include all classes of articles which may be forwarded by post under the rules for the time being of the Imperial Post.

ARTICLE 2.

On correspondence originating in the Indore State Post, and destined for delivery through the Imperial Post, the Indore State Post may levy such local postage as may from time to time be directed by the Darbar of His Highness the Maharaja Holkar. But all such postage shall be collected by payment in advance, and the correspondence shall be made over to the Imperial Post without any claim whatsoever.

ARTICLE 3.

Correspondence so made over shall be treated by the Imperial Post in the same way as if it had been posted originally in an Imperial Post Office, no account being taken of any Indore State postage already paid thereon whether in cash or by means of postage labels of the Indore State Post.

ARTICLE 4.

Correspondence which may be made over by the Imperial Post to the Indore State Post shall be made over without claim when no Imperial Postage is due, and with claim when Imperial Postage is due.

In the latter case the claim shall be—

- (b) on correspondence originating in Foreign Offices termed "Foreign correspondence," the whole amount of the Imperial Postage due, the term "Imperial Postage" including in this case the postage due to the Imperial Post on behalf of Foreign Offices or (in the case of overland parcels) to the Custom House.

ARTICLE 5.

On correspondence made over under head (a) of the preceding Article whether with or without claim, the Indore State Post may levy such local postage as may from time to time be directed by the Darbar of His Highness the Maharaja Holkar, but on correspondence made over under head (b) no local postage shall be levied.

ARTICLE 6.

Correspondence received by the Imperial Post from the Indore State Post, or vice versa, which may be undeliverable shall be returned, and on correspondence so returned to the Imperial Post the Indore State Post shall have the right to reclaim any Postage previously claimed from it under Article 4.

(II).—MEDIATIZED CHIEFS IN THE INDORE RESIDENCY.

These are seven in number. Four, namely Bai, Men, Dhaora Ganjara, and Kayatha have been transferred from the Indore Agency, and Naulana, Sheogarh, and Bilauda from the Malwa Agency. The guaranteed tankhas from Gwalior of the last three Thakurs continue to be paid through the Political Agent in Malwa.

1. BAI.*

According to a settlement made by Sir John Malcolm in 1819, Parbat Singh and Raghunath Singh, Zamindars of Bai, were to maintain the security of the Simrol pass, and to receive the taxes on merchandise, etc., passing through it, which were levied in Ahalya Bai's time. The arrangement is recorded, along with other questions outside the settlement, in a Document (No. XLVII) issued to the Zamindars by the Indore Darbar in 1226 A. H. In 1858 the Darbar, without reference to the Central India Agency, commuted the arrangement for a money payment of Hali Rupees 748, representing the average receipts of the previous ten years, from which were deducted Hali Rupees 325, representing the cost of the collection and of maintaining a guard on the pass, and including a subscription of Rupees 61 for religious purposes. The net payment is thus Hali Rupees 423=British Rupees 358-7-7 a year, and continues, although the levy of transit dues on the Indore-Khandwa road was abolished in 1876.

The Zamindar holds from the Darbar, without guarantee, the village of Gazida, and 25 bighas of land in the village of Bai.

The present Zamindar is Jaswant Singh, who succeeded his father, Manrup Singh, in 1894. Jaswant Singh was born in 1890.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

2. MEN.†

The settlement of the Teza Tarwi's claim was effected by Sir John Malcolm on the 25th January 1819. The Holkar State agreed to entertain in its service seven of the Tarwi's adherents and to give him two villages on rent, subject after the seventh year to a payment of one rupee per bigha, on condition that the Tarwi made no further collections on passengers and goods between Mhow and Jam, and was responsible for the prevention of robberies.

*Malcolm's "Malwa," No. 24 of Schedule No. III.

†Malcolm's "Malwa," No. 26 of Schedule No. III.

No copy of this engagement is forthcoming, but the Indore Darbar have produced an Engagement (No. LXVIII) written by Kaisha Paima and Ajha, the nephews of Teza Tarwi, whereby they bind themselves to enter the service of the Darbar and to hold themselves responsible for the protection of the country within certain limits. The Darbar state that for this service they get Rs. 508 a year, being the equivalent, at the conversion rate of Hali Rupees 50 a month direct from the Darbar treasury. The circumstances in which the settlement of Sir John Malcolm was modified have not been clearly ascertained.

The present Tankhadars are Man Singh, Khima, and Chitar.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

3. DHAORA GANJARA.*

This settlement was effected by Sir John Malcolm and was similar to the above settlement with the Teza Tarwi of Men. No copy of the engagement is forthcoming; but the Indore Darbar records contain a Document (No. LXIX) under which Hali Rupees 55 a month are granted as remuneration for the protection of the roads between Simrol ghat and Sigwar.

The Darbar also state that Maharaja Hari Rao Holkar granted an additional allowance of Hali Rupees 25 a month for some other service to be performed by the recipient, thus making the total cash payment Hali Rupees 80 monthly, exclusive of certain ducs levied by the Tarwi from passengers and on merchandise. At the conversion rate for British currency, in which payment is now made, the guaranteed sum represents Rs. 559-5 and the unguaranteed Rs. 254-3 yearly.

The present Tankhadars are Onkar, Bhima, Gopal, and Lachhman.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

TRANSLATION of a DEED of SETTLEMENT executed by MULHAR RAO HOLKAR SOUBADAR through RUGHOO GUNGADHUR, KAMAISDAR of PERGUNNAH INDORE, to RUGHOONATH SING, son of TEKCHUND, and KISREE SING, son of BEJOY SING, ZEMINDARS of PERGUNNAH BAE, TALOOKA MUDHARNEE,—1226 A.H.

The above pergunnah was desolated and is now being improved by the Circar. An enquiry respecting the zemindaree of the pergunnah was made, but no papers have been found. Agreeably, however, to what you verbally stated the following settlement is made :—

1. The following duties used formerly to be levied on travellers on account of zemindar and chowkies.

Exclusive of duties on travellers, sayar duties were levied from tradesmen at the rate of two annas on every loaded bullock, sheep, camel, &c.

Sayer duty of one anna and not more was levied on every company of travellers or traders at the following five chowkies, vis.—

- | | | |
|----------------|-----------|-------------------|
| 1. Nachumbore. | | 3. Arveh Khal. |
| 2. Bhoyroba. | | 4. Chorur Nuddee. |
| | 5. Amlee. | |

According to the above scale, duties at the rate of three annas may be levied on tradesmen on account of zemindar and chowkey; and duties at the rate of one anna may be taken on every company of travellers; a duty also of one anna and a half may be levied on every animal carrying the baggage of the traders; but nothing more than the above should be collected. All duties must be levied according to the rate settled by the mediation of General Sir John Malcolm. You shall make good the loss which any man may sustain in any place from Sumrore village ghaut to the borders of Gooaloo at the time of his coming or returning. You shall always be in attendance and serve the Circar heartily and carefully.

2. The village which you state to have been from of old in your possession in zemindaree tenure, and the lands which you claim to hold for the purpose of cultivation are as follows :—

You have said that you hold the village of Gazeeda and 25 beegahs of land situated in cusba Bae; you may now improve the said village and cultivate the lands, and from the income thereof you may support your family and children: but after the institution of an enquiry such settlement in respect thereof shall be made as may be deemed proper :—

3. The following is the settlement made :—

One-fourth of the sum fixed to be paid to the Circar shall be given to the zemindar. If you settle aheerees or graziers and others in the village, you will receive a percentage at the rate of Rupees 5 per cent. on the amount to be paid by them to the Circar on account of pasture.

4. It is necessary to make an enquiry whether or not the cess "damee" is due to the zemindar, and whether or not peshcush is payable by the zemindar; for this purpose it is necessary that you should produce the old receipts which you hold. After enquiry a settlement will be made, and until such settlement is made you may take two rupees on every village. One rupee only should be taken on a village yielding Rupees 25 a year, but on a village paying Rupees 50 you may take two rupees as mentioned above.

5. No duties on account of zemindar and chowkey, as above detailed, shall be levied from persons holding a letter of the Circar exempting them from payment of duties. If any tradesman holds an engagement of the Circar the duties should be levied from him with reference to that engagement. You will keep the tradespeople satisfied by making the usual allowance in their cases. In respect to pilgrims you shall act in consonance with the orders of the Circar. The settlement having been thus made you shall serve the Circar with fidelity, and improve the said pergunnah by bringing the tenants and settling them in the pergunnah. You shall protect the traders, travellers, and passengers, so that they may not sustain any loss. You shall levy duties according to the above settlement which has been made with reference to your verbal statement. After the records have been referred to, such rules in regard to the levying of duties and the payments of peshcush shall be laid down as obtained during the time of the late Bai Saheba.

III.—INDORE AGENCY.

[SENIOR AND JUNIOR BRANCHES.]

The relations of the British Government with the States of Dewas may conveniently be described here, not that these States are next in importance in Central India to Indore, but because their geographical position, and the fact that they are under the immediate supervision of the Agent to the Governor-General, bring them for political purposes into close connection with the group of the Indore treaty and mediatized States.

Dewas, as at present constituted, consists of two branches, known as the senior and the junior branch.

The Chiefs of both branches are Maratha Puars, connected with the Dhar house, and are, generally speaking, equal in rank, power, and authority. The first Chiefs were two brothers, Tukaji and Jiwaji, cousins of Udaji Rao, the first Chief of the Dhar house, who came with the first Peshwa, Baji Rao, into Malwa, and on the division of that province they obtained possession of Dewas, Sarangpur, and several other districts, yielding a nominal revenue of Rs. 2,42,900, but subject to a yearly payment of Rs. 26,000 to several Girasia Chiefs. To their revenue was added an assignment of the tribute of certain districts to the amount of Rs. 78,922, and at a later date the province of Hamirpur in Bundelkhand yielding Rs. 75,000 a year, as well as the district of Kandoba in the Doab. The territory acquired in common was partitioned between the two brothers at a subsequent date.

For thirty years before the British occupation of Malwa, the Chiefs of Dewas had been plundered and oppressed by Sindhia, Holkar, and the Pindari Chiefs, and were deprived of most of the tributary payments as well as of Hamirpur, Kandoba, and other districts; but in 1818 the two Chiefs then in possession, Tukaji, the grandson of the Chief of the same name, and Anand Rao, his cousin, the adopted son of the grandson of Jiwaji, both of whom are mentioned before, were by Treaty (No. LXXIII) taken under British protection.

By article 7 of this treaty the two Chiefs agreed to "act by an union of authority and to administer their affairs through one public minister;" by degrees this union was relaxed, until in 1841 a definite separation of administrative control was effected by each Chief appointing his own minister. The two branches are now virtually separate States with distinct lands, revenue, and administration, although for certain administrative objects they work in co-operation. The last matter determined in this connection was the apportionment between the two States of jurisdiction in the city of Dewas and in the town of Sarangpur. The latter arrangement was completed in 1889.

In 1828 the Chiefs of Dewas made over to the administrative charge of the British Government (No. LXXIV) the pargana of Bagod, an outlying district in Nimar which they could not efficiently control. The pargana was placed, for administrative purposes, within the limits of the Bhopawar Political Agency, under the direct supervision of the Political Agent. The annual surplus revenue of the pargana, after payment of all charges of administration, was paid to the Chiefs of Dewas. A survey and settlement of the pargana was commenced in 1890, and completed in 1891. In February 1901, the pargana, after remaining for about 70 years under British supervision, was restored to the Chiefs of Dewas, and was divided equally between the branches, irrespective of treaty villages. The substance of the agreement entered into by the States is contained in a Memorandum (No. LXXV).

By the treaty of 1818 the Dewas State was required to provide a contingent of 50 horse and 50 foot, to be doubled when the revenues improved. In 1827 the contingent was raised to 75 horse and 200 foot, which, with Holkar's contingent of 400 horse, formed the Eastern Malwa Contingent. On the amalgamation of the Eastern and Western Malwa Contingents the obligation to supply a quota of troops was commuted to an annual contribution of Rs. 33,600 Hali coin, since converted into Rs. 28,474-9-2 of British currency. This sum is now (1906) the only military contribution paid by the Dewas State and is equally divided between the two Chiefs.

In 1862 the Chiefs of Dewas received Sanads (No. LXXVI) guaranteeing to them the right of adoption. They had both rendered good service during the mutinies of 1857.

In 1864 the Chiefs of Dewas agreed (Nos. LXXVII and LXXVIII) to make over, free of cost, to the British Government lands that might be required for railway purposes; to allow compensation for private property taken up; to cede full jurisdiction short of sovereign rights; and to remit all transit and other duties on goods passing by rail through their territory.

In 1881 both Chiefs agreed (No. LXXIX) to remit all transit duties on salt passing through their territories; and, to compensate them for the loss thereby incurred, Government engaged to deliver at Indore to each Chief one hundred maunds of salt free of cost. But when the payment in cash to Holkar was substituted in 1883 for the payment in kind, it was considered advisable to put all the Chiefs in Central India on the same footing, and accordingly a supplementary Article (No. LXXX) was added to the original agreement, by which it was stipulated that the Government should pay to each of the Dewas Chiefs a sum of Rs. 412-8-0 annually in lieu of the original compensation in kind.

In 1885 the Chiefs of both branches abolished all transit duties within their territories, with the exception of the duty on opium.

In 1890 both States ceded, free of cost, all land required for the Ujjain-Bhopal railway. This line was completed in 1895.

In June 1895 the States adopted the British currency in supersession of the Hali coins current till that year.

In 1906 both Chiefs gave, free of charge, all land in the Alote (senior branch) and Gurgucha (junior branch) parganas, required for the Nagda-Muttra railway, and agreed to cede plenary civil and criminal jurisdiction over such lands (Nos. LXXXI and LXXXII); the line is at present (1906) under construction.

DEWAS.

[SENIOR BRANCH.]

Tukaji Puar, one of the Chiefs who was taken under British protection in 1818, was succeeded in 1828 by his son, Rukmaugad Rao, commonly known as Khase Sahib.

He died in 1860, and his adopted son, Krishnaji Rao, then about 11 years of age, was recognised as his successor. Krishnaji Rao married a daughter of Sindhia.

From the time Krishnaji Rao took charge of his State his affairs began to fall into disorder and his debts increased annually; he attempted to remedy matters by making over the management of affairs to his adoptive mother, but her administration was not successful. The debts rose to ten lakhs of rupees, and in 1875 it became necessary to place the State under a Native superintendent and to assign a suitable allowance to the Chief. In March 1881 the greater portion of the debts of the State having been paid off, and the Chief having given proofs of improvement, he was permitted to associate himself in the work of the administration with the superintendent, Rao Bahadur Tantia Gore, whose designation was altered to that of diwan.

Tantia Gore resigned his post in 1883, and Pandit Sarup Narayan was appointed to succeed him. Under his administration many salutary reforms were introduced, and the debts of the State were gradually liquidated. Sarup Narayan retired in 1885, and an arrangement was made under which Rao Raja Sir Dinkar Rao, K.C.S.I., endeavoured to manage the State through the Raja. Sir Dinkar Rao relinquished the task in June 1886, and there was no alternative but to revert to the form of administration sanctioned by the Government of India in 1881. Vishnu Keshav Kunte was accordingly appointed as superintendent, with control of the administration subject to the immediate supervision of the First Assistant of the Agent to the Governor General at Indore. His position was similar to that held by Tantia Gore in 1881. In 1898 Raja Krishnaji Rao was again invested with powers of administration, subject to certain restrictions.

Raja Krishnaji Rao died in October 1899, leaving no heir, natural or adopted. Kesho Rao Bapu Sahib, a boy of twelve years belonging to the Supa branch of the family, the elder son of the late Raja's elder brother by blood relation, was recognized as his successor by the Government of India, and was subsequently adopted by the widow of Raja Krishnaji Rao Puar. In connection with this succession it was at first ruled by the Government of India that, as Raja Kesho Rao did not fall within the third degree of relationship to the late Raja, nazarana was leviable; but on a reconsideration of the case, the order was cancelled, on the ground that the present Raja came of the same family from which Krishnaji Rao had been adopted, and the succession had passed into that branch before the nazarana rules were passed. Kesho Rao, who was born on the 1st January 1888, was installed on the 4th April 1900 with the title of Tukaji Rao III. He has been educated at the Daly College, Indore, and the Mayo College, Ajmer. During the Chief's minority the State is being administered by a superintendent under the direct supervision of the First Assistant to the Agent to the Governor-General in Central India.

In 1904 the title of "Maharani" was conferred on Her Highness Yamuna Bai Sahiba, grandmother of the Chief, as a personal distinction in recognition of her former services as regent of the State and her generous gifts to charitable institutions.

The Raja attended the Coronation Darbar held at Delhi in January 1903, and was present at the Darbar held by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales at Indore in November 1905.

Several questions in dispute between the Darbar and the Thakurate of Pathari have been decided within recent years. The villages held by the Thakur from the senior branch are not guaranteed, and the Agent to the Governor-General has ruled that jurisdiction therein vests with the Darbar, to which the Thakur is bound to report crimes occurring within their limits; that the Darbar has a right to levy sayar dues, including opium cess, on the holding ; and that the Thakur is liable to pay nazarana according to the rules obtaining in the State in respect of all similar holdings.

The Estate of Jawasia stands on the same footing.

The area of Dewas Senior Branch is 446 square miles ; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 62,312 ; and the revenue is about Rs. 3,50,000, exclusive of alienations, but including guaranteed and fixed payments.

The State maintains (1905) a military establishment, including irregulars, of 62 cavalry, 79 infantry, 2 guns classed as serviceable, besides other guns, and 18 artillery men.

The Chief is liable to pay nazarana under the usual rules.

DEWAS.

[JUNIOR BRANCH.]

Anand Rao Puar, the Chief of the junior branch, adopted in 1837 Haibat Rao, by whom he was succeeded. Haibat Rao adopted a son in 1858, on the understanding that if a legitimate son of his body should be born, the son by adoption should relinquish all claims to the State. A legitimate son was born in December 1860, and his future right to the succession was declared. Haibat Rao Puar died on 12th May 1864, and was succeeded by his infant son, Narayan Rao Puar, called the Dada Sahib.

The State was managed during his minority by a kamdar subject to the direct control and supervision of the Agent to the Governor-General. In a Darbar held at Dewas in 1879, the young Chief, having attained his majority, was entrusted with administrative authority. He died on the 19th January 1892, childless, and leaving no blood relations. In accordance with his wishes he was succeeded by his adoptive brother's elder son, Malhar Rao, a minor, who was installed in September 1892. Malhar Rao was born on the 10th August 1877. During his minority the administration was under the direct supervision of the First Assistant to the Agent to the Governor-General.

In 1897 His Highness Malhar Rao Baba Sahib Puar was invested with ruling powers. The Raja attended the Coronation Darbar at Delhi in January 1903, and was present at the Darbar held by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales at Indore in November 1905.

The Darbar's right to levy sayer dues, including the opium cess, on the four villages held by the Thakurate of Pathari from the junior branch, which was in dispute for about ten years, has been recently decided, and the Darbar's right has been confirmed.

The area of the State is about 440 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 54,904; and the revenue is about Rs. 3,50,000, exclusive of alienations, but including guaranteed and fixed payments.

The State maintains (1905) a military establishment, including irregulars, of 71 cavalry, 179 infantry, including armed police, 6 guns classed as serviceable, and 25 artillery men.

The Chiefship is liable to pay nazarana under the usual rules.

The Chief receives a salute of 15 guns, which was finally approved in Her Majesty's Order in Council, dated the 26th June 1867.

MEMORANDUM regarding the TRANSFER of the PARGANA of BAGODE to the CHIEFS of DEWAS.

The States agreed :—

1. That both the Dewas Darbars should maintain all existing settlements, subject to a re-survey and re-settlement of the land on recognised lines for a period of fifteen years, as in the Dewas States themselves.
2. That no new or enhanced cesses or taxes should be imposed or retained without the concurrence of the local Political Officer.
3. That all existing establishments should be either retained or pensioned or discharged on gratuities at Government rates.
4. That with a view to promote administrative convenience the Pargana of Bagode should be divided into two compact blocks irrespective of the division described in Aitchison's Treaties, Engagements and Sanads, Volume IV, pages 211-212, Edition of 1892.

It was agreed between the two Chiefs of the Dewas States that the Senior Branch should take the Eastern Block and that the Junior Branch should take the Western Block, and that an annual fixed cash payment of Rs. 275 British coin, should be made by the Senior Branch to the Junior Branch to balance the account.

Be assured that nothing shall disturb the engagement thus made to you so long as your house is loyal to the Crown and faithful to the conditions of the Treaties, Grants, or Engagements which record its obligations to the British Government.

ABSTRACT TRANSLATION of a KHUREETA from NARAIN RAO DADA SAHIB, the CHIEF of the JUNIOR BRANCH of DEWAS, dated the 8th Jumadee-oos-sanee A.H. 1272—1864.

My Vakeel, Ram Rao Narain, forwarded to me your perwannah to his address, dated 19th May 1864, together with the memorandum of four conditions regarding cession of land for railways. I have learnt all particulars, and am much gratified that a railway line is going to be brought to this part of the country. In conformity with your wishes, I give my consent to all these conditions, but beg to remark that my State is small, and to express my hope that the British Government, taking into consideration the smallness of its resources, will continue its support and favour as it has done heretofore.

PAPER of CONDITIONS in regard to RAILWAYS in RAJPUTANA.

1st.—That the necessary extent of land, averaging 200 feet in breadth, for the construction of the railway line, stations and bonâ fide railway purposes, shall be given up by the Native State, free of all cost.

2nd.—All necessary compensation, for accruing loss to owners of lands, houses, gardens, etc., in the land ceded, to be defrayed and borne by the Chief of the State out of his own funds, in the manner done by the British Government in regard to the Railway within their own territories.

3rd.—That full jurisdiction in such land, short of sovereignty rights, shall be made over absolutely to the British Government.

4th.—That all transit and other duties on goods passing through shall be surrendered. However, duties on goods breaking bulk and being conveyed to and from the railway may be charged at the usual rates, or according to a fixed tariff to be settled hereafter.

My Vakeel, Gopal Rao Luchmun, has forwarded to me your perwannah, No. 745, dated 19th May last, giving cover to the memorandum of four conditions on which land for Railways is to be ceded.

(11)—MEDIATIZED CHIEFS IN THE INDORE AGENCY.

There are altogether six mediatized Chiefs in the Indore Agency. Of the fourteen holdings described in the third edition of this work, three, namely, Gagrani, Singhana, and Dhangaon, have been omitted; one, Patharia, has been transferred to the Bhopal Agency; and four, namely, Kayatha, Bai, Men, and Dhaora-Ganjara, have been shown under the Indore Residency.

1. PATHARI.

The Thakur of Pathari receives a tankha of Rs. 4,835 from Dewas under a Settlement (No. LXXXIII) mediated by Captain Borthwick and Sir John Malcolm in 1818. The Thakur with whom the original engagement was formed was Mahabat Singh. This tankha is paid direct from the two States of Dewas, and the Thakur is bound not to interfere in its collection in any of their villages. The Thakur also holds a certificate from Mr. Johnston (No. LXXXIV), Assistant to the Resident at Indore, dated the 2nd December 1837, which states that he holds his Estate from the Puar Rajas on an istimrari tenure, and that he has been in the habit of referring to the Resident at Indore all questions regarding his tankha dues from Dewas and other places. Zorawar Singh, to whom this certificate was given, was the son of Mahabat Singh. Onkar Singh, the present Thakur, who was born in November 1884, succeeded his father, Bakhtawar Singh, son of Prithi Singh, in April 1894. During Onkar Singh's minority the Estate was administered by a superintendent under the general supervision of the First Assistant to the Agent to the Governor-General in Central India.

The Thakur of Pathari also holds twelve villages* under the Dewas Chiefs at a fixed rent, eight from the senior and four from the junior branch. The latter are regarded as formally guaranteed. In 1905 the Agent to the Governor-General ruled that, as the villages held by the Thakur from the senior branch of the Dewas State were not guaranteed, the Thakur was *Under Dewas (senior branch).

1. Pathari.
2. Khataira.
3. Saidu Kheri.
4. Banjari.
5. Kanaira.
6. Kishengarh.
7. Sukarwara.
8. Talapura.

9. Rudarwas.

liable to pay nazarana according to the rules obtaining in the Dewas State in respect of all similar holdings, and that the Darbar had a right to levy sayer dues, including the opium cess on surplus produce exported from those villages.

The question to whom the Thakur is bound to furnish reports of crime was long in dispute. The Chiefs of Dewas demanded such reports, but the Thakur disputed their right to receive them, and stated that he would furnish them only to the Agent to the Governor-General. In 1887 it was held by the Agent to the Governor-General that, in the guaranteed holdings of the Thakur, jurisdiction vests in the Central India Agency, to which the Thakur is bound to report; while in villages that are not guaranteed, the jurisdiction vests in the Darbar, to which the Thakur should report criminal occurrences within their limits.

The Thakur also receives tankhas of Rs. 2,687 from Sindhia, and Rs. 1,145 from Holkar, for which he holds sanads.

The area of the Pathari Thakurate is 15 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 1,436; and the revenue is about Rs. 16,000.

The Thakurate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

2. BORKHERA or BORKHEDA.

Thakur Raim Singh, son of Amar Singh, of Borkhera, in the Dewas State (junior branch), receives a yearly tankha of Rs. 484-8-0 from the Dewas State, senior branch, and a similar tankha of Rs. 283-4-0 from the Dewas State, junior branch. Ram Singh was born in March 1872. The family holds no sanads authorising these grants, but a parwana dated the 19th November 1818 (No. LXXXV), addressed by Sir John Malcolm to Thakur Zalim Singh, grandfather of Amar Singh, and at that time head of the family, shows that the Thakur then enjoyed certain money payments from the State of Dewas. The amount of the payment, as stated above, is not entered in the parwana, but has since been ascertained. For the realisation of these dues the Thakur was, under the said parwana, directed to apply to the local revenue officials and not to make exactions from the State villages.

It was decided by the Government of India in 1889 that the parwana of 1818 should be included in this book.

The area of the Thakurate is 4 square miles; the population 200; and the revenue about Rs. 2,277.

The Thakurate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

3. BAGLI.*

The Thakur of Bagli is a dependant of Sindhia. Under a Settlement (No. LXXXVI) effected by Sir John Malcolm in 1819, Thakur Zalim Singh and his son, Bhim Singh, received Piplia and eight other villages on a quit-rent of Rs. 5,562 a year, and five other villages on a quit-rent of Rs. 909. The quit-rent for these villages is paid by the Thakur direct to the Gwalior Darbar. The Thakur keeps a vakil in attendance on the Agent to the Governor-General, whose communications he receives direct.

In October 1864 the Thakur agreed to make over, if necessary, lands for railway purposes, on the terms agreed to by the Dewas Chiefs, as described in the narrative of those States (see Dewas).

Thakur Subhag Singh died in June 1866, having adopted Raghunath Singh, a distant relative descended from a common ancestor. Doubts were expressed by Sindhia as to the validity of the adoption, but enquiry showed that it was perfectly genuine. Raghunath Singh was therefore formally recognised as Thakur of Bagli by the British Government on his paying to Sindhia nazarana amounting to one-fourth of the net revenue of the fourteen guaranteed villages. The jama of sixty-nine unguaranteed villages held by the Thakur was raised by Sindhia from Rs. 7,251 to Rs. 10,001. An Agreement (No. LXXXVII) was also signed by the Thakur in 1870, in which he recorded his obligation to acknowledge Sindhia's superiority and do service accordingly.

Raghunath Singh died on the 9th January 1896, and was succeeded by his son, Ranjit Singh, who was born on the 23rd July 1882. During his minority the Estate was managed by a superintendent under the general supervision of the First Assistant to the Agent to the Governor-General in Central India. This arrangement still continues.

The area of the Bagli Thakurate is 108 square miles; its population, according to the census of 1901, is 14,049; and the revenue about Rs. 1,00,000.

The Thakurate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

* Malcolm's "Malwa," Nos. 9 to 12 of Schedule No. III.

4. KARAUDIA.*

To Thakurs Zalim Singh and Hate Singh the following tankhas were guaranteed through the mediation of Major Henley :—

	Rs.
From Sindhia (No. LXXXVIII)	700
" " (No. LXXXIX)	2,100
" " (No. XC)	160
" Bhopal (No. XCI)	401
Total	3,361

They were bound to render service, and to abstain from levying the tankhas directly from the villages and from the commission of crime.

Umed Singh, son of Zalim Singh, died on the 26th October 1880, and was succeeded by his nephew and adopted son, Chain Singh, then 16 years of age.

Chain Singh died in 1896, and was succeeded by his son, Dule Singh, born in November 1882, who is now in the enjoyment of the tankhas guaranteed to Zalim Singh. During the minority of Dule Singh the Estate was managed by a superintendent under the general supervision of the First Assistant to the Agent to the Governor-General in Central India, and this arrangement still continues.

Devi Singh of Arnia, son of Hate Singh, was succeeded by his son, Sobhag Singh, in January 1892. Sobhag Singh, who was born in 1874, receives the tankhas guaranteed to Hate Singh. He also holds four villages from the Gwalior Darbar on quit-rent.

At the expiration of the term of each instalment the Thakurs are furnished with a parwana addressed to the local officials of Sindhia, Holkar, and Bhopal, from the office of the Agent to the Governor-General to enable them to realise their tankhas. A vakil on the part of the Thakurs remains in attendance on the Agent to the Governor-General at Indore.

In the year 1838 Thakur Zalim Singh and Chhatar Singh, his brother, obtained from Sindhia, as blood money, the village of Kheri-Pajpura. This village was for some time held conjointly by Chain Singh, the grandson of Zalim Singh, and Khuman Singh, the son of Chhatar Singh; but disputes arising between them, it was ordered by the Agent to the Governor-General in Central India that Khuman Singh should undertake the entire management of the village during his lifetime, on condition of paying to Chain Singh his share, namely, Rs. 350 annually, free of all charges. Khuman Singh was held responsible for the payment of all dues, etc., in connection with the village; and it was determined that on the death of either Khuman Singh or

* Malcolm's "Malwa," No. 19 of Schedule No. II.

Chain Singh fresh arrangements for the disposal of the property should be made. Chain Singh died in 1896, but the arrangement regarding the village was not disturbed. Khuman Singh died in May 1905, and was succeeded by his grandson, Ram Singh, born in 1880, who has been permitted to retain the management of the village.

The Engagement (No XCII) of 1839 regarding the village of Kheri-Rajpura is guaranteed.

Chain Singh also held the village of Karaudia under the Indore Darbar, and the holding has descended to his son, Dule Singh. A sanad granted by the Darbar in 1870 fixed the quit-rent payable for this village at Hali Rupees 1,801, inclusive of dami, bhiet, sardeshmukhi, but excluding the due payable to haqdars. The village is not guaranteed.

On Dule Singh's succession the Indore Darbar levied a nazarana equal to one year's net revenue of the village of Karaudia, and presented a khilat of one-fourth of the amount.

The villages of Jamgod and Kheria were given by Sindhia, under a sanad dated A.H. 1240, on a quit-rent of Rs. 400, to Zalim Singh and Bhim Singh. Dule Singh holds Kheria. Jamgod is in the possession of Rai Singh, who succeeded Raghunath Singh in February 1900. Raghunath was the grandson of Bhim Singh, and succeeded his father, Onkar Singh, on the latter's death in 1884. Chhatar Singh, brother of Zalim Singh, obtained from Sindhia the village of Razapur on quit-rent; and Tej Singh, another brother, obtained from Sindhia 1,000 bighas of land in the village of Koel Khari under Ujjain.

The area of Karaudia is 10 square miles, and that of Kheri-Rajpura 6 square miles: the population of Karaudia is 1,469, and of Kheri-Rajpura 630: the revenue of the former is about Rs. 8,000, and that of the latter Rs. 4,180.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

5. TONK.

The present Thakur, Nirbhe Singh, born in August 1843, who was recognised as the successor of his father, Balwant Singh, in 1869, receives under sanads from Sindhia and Holkar the following tankhas:—

	Rs.	A.
From Sindhia (No. XCIII)	4,457	0
„ Holkar (No. XCIV)	112	8
Total	4,569	8

It has been the practice of the Agent to the Governor-General at Indore to grant the Thakur a parwana to enable him to realise the tankha from Sindhia's local officials.

The Thakur also receives a tankha of Rs. 4,570 from the two Chiefs of Dewas. No sanads for this tankha are produced, but the Thakur holds a Letter (No. XCV), dated 5th December 1837, from Mr. P. Johnston, Assistant Resident, Indore, relating to the payment.

Nirbhe Singh holds, under sanads from Sindhia, five hundred bighas of land in pargana Tonk, and the village of Murmia in Unchaud pargana at a quit-rent of Rs. 201. He also holds, under a sanad from Holkar, six bighas of inam land in Indore pargana.

The revenue of the Thakurate, excluding income from the Istimrari village, is Rs. 4,724.

The Thakurate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

6. UNI.

The ancestor of Thakur Daulat Singh held the villages of Uni, Bharkia and Tamolia in the Dewas State, junior branch. In 1841 Colonel Borthwick, Assistant to Sir John Malcolm, mediated between the Darbar and Thakur Hindu Singh, grandfather of the present Thakur, who was born in December 1843, an arrangement for the continuance of the Estate to the family. It was settled that the Thakur should hold Uni and Bharkia in perpetuity on payment of quit-rents of Rs. 501 and Rs. 401 a year, respectively, and Tamolia, then assessed at Rs. 451, on a rent subject to increase according to the usage of the pargana.

This settlement proved inoperative as the State was averse from the grant of perpetual leases and the Thakur would accept nothing less than that which his ancestors had enjoyed. On Thakur Hindu Singh's death his son, Gopal Singh, also declined to accept the village on any other than quit-rent tenure, and the dispute continued until 1876, when Sir H. Daly, the Agent to the Governor-General in Central India, ruled that the Thakur should be placed in possession of his ancestral village of Uni on istimrari tenure as settled by Colonel Borthwick in 1841, and that the villages of Bharkia and Tamolia should be held by the Thakur on life leases. On Thakur Gopal Singh's death, in 1883, the Raja of Dewas resumed Bharkia and Tamolia. Subsequently, in 1894, the Darbar leased Tamolia to Daulat Singh, the present Thakur, for seven years on a quit-rent of Rs. 1,350 a year, and Bharkia for four years at a rent of Rs. 1,462 a year. These leases expired respectively in 1901 and 1898. The Thakur, however, continued in possession without taking a fresh lease from the Darbar until 1905, when they were temporarily resumed by the Darbar. The dispute is not yet (1906) finally settled.

A claim preferred by the Thakur to the excise revenue in Uni was negatived by the Agent to the Governor-General in Central India in 1906, on the ground that these rights were not reserved to him by the sanad under which he holds the village, and that no prescriptive title has been proved.

The area of the Thakurate is 5 square miles, population, by the census of 1901, is 494, and the revenue about Rs. 3,000.

The Thakurate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

TRANSLATION of a SUNNUD granted to THAKOOR ZALIM SING and HUTTEH SING by NUSSEER-OD-DOWLAH NUZUR MAHOMED KHAN BAHADOOR FUTTEH JUNG, NAWAB of BHOPAL.

Be it known to the present and future amlahs, chowdherees, and canoon-goes of pergunnah Ashta that as Thakoor Zalim Sing and Hutteh Sing used to receive from of old a maintenance from the aforesaid pergunnah, the Circar was pleased to sanction the continuance of the undermentioned amount for their maintenance to be paid through the amlahs of the above pergunnah in three instalments year after year, from 1227 Fuslee, and that in order to enable the said Thakoor to receive the money, a Sunnud bearing my seal and signature, and dated 8th Rujjub in the 13th year of my reign, corresponding with 1226 Fuslee, was granted to Thakoor Zalim Sing through Captain William Bayley. It now appears from a letter from Thakoor Zalim Sing that the Sunnud in question was stolen at Cusba Indore, where he accompanied Captain Pattle. At the request of Captain Pattle a duplicate of the said Sunnud is given to Thakoor Zalim Sing and Hutteh Sing. It now behoves them to consider the sum of Rupees 401 of the Bhopal currency as a boon conferred upon them; to execute the orders of the Circar; to show zeal in punishing rebels, and not to oppress the people by levying from them the cesses, "bhet," and "chundee." TRANSLATION of LETTER from WILLIAM BORTHWICK to CHAORAH URJOON SING,—1837.

I have received your letter and understood its contents. You wrote to say that you have difficulty in obtaining your tankhas from Dewas. You should first of all bring the matter to the notice of Dewas, who will, of course, make such arrangements in the case as may be deemed proper. If Dewas fails to do anything write to me again, so that such representation as may be thought requisite may be made on the subject.

Dated Mehidpore, 11th Kartick Soodee 1885, corresponding with 17th November 1828.

Rao Urjoon Sing of Tonk is a guaranteed Girassia Chief, and he receives Rupees 4,457 annually as tankha from Sindia's and Holkar's districts; his dues from the Dewas territory are also considerable, and he has been in the practice of having all questions relating to his tankha adjusted by the British authorities.

(IV)—BHOPAL AGENCY.

(1) BHOPAL.

Bhopal is the principal Mussalman State in Central India, and ranks next in importance to Hyderabad among the Muhammadan States of India. The ruling family was founded by Dost Muhammad, an Afghan, who went to Delhi during the first years of Bahadur Shah (1708) in search of occupation. In 1709 he obtained a lease of the Berasia pargana. He died about 1740. On his death Sultan Muhammad Khan, his legitimate son, then a minor, was put in power by the Pathan Chiefs; but the cause of Yar Muhammad Khan, an elder but illegitimate son, was espoused by the Nizam, and Sultan Muhammad was compelled to abdicate in favour of Yar Muhammad. The latter had four sons, by the eldest of whom, Faiz Muhammad Khan, aged eleven, he was succeeded. The claims of his uncle, Sultan Muhammad Khan, were again brought forward by a powerful party, but in the contest which ensued Sultan Muhammad Khan was defeated and was obliged to accept the grant of Rahatgarh for himself and his descendants, and to renounce all claims to the sovereignty of Bhopal and all interference with the affairs of the State.

At this time the Peshwa Baji Rao, while returning from Delhi, demanded in the name of the Emperor the restoration of the territories usurped by the Pathans of Bhopal, and the Nawab was compelled by treaty to relinquish all his possessions in Malwa except a few towns, being confirmed by the Peshwa in his remaining possessions in Gondwara.

Faiz Muhammad Khan, who was of weak intellect, nominally ruled Bhopal for thirty-eight years. He left no issue and was succeeded by his brother, Yasin Muhammad, who survived only a few days, and was succeeded by his brother, Hayat Muhammad Khan, during whose weak administration the real power remained in the hands of his ministers.

Towards the close of the eighteenth century the Bhopal territories were overrun by plundering bands of Pindaris, and were also invaded by Raghuji Bhonsla. At this time Wazir Muhammad, son of the Nawab's cousin Sharif Muhammad Khan, who when a mere youth had fled from Bhopal after an unsuccessful rebellion (in which his father had been killed) against the power of the minister, returned to Bhopal as a soldier of fortune. He was the means of saving his country from destruction by the Marathas, and he became the founder of the branch of the Bhopal family which has since ruled in the State. For many years he carried on a petty warfare with the Marathas, in the course of which he reconquered most of the territories which had been lost to Bhopal. But his power and abilities excited the envy and jealousy of Ghaus Muhammad, the son and successor of Hayat Muhammad Khan, who, to strengthen himself against Wazir Muhammad, invited the armies of Sindhia and Nagpur to occupy the country, and agreed to pay to Sindhia an annual tribute. From this time Ghaus Muhammad sank into obscurity, and though he long survived and enjoyed the titular dignity of Nawab he had no influence in the government of the country, nor were his claims ever agitated in the discussions which subsequently arose regarding the succession to the Bhopal State.

Wazir Muhammad's first efforts, made about the year 1809, to obtain the assistance and mediation of the British Government in his struggles with the Marathas were unsuccessful. He was compelled for self-preservation to league himself with the Pindari leaders. In 1812 a combination was made between Sindhia and Raghuji Bhonsla to crush him, and Bhopal was besieged by their united armies towards the close of 1813. Wazir Muhammad made a gallant defence during a siege of nine months, and the Marathas were compelled to retire unsuccessful. Sindhia was making active efforts to renew the siege in the following year, but he was restrained by the interference of the British Government, who began to see cause for less reliance on the friendship of Raghuji Bhonsla, and to value more the importance of Bhopal as a means of checking the depredations of the Pindaris. The connection of Wazir Muhammad with the British Government, however, never ripened into any formal engagement during his lifetime.

Wazir Muhammad died in 1816, and was succeeded by his second son, Nazar Muhammad, with the consent of all parties, and, among others, of the elder son, Amir Muhammad Khan, who was disqualified by vicious excesses. Nazar Muhammad was married to the Kudsia Begam, daughter of Ghaus Muhammad.

One of the first measures taken by the British Government at the commencement of the Pindari war in 1817 was the formation of a close alliance with Bhopal. The Pindari leaders had long found a secure retreat in the Bhopal State, and it was chiefly by their help that the Nawabs of Bhopal had been able to resist the attacks of Sindhia and the Raja of Nagpur. But the connection with these freebooters was distasteful to the Nawab, and tolerated only from inability to control them. Nazar Muhammad therefore gladly accepted the British alliance. An agreement was made with him on conditions proposed by himself, with the addition of an engagement to give the British Government the service of his troops. No formal treaty was executed, but the correspondence (No. XCVI) which passed in 1817 was declared to have the force and validity of a treaty. The conditions of this engagement were faithfully fulfilled, and they were made the basis of the formal Treaty (No. XCVII) of perpetual friendship and alliance concluded with the Nawab in 1818 by which his State was guaranteed; he agreed to furnish a contingent of 600 horse and 400 infantry; and he received five districts in Malwa as a reward for his services, and to enable him to maintain the contingent. The grant of these districts was subject to an assignment of Rs. 6,000 a year on their revenues to Khande Rao, the former manager, which provision was guaranteed by the British Government, No. XCVIII being the sanad granted in 1818 to Khande Rao by Sir John Malcolm. The town and fort of Islamnagar, which had passed from the possession of the Nawab, were also restored to him.

Shortly after the conclusion of the treaty Nazar Muhammad was accidentally killed by the discharge of a pistol by the hand of his brother-in-law, Faujdar Khan, a child of eight years of age. Nazar Muhammad was a gallant soldier, an enlightened ruler, and a firm ally of the British Government. He left one daughter, the Sikandar Begam. It was arranged with the consent of the Bhopal nobles, and with the sanction of the British Government, that he should be succeeded, under the regency of the Kudsia Begam, by his nephew Munir Muhammad Khan, son of his elder brother, Amir Muhammad Khan, who had resigned his claims when Nazar Muhammad Khan became Nawab in 1816; and that Munir Muhammad Khan should marry the Sikandar Begam. In 1827 Munir Muhammad Khan endeavoured to assert his authority but was resisted by the regent, and he eventually resigned his claim to the Sikandar Begam's hand and to the succession in favour of his younger brother, Jahangir Muhammad Khan, receiving as compensation a jagir of Rs. 40,000 a year which was guaranteed by the British Government. This arrangement was effected in concert with the Chiefs of the State, who claim by custom a limited privilege in the selection of their ruler.

The Kudsia Begam, anxious to retain the power in her own hands, long delayed, on various pretexts, the celebration of the marriage of her daughter with Jahangir Muhammad Khan. But finding her endeavours to secure the countenance of the British Government to her retention of the administration during her life unavailing, the Begam at last yielded, and the marriage was celebrated on the 18th April 1835. This, however, did not put an end to the family dissensions, the Begam still hoping to evade the actual resignation of power, and the Sikandar Begam entertaining ambitious views of her own. In 1836 a plot of the Nawab Jahangir Muhammad Khan to seize the person of the Kudsia Begam was discovered. He was arrested and put under restraint, but effected his escape on the 2nd April 1837, and being joined by a large party of his followers, raised the standard of rebellion. Although Government admitted the Nawab's claim to be just, and although it had been recognised by Government and by the Kudsia Begam on the supersession of his elder brother, yet formal interference was declined. The Nawab was defeated and compelled to seek shelter behind the walls of Ashta. After the siege of this town had lasted for some months without any decisive result, the Kudsia Begam and the Nawab accepted the proposed mediation of the British Government. An Agreement (No XCIX), which was afterwards countersigned by the Governor-General, was concluded between them on the 29th November 1837, by which the Nawab was left in charge of the administration, and the Kudsia Begam received a life-jagir of 5 lakhs (Bhopal coin) a year, with which the Nawab pledged himself not to interfere.

The Nawab and the Sikandar Begam also executed an agreement in 1837 not to design or commit injury to each other ; but while approving of this agreement Government considered it to be of too private a nature to admit of its formal ratification.

The Nawab was installed in power on the 29th November 1837. The reconciliation with the Sikandar Begam, however, was not sincere, and shortly after the Nawab's accession she retired to live with the Kudsia Begam at Islamnagar. The Nawab died on the 9th December 1844, having previously executed a will to the effect that his illegitimate son, Dastgir, should succeed him in power, and that his daughter Shah Jahan by the Sikandar Begam should be married to a descendant of Wazir Muhammad Khan of pure blood.

The will in favour of Dastgir was set aside, and several plots to place him in power failed. The British Government recognised the succession of Shah Jahan in the same manner as, on the death of Nazar Muhammad Khan, it had admitted the claims of the Sikandar Begam ; and it was decided that the future husband of Shah Jahan, who was to be selected from the Bhopal family, with a view to the amalgamation of the two branches descended from Ghaus Muhammad Khan and Wazir Muhammad Khan, should be Chief of Bhopal ; and that in the meantime Faujdar Muhammad Khan, brother of Kudsia Begam, should act as regent, receiving co-operation from the Sikandar Begam. The arrangement did not work well, and eventually Faujdar Muhammad Khan resigned his office, and the Sikandar Begam was appointed regent in February 1847.

The Sikandar Begam conducted the administration with great vigour and ability. She abolished the system of farming the revenue and made settlements directly with the heads of villages ; regulated the assessments of the estates of the jagirdars ; abolished monopolies of trades ; brought the mint under her direct management ; re-organised the police ; and made arrangements for the liquidation of the debts of the State.

In July 1855 Shah Jahan Begam was married to Bakshi Baki Muhammad Khan of Bhopal. He did not belong to the Bhopal family. Indeed there existed no member of the family with whom the Shah Jahan Begam could contract an eligible marriage ; and as the nobles of Bhopal, although willing to submit to the Begam, were not prepared to acknowledge as ruler of Bhopal anyone who did not belong to the ruling family, some modification of the arrangements made in 1844 became necessary. It was eventually decided that Shah Jahan Begam should be the Chief of the State, her husband being only titular Nawab, and that Sikandar Begam should continue to act as regent till Shah Jahan Begam should reach the age of twenty-one.

Sikandar Begam, however, was dissatisfied with her position. She complained of the recognition of her late husband as Chief of Bhopal, she being sovereign in her own right, and of the consequent recognition of her own daughter during her lifetime. Government, however, having recognised the claims of Shah Jahan Begam could not set them aside ; but Shah Jahan Begam voluntarily resigned her right to rule during her mother's lifetime. Accordingly in 1859 the Sikandar Begam was proclaimed ruler and the Shah Jahan Begam her heir, the succession remaining with Shah Jahan's children.

The Sikandar Begam was always steadfastly attached to the British Government. For her services during the mutinies of 1857 she received, in 1860, a Grant (No. C) of the pargana of Berasia, which had been confiscated on account of the rebellion of the Dhar State (see Bhopawar Agency) ; and in 1861 she was created a Knight Grand Commander of the Star of India. The Begam liberally rewarded with jagirs those of her own subjects who rendered good service in the crisis of 1857.

In 1862 a Sanad of Adoption (No. CI) was granted to the ruler of Bhopal by the Government of India.

In 1863 the Sikandar Begam resolved to proceed on a pilgrimage to Mecca, and she requested that an engagement might be given to the effect that no new orders of the British Government would be carried out in Bhopal till her return. The Begam was told that, as it was impossible to foresee events, so it was impracticable for the British Government to comply with such a request ; but she was assured that, unless imperatively necessary in the interest of the Bhopal State and its absent ruler, and in the interest of public peace and good order, no such orders would be issued nor any interference allowed with the arrangements she had made for the administration of Bhopal ; and that, in the event of the issue of such orders being absolutely necessary, an intimation of their exact nature would be forwarded to her. The Begam was also assured that, in her absence, the protection of the British Government would be extended to the Shah Jahan Begam.

The Sikandar Begam died in October 1868, and Shah Jahan Begam then assumed the administration. At her request her daughter, Sultan Jahan Begam, then about 8 years of age, was expressly recognised by the British Government as her heir (No. CII). Bakshi Baki Muhammad Khan, the husband of the Shah Jahan Begam, died in 1867 ; and in 1871 she married Maulvi Sadik Hasan. The same honours were paid to him as were enjoyed by her first husband, and he received the title of Nawab.

The Sultan Jahan Begam was married in 1874, with the consent of Government, to Ahmad Ali Khan, a youth of almost the same age as herself. He is of the same tribe as that to which the Bhopal family belongs, namely, the Mirazi Khel, but is not a member of the family. The Sultan Jahan Begam had five children by this marriage—Bilkis Jahan Begam, born the 25th October 1875 ; Muhammad Nasrulla Khan, born the 8th December 1876 ; Ubaidulla Khan, born the 2nd November 1878, Asaf Jahan Begam, born the 3rd August 1880 ; and Hamidulla Khan, born the 9th September 1894. Of these the three sons are still living, but the eldest daughter, Bilkis Jahan Begam, died in 1886, and the younger daughter, Asaf Jahan Begam, on the 22nd July 1894.

The Bhopal contingent was reformed in 1840, and the Nawab agreed to increase the yearly tribute paid for its maintenance from Rs. 1,30,000 (Bhopal currency) to Rs 1,38,000 (Bhopal currency). The contingent was again reorganised in 1849, and a Treaty (No CIII), supplementary to article 6 of the treaty of 1818, was concluded with the Sikandar Begam, by which the annual contribution for the perpetual maintenance of the contingent was raised to Rs 2,00,000 (Bhopal currency), on condition that the whole liabilities of the State for the contingent were henceforth to be limited to that sum. The contingent mutinied in the rebellion of 1857, and since its dissolution its duties have been taken partly by troops of the line and partly by the Bhopal Battalion, which was raised in 1859 To this arrangement, which is practically a modification of the supplementary treaty of 1849, the Begam formally assented in 1862 (No. CIV). In 1878, at the Begam's suggestion, it was sent to take part in the Afghan campaign. Since the adoption of the British currency in the State in 1897 the annual contribution towards the contingent has been Rs. 1,61,290. In 1897 the Bhopal Battalion was placed under the orders of the Commander-in-Chief in India with effect from the 15th February of that year, and the regiment, under the scheme for a redistribution of the numbers of all corps in the Native army in 1903, was called the 9th Bhopal Infantry. In February 1906 the Secretary of State consented to the delocalisation of the corps, and to its replacement at Sehore by another Native infantry regiment in ordinary relief.

In 1863 the Begam of Bhopal appealed against the exercise of jurisdiction by the Political Agent in respect of cases where British subjects, Native or European, were either plaintiffs or defendants, as a violation of the 9th article of the Bhopal treaty of 1818; and claimed the right, under certain arrangements*

* 1st.—If offenders against the British Government, in old and heinous cases, fly to, and conceal themselves within the limits of, the Bhopal State, or if similar offenders against the Bhopal State take refuge within the limits of the British districts, such as Narsinghpur, Hoshangabad, &c., in the first instance, on the receipt of information of the place of concealment of a criminal, the thanadar or police of the British Government, with a parwana from the British district officer to the address of the thanadar and police of the Bhopal State, will proceed to the spot, arrest the offender, and make him over to the nearest thanadar of the said State. In the second instance, the thanadars or police of the Bhopal State will have to follow a like course with regard to the arrest and delivery of offenders against their State, traced to any place within the limits of the British districts.

2nd.—In new and recent cases when offenders, after the perpetration of a crime, fly to the Bhopal territory, and the thanadars or police of the British Government get correct information of their having done so, they will follow the offenders into the Bhopal territory and apprehend and deliver them to the Bhopal local thanadar; they will not in such cases be at liberty to arrest and bring away offenders without the knowledge of the officials of the Bhopal State; but if the British officials in the pursuit of such offenders happen to reach a place within the Bhopal State, where, owing to there being no thana, or being wild and uninhabited, no assistance can be obtained, then they may arrest the offender and take him with them, giving however due notice of their proceedings to the nearest thana of the Bhopal State. The officials of the Bhopal State in similar cases can in like manner enter the British territories and act similarly.

Criminals in heinous cases only will be delivered up by the two Governments. The above rule applies only to such offenders.

3rd.—The crimes which are considered heinous by Colonel Sleeman and the Resident, Indore, are the following:—

- | | |
|--|--|
| No. 1. Wilful murder. | No. 9. Robbery of a child, male or female. |
| " 2. Wounding with the intent of murder. | " 10. Robbery of Government property. |
| " 3. Cutting and wounding wilfully. | " 11. Giving poison with the intent to murder. |
| " 4. Entering a house, or boat, or tent, with the intention of theft and plunder, accompanied by wounding. | " 12. Thagi. |
| " 5. Highway robbery. | " 13. Cattle-lifting. |
| " 6. Dakaiti. | " 14. Aiding and abetting in sati. |
| " 7. Setting fire to one's house. | " 15. Geras. |
| " 8. Forcible possession of a woman's body with or without adultery. | " 16. Paranch (incendiarism). |
| | " 17. Breaking jail. |

4th.—In cases of less importance the authorities of the district where the offender conceals himself will cause his arrest, as in heinous cases, on the information furnished to them by the plaintiff, and the case will be disposed of by the Court of the district in which the offender was apprehended; he will not in such cases be made over for trial to the authorities of the district in which the offence was committed, made (without the authority or knowledge of the Government of India) with the Political Agent in 1847, to try in her own courts British subjects guilty of offences within her territories, and the surrender of British subjects guilty of such offences when apprehended in British territories. The claim, however, was not admitted. The Begam was told that the principle underlying the treaty of 1818 was contained in article 3, which declares that the Bhopal Government will act in subordinate co-operation with the British Government and acknowledge its supremacy; that the 9th article referred to the authority of the Nawab of Bhopal over his own subjects within his own territory and not to British subjects; that this was apparent, first, from the correspondence which took place when the treaty was concluded, and which showed that the object of the clause was to guarantee to the Nawab that the British courts of justice would not be introduced into his territories, and, secondly, by the omission of all reference to European offenders who had a right to be tried in a certain form and under certain conditions which the East India Company had no authority to compromise or surrender; that the arrangement of 1847 was never sanctioned by the Government of India, and contained a stipulation which was entirely inadmissible, vis., that British subjects charged with offences in Bhopal, if arrested in British territory, should be handed over to the Bhopal authorities for trial and punishment; but that the British Government would not be unwilling to act upon that arrangement in so far as it was consistent with Act VII of 1854 (since repealed) in the case of escaped offenders who were subjects of Bhopal. The law and procedure to be followed by British officers in questions relating to extradition are now defined by Act XV of 1903.

The contribution of Rs. 12,000 a year formerly paid by the Bhopal State for the construction and repair of roads within its territory was remitted in 1872, on the understanding that the Begam would keep in proper repair the roads already made and spend a reasonable sum annually in opening up others. In accordance with the recent policy of Government the maintenance of those sections of the Schore-Dewas road and of the Sehore-Biaora road which lie within the limits of the Bhopal State was entrusted to the Darbar, with certain conditions, in 1888.

In 1877, on the occasion of the Delhi Assemblage, a personal salute of 17 guns was accorded to the Nawab Consort, and one of 15 guns to the Kudsia Begam, and later in the same year the Order of the Imperial Crown was conferred on the Kudsia Begam and the Shah Jahan Begam. The latter had already been created a Knight Grand Commander of the Star of India in the year 1872.

The Kudsia Begam died on the 17th December 1881, and her jagir lapsed to the State. Her personal property, amounting to nearly 15 lakhs, was inherited by her grand-daughter, Shah Jahan Begam, daughter of Sikandar Begam.

In 1879 it was proposed by the Bhopal State to establish opium scales at the new settlement of Shahjahanabad near Bhopal, with a bounty on all opium brought there for weighment. Conditional sanction to this arrangement, which was at first tentative for three years, was accorded in the following year by the Government of India. The scales are still in use.

In 1880 an Agreement (No. CV) was concluded between the Government of India and the Bhopal State for the construction of a line of railway from Hoshangabad to Bhopal, the State paying 50 lakhs of rupees on that account, and receiving in perpetuity any profits which might accrue on that sum. Certain provisions of this agreement were modified by a supplementary Agreement (No. CVI), dated the 30th June 1887. In 1888 the management of the railway was transferred, by order of the Government of India, from the Great Indian Peninsula Railway Company to the Indian Midland Railway Company. When the latter ceased to exist, the Bhopal section of the line again came under the management of the Great Indian Peninsula Railway Company from the 1st January 1901. In 1890 a further supplementary Agreement (No. CVII) was executed by the Government of India and the Begam of Bhopal, providing that the profits accruing, or the losses incurred on, the Bhopal section of the railway should be divided in perpetuity between the British Government and the Darbar in proportion to the capital contributed by each party at the close of the period for which the accounts should be made up. Civil and criminal jurisdiction on this line was (No. CVIII) ceded in 1888 by the Begam to the British Government.

In 1891 the Begam consented to give the land for a new line of railway running from Ujjain in Gwalior via Sehore to Bhopal, designed to connect the Rajputana and Indian Midland systems. The line was opened in 1896 and an agreement was entered into, in August of that year, between the Begam and the Indian Midland Railway Company for the working of the railway by the latter.

In 1881 an Agreement (No. CIX) was concluded by which the Bhopal State abolished the levy of transit duties on salt passing through its territories, and the British Government agreed to pay as compensation an annual sum of Rs. 10,000.

For some years previous to 1885 the administration of the Bhopal State had suffered chiefly owing to the ill-advised interference of the Begam's husband in public affairs, the Begam having retired behind the pardah. The British Government, after repeated expostulation, was at length reluctantly obliged to interpose. The Nawab was deprived of his title and salute, and forbidden to interfere in any way with the transaction of public business. The Begam was at the same time advised by the Government to nominate, to assist her in the conduct of public affairs, a responsible minister, who should be approved by the Governor-General in Council. It was the wish of the Government that a Native minister should be appointed, but the Begam pressed for the nomination by the Viceroy of a British officer, and Colonel Ward of the Central Provinces Commission was finally, in June 1886, selected for the post. He reverted to the Central Provinces Administration in December 1888, and a native gentleman named Muhammad Intiyaz Ali was chosen by the Begam, with the approval of the Government of India, to succeed him. The ex-Nawab Sadik Hasan died in February 1890. At the time of his death the Government of India had under consideration the Begam's request that the honours of which he had been deprived in 1885 might be restored to him, and it was subsequently decided that in official correspondence he should be referred to as "the late Nawab Consort."

On the occasion of Lord Lansdowne's visit to Bhopal in November 1891 the Begam and her successors were exempted from the obligation to present nazars at interviews with the Viceroy (CX).

In 1897 the State coinage was abolished and British currency was introduced in its stead, the rate of exchange being fixed at 124 Bhopal Rupees to 100 British Rupees.

Special arms rules were introduced into the State in 1898.

In April 1899 the Begam entered into an Agreement (No. CXI) for the discipline and control of the Bhopal Imperial Service troops when serving beyond the frontier of the State.

Shah Jahan Begam died on the 16th June 1901, and was succeeded by Sultan Jahan Begam, born on the 9th July 1858; and in October 1901 her eldest son, Nasrulla Khan, was recognized as heir apparent by the British Government, provided that when the time comes he is found fit to succeed. Sultan Jahan's husband, Ahmad Ali Khan, who was recognized as Nawab Consort, with the title of "Nawab Ahtasham-ul-Mulk-Alijah," died on the 4th January 1902. In June 1904 Sultan Jahan was created a Knight Grand Commander of the Indian Empire. The present heir apparent, Nawab Nasrulla Khan, has two sons, the first of whom, named Muhammad Habib-ulla Khan, was born on the 2nd December 1903, and the second, named Muhammad Rafiq-ulla Khan, on the 8th May 1905.

The area of Bhopal is 6,902 square miles ; the revenue is estimated at about 25 lakhs of rupees ; and the population, according to the census of 1901, is 665,961.

Besides the Imperial Service troops which the State maintains, composed of 400 cavalry with its own regimental transport, the military forces consist (1905) of 185 cavalry, 557 infantry, 62 artillery men, and 4 serviceable and 74 unserviceable guns.

The Chief of Bhopal is entitled to a salute of 21 guns within her own territories and to one of 19 guns outside them. These salutes were finally approved in Her Majesty's Order in Council, dated the 26th June 1867.

The liability of the State to the payment of nazarana on succession has not been decided.

NO. XCVI.

AGREEMENT with NUZZUR MAHOMED KHAN in 1817.

TRANSLATION of a letter from MR. JENKINS to NUZZUR MAHOMED KHAN, the NAWAB of BHOPAL, dated 13th October 1817.

The written proposals of your vakeel Enayet Musseeah, dated 22nd January 1817, or 4th of Rubbee-ul-Awul 1232 A. H., specifying the conditions on which you were desirous of placing your State under the protection of the British Government, have, as you know, been for some time under the consideration of His Excellency the Governor-General. Though hitherto unanswered they have not been overlooked, and I am now instructed to communicate to you His Excellency's assent to them.

The following is an exact transcript of the proposals in question :—

“After being taken under the protection of the Company we will submit to the British Government all our claims and pretensions on other Rajahs and Chiefs in order that the Company may effect a favourable settlement of the same; or even should we suffer a little loss in this way, we will out of respect to the English Government quietly submit to it.

ARTICLE 6.

“With regard to money stipulations for the payment of the British troops, the case is this, that for the last two years the revenues realized by us from our country have not exceeded one lakh and twenty-five thousand Rupees; on which we have with difficulty subsisted. How therefore can we contribute any sum towards the payment of British troops? Let the Company excuse us on this point. But the fort of Nuzzurghur with some villages dependent on it, some of which are flourishing and the others deserted, shall be delivered into the hands of the Company; and when by the assistance of the British Government we shall attain our wishes, we shall never be found deficient in rendering every service in this respect in our power.”

The only additional stipulations which the Governor-General requires from you are that you will zealously co-operate with your troops against the Pindarces and their abettors, according to the advice of the officers of the British Government; that you will admit the British troops at all times into your territory; and that all articles of supply for them shall be purchased and pass through your territories free of duties. In the present condition of your territory and resources the British Government does not require you to contribute anything to the payment of its expenses, but it must be understood that after any eventual increase of your dominions accompanied by the improvement which the restoration of tranquillity may be expected to effect in your resources, you will be ready to contribute in a fair proportion according to your ability.

On these conditions the British Government engages to protect and guarantee your dominions against all enemies, and to recover and restore to your possession such parts of your territories as have been seized and occupied by the Pindarces. You may besides expect such other marks of its favour and kindness as circumstances may put in its power to confer upon you and your own good conduct may merit.

I am authorized by the Governor-General to inform you that it is only necessary for you to signify to me, in your reply to this letter, your assent to the above conditions, to render you at once the ally and to entitle you to the immediate and permanent protection of the British power. But your reply must be distinct and unequivocal.

The British Government has now unalterably determined to suppress the predatory power of the Pindarees, and to destroy and prevent the revival of the predatory system in every part of India. The British armies are advancing from every quarter into Malwa for this purpose. Every State must therefore declare itself either friend or foe. Those even who do not co-operate zealously in this cause will be viewed and treated as enemies. Your professed and approved attachment to the British Government has entailed on you the peculiar enmity of the Pindarees and rendered you deserving of every assistance and support, whilst the local position of your territories, in the vicinity of the Pindaree positions, the bravery of your troops, and the energy of your personal character are calculated upon as enabling you to become a most useful auxiliary in the approaching crisis. Your conduct on this occasion will have the most powerful influence on your future fate, and the Governor-General has no doubt that you will stand the test.

I send this letter through Colonel Adams, and I have to request you will transmit your reply to it through the same channel. On receiving your reply, which must be early, and I cannot doubt will be direct and satisfactory, the Colonel will inform you of his wishes regarding the employment of your troops, and concert with you the necessary measures for the protection of your country, the occupation of the fort assigned for a dépôt, and the supply, &c., of the British troops which will advance across the Nerbudda into your territories. I shall be obliged by your furnishing Colonel Adams with every information on these topics, and you will of course consider his suggestions on all points as those of the British Government.

To NUZZUR MAHOMED KHAN, of Bhopal, written the 23rd December 1817.

Sir John Malcolm duly communicated to me the correspondence which had passed between him and you and the substance of his personal conferences with your agent, the respectable Enayct Shahzad Mussceh, and I have been informed by Lieutenant-Colonel Adams of the junction of a body of your troops, both horse and foot, with his division and of the satisfaction he has derived from their conduct. These circumstances have amply confirmed the opinion I have always entertained of your friendship and attachment to the British Government, and I request you to be assured that a corresponding feeling towards you has always existed in my mind.

In consequence of your letter to Sir John Malcolm stating that you had written to Mr. Jenkins to declare your assent to the terms proposed to you by that gentleman under my authority, I awaited a communication from Mr. Jenkins of that letter and the execution and exchange of a regular engagement comprising those conditions, according to the wish you had expressed, before I signified my formal sanction of them. The late disturbances at Nagpore, which the signal triumph of our arms will soon suppress, having prevented the completion of those arrangements, I deem it proper no longer to delay a direct communication of my unqualified confirmation of the assurances you have received from Brigadier-General Sir John Malcolm and Mr. Jenkins. Your knowledge of the reliance that may always be placed on the assurance of a British officer has however supplied the place of that formal sanction, and the just confidence in my friendship which led you at once to proceed in execution of the terms settled with Sir John Malcolm and Mr. Jenkins has afforded me a high degree of satisfaction. You have already begun to experience the benefits of your alliance with the British Government by the recovery of some of the districts from which the Pindarees were expelled, and you may rely on my unremitting attention to your interests and to the augmentation of your prosperity and resources, as far as circumstances may enable me to indulge this disposition, in the firm confidence that your conduct will be such as to merit every degree of favour.

With regard to the future payment of a portion of the charge of the British troops that may be employed in the protection of your territories, a point on which you have expressed some anxiety, I have only to assure you that whatever may be ultimately arranged to that respect will be framed in a spirit of the utmost liberality and with a due advertence to the pecuniary situation and means of your Government. On this subject be at ease.

A regular treaty shall be hereafter prepared and duly exchanged and ratified ; but in the meanwhile I request you to consider this as having the full force of such an instrument.

TRANSLATION of a KHUREETA from HER HIGHNESS the NAWAB SECUNDER BEGUM of BHOPAL, dated 29th May 1862, to address AGENT, GOVERNOR GENERAL for CENTRAL INDIA.

After compliments.—Your letter, No. 339, dated 1st May, acquainting me with the arrangements which have superseded those formerly in force in respect to the contingent, has duly reached me, informed me of what I was previously ignorant, and removed the doubts from my mind which I had wished cleared away. Your letter states that the Supplementary Article of the Treaty of 1818, dated 29th November 1849, fixed at two lakhs of Rupees the annual contribution of the Bhopal State for the perpetual maintenance of a contingent of all arms commanded by British officers, for the security of the Bhopal Government; on this account a force of British European troops was stationed at Sehore, which by reason of damage to discipline was subsequently removed to Saugor and Mhow in order that a force, efficient and powerful be always available to afford support to the Bhopal Government in lieu of the former contingent; that the Bhopal levy and Central India Horse will be available for the ordinary duties of the former contingent. Although by this disposition there is an apparent difference from the terms of the said agreement with regard to the late contingent, yet in reality it is a practical fulfilment of the terms of the Supplementary Article; for greater security and support is afforded to the Bhopal Government by the presence of European troops at Saugor and Mhow than was provided for by the former arrangement.

Under these circumstances it is most desirable that there should be no ground for misconception, and that the views of the Bhopal Government should coincide with those of the British Government. My friend, when these words of sound advice were well understood by me, viz., that the British Government in lieu of former arrangements had by the existing disposition of troops taken upon itself more efficient measures for the security and protection of the Bhopal State, they imparted perfect satisfaction to me; in truth the new disposition is in accordance to my views and has removed all grounds for anxiety or misconception.

Agreeably to your request I send you this yaddasht in which I cede to the British Government the civil and criminal jurisdiction over the land occupied by the Indian Midland Railway within the Bhopal State running from Bhopal to Bhilsa. MY ESTEEMED FRIEND,

When His Excellency the Viceroy and Governor General of India visited Your Highness at Bhopal in the month of November last, His Excellency was pleased to inform Your Highness that you and your successors would be exempted for the future from the obligation to present a nazar at interviews with the Governor General. No written communication on this subject having yet been made to Your Highness, I am now authorised to convey to you in writing the announcement in question, and I am pleased to be the means of conveying to Your Highness information of this gratifying nature.

AGREEMENT between the GOVERNOR GENERAL of INDIA and HER HIGHNESS NAWAB SHAH JAHAN BEGUM, G.C.S.I.,

Whereas it is necessary that the Imperial Service Troops of the Bhopal State, when associated with troops of the British Army, should be under the orders of the Officer Commanding the combined forces and subject to the like discipline and control as the officers and soldiers of Her Majesty's Indian Army; and Service Troops, though British Officers are employed in order to instruct and inspect the said troops ;

It is hereby agreed between the Governor General of India of the one part and Her Highness Nawab Shah Jehan Begum, G.C.S.I., C.I., Ruler of Bhopal, of the other as follows, namely :—

1. Whenever the said troops or any portion thereof are moved beyond the frontier of the said State they shall be attached to the command and under the orders of the Officer Commanding the District, Contingent or Force in which they are employed and such officer shall by virtue of this agreement be authorised to administer in respect to the said troops so serving the military laws and regulations to which they are subject under the laws of the said State and for that purpose and for the due preservation of discipline among the same to convene all such courts and to issue all such orders and to pass all such judgments and sentences and generally to exercise all such authority as may be lawfully convened, issued, passed and exercised by the authorities of the Bhopal State when the said troops are serving within the territorial limits of the said State. Provided always that the execution of every sentence so passed in British territory shall be carried out under the orders of Her Highness the Begum or of some person to whom the requisite authority has been delegated by her.

2. In order further to ensure the efficiency of the said Imperial Service Troops and the maintenance of discipline among them when serving along with Her Majesty's forces the said Nawab Shah Jehan Begum, G.C.S.I., C.I., Ruler of Bhopal, has embodied in the disciplinary law of her State applicable to the said Imperial Service Troops when employed on active service either within or without British India the provisions mutatis mutandis of the Indian Articles of War for the time being in force. (II). MEDIATIZED CHIEFS IN THE BHOPAL AGENCY.

UNDER this Agency, besides eighteen (excluding the lapsed State of Larawat) Chiefs and Thakurs whose relations with their immediate superior have been mediated and guaranteed by the British Government, there are three petty Chiefships, Kurwai, Muhammadgarh, and Maksudangarh, immediately dependent on the British Government itself. The Political Agent has also charge within certain limits of isolated districts belonging to the States of Gwalior,* Indore,† Tonk,‡ and Dewas.§

All the Chiefs and Thakurs under this Agency, whether immediately dependent on, or mediated and guaranteed by, Government have adopted British currency, and the special arms rules.

Chiefs immediately dependent on the British Government.

1. KURWAI.

This Chiefship was founded by an Afghan named Muhammad Diler Khan, a Firoz Khel of the Tirah or Khyber district, and a contemporary of Dost Muhammad of Bhopal, with whom he was at one time in alliance for the division of their common acquisitions in Central India. He first entered the service of the Raja of Datia in Bundelkhand, and afterwards, about 1726, that of the Raja of Basoda. On the death of the Chief of Kurwai he seized the State. On the death of Nawab Muhammad Diler Khan the State was divided between his sons, the elder, Muhammad Izzat Khan, receiving Kurwai, and the younger, Ahsanulla Khan, receiving Muhammadgarh and Basoda.

Kurwai during the decline of the Moghal Empire obtained power and dominion equal, if not superior, in extent to that of Bhopal, but suffered great spoliation at the hands both of the Marathas and Pindaris. In 1818 the Chief applied to the Resident at Bhopal for protection against the oppression of Sindhia's local officials in the neighbouring districts, and it was arranged that he should remain in the undisturbed possession of his territory.

In 1820 Muhammad Akbar Khan, an illegitimate son of Nawab Hurmat Khan, the successor of Muhammad Izzat Khan, seized the State. The legitimate son of the Nawab, Iradat Muhammad Khan, applied to the British Government, but it was not considered advisable to disturb the arrangements which existed previous to the introduction of British supremacy into Malwa. Through the intervention, however, of the British Government a compensation in the shape of an annuity of Rs. 6,000 a year was paid to him on his formally abandoning his claim to the masnad. The amount now actually paid to the family of Iradat Muhammad Khan is Rs. 4,662, British currency.

Muhammad Akbar Khan died in 1843, leaving two sons, Muhammad Muzaffar Khan and Muhammad Najaf Khan. The Nawab had wished to set aside the elder son, but Government would not accede to this request, and Muhammad Muzaffar Khan succeeded. He died in 1858 without male issue, but leaving a grandson, his daughter's son by the Nawab of Basoda. Government ruled that Muhammad Najaf Khan had a preferential claim and recognised him as Nawab. In 1874 Muhammad Najaf Khan, being then fifty years of age and having no male issue, selected his grandson, Munawar Ali Khan, son of his eldest daughter, and a child about five years old, as his heir. The Government of India in accordance with the wish of the Chief sanctioned the succession.

The Kurwai Darbar abolished transit duties within their territory on the 1st of June 1884.

Muhammad Najaf Khan died on the 15th January 1887, and was succeeded by Munawar Ali Khan. His father, Mazhar Ali Khan, was appointed to carry on the administration of the State during the minority.

Civil and criminal jurisdiction on the lands occupied by the Indian Midland Railway was (CXII) ceded by the Kurwai State to the British Government in 1888. In 1890 the Government of India sanctioned as a special case the payment to the Chief of Rs 10,880-12-6 on account of the land taken up for the railway.

Munawar Ali Khan died on the 11th December 1896, and was succeeded by his younger brother, Yakub Ali Khan, who was born on the 27th September 1876. The State is very heavily indebted, and is therefore practically under the control and superintendence of the Political Agent in Bhopal, the Chief having only limited powers.

Several members of the Kurwai family, outside the ruling branch, draw pensions from the Kurwai revenues under the supervision of the Political Agent, Bhopal. They reside at Sehore, Sironj (Tonk), and other places in the neighbourhood.

The State pays Rs. 220 a year as tankha to the Thakur of Agra Barkhera.

The Chief holds what may be considered a constructive guarantee from the British Government for the independence, security, and continuance of his possessions (CXIII). All matters connected with the succession to Kurwai are regulated by the British Government.

The area of Kurwai is 111 square miles, the population, according to the census of 1901, is 13,634; and the revenue about Rs. 37,000. The State possesses (1905) 2 serviceable and 7 unserviceable guns.

The State is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules.

2. MUHAMMADGARH.

This State was originally part of Kurwai, and was given as a portion to a younger son of the Chief in 1753. It pays no tribute to any State and is directly dependent on the British Government.

In 1875 the daughter of the Nawab was married to Mian Yasin Muhammad Khan of Bhopal, a son of Nawab Faiz Muhammad Khan, who was great uncle to the Shah Jahan Begam of Bhopal.

On the 1st June 1884 the Chief abolished transit duties within his territories.

Hafiz Kuli Khan, who succeeded in 1842, died on the 2nd November 1896, and was succeeded by his only son, Hatim Kuli Khan, who was born on the 2nd September 1864.

The area of Muhammadgarh is 291 square miles; the population, by the census of 1901, is 2,944; and the revenue is about Rs. 7,000.

The State is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules.

3. MAKSUDANGARH.

This Estate, which originally formed part of the Estate of Raghugarh (one of the Gwalior mediatized Chiefs), was granted to Raja Bairi Sal about the year 1816 by Colonel Jean Baptiste on the part of the Maharaja Sindhia. It does not possess a British guarantee. Since the establishment of the Bhopal Agency, however, the internal administration of the Estate has invariably been conducted under the supervision of the Political Agent, Bhopal; and boundary disputes have been settled by the Boundary Settlement Officer of the Agency without interference on the part of the Gwalior Darbar, to which, moreover, it pays no tribute.

The present Chief, Raghunath Singh, succeeded to the Estate in 1864, having been adopted by his predecessor, Raja Chhatarsal. He was born on the 13th August 1849, and has no heir.

In 1880 the administration of the Estate having fallen into disorder, owing to the death in October 1879 of the regent, and the incapacity of the Chief, a Native superintendent was nominated by the Political Agent, Bhopal, with the concurrence of the Maharaja Sindhia, and the appointment was finally sanctioned by the Government of India. Since then the administration of the Estate has been carried on by the superintendent under the direct supervision of the Political Agent of Bhopal, to whom the accounts and all matters of importance are regularly submitted, and this arrangement still (1906) continues.

The Raja abolished all transit duties within his territory on the 1st June 1884.

The population, by the census of 1901, is 14,284; the revenue is about Rs.37,000; and the area is 8; square miles.

The liability of the State to the payment of nazarana on succession has not been decided.

Mediatized and Guaranteed Chiefships.

1. BASODA.

This Chiefship, which was originally a part of Kurwai, was formed in 1753 by a grant of country to Ahsanulla Khan, second son of Diler Khan. The Chief is feudatory to Gwalior, though it pays no tribute to that Darbar. In his relations with the Darbar, the Basoda Chief receives the countenance and support of the Political Agent in Bhopal, within whose local jurisdiction the Estate lies, and who since 1822 has exercised the same general authority in the affairs of this Chiefship as in those of the guaranteed Chiefs subject to his control. Heinous criminal offences are reported to the Political Agent, in whose court they are tried with the aid of assessors. The Political Agent is also the referee in all cases of dispute arising between the Gwalior Darbar and the Nawab.

Asad Ali Khan, who died in 1864, was at one time Minister of Bhopal, but was removed to Benares on account of his intrigues in favour of Dastgir, the illegitimate claimant of the succession in Bhopal. He was released in 1858 on payment of a fine of Rs. 25,000. On his death he was succeeded by his eldest son, Amar Ali Khan, then thirty-four years of age.

On the 1st June 1884 the Nawab abolished all transit duties within his territories.

Amar Ali Khan died on the 11th June 1896, and was succeeded by his son, Haidar Ali Khan, who was born on the 1st January 1854.

The area of Basoda is 40·5 square miles; the population, by the census of 1901, is 4,897; and the revenue about Rs. 19,000.

The State is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

2. TAPPA.

This Estate, which consists of twelve villages in the Gwalior pargana of Sonkach, was granted by Maharaja Daulat Rao Sindhia (No. CXIV) in 1822 to Thakur Rup Singh, Girasia of Tappa, under a mediation effected by Major Henley, the Political Agent in Bhopal, through the offices of Major Close, the Resident at Gwalior.

The Estate continued in the possession of the family of the original grantee till the demise in March 1865, without issue, of his last surviving descendant, Thakur Kishor Singh, a youth of nineteen years of age. The mother and widow of the deceased Thakur then proposed the adoption of Takht Singh, a distant relative of the latter and descended from a common ancestor, as heir to the Jagir. The Gwalior Darbar concurred in this proposal, on the condition that the adopted heir should pay to the Darbar the prescribed nazarana of one-fourth of the net revenue of the Estate. The succession of Takht Singh was thereupon recognised by Government, and the Estate was made over to the young Thakur in 1877. Takht Singh died on the 17th December 1900, and was succeeded by his son, Bhim Singh, who was born in 1894.

The area of Tappa is 15 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 882; and the revenue is about Rs. 3,400 a year.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

3. RAJGARH.

The power of the Umats, an inferior class of Rajputs, was established in the district known as Umatwara in the seventeenth century by two cousins, named Mohan Singh and Parasu Ram, who assumed the titles of Rawat and Diwan, and made a division of their possessions, the Rawat retaining five villages in excess of the portion of Diwan as an acknowledgment of his superior birthright. The ancestors of the family, who were proprietors of large herds of camels, came from Mewar in A.D. 1442. Out of the division abovementioned, which took place in 1681, arose the separate Chiefships of Rajgarh and Narsingharh. On the Maratha conquest of Malwa about 1770 the Umats were compelled to submit in common with other States, but they appear to have obtained unusually easy terms. The Rawat became tributary to Sindhia and the Diwan to Holkar. Tribute was imposed on each in equal proportions. The amount appears to have varied between Rs. 65,000 and Rs. 85,000 a year.

In 1818 the Chief in possession of Rajgarh was Nawal Singh, who succeeded to the gadi by the assassination of his brother. On the introduction of the British authority into Central India, the mediation of the British Government was exercised to effect an arrangement for the payment of the tribute due to Sindhia. Talain and several other villages were made over to Sindhia in payment of all his claims against the Rawat and a written Agreement (No. CXV) was executed by the Rawat, giving to the British Government alone the right to mediate in the affairs of the principality. Another Agreement (No. CXVI) was mediated between the Rawat and the Puars of Dewas for the settlement of the Rawat's claims on the Dewas district of Sarangpur. These claims were to a share in the land revenue, amounting in some villages to a fourth and in others to a third, a corresponding share in the sayar and transit duties, and an indefinite proportion of rent-free lands in every village. The claims on the land revenue were commuted to an annual payment of Bhopal Rs. 4,101, and the other claims to a payment of Rs. 1,001.

In 1831 Rawat Nawal Singh committed suicide, and was succeeded by his nephew Moti Singh. At his urgent entreaty Sindhia restored Talain on the condition (No. CXVII) that he would pay the former tribute of Rs. 85,000.

In 1846, in consequence of the mismanagement of Moti Singh, the British Government interfered to settle the administration of Rajgarh. This was ostensibly undertaken by Khok Singh, the uncle of the Chief, aided by Ram Lal as diwan, who indeed was the virtual manager. The latter in November 1847 accidentally lost his life, and the territory was then placed under the management of an officer subordinate to the Political Agent at Bhopal. The Chiefship was restored to Moti Singh in 1856 free of debt, on the express understanding that the revenue leases which had been made for twenty years should be maintained.

In 1871 Moti Singh openly announced his conversion to the Mussalman religion and took the name of Muhammad Abdul Wasih Khan. He received the title of Nawab from the British Government in 1872. In 1875 he went on a pilgrimage to Mecca.

In 1880 the State abolished all transit duties on salt passing through its territories (No. CXVIII), and received as compensation from the British Government 150 maunds of salt annually, to be delivered at Indore free of cost. In 1881 this compensation was, in common with the payments in kind made to other States in the same circumstances, commuted to an annual payment of Rs. 618-12-0 (CXIX).

Nawab Muhammad Abdul Wasih Khan died in October 1880, and was succeeded by his son, Bakhtawar Singh, who, notwithstanding his own adherence to the Hindu faith, retained all the Muhammadan officials appointed by his father. He died in November 1882, when his son, Bal Bahadur Singh, aged 24 years, succeeded him. On the occasion of Bal Bahadur Singh's installation the young Rawat and other members of the Rajgarh family were, by the help of the Chiefs of Narsinghgarh and Khilchipur, again admitted to the brotherhood of their caste—a concession which the late Chief had shown much anxiety to secure. In November 1885, on the occasion of the Viceroy's visit to Indore, the hereditary title of Raja was conferred on the Rawat (No. CXX).

In December 1883 the Chief agreed to abolish all transit duties within his territory, with the exception of that on opium (No. CXXI).

Bal Bahadur Singh died without issue on the 19th January 1902, and was succeeded by his uncle, Beni Singh, who was born in 1851.

The Raja pays a tribute of 85,000 Chanderi Rupees to Sindhia on account of the Talain pargana, and also 1,050 Kota Rupees to the Jhalawar Chief for Kalipit. He receives from Sindhia Hali Rupees 3,187 annually. Reports of crime are furnished by the Darbar to the Political Agent, and the tribute to Sindhia is paid through him.

The area of Rajgarh is 962.2 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 88,376; and the revenue is about Rs. 4,50,000.

The military force consists (1905) of 7 artillery men, with 4 serviceable and 2 unserviceable guns.

The Chief receives a salute of 11 guns, which was finally approved in Her Majesty's Order in Council, dated the 26th June 1867.

The State pays nazarana on succession to the British Government, though governed by the rules for the mediatized Chiefships.

4. NARSINGHGARH.

Parasu Ram, the founder of the Rajput State of Narsinghgarh, succeeded his father, Ajab Singh, in 1660 as Minister to the Rawat of Rajgarh. In 1681 he compelled the Rawat to divide his territory with him; Narsinghgarh thus became a separate Chiefship.

In 1819 Chain Singh succeeded his father, Subhag Singh, who was fifth in descent from Parasu Ram, and had become imbecile, as Chief of Narsinghgarh. Owing to a difference with the Political Agent at Sehore, he attacked the British forces near that place, and was killed in the engagement. Upon Subhag Singh recovering from his imbecility, he was again entrusted with the rule. After his death in 1827, Chain Singh's widow adopted Hanwant Singh, who died in March 1873, when his grandson, Pratap Singh, then 23 years of age, was recognised as his successor. On this occasion Holkar demanded succession nazarana, but his claim was not admitted by Government.

The hereditary title of Raja was conferred on the Chief and his heirs by a Sanad (No. CXXII) in May 1872.

In 1880 the State abolished all transit duties on salt passing through its territories (No. CXXIII), and received as compensation from the British Government 150 maunds of salt annually, to be delivered at Indore free of cost. In 1881 this compensation, in common with the similar payments in kind made to other States, was commuted to an annual money payment of Rs. 618-12-0 (No. CXXIV).

On the 1st January 1884 the Narsingharh State abolished all transit duties within its territory, with the exception of that on opium (No. CXXV), and in the same year the Chief contributed Rs. 56,000 towards the construction of the Biaora-Sehore road, which passes through his capital.

Pratap Singh died without issue in April 1890, and was succeeded by his uncle, Mahtab Singh. On the death of the latter without issue on the 8th November 1895, he was succeeded by his cousin's son, Arjun Singh, who was born on the 10th January 1887. During his minority the State is being managed under the direct superintendence of the Political Agent. Arjun Singh is being educated at the Mayo College, Ajmer.

Narsingharh pays a tribute of Hali Rupees 85,000 to Holkar under the mediation (No. CXXVI) of the British Government. The Chief receives a tankha of Hali Rupees 1,200 from Sindhia, and another of Rs. 5,102 from Dewas under British mediation (Note to CXVI). The tankha from Sindhia is paid through the Political Agent and that from Dewas direct; no deductions are made from these tankhas.

The area of Narsingharh is 741 square miles; the population, by the census of 1901, is 92,093; and the revenue about Rs. 5,00,000.

The military forces consist (1905) of 36 cavalry, 95 infantry, 23 artillery men, and 1 serviceable and 8 unserviceable guns.

The Chief receives a salute of 11 guns, which was finally approved in Her Majesty's Order in Council, dated the 26th June 1867.

The State pays nazarana on succession to the British Government, though governed by the rules for the mediatized Chiefships.

5. KHILCHIPUR.

The first member of the Khilchipur family who settled at the capital was named Ugar Sen ; he founded the Khilchipur branch of the Khichi clan of Rajputs in the year 1544, being compelled to leave his ancestral home at Mau Gagron by the Emperor Humayun of Delhi. The representative of the family accorded allegiance to the Maratha rulers and became tributary to Maharaja Sindhia in the year 1793.

On the death in 1819 of Diwan Durjan Sal, Chief of Khilchipur, his mother and widow placed in power a youth named Balwant Singh, whose claim to the succession was inferior to that of many other members of the family and particularly of Aman Singh. The different claimants appealed to the Gwalior Darbar, which requested that the case might be decided by the British Government. Aman Singh was proved to be the nearest heir, but as he was at feud with the other branches of the family, it was decided in 1819 (No. CXXVII) that his infant son, Sher Singh, should succeed under the nominal supremacy of the elder Rani, the mother of Durjan Sal. On this occasion the Gwalior Darbar voluntarily remitted the nazarana which they were entitled to claim.

Sher Singh was succeeded in 1869 by his nephew, Amar Singh, then aged thirty-five, whose adoption had previously been recognised by the Gwalior Darbar and confirmed by the British Government. The title of " Rao Bahadur " was conferred on the Chief in April 1873 as a hereditary distinction, by a Sanad (No. CXXVIII). On the occasion of the Delhi Durbar, held on the 1st January 1877, Amar Singh Bahadur was granted a personal salute of 9 guns ; but subsequently, in 1878, this was converted into a permanent one.

In 1884 the Chief remitted all transit dues, except those on opium (No. CXXIX).

Amar Singh died on the 28th March 1899, and was succeeded by his son, Bhawani Singh, the present Chief, who was born in 1867.

A tribute of Bundi Rupees 13,500 was payable by the Chief to Maharaja Sindhia, who, however, assigned the tribute to the British Government in 1844, for the maintenance of the Gwalior Contingent (No. CXXX). The amount of the tribute in the British currency is Rs. 11,134-3-6, and it is paid in 3 equal instalments.

The area of Khilchipur is 272.9 square miles ; the population, by the census of 1901, is 31,143 ; the revenue is about Rs. 1,14,000.

The military forces consist (1905) of 13 artillery men and 4 serviceable guns.

The Chief receives a salute of 9 guns, fixed in 1878.

6. LARAWAT (LAPSED STATE).

In 1818 this Chiefship was granted (No. CXXXI), under the mediation of the British Government, to Vithal Rao Puar. The deed conferred on the grantee the shares of Dhar and Dewas in the district of Sundarsi. In 1834, on the death of Vithal Rao Puar, the succession of his son, Madho Rao, was not disputed; but when the latter died in 1849, leaving illegitimate sons only, the Estate was claimed as a lapse by Dhar. It was decided that it was an escheat and lapsed to Dhar and Dewas. The Estate was, however, continued for life in 1850 to the eldest illegitimate son, Ramchandra Rao, subject to an annual payment to Dhar and Dewas of Rs. 1,000 under the joint Sanad (No. CXXXII) of the Dhar and Dewas Darbars. This tribute was paid in the following proportions :—

Dhar	Rs. 666 10 8
TOTAL	Rs. 1,000 0 0

Owing to the incapacity of Ramchandra Rao, Larawat was taken under British management, the surplus revenue after payment of all charges being made over to him. He died in November 1879, when under the terms of the Sanad of 1850 (No. CXXXII) the Estate lapsed to the Chiefs of Dhar and Dewas.

The taluka was formally made over to these Darbars on the 9th March 1880, under an arrangement that its revenue was to be distributed in the same proportion as was the tribute formerly paid by the deceased Puar, vis., two-thirds to the Dhar Darbar and one-third to Dewas.

A subsistence allowance of Rs. 200 a month was granted by Dhar and Dewas, at the instance of the Government of India, to Vithal Rao Puar for the support of himself and the remaining members of the family, and was paid through the Bhopal Political Agency. Vithal Rao died without issue on the 16th September 1887, but left two widows and six other dependants. For the support of these persons the Dhar State and both the Dewas States paid through the Political Agent, Bhopal, a monthly allowance of Rs. 98 in fixed proportions, on the understanding that each stipend would lapse on the death of its present recipient. One of the widows and three of the dependants have died since, and the allowance now paid is Rs. 49 a month.

7. PATHARI.

The Nawab is a descendant of Dost Muhammad, the founder of the Bhopal family. He formerly held certain villages in the Rahatgarh district, of which he was deprived by the Maharaja Sindhia. But in 1794 the Estate was, through the mediation of the British Government (No. CXXXII), restored to Haidar Muhammad Khan, being composed of the villages included in the Estate as at present constituted. Nawab Abdul Karim Khan, who was born in 1850, succeeded his father, Haidar Muhammad Khan, on the 31st December 1859.

In 1871 the mismanagement of the Nawab's mother, who had been appointed regent, compelled Government to take the Estate under management during the unexpired portion of the minority of the Nawab.

On the 1st June 1884 the Nawab abolished all transit duties in his State.

The Nawab pays no tribute to any State.

The area of Pathari is 29.60 square miles; the population, by the census of 1901, is 2,704, and the estimated revenue is Rs. 9,000.

The liability of the State to the nazarana rules has not yet been decided; but it is classed as a mediatized one, and therefore the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships apply.

8. DHABLA-DHIR AND KAKAR-KHERI.*

The Thakur, Chand Singh, who was born in 1823, receives the following tankhas, which are paid through the Political Agent of Bhopal, none of the States being allowed to make any deductions from them :—

From Holkar (No. CXXXIV)	.	.	Rs.	600 (Indore Hali).
„ Sindhia (No. CXXXV)	.	.	„	2,800 (2,000 Ujjain Hali and 800 Bundi).
„ „ (No. CXXXVI)	.	.	„	150 (Ujjain Hali).
„ Dewas (No. CXXXVII)	.	.	„	100 (Ujjain and Indore Hali).
„ Bhopal (No. CXXXVIII)	.	.	„	600 (Bhopali).

Total Rs. 4,250

The Thakur in addition to these tankhas holds the grant (No. CXXXIX), given in 1818, of three villages in Shujawalpur (Gwalior) under the guarantee of the British Government, and pays a quit-rent of Rs. 1,401 annually. In his administration he is subordinate to the Political Agent in Bhopal, and no direct interference by any State is admitted.

* Malcolm's "Malwa," No. 12 of Schedule No. II, and No. 29 of Schedule No. III.

In 1818 Dhabla-Dhir and Kakar-Kheri, which some years before had been jointly held by Gudar Singh, had become divided and separated under his sons, Subhag Singh and Lal Singh, the former being the founder of the Dhabla-Dhir branch. Subhag Singh, with whom the settlement was made in 1818, died in 1855, and was succeeded by his nephew and adopted son, Raghunath Singh, whose brother, Chand Singh, succeeded to Kakar-Kheri.

In 1871 Thakur Raghunath Singh was convicted of a criminal offence and sentenced to transportation for life. By his transportation the family of Subhag Singh became extinct, as sanction to adopt an heir was refused to his wives in consequence of their guilty cognizance of his crime. Government, however, did not treat the Estate as an escheat, but allowed it to descend in the same way as it would have done had Gudar Singh been alive. By this decision both branches of the family were united in the person of Chand Singh of Kakar-Kheri.

The title of Chand Singh to the tankha of Rs. 600 a year, received by his predecessor Raghunath Singh, was questioned by Holkar on the ground that the tankha was a stipendiary service allowance, but Government decided that there was nothing in the sanad to Subhag Singh to justify that view, and that, in pursuance of its general policy in respect to all guaranteed holdings, Government must be the judge whether the circumstances of any case allowed of forfeiture.

Thakur Chand Singh also held under an agreement (see third footnote to No. CXLIV), mediated in 1831 and guaranteed by the British Government, the village of Sadan-Kheri in Shujawalpur (Gwalior), on a quit-rent of Rs. 175, subject to a deduction of 2 per cent., or Rs. 3-8-0, on the transfer of the parganna to Sindhia. Since 1898, however, Sadan-Kheri has been treated as a separate Jagir and is no longer held by the Thakur of Dhabla-Dhir.

A tankha of Rs. 800 (No. CXL) was formerly paid to the family of Subhag Singh. This agreement, which is signed by the British authorities, also recognises the grant of Kakar-Kheri to the family of Lal Singh, whose representative Chand Singh now is.

The population of this little Thakurate is 1,778 according to the census of 1901, and the revenue is estimated at about Rs. 10,000 a year. The area is 12 square miles.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

9. SADAN-KHERI.

Thakur Lal Singh, who held the village of Sadan-Kheri for life, in addition to Kanker-Kheri, from Maharaja Sindhia under an Agreement (see No. CXLIV) mediated and guaranteed by the British Government, died in May 1865. The Gwalior Darbar resumed "the village, but finally, owing to the intervention of the Agent to the Governor-General, granted it to Lal Singh's son, Mahtab Singh, for life, on a quit-rent of Rs. 1,000, under a sanad dated the 11th May 1879. On the death of Mahtab Singh, on the 28th December 1898, the question of the status of the Thakur was referred to the Government of India, who ruled that, although the istamrari sanad granted to Mahtab Singh in 1879 was for life only, and the rent was liable to enhancement by the Darbar at each succession, yet the right of inheritance and protection was covered by British guarantee and the Darbar could neither resume altogether nor assess at full rates. In accordance with this ruling Mahtab Singh was succeeded by his son, Jaswant Singh, who was born in 1883, and the quit-rent was increased in 1905, with the consent of the Government of India, from Rs. 1,000 to Rs. 1,050.

The population of Sadan-Kheri is 630 by the census of 1901, the area is 2 square miles, and the Thakur's income is about Rs. 2,000.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

10. DARIA-KHERI. *

The Thakur receives the following tankha under a settlement made by the British Government in 1818:—

From Sindhia (No. CXLI)	Rs. 2,900
(2,500 Bundi and 400 Ujjain Hali)
" " (see note to No. CXXXVI)	180
	(Ujjain Hali)
" Dewas (No. CXLII)	200
	(Ujjain and Indore Hali)
" Bhopal (No. CXLIH)	1,200
	(Bhopali)
Total Rs.	4,480

* Malcolm's "Malwa," No. 9 of Schedule No. II,

The tankhas are held on the same conditions as in the case of Dhabla-Dhir (No. 8), and the relations of the Thakur to the respective Darbars and to the Political Agent of Bhopal are the same.

The Thakur holds also the Grant (No. CXLIV) of two villages in Shujawalpur (Gwalior) under the guarantee of the British Government, and pays a quit-rent, which formerly amounted to Rs. 925. On the death in 1870 of Thakur Sheodhan Singh, the Gwalior Darbar wished to resume these villages, but at the instance of the Government of India it continued the grant on an increased quit-rent of Rs. 1,075.

Thakur Ranjit Singh, son of Sheodhan Singh, died on the 9th April 1888, and was succeeded by his son, Onkar Singh, the quit-rent being increased, after some correspondence, to Rs. 1,275 a year, with the sanction of the Government of India. Thakur Onkar Singh died on the 26th April 1899, and in April 1900 the Government of India sanctioned the succession of Thakur Baijnath Singh, son of Thakur Madan Singh of Kamalpur, who relinquished his claim to the Kamalpur Jagir. Thakur Baijnath Singh died on the 1st January 1906, and was succeeded by his only son, Shimbhu Singh, born on the 24th December 1902, during whose minority the administration has been entrusted jointly to his grandfather, Thakur Madan Singh of Kamalpur, and to a kamdar.

The population of Daria-Kheri is 442 by the census of 1901, the area is 6 square miles, and the Thakur's income is about Rs. 7,500 a year.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

11. KAMALPUR.*

The Thakur of Kamalpur receives the following tankhas from Sindhia under agreements mediated in 1818:—

Under Agreement No. CXLI (1st annexure)	.	Rs. 4,300
		(Bundi)
„ „ No. CXXXVI (1st „)	.	„ 300
		(Ujjain Hali)
Total Rs.		4,600

The conditions of the tankhas and the relations of the Thakur to the Chief and to the British authorities are the same as in the case of Dhabla-Dhir (No. 8). The Thakur also holds a village in Shujawalpur under British guarantee (1st annexure to No. CXLIV) on a quit-rent which was then (1831) fixed at Rs. 700, but this amount was increased in 1884, under the sanction of the Government of India, to Rs. 1,750 a year. Since then the Gwalior Darbar have reduced the quit-rent to Rs. 1,400.

* Malcolm's "Malwa," No. 10 of Schedule No. I I.

Udaiji, with whom the engagements of 1818 were made, was succeeded by his son, Jujhar Singh, on whose death in 1828 the Political Agent in Bhopal, without reference to Government, recognised as his successor Moti Singh, whom the widow had adopted, and assigned Rs. 3,100 of the tankha to Moti Singh, and the remainder to the widow. The young Thakur fell into debt, and Sir R. Hamilton, the Agent to the Governor-General, of his own authority reduced the widow's allowance to Rs. 600, and assigned the other Rs. 900 for payment of the debts. But it was ruled that, although the original assignment to the widow in 1828 had not received the sanction of Government, still, as it had been enjoyed for more than twenty years, it should not have been altered without reference to Government. The full allowance was therefore restored to the widow. It was paid through the Political Agent. Jujhar Singh's widow died on the 14th March 1899, and the tankha of Rs. 1,500 enjoyed by her lapsed to the Thakur.

Moti Singh died on the 11th October 1881, and was succeeded by his adopted son, Madan Singh, with the sanction of the British Government and the consent of the Gwalior Darbar. Madan Singh was born on the 7th February 1850.

The population of Kamalpur is 589 by the census of 1901, and the Thakur's yearly receipts are estimated at Rs. 10,700.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

12. DHABLA-GHOSI.*

From Sindhia (No. CXXI)	Rs.	2,300 (Bundi).
" " (No. CXXXVI)	"	300 (Ujjain Hali).
" " (No. CXLV)	"	1,400 (Bundi).
" Dewas (No. CXLVI)	"	†100 (Ujjain and Indore Hali).
" Bhopal (No. CXLVII)	"	500 (Bhopali).
Total Rs.				5,000

* Malcolm's "Malwa," No. 11 of Schedule No. 11.

† The amount actually paid by Dewas is only Rs. 99, viz., Rs. 81 by the Senior and Rs. 18 by the Junior Branch.

The conditions of the tankhas and the feudal relations of the Chief are the same as in the case of Dhabla-Dhir (No. 8). The Thakur holds (second annexure to No. CXLIV) a village in Shujawalpur on a quit-rent of Rs. 1,050. Gopal Singh, who succeeded Gobardhan Singh in 1834, died on the 12th April 1900, and was succeeded by his son, Chand Singh, who was born on the 12th August 1859. On this succession the quit-rent payable to the Gwalior Darbar was raised to Rs. 1,250.

In January 1902 the Gwalior Darbar objected to the establishment by the Thakur of a new hat in his Estate, and to his levying dues on goods brought to it; but, the Estate being guaranteed, the Government of India declined to interfere with the action of the Thakur.

The area of Dhabla-Ghosi is 6 square miles; the population, by the census of 1901, is 668; and the Thakur's revenue is about Rs. 9,500.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

13. KHARSIA.

The Thakur of Kharsia receives from Sindhia a tankha of Hali Rupees 1,750 under an Engagement (No. CXLVIII) mediated in 1818. The conditions of the tankha and the relations of the Thakur are the same as in the case of Dhabla-Dhir (No. 8), but no village goes with the tankha in the case of Kharsia. Balwant Singh, who succeeded to the gadi in 1876, died on the 19th September 1905, and was succeeded by his son, Onkar Singh, who was born on the 14th October 1897.

Thakur Onkar Singh and Bhawani Singh, Thakur of Jhalera (No. 14), receive annually under an Engagement (note to No. LXXXIII) granted by Tukaji Rao Puar, Chief of Dewas, Senior Branch, an allowance of Rs. 225 (see Indore).

In 1901 the census of Kharsia was taken by the Indore Darbar, with the consent of the Government of India, and the population was included in the Darbar's return.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

14. JHALERA.*

The Thakur of Jhalera receives from Sindhia a tankha (see annexure to No. CXLVIII) of Hali Rupees 1,200, which was originally granted to Fateh Singh, and a moiety of Rs. 225 a year granted by the senior Chief of Dewas under Sanad (No. LXXXIII) to the Thakur of Kharsia (No. 13). In all the conditions of his tankha he holds the same position as his kinsman of Kharsia. As in the case of Kharsia, no village or land accompanies the tankha. Hate Singh, who succeeded in 1884, died on the 5th March 1895, and was succeeded by his son, Bhawani Singh, who was born on the 10th September 1894.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

15. HIRAPUR.*

The Thakur of Hirasur receives the following tankhas under engagements mediated in 1819:—

From Holkar (No. CXLIX)	... Rs.	3,339 (Indore Hali)
„ Sindhia (No. CL) „	2,910 (Ujjain Hali)
„ Bhopal (No. CLI)	... „	200 (Bhopali)
Total Rs.		6,449

Since the transfer of the Nimar district to the British Government in 1860 the Rao has received Rs. 2,182-4-10 (British currency) of his tankha of Rs. 2,910 (Ujjain Hali) from the British Government, and the balance (Rs. 682 Ujjain Hali) from the Gwalior Darbar.

In other respects he has the same position as Dhabla-Dhir (No. 8). The Rao also holds (No. CLII) Hirasur on an istimrari rent of Rs. 600 under Holkar. He formerly held from the Dhar State Ahirwas and eleven other villages in Makrar, subject to a payment of Rs. 601 Hali a year. In 1905, with the sanction of the Government of India, a fresh Agreement (No. CLIII) was concluded between the Dhar Darbar and the Rao, by which the latter relinquished these 12 villages, with retrospective effect from the 31st March 1904, in return for a yearly cash payment of Rs. 150 British currency. This money is paid to the Rao through the Bhopal Agency.

Bhairon Singh died without issue in 1826, and was succeeded by his adopted son, Ram Singh. Chhatar Singh succeeded Ram Singh in 1841, and died on the 14th September 1900. He was succeeded by his grandson, Jaswant Singh, who was born on the 21st June 1891.

* Malcolm's "Malwa," No. 13 of Schedule No. 11, and Nos. 21 and 30 of Schedule No. III.

The area of Hirapur is 6 square miles; the population, by the census of 1901, is 448; and the yearly receipts of the Thakur are estimated at about Rs. 7,000. As in the case of Kharsia (No. 13), the census of 1901 was taken by the Indore Darbar.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

16. RAMGARH.*

Under a settlement made in 1819 the Thakur of Ramgarh receives the following tankhas:—

		Rs.
From Holkar	(No. CLIV)	. 1,000 (Indore Hali).
„ Sindhia	(No. CXLVIII)	5,000 (Ujjain Hali and Bundi).
„ „	(No. CXXXVI)	. 415 (Ujjain Hali).
„ „	(No. CXLV)	. 1,400 (Bundi).
„ Dewas	(No. CXXXVII)	. 100 (Ujjain and Indore Hali).
„ Bhopal	(No. CLV)	. 700 (Bhopali).
Total Rs.		. 8,615

The tankhas are held on the same conditions as in the case of Dhabla-Dhir (No. 8), and the relations of the tankhadar to the several Chiefs and to the British authorities are the same. The Dewas State deducts one rupee from its tankha. The original tankhadar was Khushal Singh. His son, Isri Singh, was succeeded by an adopted son, Kumer Singh, who was convicted of murder and forfeited his tankha. It was continued, however, to his adoptive mother, Thakurani Solankni, till her death, which occurred in 1863, when Man Singh, the son of Khuman Singh, was recognised as her successor.

Thakur Man Singh was born on the 6th April 1848. He has no son, but has adopted his brother's son, Tej Singh.

No village or land is attached to this tankha.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

17. SUTHALIA.

The Jagirdar pays under a Guarantee (No. CLVI), which was mediated by the British authorities, a tankha of Rs. 3,400 to the Raja of Rajgarh, in which State he holds a lease of twelve villages. Like the Rajgarh Chief, he is an Umat Rajput. The original settlement was made with Balwant Singh, who was succeeded in the Jagir by his son, Mokand Singh, who again was succeeded by his adopted son, Sheodhan Singh. Sheodhan Singh died in July 1881, when Madho Singh, his son, became Jagirdar.

Madho Singh was Naib Suba of Agar under Sindhia, but resigned the appointment on his succession to the Jagir. He died in August 1886, and was succeeded by his son, Shambhu Singh, who was born on the 6th March 1878. His grandmother (mother of Madho Singh) was appointed to administer the Jagir during his minority under the supervision of the Political Agent of Bhopal. In 1896 Thakur Shambhu Singh was placed in charge of the administration of his Jagir subject to the supervision and control of the Political Agent.

The area of Suthalia is 20 square miles; the population, by the census of 1901, is 4,623; and the yearly receipts are estimated at Rs. 20,000.

18. JABRIA-BHIL—THE PINDARA JAGIRS.*

On the settlement of Malwa Rajan Khan, foster brother of the notorious Pindari, Chitu, was allowed to settle at Gorakhpur on an annual pension of Sonat Rupees 3,600. A few years afterwards he was allowed to return to Malwa, and his pension was commuted, in 1826, to an assignment (No. CLVII) of land in Shujawalpur (Gwalior) for his life. The grant consisted of a jagir of three villages, Piplianagar, Khajuri, and Jabria-Bhil, and an istimrari farm of Dugri and Jabri at a rent for the two villages of Rs. 500. He was afterwards assured that in consideration of his past good conduct, and if he should continue by similar behaviour to merit the indulgence, the circumstances of his family would receive favourable consideration after his death.

In 1831 the pargana of eastern Shujawalpur, in which the villages granted to Rajan Khan are situated, was transferred by the Government of India to Sindhia in exchange for other lands (vide Gwalior).

Rajan Khan died during the negotiations for the exchange; but the villages were continued in jagir to his family, and the Gwalior Darbar was required to respect the grant. The villages were divided among Rajan

Khan's five sons as follows, the group of Estates being distinguished as the Pindara Jagirs :—

(1) Jabria-Bhil and Jabri fell to Raj Bakhsh. He died in 1874, and was succeeded by his son, Jamal Bakhsh. In 1879, in consequence of numerous complaints of maladministration, it was found necessary to take the Estate under the management of the Bhopal Agency, an allowance of Rs 200 a month being made to Jamal Bakhsh out of its revenues. It was restored to him in 1881; he died in 1886, and was succeeded by his nephew, Yusuf Muhammad, who was born on the 5th February 1875. It was settled that the management of the property should be conducted by an amin to be appointed by the Political Agent until the close of the minority. Yusuf Muhammad Khan was placed in charge of the Jagir in 1900 under the supervision and control of the Political Agent.

The area of Jabria-Bhil and Jabria is 5 square miles; the population, by the census of 1901, is 903; and the revenue Rs. 5,000.

(2) Khajuri was the portion of Ilahi Bakhsh. He died in 1859, and was succeeded by his posthumous son, Karim Bakhsh, who was born on the 26th May 1859. During his minority the Estate was placed in charge of his mother; but in consequence of her mismanagement it was in 1871 placed under the superintendence of the Political Agent, Bhopal, an allowance of Rs. 100 a month being made to Karim Bakhsh from its revenues. All the debts having been cleared by 1881, Karim Bakhsh was put in charge of the Estate.

The area of Khajuri is 1 square mile; the population 520, according to the census of 1901; and the revenue about Rs. 2,400 a year.

(3) Dugri was the share of Madar Bakhsh. He died in 1883, and was succeeded by his grandson, Khuda Bakhsh, who was born on the 26th July 1854. Dugri yields a nominal revenue of about Rs. 1,500 a year, but in reality it is considerably less. The population is 144 according to the 1901 census.

(4) Piplianagar went to Makhdum Bakhsh and Rahim Bakhsh. Makhdum Bakhsh died on the 22nd February 1892, and his only son, Raja Mian, succeeded to his share of the Estate. Raja Mian died on the 5th August 1893, and was succeeded by his son, Yusuf Muhammad Khan, who had already succeeded to the Jabria-Bhil Jagir. Rahim Bakhsh died on the 14th August 1901, and was succeeded by his son, Masum Bakhsh, who died on the 4th September 1903, and was succeeded by his son, Sultan Muhammad Khan, who was born in 1878. The area of Piplianagar is 1 square mile; the population 701 by the census of 1901; and the revenue about Rs. 2,000 a year.

Questions of succession to these Jagirs, which are under the immediate supervision and control of the Political Agent, Bhopal, are decided by the British Government, and the decision is communicated to Sindhia.

The Estates are liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

19. PATHARIA.

Bhim Singh, brother of Zalim Singh of Karaudia, obtained the village of Patharia in the pargana of Unchaud from Sambliaji Rao Angria on a quit-rent of Rs. 701 in the year 1839. The Engagement (No. CLVIII) is guaranteed, and the Thakur is bound to render service and to pay the quit-rent in two instalments. Raghunath Singh, who succeeded his father, Onkar Singh, in May 1884, died on the 25th February 1900, and was succeeded by his adopted son, Rai Singh, who was born in 1881.

This Thakur also receives a tankha (No. CLIX) of Rs. 66-8 from Holkar. The family house is situated in Karaudia.

The population of Patharia, by the census of 1901, is 441; revenue Rs. 2,000; and area 7 square miles.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

No. CXII.

TRANSLATION of a YADDASHT, dated KURWAI, the 9th October 1888, from NAWAB MUHAMMAD MUNAWAR ALI KHAN, CHIEF OF KURWAI, to LIEUTENANT-COLONEL H. WYLIE, POLITICAL AGENT OF BHOPAL,—1888.

After compliments.—I have the honour to acknowledge receipt of your Yaddasht, dated 28th September 1888, stating that you have received a letter from the Central India Agency to the effect that the States of Bhopal and Kurwai through which the Indian Midland Railway passes have both practically ceded jurisdiction on the land taken up by the Railway, though no formal agreement has been drawn up, and that a written cession of jurisdiction should be obtained from each Chief concerned and forwarded to Indore.

2. In reply I beg to state that the civil and criminal jurisdiction on the land occupied by the Indian Midland Railway in the Kurwai State has (already) been ceded to the British Government.

No. CXIII.

TRANSLATION of a LETTER from MAJOR HENLEY to the NAWAB of KOORWEY, dated 7th December 1820.

After compliments.—Having received a representation through the medium of your Agent here transmitted under your orders, I have accordingly, my friend, in compliance with your request and for your satisfaction, annexed my answer to the two articles of reference it contained.

ARTICLE 1ST.

“The country which is now in possession of my master the Nawab Akbar Khan to be confirmed to him, his heirs, and successors by an appropriate Sunnud to be granted him.”

REPLY.

At the time of the establishment of the authority of the Hon'ble Company in Malwa in the year 1817, corresponding with the month Magh 1225 Fussilee Sumbhut 1874, the Pergunnahs of Koorwey Laonra and Surwassa with Kirwar were in the possession of the Nawab Akbar Khan, having been held by him for twenty-four years since the death of his father the Nawab Hoormat Khan; and it having been determined by the Company's Government to preserve the order of things which existed at the above-named period of its occupation, how therefore should the possessions which then apper-tained to the Nawab not descend to his heirs and successors? Respecting the Sunnud, in a possession which belongs to the Nawab and not to the Hon'ble Company, it would be inapplicable and is not requisite.

ARTICLE 2ND.

"Any of the brethren, kindred, subjects, or debtors of the Nawab who in opposition to his authority may prefer complaints are not to be received."

REPLY.

From a State not appertaining to the Hon'ble Company it is not customary for the officers of the Company's Government to attend to representations preferred in opposition to the ruling authority of such State. In the case of the claims preferred by Eradut Khan, the brother of the Nawab, they were advantageously settled in order to the prevention of future disputes according to advice given at the Nawab's solicitation.

No. CXV.

TRANSLATION of an AGREEMENT on the part of RAWUT NEWUL SING, Rajghur.

Seal of RAWUT NEWUL SING.

Whereas from old a determined tankha or tribute has been paid to the Maharajah Alija Soubadar Dowlat Rao Sindia Bahadur by Rajghur, and whereas for two or three years past this tribute has not been regularly discharged and above Rupees 16,000, due on account of the present year, and still unpaid, I have now of my own accord and pleasure (in order that the tribute may henceforth be liquidated, and that no cause of delay or dispute may exist) resolved to separate and assign villages of Rajghur, according to a schedule herewith annexed, to the kamaisdar of Atmaram Punth in order that the tribute to the Maharajah may be realized from the revenues of these villages, and that no cause of blame or shadow of claim may in future exist; and through my desire to please the Maharajah I have separated the after-mentioned villages and made them over, along with the sayer and rights of every description thereunto attached, to the kamaisdar of Atmaram Punth from the commencement of the Fuslee year 1227, and I will not in any manner hereafter interfere with them or their inhabitants.

And whereas the above-mentioned villages being generally much out of cultivation and possessing but a stinted population, the expense of management and sebundee will be great, the same must be provided from their revenue; for with this or any other claim respecting them I have henceforth no concern. And whatever omissions of tribute there may have been on my part previous to the year 1826, I consider myself absolved from the same in consequence of the present session.

I hereby under the foregoing considerations also agree to resign all claim to those sums on account of tankha, bhet, etc., which, through the favour of the Maharajah, my ancestors and I have been in the habit of receiving from the pergunnahs of Shujavulpore and Shahjehanpore.

And whereas by concluding this agreement I have conformed to the pleasure of the Maharajah Dowlat Rao Sindia, as well as provided in future for the regular payment of the tankha and obviated all causes of complaint hereafter on either side, the Maharajah accordingly has graciously restored and confirmed to me the remaining part of my possessions (including the fort of Rajghur) which had been attached in consequence of the delays and subterfuges that had occurred in the payment of the tribute.

TRANSLATION of an ENGAGEMENT executed to the SOUBADAR by DEWAN SOBHAG SING and KOONWUR CHAEN SING,
of SOOBSTAN, NURSINGURH.

Whereas the above Soobstan was always assessed at Salim Sahi rupees 85,000 per annum; and whereas the Pindaree troops having entered the country laid waste the pergunnah, and the people, in consequence, deserted the place; and whereas we, being unable to pay the revenue and to meet the necessary expenses of the Soobstan, brought the matter to the notice of the Circar; the Circar, in consideration of the aforesaid circumstances, and with a view to the improvement of the pergunnah, has directed the payment of the revenue for six years according to the following instalments, vis.—

									Rs.
In 1875 Sumbut	25,000
„ 1876 „	35,000
„ 1877 „	48,000
„ 1878 „	60,000
„ 1879 „	72,000
„ 1880 „	85,000

Rupees 3,25,000

Therefore we shall, as ordered, pay without any objection, year after year, the above amount of Rupees three lakhs and twenty-five thousand, which includes the expenses of the mehal, in six years according to the said instalments commencing on the 15th Kartick Soodee and ending on the 15th Bysack Soodee.

TRANSLATION of a PERWANNAH from MULHAR RAO HOLKAR to DEWAN SOBHAG SING and KOONWUR CHAEN SING
of SOOBSTAN, NURSINGURH.

Whereas the above Soobstan was assessed at Rupees 85,000 per annum, but in consequence of the passing and repassing of the Pindaree troops through the mehal it was laid waste, and whereas you, with a view to bring the matter to the notice of the Circar, deputed Roop Ram Bohora, who, on arrival, represented that, as the mehal was desolated, there was no means of discharging the revenue due to the Circar, amounting to Rupees 85,000, and also requested that the Circar might graciously be pleased to take the above sum by instalments every year so that the mehal might be improved; and whereas it is necessary to realize the revenue of the Soobstan as usual, yet having regard to the fact that the pergunnah has been laid waste; and in consideration of the representation made by you, as well as with a view to the improvement of the mehal, it has been decided, in the presence of the said Roop Ram Bohora, that the yearly revenue of the mehal shall be paid in the following progressive payments so that the amount of rent in the 6th year shall be Salim Sahi Rupees 85,000:—

	Rs.
In 1228 or 1875 Sumbut	25,000
„ 1229 or 1876 „	35,000
„ 1230 or 1877 „	48,000
„ 1231 or 1878 „	60,000

Therefore, the sum of Salim Sahi Rupees three lakhs and twenty-five thousand having been fixed by the Circar as the aggregate amount of revenue for six years, this perwannah is given to you. You will therefore remit to the Circar the above amount of Salim Sahi Rupees three lakhs and twenty-five thousand according to the aforesaid instalments through the mamlidar, and take receipts for the same.

Whereas you represented to me at Indore that the village of Heerapore in pergunnah Kanthapore was waste and uncultivated, and that should the Circar be pleased to settle it with you, assessing it with a progressive rent, you would bring it into cultivation; and whereas in compliance with your prayer the said village was settled with you from the year 1230 or Sumbut 1877, in order that you might bring it under cultivation, on the following terms:—

AGREEMENT between the DHAR DARBAR and the RAO of HIRAPUR regarding the resumption of the 12 villages in AHIRWAS tract in the NIMANPUR PARGANA of DHAR.

In accordance with the Likhtam dated Jeth Bidi 10th, Fasli year 1229 (A. D. 1822) from Raja Ramchandra Powar of Dhar to Rao Bheron Singh, the Rao of Hirapur has held from the Dhar Darbar the marginally-noted 12 villages in the Ahirwas tract in the Nimanpur pargana on the payment of an annual tribute of Rs. 601 Hali coin. For a long time past the Rao has been representing that the villages in the Ahirwas tract yield little or no revenue to him and that consequently he finds the payment of the yearly tanka of Rs. 601 a heavy burden on him and he has lately requested that the Darbar may resume the villages and grant him a tanka of Rs. 150 per annum as compensation for the allowance formerly enjoyed by his (the Rao's) family and in lieu of which the tract containing the 12 villages mentioned was held by him. The Dhar Darbar having considered the representations made on behalf of the Rao of Hirapur and other circumstances affecting the Ahirwas tract, have decided to resume the 12 villages. Accordingly the Rao of Hirapur hereby relinquishes all his rights over the 12 villages in the Ahirwas tract which were granted to him by the Darbar under the aforesaid Likhtam and the Dhar Darbar hereby agree to pay to the Rao of Hirapur a tanka of Rs. 150 per annum on the resumption of the 12 villages as compensation for the bana (allowance) mentioned in the said Likhtam. The said tanka of Rs. 150 per annum in British coin will be paid through the Political Agent in Bhopal. This agreement is made between the Dhar Darbar and the Rao of Hirapur with retrospective effect from the 31st March 1904.

V.—MALWA AGENCY.

Besides the Treaty State of Jaora, there are 31 guaranteed Chiefs and Thakurs of more or less importance in the Malwa Agency. The relations of these petty holders are complicated ; and the supervision of their affairs, as in the case of similar tenures in other parts of the Central India Agency, is difficult and responsible.

In December 1895 the control of the Agency was transferred from the charge of the Commandant of the Central India Horse to that of an officer of the Indian Political Department, and the head-quarters of the Agency were removed from Agar to Neemuch.

The Chaumahla districts of Jhalawar were removed from the control of the Political Agent in Malwa in 1897. In November 1903 the outlying portions of the Indore State were transferred to the political charge of the Resident at Indore. The Thakurates of Bhatkhori and Lagarh, however, remained within the political jurisdiction of the Political Agent in Malwa. The connection of the Thakurates of Sheogarh, Naulana, and Bilauda, which were transferred to the Indore Residency, remains now with the Malwa Agency only so far as their tankhas from the Gwalior State are concerned.

(1). JAORA.

Ghafur Khan, the first Nawab of Jaora, was brother-in-law of the predatory leader Amir Khan, whom he represented at the Court of Holkar when Amir Khan quitted Malwa on his expeditions into Rajputana. The lands which had been assigned to him by Holkar were guaranteed to him by the 12th article of the Treaty of Mandsaur (No. LIV) on condition of his maintaining a body of 600 horse, the quota to be increased in proportion to the increasing revenue of his districts. Amir Khan himself claimed these lands, alleging that the grants had been made to him although Ghafur Khan's name was used, and that he was entitled to them by virtue of his engagements with the British Government. Enquiry, however, showed that Ghafur Khan held them on his own account as a member of Holkar's government, and that his real dependence on Amir Khan, which was the origin of his influence with Holkar, had ceased before the war of 1817. Amir Khan's claim was therefore rejected.

Ghafur Khan was succeeded in 1825 by his son, Ghaus Muhammad Khan, who was then only two years of age. The arrangements for the management of the State were made by the British Government, but as Jaora was nominally subordinate to the Indore State, although really independent of it, the investiture of the infant Nawab was made in the name of Malhar Rao Holkar and confirmed by the British Government, and a nazarana of two lakhs of rupees was presented to Holkar. The elder widow of Ghafur Khan was appointed guardian with her son-in-law, Jahangir Khan, as her agent; and they were required to keep open accounts of the State revenues for the inspection of the Resident at Indore. Two years afterwards, in consequence of gross mismanagement and neglect of the Resident's advice, the Begum was removed from the guardianship. It was also decided that, in the event of Ghaus Muhammad's death, the male relatives of Ghafur Khan should succeed in preference to his descendants in the female line.

In 1823 the quota of troops to be maintained was permanently fixed (No. CLX) at 500 horse, 500 foot, and 4 guns. In 1842 the above arrangement was commuted to a yearly contribution of Hali Rupees 1,85,810, * when the Western Malwa Contingent, consisting of the troops furnished by Jaora, was amalgamated with the Eastern Malwa Contingent furnished by Holkar and Dewas. The contribution was reduced to Hali Rupees 1,61,810-4-0 † in 1859 as a reward for the Nawab's services during the mutinies of 1857.

In 1862 the Government of India granted a sanad (see note to No. CI), guaranteeing the succession to the State, according to the Muhammadan law, in the event of the failure of natural heirs. In 1865 the Chief received permission from the Government of India to adopt the titles of "Ihtisham-ud-Daula" and "Firoz Jang" as personal distinctions.

Nawab Ghaus Muhammad Khan died in 1865, and the succession of his son, Muhammad Ismail Khan, then eleven years of age, was recognised. It had been intended that during the minority the late Nawab's mother should be the nominal head of a council of regency; but her death occurred within a few days of that of her son, and it was decided that the administration of the State should be carried on as in the lifetime of the young Nawab's father, subject to the control and authority of the Political Agent in Western Malwa (Malwa). The Nawab was accordingly installed by the British Government in the name of Holkar, to whom, according to precedent, a nazarana of two lakhs of rupees was presented by the Nawab. In return Maharaja Holkar offered a khilat of Rs. 5,000, but this, with the permission of the Government of India, was declined by the Nawab as being out of proportion to the nazarana.

* Equivalent to Government Rupees 1,82,613-4-0.

† " " Rupees 1,59,027-4-4.

Attempts were made by the Nawab of Tonk, on behalf of his step-sister, the eldest widow of Nawab Ghaus Muhammad Khan, to interfere with the arrangements for the succession to, and the management of, the Jaora State. For these proceedings he incurred the severe displeasure of Government; and he was forbidden to send any one to Jaora or in any way to interfere with the affairs of that State.

Protests also were made by Holkar against the grant by the British Government of a sanad of succession and against the recognition and installation of the young Nawab without his (Holkar's) knowledge or consent. His claim to be consulted on the succession was untenable under article 12 of the treaty of Mandsaur, by which the British Government distinctly guaranteed Jaora to Nawab Ghafur Khan and his heirs on certain conditions, and it would have been inconsistent with the provisions of that article if Holkar had been allowed to intervene in the matter. The claim was also opposed to precedent, as no such reference was made on the succession of Ghaus Muhammad Khan in 1825. Holkar's claims were therefore distinctly negatived, and his objections as regards the sanad of succession were viewed by Government with special dissatisfaction.

In 1874 Nawab Muhammad Ismail Khan, whose education had been supervised by a British officer specially deputed for the purpose, and who had attained his majority, was entrusted with the administration of his State, Hazrat Nur Khan, C.S.I., his father's chief adviser, remaining as minister.

In 1881 the Nawab dispensed with the services of Hazrat Nur Khan, and wished to assume the sole management of the State himself, but on the advice of the British authorities a council of four was appointed to assist him in conducting the public business. The Nawab, however, objected to their attempt to control his expenditure, and the councillors gradually withdrew from their position of advisers, with the result that in 1885 the State finances showed a debt of over sixteen lakhs of rupees. A new minister was appointed, and a loan of three lakhs, bearing interest at the rate of 5 per cent. per annum, was made to the State by the British Government.

In 1881 an Agreement (No. CLXI) was made between the British Government and the Nawab for the abolition of all transit duties on salt passing through the Jaora State. By this agreement the British Government undertook to pay to Jaora a sum of Rs. 2,500 annually as compensation for the loss thereby caused to the State revenue. This sum is paid through the Political Agent, Malwa.

Nawab Muhammad Ismail Khan was made an Honorary Major in the British Army in 1881, and in 1883 a son was born to him, and was recognised by Government as the successor in the State.

In February 1887 the Nawab abolished all transit duties throughout his State, except on opium, on the occasion of the Jubilee of Her Majesty the Queen-Empress of India. Jaora contains the best poppy-growing lands in Malwa and yields annually about 1,850 maunds of opium.

Nawab Muhammad Ismail Khan died on the 5th March 1895, and was succeeded by his son, Muhammad Ittikhar Ali Khan, who was born in 1883. Khan Bahadur Yar Muhammad Khan, C.S.I., uncle of the Nawab and son of Hazrat Nur Khan, C.S.I., a former kamdar, who had been employed since 1887, was allowed to continue as kamdar during the minority of the Nawab, subject to the general control of the Political Agent. At the time of the installation of the young Chief the Indore Darbar raised the question of its right to depute an Agent and present a khilat; but the Government of India rejected the claim, and decided that the Nawab should be installed in the name of the Maharaja Holkar by the Agent to the Governor-General in Central India, and that the khilat should be presented on behalf of the Government of India. The representative of the Indore Darbar was allowed to attend the ceremony as a spectator only. The customary nazarana of Indore Hali Rupees 2,00,000 was paid by Jaora to Indore on the occasion.

Nawab Muhammad Ittikhar Ali Khan received his education partly at the Daly College, and partly under a European tutor and guardian. In 1901 the Nawab joined the Imperial Cadet Corps, and since 1903 he has remained at the capital of his State receiving instruction in the work of administration under his uncle, the kamdar. In April 1906 the Nawab was invested with full administrative powers.

The area of Jaora is 568 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 84,202; and the revenue is about Rs. 8,50,000.

In 1905 the military establishment of the Jaora State, including irregulars, consisted of 55 cavalry, 137 infantry, 31 artillery men, and 16 serviceable guns.

The Chief is entitled to a salute of 13 guns, which was finally approved in Her Majesty's Order in Council, dated the 26th June 1867.

The Malhargarh Thakurs.

In 1821 Agreements (No. CLXII) were mediated between the Nawab and the Thakurs of Malhargarh for 7 villages; between the Nawab and Thakur Onkar Singh of Sanauda for 9 villages; between the Nawab and the Zamindar of Tal for 13½ villages; and between the Nawab and Thakur Chhatar Singh for 2 villages. About the same period similar agreements were mediated between the Jaora Darbar and other Thakurs by British officers. Accounts of the Thakurs in question and of the nature of their holdings and agreements will be found later.

The Thakurs of Malhargarh claimed the position of tributary jagirdars, but they are merely guaranteed lessees of the villages in their hands, the continuance of their holdings being dependent on their observance of the terms of their lease. Moreover, it has been agreed that the rent is, according to established general custom, liable to increase from time to time, with reference to the value of the lands. The Government of India has finally decided that this is their position.

The Thakurs being recalcitrant and having refused to accept a liberal settlement for 30 years offered to them by the Nawab, it was found necessary in 1885 to allow the Darbar to attach the villages of the Thakurs of Harsor and Manderi until they should submit to his terms. These and the other Thakurs in the same position refused submission and abandoned their villages; but, finding resistance to the orders of Government unavailing, they with one or two exceptions returned in June 1886, and in 1890 all accepted the above settlement.

Nawab Ghuffoor Khan having for his own satisfaction requested a writing under my seal and signature in proof of the arrangement now made in regard to the number of troops to be maintained by him in readiness for the service of the State ; it is accordingly hereby certified that it is not the intention of the British Government to require the said Nawab henceforth to furnish a greater body of troops than what has been recently fixed viz. ; five hundred horse and five hundred foot, with four guns, the whole to be good and well armed troops and to be constantly kept in a state of efficiency and readiness for the service of the State ; and the orders of the Government have been received to this effect. In the engagement originally executed between the British Government and Nawab Ghuffoor Khan, it was stipulated that in proportion to the increase of the cultivation and revenue of his jaidad, a proportional addition should be made to the strength of the contingent ; but in consequence of the conclusion of the arrangement recently entered into, the above conditions have been substituted and will henceforth continue in force.

(II). MEDIATIZED CHIEFS IN THE MALWA AGENCY.

There are altogether thirty-one of these holdings in the Malwa Agency, all of them guaranteed in a greater or less degree by the British Government. Even as late as the year 1861 the districts of Malwa were incessantly subject to the inroads of the Bhils from Banswara and Partabgarh, and in February of that year it was considered advisable to make an Engagement (No. CLXIII) with the Thakurs on the frontier, in whose districts the principal passes of the hills are situated, to combine to oppose the incursions of the Bhils. These raids occur much less frequently than formerly, and the Thakurs are quite able to prevent them if they remain united; but they are frequently at feud with each other, and often make common cause with the Bhils to plunder or injure their neighbours. The most important of the mediatized Chiefs in the Malwa Agency is Ratlam.

1. RATLAM.*

Under the Engagement (No. CLXIV) mediated by Sir John Malcolm in 1819 between Parbat Singh, Raja of Ratlam, and Daulat Rao Sindhia, the former agreed to pay to the Gwalior Darbar an annual tribute of Salim Shahi Rupees 84,000, while Sindhia undertook never to send any troops into the country or to interfere in any way in the internal administration or succession. This tribute was assigned to the British Government under the Treaty of 1844 with Sindhia in part payment of the Gwalior Contingent. It is now paid to the Government of India under the Treaty of 1860.

The Raja of Ratlam, who is descended from a younger branch of the Jodhpur family, was considered the principal Rajput leader in western Malwa, and in consequence received voluntary allegiance and assistance from the neighbouring Rajput Chiefs. Parbat Singh died in 1824. He had no children; and as disturbances were anticipated in the event of his death without proper arrangements for the succession, Sir John Malcolm recommended in 1821 that Balwant Singh, a cousin of the Chief of Salumbar, whom Parbat Singh had selected to succeed him, should be recognised. This was done, and Balwant Singh continued in possession of the Chiefship till his death on the 29th August 1857. He rendered good service during the mutinies, in recognition of which his adopted son and successor Bhairon Singh, received a khilat of Rs. 3,000 and the thanks of Government.

* Malcolm's "Malwa," No. 1 of Schedule No. 1.

Bhairon Singh died on the 27th January 1864, leaving a son, Ranjit Singh, aged two years, who was recognised by the British Government as heir to the Chiefship. Mir Shahamat Ali, an officer of the British Government, was deputed to superintend the administration, and with him were associated the uncle of the young Chief and the Thakur of Sarwan. The result of an investigation into the accounts of the State was that charges of fraud and peculation were brought home to the former kamdar of the State and his deputy. They were fined two and a half lakhs of rupees; their jagirs were confiscated; and they were forbidden to return to Ratlam during the minority of the Chief.

On the occasion of the Delhi Durbar, held on the 1st January 1877, the Raja of Ratlam was gazetted to a permanent salute of thirteen guns: this was, however, subsequently altered in 1878 to a personal one, the permanent salute of the Chief remaining at eleven guns.

Under the careful management of Mir Shahamat Ali the debts of the State, which at the period of his deputation to Ratlam exceeded ten lakhs of rupees, were paid off, and, in addition to the payment of the ordinary charges of the State, six lakhs of rupees were spent on roads and other useful public works.

Raja Ranjit Singh received independent charge of his State in 1880, Mir Shahamat Ali stayed on as minister till January 1881, when he retired on a pension of Rs. 600 per mensem. He died in 1890. Raja Ranjit Singh was created a Knight Commander of the Indian Empire in 1887.

In 1864 the Chief agreed (No. CLXV) to cede any land required for railway purposes with plenary jurisdiction to the British Government, and not to levy transit duty on through traffic.

An Agreement (No. CLXVI) was made in 1881 between the Government of India and the Raja by which the latter consented, in consideration of a compensation of Rs. 1,000 a year, to abolish all transit dues on salt in his State. The compensation is paid to the Darbar through the Political Agent, Malwa. In January 1885, the Raja abolished all transit duties in his State, except those on opium.

An Agreement (No. CLXVII) was made in June 1887, between the States of Ratlam and Sailana, under which the former State received annually Rs. 18,000 Salim Shahi from the latter as compensation for relinquishing its right to levy customs dues in Sailana. This agreement was readjusted in 1902 (No. CLXVIII), whereby the Ratlam Darbar receives Rs. 6,000 British currency, instead of Rs. 18,000 Salim Shahi, and exempts Sailana goods from all customs dues and other cesses, except octroi levied by the Ratlam municipality. Articles II and III of the agreement of 1887 are still in force.

An Agreement (No. XV) was mediated in July 1890 by the Government of India between the Gwalior and Ratlam States for the construction of the Ranija-Kachrod road passing through a portion of Ratlam territory, on payment of a lump sum of Rs. 4,370 as compensation by Gwalior to the Ratlam State. The Ratlam Darbar, on its side, agreed (Art. 5) not to exact any dues on Gwalior goods passing through its territory along the road, except on opium.

In 1890 it was decided to make a railway line from Ratlam on the Rajputana-Malwa system to Godhra, a station on an extension of the Bombay-Baroda line. The work was at once commenced, and in August and September 1891 the Ratlam, Sailana, Indore, and Jhabua Chiefs, through whose States the line passes, agreed to cede all land required for it, free of cost and with full jurisdiction.

Raja Ranjit Singh died in 1893, and was succeeded by his son, Sajjan Singh, who was born in December 1879. During the minority of Sajjan Singh the administration was carried on by a dewan. The young Raja received his education at the Daly College, Indore, and under the supervision of a European tutor and guardian. In December 1898 Sajjan Singh was invested with ruling powers. He was a member of the Imperial Cadet Corps from 1901 to 1903.

The British Indian rupee is now the sole legal tender in the State.

The area of Ratlam is 902 square miles ; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 83,773 ; and the revenue about Rs. 9,00,000 from all sources, of which, however, Rs. 2,22,189 is alienated in jagirs and other grants.

The military forces of the State consist (1905) of 62 cavalry, 123 infantry, 13 artillery men, with 2 serviceable guns, and 355 police men.

The Chief is entitled to a salute of 11 guns, which was finally approved in Her Majesty's Order in Council, dated the 26th June 1867.

The State is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules.

*2. SITAMAU.

This Chiefship, like Sailana, formed originally a portion of Ratlam, and was divided from it on the death of Ram Singh, Raja of Ratlam, in 1660, when his second son, Kasar Das, succeeded to the lands now comprised in Sitamau.

A tribute of Rs. 60,000 from this State was guaranteed to Sindhia by an Agreement (No. CLXIX) mediated by Sir John Malcolm in 1820. In consequence of repeated representations from the Raja, Rs. 5,000 of the annual tribute were remitted in 1860 by Sindhia, on the occasion of the Raja's son waiting on him at Gwalior (No. CLXX). An intimation of the remission was given to the Raja of Sitamau in a letter from Sindhia to his address.

Raja Raj Singh of Sitamau remained faithful to the British Government during the mutiny of 1857, and received a khilat valued at Rs. 2,000.

In 1865 the Chief agreed (No. CLXXI) to cede any land that might be required for railway purposes on the same terms as those mentioned in the cases of Ratlam and Sailana.

Raja Raj Singh, who was an able ruler, died in 1867; his eldest son having predeceased him in 1864, the succession of his grandson, Bhawani Singh, was recognized and sanctioned by the British Government.

Bhawani Singh died on the 28th May 1885, and was succeeded by Bahadur Singh, then 31 years of age, elder son of Thakur Takht Singh of Chiklia, second cousin of Raja Bhawani Singh. On this occasion Sindhia put forward a claim to be consulted regarding the succession, but the claim was held to be inadmissible under the terms of the guarantee held by the Sitamau State. The Darbar also claimed to receive nazarana, but this too was overruled. It was held that Sitamau, being a mediatized Chiefship of the first class, was liable to the payment of nazarana to the Government of India alone, and that one year's revenue was properly leviable under the rules, on the occasion of Bahadur Singh's succession. In consideration, however, of the poverty of the State a nazarana equal to half a year's net income was taken. A khilat of the value of Rs. 8,875 was bestowed on the Chief on his formal installation, in the form of a deduction from the nazarana.

An Agreement (No. CLXXII) between the Government of India and Raja Bhawani Singh was made in 1881, by which the Darbar abolished all transit dues on salt passing through Sitamau in consideration of a payment of Rs. 2,000 annually as compensation. This sum is paid through the Political Agent, Malwa.

In February 1887, the Raja abolished all transit duties in his State, except those on opium and wood, on the occasion of the Jubilee of Her Majesty the Queen-Empress of India.

In 1896 the Chief of Sitamau raised the question of his precedence over the Chief of Sailana in darbar, on the ground of his descent from a senior branch of the family of Raja Ratan Singh, the founder of the Ratlam State, of which Sitamau once formed a part. His claim was recognised by the Government of India, and orders to that effect were communicated to the parties concerned in 1902. Since then Sitamau takes precedence of Sailana.

Raja Bahadur Singh of Sitamau died in 1899, and was succeeded by his brother, Sadul Singh. The latter died on the 9th May 1900. Owing to a failure of direct male issue, several claims were put forward to the vacant gadi. The Government of India decided in favour of Bapu Ram Singh, who was born in 1879, brother of the Thakur of Kachhi Baroda in the Bhopawar Agency, on the ground of his descent from the senior branch of the family of Raja Ratan Singh. Because of the financial embarrassment of the State the amount of nazarana due to the Government of India on Ram Singh's succession was fixed by the former, as a special case, at half a year's instead of a whole year's revenue.

The area of Sitamau is 350 square miles ; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 23,863 ; and the revenue is estimated at Rs. 1,26,000.

The military force of the State consists (1905) of about 150 irregular cavalry and infantry, which are used as police, and one gun

The Chief is entitled to a salute of 11 guns, which was finally approved in Her Majesty's Order in Council, dated the 26th June 1867.

The State is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules.

3. SAILANA.*

Sailana pays an annual tribute of Rs. 42,000 to the Government of India under the same conditions as Ratlam (No. CLXIV), of which territory it originally formed a part. On the death of Kesari Singh, Raja of Ratlam, in 1709, his eldest son, Man Singh, succeeded to the lands forming the present district of Ratlam, and Jai Singh, his second son, to Sailana, which he made into an independent State in 1730.

The tribute is paid to the British Government under the treaty with Sindhia of the 12th December 1860, having been assigned in 1844 in part payment of the Gwalior Contingent. By a separate Agreement (No. CLXXIII) the Raja engaged, after paying Rs. 22,234 in cash as arrears of tribute, to pay Rs. 75,000 as the balance of arrears up to 1819 in five yearly instalments.

Lachhman Singh, the Chief with whom the original settlement was made in 1819 (No. CLXIV), was succeeded by his son, Ratan Singh, who having no sons, was succeeded by Nahar Singh, his uncle. Nahar Singh was succeeded by his son, Takht Singh, who died in 1850, leaving a son, Dule Singh, then a minor. The district was administered by the British Government till the mutinies of 1857, when it was put under a regency headed by the chief widow of the late Raja. As an acknowledgment of the services rendered during the mutinies in preserving order and furnishing troops the members of the regency received khilats. Raja Dule Singh was put in power in 1859, being then 10 years of age.

In 1864 the Chief of Sailana agreed (No. CLXXIV) to cede any land that might be required for railway purposes, with full jurisdiction, to the British Government, and not to levy transit duty on through traffic. In 1891 the Chief agreed to cede land on these terms for the Ratlam-Godhra railway (see Ratlam).

In 1881 an Agreement (No. CLXXV) was made between the Government of India and the Raja, by which the latter agreed to abandon all transit duties on salt, on receiving annually from the British Government 100 maunds of salt delivered free of cost at Indore. By a supplementary Agreement (No. CLXXVI) made in 1883, this compensation was commuted to an annual cash payment of Rs. 412-8 through the Political Agent, Malwa.

In 1885 the Government of India at the request of the Raja recognised as his heir Jaswant Singh of Semlia, whom he had adopted. The Semlia jagir, in consequence of the adoption of Jaswant Singh, devolved on his younger brother, Chhatar Singh, in 1888.

In June 1887 an Agreement (No. CLXVII) was made between the Ratlam and Sailana States, by which it was arranged that the latter should in future levy its own customs duties, compensating Ratlam for relinquishing its right to levy customs dues in Sailana by an annual payment of Salim Shahi Rupees 18,000. This agreement was revised in 1902. The Sailana State now pays Rs. 6,000 in British currency to Ratlam (see Ratlam).

In 1887 the Raja abolished all transit duties in his State, excepting those on opium, on the occasion of the Jubilee of Her Majesty the Queen-Empress of India.

Raja Dule Singh died on the 11th October 1895, and was succeeded by Jaswant Singh of Semlia, whom he had adopted during his life time. Jaswant Singh, who was born in 1863, was installed as Chief in December 1895. The Raja of Ratlam advanced some claims in connection with the talwarbandi on the occasion of the installation, but they were disallowed. Nazarana on the succession of Jaswant Singh was, owing to the poverty of the State, fixed, as a special case, at half instead of a whole year's revenue.

In 1896 Bahadur Singh, the Chief of Sitamau, raised the question of his precedence over the Chief of Sailana in darbar, on the ground of his descent from a senior branch of the family of Raja Ratan Singh. The claim was admitted by the Government of India, and in 1902 orders to that effect were communicated to the two Chiefs concerned. Sitamau has since then taken precedence of Sailana.

In November 1905 Raja Jaswant Singh of Sailana was invested by His Royal Highness the Prince of Wales with the insignia of the Order of Knight Commander of the Indian Empire.

The area of the State is 450 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 25,731; and the gross annual income is stated to be Rs. 1,50,000, but for the last few years it has not exceeded Rs. 1,15,000.

The military force of Sailana consists (1905) of 25 cavalry, 50 infantry, 6 artillery men with 5 guns, and 113 armed police men.

The Raja receives a salute of 11 guns, which was finally approved in Her Majesty's Order in Council, dated the 26th June 1867.

The State is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules.

4. PANTH PIPLODA.

Panth Piploda is held directly from the British Government without the intervention of any Native State, and the holding, therefore, differs from that of all the other mediatized Chiefs in the Agency.

An assignment of the revenue of ten villages of Panth Piploda and Mandawal, amounting to Rs. 11,761, was originally made by the Peshwa Narayan Rao to the family of Sambaji Attaji, a Maratha Pandit, and was renewed in the names of his nephews, Dhondeo Gopal and Janardan Gopal, by the Peshwa Madho Rao. By article 14 of the treaty of 1817 (see Volume VI), the Peshwa ceded to the British Government all his territories and rights in Malwa. By this cession therefore the ten villages of Panth Piploda became virtually British territory; but Government continued the state of things which had existed under Maratha rule, and in 1821 Naru Dhondeo and Wasudeo Janardan, sons of Dhondeo Gopal, and Janardan Gopal, received from Sir John Malcolm a Sanad (No. CLXXVII), which was confirmed by the Supreme Government, whereby their right to receive tribute on ten villages in the district of Mandawal and the suba of Mandsaur was recognized. Naru Dhondeo was succeeded in 1850 by his son, Gopal

Rao. Gopal Rao died in February 1906, and was succeeded by his eldest son, Dhondu Gopal, alias Nana Sahib, who was born in 1863.

Wasudeo Janardan died in 1868, and the succession of his son, Janardan Wasudeo, then about twenty-four years of age, was recognized by the British Government. Janardan Wasudeo died in 1886, and was succeeded by his son, Narayan Rao, who was born in 1870. As Janardan Wasudeo was of weak intellect, the management of his affairs had been entrusted to a kamdar subject to the control of the Political Agent, Western Malwa (Malwa). Narayan Rao was entrusted with the management of his affairs in 1892.

The grantees have no proprietary rights over the villages from which their assignment is drawn. To prevent disputes therefore with the proprietors it has been arranged that the latter shall pay their tribute to the Malwa Agency, whence it is disbursed to the grantees. The actual amount now received by the grantees is Rs. 9,785-11-0 British currency. The proprietors are held responsible for the peace of the villages. Nazarana is taken on succession from the grantees of the money assignment. The jurisdiction over these villages is held directly by the Political Agent, Malwa.

The Thakur of Guderkhara holds $1\frac{1}{2}$ villages in the pargana of Panth Piploda, and the Thakur of Champaner holds one village (Champaner) in the same pargana. A new hamlet, named Kesarpura, has also been populated by the Thakur of Mandawal in the Panth Piploda jagirs.

The area of Panth Piploda is 19 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 3,544; and the revenue is estimated at about Rs. 9,800.

Panth Piploda is liable to pay nazarana to the British Government.

5. PIPLODA.*

The Settlement (No. CLXXVIII) of this Chiefship, under which a tribute of Salim Shahi Rupees 28,000 is paid to the Nawab of Jaora, in accordance with the 12th article of the treaty of Mandsaur, was made with Prithi Singh by Sir John Malcolm in 1820. The Piploda family are Doria Rajputs, who emigrated several centuries ago from Giral in Junagarh. The Thakur receives from the senior Chief of Dewas Rs. 138 a year as tankha on six villages, and from the junior Chief of Dewas Rs. 115 on five villages in Garhguchha. He also holds a grant of land in the village of Betikheri in the Alaut district from the senior Chief of Dewas, and he receives Rs. 1,000 dami from Tal and Mandawal. The Nawab of Jaora asserts a right to receive Rs. 180 from the above dami, but the claim is disputed by the Thakur.

The settlement made in 1820 put the Thakur on the same footing as other mediatized Chiefs, but in 1844, when Sir Claud Wade was Resident at Indore, a new Deed (No. CLXXIX) was executed between the Thakur and the Nawab of Jaora without the cognizance of the Government of India, by which the Thakur was placed in greater dependence on the Nawab, and the right of the latter to control the judicial administration of the Thakur was admitted. The existence of this deed was first brought to the notice of the Government of India in February 1864, but it was resolved not to interfere with arrangements which had lasted twenty years so long as no dispute should arise on the subject between the Thakur and the Nawab.

Like other mediatized Thakurs in this Agency, the Thakur of Piploda refers all criminal cases to the Political Agent.

Thakur Prithi Singh was succeeded by his son, Umed Singh, and he by his son, Onkar Singh, who died on the 12th November 1863, when his adopted son, Dule Singh, then eleven years of age, was recognized as heir by the British Government. Dule Singh died on the 26th October 1888, and his eldest son, Kesri Singh, born in 1873, was recognized as his successor.

In 1901 the Thakur of Piploda memorialised the Government of India in respect of the long standing dispute between him and the Jaora Darbar on the alleged right of the latter to levy customs duty in the Thakurate.

The memorial begged that:—

- (1) The muchalka executed between the Nawab of Jaora and the Thakur of Piploda in 1844 (see No. CLXXIX) under the authority of Sir C. Wade should be abrogated ;
- (2) the attendance of a Piploda vakil on the Jaora Darbar should cease ; and
- (3) instead of a division being made of the actual receipts of the sayar, a fixed sum equivalent to the collection of the last ten years should be paid annually by Piploda to Jaora.

The Government of India, while accepting the claim of the Jaora Darbar to half of the sayar revenues of Piploda, did not recognise the right of the suzerain State to interfere with the internal administration of the Thakurate, and it was decided that the Darbar should only be paid its share of the sayar collections made by the Thakur himself, through the Political Agent in Malwa. The contention of the Jaora Darbar that the Thakur had no right to abolish sayar dues was also not approved, and it was ordered that, in the event of the Thakur abolishing the sayer dues, the Darbar should be compensated by either withholding the dami paid to Piploda by the Jaora Darbar or by paying to the Darbar a fixed annual amount determined on the basis of the collections for the past ten years. The engagement of 1844 was considered as binding, and the right of the Jaora Darbar to demand the attendance of a vakil from the Thakur was upheld by the Government of India.

The area of Piploda is about 60 square miles ; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 9,529 ; and the revenue is about Rs. 95,000.

The Thakurate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

† These parwanas show only Rs. 321 to be paid by Holkar. The amount given by Malcolm is Rs. 600.

Sher Singh and Gulab Singh, the Thakurs with whom the original settlement was mediated, were succeeded by Bhairon Singh. He died in May 1883 and was succeeded by Rawat Lal Singh, who was then about twenty-three years old. Rawat Lal Singh died in November 1900, and was succeeded by Fateh Singh, the present Thakur, who was born in 1890.

The population of Jawasia, according to the census of 1901, is 418; its area 4 square miles; and the Thakur's revenue amounts to about Rs 10,000.

The Thakurate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

7. DABRI.*

The Thakur of Dabri receives (No. CLXXX) Rs. 180 from Sindhia on Ujjain and Panbihar. The conditions of the tankha are the same as those attached to the sanads of the Thakur of Jawasia (vide supra). The Thakur receives his tankha through the political officer. He also claims certain rights of "lag" and "bhet" on the village of Sawarkhari and Kadwar in the Panbihar pargana, and on the villages of Kalidi, Ukonta, Karaudi, and Utara in the Ujjain pargana, and states that he originally held 500 bighas of land in the village of Dabri.

Anup Singh, the Thakur with whom the settlement was mediated, was succeeded by his son, Lal Singh, and the latter by his nephew, Bhairon Singh. Bhairon Singh died in February 1882 and was succeeded by his son, Deo Singh. Deo Singh died in 1883, and his son, Parbat Singh, who was born in 1879, is the present Thakur. The Dabri branch are Chauhan Rajputs, and belong to the Karaudia family.

The Thakurate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

The conditions of these payments are the same as those attached to the sanads of the Thakur of Jawasia (vide supra). The Thakur receives the tankha from Sindhia through the Political Agent in Malwa; those from Holkar direct. The Thakur also holds (No. CXC) the villages of Kalukhera, Borkhera, Barkheri, and Barot in Panbihar under Sindhia, for which he pays Rs. 825 yearly to Balwant Rao Patankar, the son-in-law of Daulat Rao Sindhia.

The present Thakur, Kishen Singh, younger brother of Bijey Singh, was recognised by the Government of India as his successor. He is a Khichi Rajput of the Raghugarh family. Holkar's claim to levy nazarana on Kishen Singh's succession was disallowed by the Government of India.

In 1889 the Gwalior Darbar claimed a right to exercise civil and criminal jurisdiction in this Estate, but the arguments adduced were not sufficient to prove the claim, and it was accordingly rejected by the Agent to the Governor-General in Central India.

was succeeded by Hamir Singh; and the latter by his son, Raghunath Singh, in 1882. Raghunath Singh died in 1899, and was succeeded by his brother, the present Thakur Man Singh.

At the time of Man Singh's succession the Gwalior Darbar raised the question of the Thakur's right to the villages of Narwar, Gumri, and Machakheri, on the ground that the parwana, with which Captain Borthwick, Political Agent in Mehidpur, forwarded to Thakur Lachhman Singh and his son, Hamir Singh, in 1830, the patta granted for these villages did not amount to a guarantee; and that the patta itself was merely a lease for the lives for the grantees. The Government of India decided that the villages should be considered as guaranteed.

The claim of the Gwalior Darbar to a right to exercise civil and criminal jurisdiction in the guaranteed holdings of the Thakur of Narwar was rejected by the Agent to the Governor-General in Central India in 1897.

The Thakur is a Jhala Rajput, and his ancestors are said to have come from Dhrangdra in Kathiawar.

The tankha from Sindhia is paid through the Political Agent in Malwa; that from Holkar direct. The Thakur is not regarded by the Government of India as being guaranteed by them in his holding in perpetuity.

In 1887 it was decided that a Sanad (No. CCXXXVI in the edition of 1876) purporting to guarantee to the Thakur three villages in Gwalior should be omitted from the next edition as there are good grounds for believing that it is not an authentic document. It has accordingly been omitted

All cases in which the Thakur, or any of his near relatives, to the 3rd degree, might be personally interested to be tried by the Political Agent. The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

30. SIRSI.

The Thakur holds two Sanads (Nos. CCXXIII and CCXXIV) in respect of the three villages of Sirsi, Khemakheri, and Khokhra, which are similar in all respects to those of Sadakheri (Sheogarh). The original settlement was made in 1839 by Colonel Borthwick with Thakur Bhawani Singh, and again in 1845. Bhawani Singh was succeeded by his nephew, Dalpat Singh, in 1841; and in 1872 the latter was succeeded by Sarup Singh, the present Thakur, who was born in 1854.

The Thakur pays an annual quit-rent of Salim Shahi Rupees 12,301 to the Jaora Darbar on the above three villages. Besides these villages he holds chauthan (quarter) share of the village of Panchewa under Piproda, for which he possesses a document signed by Sir R. Hamilton, Agent to the Governor-General in Central India.

The area of this holding is 15 square miles; the population is 1,352; and the revenue Rs. 25,000.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

31. TAL.

Settlements between this Thakur and the Jaora State were mediated in 1821 and 1822 by Mr. G. Wellesley, Resident at Indore. The villages of Karwaheri and Melakheri were guaranteed to the Thakur in istimrari tenure in the former year (No. CCXXV), while in the latter (No. CCXXVI) the dami and other dues of the Tal pargana were guaranteed. Thakur Chander Singh was the Thakur with whom these settlements were made. He was succeeded by his son, Jait Singh, who died in 1853, when he was succeeded by his son, Lachman Singh. The latter died in 1859, and was succeeded by his nephew, Onkar Singh.

The Thakur also holds the village of Lasuria Surajmal in the Tal pargana in jagir. No mediated agreement is forthcoming regarding this holding.

The extravagance of Thakur Onkar Singh brought him heavily into debt, and in 1880 and subsequent years he applied to the Jaora Darbar for assistance. This was granted and arrangements were made in 1889 by the Darbar, without previous reference to the Political Agent, for managing the Thakur's Estate and paying off the debt. On the facts being brought to notice it was decided that the arrangement concluded in 1889 by the Darbar with the Thakur should not be interfered with so long as the status of the Thakur in respect of his guaranteed rights was not materially affected thereby, and provided that there was no intransgression of the rule limiting to the holder's lifetime the power of alienating guaranteed property. The right of the Government of India to be consulted on all important points regarding the position and privileges of guarantee-holders, and to decide all questions of succession to guaranteed estates, was at the same time made clear to the Jaora Darbar.

Thakur Onkar Singh died in January 1901, and was succeeded by Madho Singh, the present Thakur, who was born on the 10th August 1896. Madho Singh is the grandson of Pyar Singh, uncle of the late Thakur.

The area of the Estate is 10 square miles; the population 1,122; and the revenue Rs. 10,000.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

Gerwur Sing and Newul Sing of Bichrode waited upon the Circar and each of them claimed the tankha from the villages of the aforesaid pergunnah, alleging that he alone was in the receipt thereof. This dispute lasted for four years. At length Gerwur Sing, when the Circar took the question into consideration, executed an engagement to the effect that he would satisfy the claim of Newul Sing, and see that the Circar was not troubled any further on this account; that he would take from the mehal cutcherry any sum which might be fixed for him; that he would not take bhet, or levy any cesses separately from the villages, under penalty of forfeiting the allowance which might be fixed for him; and that he would serve in the mehal if required by the kamaisdar to do so. Accordingly an annual sum of one hundred rupees has been fixed for him from 1881 Sumbut, to be paid from the mehal of the pergunnah. You are therefore directed to pay to the aforesaid Gerwur Sing, from the cutcherry of the mehal, the said sum of one hundred rupees fixed for him from 1881 Sumbut, and to take receipts from him for the same. You are to see that the said Gerwur Sing abides by the terms of the engagement.

TRANSLATION of a PERWANNAH from MULHAR RAO HOLKAR to GOBIND RAO CHIMNAJEE, KAMAISDAR of PERGUNNAH MEHIDPORE,—1220 A.H.

Ruttun Sing, son of Himmul Sing of Kalookherce, having appeared before me at Indore, represented to me that in 1874 Sumbut when Bittul Mahadeo and General Low stationed themselves with troops at Indruk in pergunnah Mehidpore, and established thannahs at Narelia and other places, after sending away all the men therefrom, he (the said Ruttun Sing) from fear executed a writing before Lutchmun Sudaseo, kamaisdar of the mehal, to the effect that he would take two rupees only on account of " bhet " from each village of the aforesaid pergunnah, and not levy a pice more from the mehal. He has now requested that after investigation of his case, orders should be issued for the payment to him of the tankha which he received from the said pergunnah previous to the breaking out of the disturbances. After due consideration of the above request, and enquiry of the zemindars of the mehal, it has been found that he formerly received two rupees as " bhet." It has therefore been decided that this sum shall be paid from the mehal cutcherry from the aforesaid year on the condition that he shall not oppress the people of the villages of the mehal, or exact from them more than what has been fixed for him. Accordingly his tankha has been fixed at Rupees 225 of the mehal currency, and you are hereby directed to pay the above sum of Rupees 225 to Ruttun Sing of Kalookherce, from the cutcherry of the pergunnah from the aforesaid year, and to take receipts from him for the same. Besides this the said Ruttun Sing shall not levy a pice from the villages, nor exact from the people thereof girass, grain, &c. You will inform him that should he levy anything from the villages, a deduction will be made from his tankha. Tell him that he will be required to render service according to his ability.

From the enquiries which I have instituted, I have ascertained that when the tankha of Kurrin Sing was settled Lutchmun Sing Girassia's tankha was included in that of Kurrin Sing, who promised to pay the same to Lutchmun Sing, but that when payment was demanded Kurrin Sing denied his liability, whereupon Lutchmun Sing brought the circumstance to the notice of Captain Henley, who addressed a letter to the Circar on the subject. TRANSLATION of a SUNNUD granted by MULHAR RAO HOLKAR to SALIM SING THAKOOR.

You represented to the Circar at Indore that the two villages, Lalgurh or Maunpoora and Nagorarea in pergunnah Mehidpore, which you have held for a long time, were resumed last year, and assigned by the Circar for the construction of a religious institution called chettry at Bhanpoora; that the girass tankha which you formerly used to receive from the villages was stopped, and it was settled through Captain Low on the part of General Malcolm that instead of taking money as girass dues from the villages, or oppressing the people by its exaction, you should receive the village of Kuchalia, and an annual cash allowance of Rupees 1,000 from the Circar's cutcherry; and that a letter was written to the kamaisdar of the mehal directing him to pay you Rupees 1,000 every year. You moreover stated that you continued to enjoy the village of Kuchalia and to receive the annual sum of Rupees 1,000 which had been fixed for you. You also made a request to Gerald Wellesley, Esq., that in order to enable you to obtain girass, fuel, etc., the aforesaid two villages might be farmed out to you in istumraree tenure, the revenues of which, after the deduction of Rupees 1,000 payable to you by the mehal cutcherry, were to be paid by you at any place where the Circar might direct. The above officer having brought your request to the notice of the Circar, and your request having been duly considered, it has been determined to farm to you the said two villages in istumraree tenure. A sum of Rupees 4,652 has been fixed as the rent of the two villages for two years, viz, Rupees 2,251 for 1229 Fasli or 1876 Sumbut, and Rupees 2,401 for 1230 Fasli or 1877 Sumbut; you will without objection pay the rent at any place the Circar may direct, Rupees 1,251 in 1229 Fasli, and from 1230 Fasli Rupees 1,401 exclusive of Rupees 1,000 of the local currency, which is receivable by you from the Circar and which will be credited to you as a set-off against the above revenue. You will receive receipts for the money you pay.

Pertab Sing, Girassia of Peeplia, who used to receive a tankha from the aforesaid pergunnah, instead of levying only what was usual, recently collected an enormous amount of money and oppressed the people of villages. The matter having been enquired into it has been settled that the said Girassia shall not take a pice from the villages in the mehal; that he shall receive a cash allowance from the mehal cutcherry; and that he shall serve in the mehal when required by the mamlutdar to do so. Accordingly an annual sum of Rupees 211 has been fixed for the said Pertab Sing Girassia from 1877 Sumbut. You are hereby directed to collect money on account of tankha from the villages, and to pay every year from 1877 Sumbut to the said Girassia the above sum of Rupees 211 in lieu of his tankha from the mehal cutcherry, taking receipts from him for the same.

The said Girassia Pertab Sing will receive by instalments from the mehal cutcherry the amount fixed by the Circar in lieu of his tankha, and he will be in attendance to do service in the aforesaid pergunnah when you direct him.

Pertab Sing, Girassia of Peeplia, having waited upon me represented that he used to receive a tankha from the aforesaid pergunnah, and that in consequence of his having collected, since the breaking out of the disturbances, money from the villages in excess of his tankha it was stopped. He has prayed that an arrangement may be made to restore to him his tankha, and has agreed to take any amount which may be fixed for him; that he will not create any disturbance; and that he will serve in the mehal, adopt such measures as will prevent the commission of thefts, and be in attendance when sent for by the kamaisdar. The above having been taken into consideration, it has been settled that the said Girassia shall receive a fixed allowance in lieu of his tankha from the cutcherry of the pergunnah; that he shall not collect anything from the villages on account of bhett, etc.; and that he shall serve in the mehal. Accordingly an annual sum of Rupees 125 has been settled on him from last year, Sun 1220. TRANSLATION of a letter from MAJOR F. H. SANDYS, POLITICAL AGENT, to GUMAN SING, THAKOOR of DHOLATIA.

You presented to me a petition stating that your uncle, Pirthe Sing, had died, and that you would support Gyana Bai, the widow of the deceased, and praying that as he left no children, and as a provision had been made for his maintenance out of your tankha, the deceased's allowance might be given to you. Gyana Bai also presented a petition mentioning that she appointed her nephew, named Sumtajee, as successor to the said tankha of the deceased. With a view to ascertain the circumstances set forth by the plaintiff and defendant, as well as to know which of the parties had, according to the custom of the family, a right to the allowance above mentioned, the vakeel of the Nana Sahib was ordered to send a report on the subject. The said vakeel addressed a letter to the Nana Sahib, who, having made the necessary enquiries, returned, by a letter, the papers connected with the case with a kyasnamah, from which it appeared that the claim of the defendant Gyana Bai is unfounded, and that yours is just and fully proved. With reference to the kyasnamah, it is decided that you shall receive every year the tankha of Rupees 470 enjoyed by the deceased Pirthee Sing. Gyana is since dead, and her claim to the tankha, to which she had appointed her nephew as successor, was not based on just grounds; but as she adopted Sumtajee, you should make such a provision for his support as may be deemed necessary.

TRANSLATION of a SANAD from NAWAB GHUFFOOR KHAN granting the village of BELONDA in SUNJIT PERGANA of JAORA to HAKEEM MEER ZAFFURALLY, dated 1st Shaban 1233 Hijri.

Be it known to the Amils, Mutsuddies, Kanoongoes, Chowdries, Mukadams and cultivators, present and future, of the Sunjit Pergana of Rampura Soubah Malwa, that the village of Belonda, together with its revenue and customs dues, has been granted rent free to Hakeem Meer Zaffurally from the commencement of the kharif of Fasli 1225 for his support, and it shall continue in his possession from generation to generation, undisturbed. It is required that the possession of the village should be given to the Agent of the said Hakeem, considering the grant as rent free. The village should not be harassed with demands for forced labour (begar), bheth, etc., nor should renewed sanad be called for. Carry out these instructions without fail.

TRANSLATION of a PROCLAMATION from CAPTAIN BORTHWICK regarding the grant by NAWAB GHUFFOOR KHAN, of the village of BELONDA in SUNJIT PERGANA to HAKEEM MEER ZAFFURALLY, dated 11th January 1819, corresponding with 17th Rabi-ul-awal 1234 Hijri.

Whereas Nawab Abdul Ghuffoor Khan has out of his estate, which is guaranteed by the British Government, granted free of rent the village of Belonda to Syud Zaffurally for his support on account of the services rendered by him, whereas the above village is situated on the road and is frequented by travellers and on this account is put to the inconvenience of providing labour, fire-wood, etc., which interferes with the prosperity of the village and its inhabitants, and whereas the said Hakeem is a well-wisher of the British Government, it is notified that no servant of the British Government or any other person passing the village should demand forced labour, fire-wood, etc., otherwise on a complaint being made to any British officer, such person will be considered an offender.

(Sd.) W. BORTHWICK,

Commanding Detachment.

This is to certify that being called upon by both parties to mediate a settlement of a dispute between the Nawab Ghuffur Khan and Hakim Mir Zuffur Ally, I agreed to do so on the ground of my consideration for the character of the Nawab and the public services rendered by the Hakim to Holkar's as well as the British Government, and the following is the settlement to which I have given my consent as according with the wishes of both and appearing to me under all circumstances just and reasonable.

The Hakim Zuffur Ally is at liberty to depart from the service of the Nawab Ghuffur Khan and to live in Hindustan, his native country. He has consented to give up to the Nawab the Sanad he has in his possession for an annual pension to him and his heirs for ever of fifteen hundred Rupees, but retains the sanad or grant (to him and his heirs for ever) conferred upon him by the Nawab Guffur Khan as a reward for his services of the village of Belonda in the District of Sunjit which is given for the support of him, the said Mir Zuffur Ally, and his descendants. In witness of my having mediated this agreement I have given one copy of this certificate to the Nawab Ghuffur Khan and another to the Hakim Mir Zuffur Ally.

To be hereafter fixed at a fair rate after enquiry.

For lands cultivated with the Thakur's own ploughs in the town and elsewhere, the rent of which both is under attachment for Sammat 1877, two-thirds of it to be given to the Thakur and one-third to be taken by the State as rent, and in future this will be settled after due enquiry.

VI.—BHOPAWAR AGENCY.

The Bhopawar Agency was constituted on its present footing in the year 1882 by separating the duties of the Political Agent, Bhopawar, from those of the Commandant of the Malwa Bhil Corps, who till then had held the dual charge. At the same time the Deputy Bhil Agency at Manpur was abolished, and the charge was included in that of the Political Agent in Bhopawar at Sirdarpur; and the staff of officers of the Malwa Bhil Corps was revised. Besides Dhar, the Agency now includes Jhabua and ten other guaranteed Estates or Thakurates, and also ten guaranteed Bhumitas, all of which are described below.

From the year 1882 to the year 1891 the arrangements described above remained unchanged. In the latter year, however, the earlier system, by which the Commandant of the Malwa Bhil Corps held the dual charge, was temporarily resumed. The charges were afterwards again separated.

The Agency also includes the charge of a small tract of British territory, viz., MANPUR,* surrounded by the possessions of Native States. Some districts belonging to Sindhia and Holkar also come within its limits, and the Political Agent's supervision extends to them.

None of the guaranteed Estates in this Agency receive any allowance from, or pay any tribute to, the British Government.

(1.) DHAR.

The Puar family was one of the most distinguished in the early Maratha history. Anand Rao Puar is usually considered as the founder of the principality of Dhar, which, with some adjacent districts, and the right to receive the tribute payable by certain Rajput Chiefs, was assigned to him by the first Baji Rao Peshwa. Anand Rao died in 1749, and was succeeded by his son, Jaswant Rao Puar, who was slain in the defeat of the Marathas at Panipat. To him succeeded his infant son, Khande Rao Puar, who was followed by his son, Anand Rao Puar. He died in 1807, and was succeeded by his posthumous son, Ramchandar Rao Puar, on whose mother, Maina Bai, the administration temporarily devolved. Ramchandar died early, but Maina Bai, with the consent of the neighbouring Chiefs, adopted her sister's son under the name of Ramchandar Puar.

* The area of Manpur is 60 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 4,890, and the revenue Rs. 19,800.

For twenty years before the British conquest of Malwa, the Dhar State was subjected to a continued series of spoliations chiefly at the hands of Sindhia and Holkar, and was preserved from destruction only by the talent and courage of Maina Bai. By the treaty concluded on the 10th January 1819 (No. CCXXVII) Dhar was taken under the protection of, and was bound to act in subordinate co-operation with, the British Government; several districts which it had lost were recovered and restored to it; its tributary rights over the Rajput States of Banswara and Dungarpur were ceded to the British Government; and it was arranged that the British Government should hold the Bairsia pargana for five years to liquidate a loan of Rs. 2,50,000 which the Government agreed to make to the Dhar State.

In 1821, by an additional Engagement (No. CCXXVIII), Dhar ceded the pargana of Bairsia and the tribute of Ali Mohan to the British for an annual payment of Rs. 1,10,000. In 1831 the pargana was restored to Dhar, as the collections from it were less than the sum paid for it by about half a lakh of rupees; but as the Dhar authorities could not manage the district owing to its isolated position and separation from the rest of their territories, it was again taken under British management in 1835, on the understanding that the surplus revenues, after meeting all expenditure, should be paid to Dhar. The payments continued to be made till 1860, when they were stopped as a punishment for the rebellion of the Dhar State in 1857, and the pargana of Bairsia was made over to Bhopal as a reward for the services of the Sikandar Begam of Bhopal during the mutinies (see Bhopal).

In 1828 the pargana of Nimanpur Makrar in Nimar was made over in perpetuity to the management of the British Government (No. CCXXIX), on condition that the surplus revenue, after payment of all expenses of administration, should be annually paid to the Dhar State. It was, however, restored to Dhar in 1830.

Besides the engagements mediated by the British Government between Dhar and its feudatories, an Agreement (CCXXX) was mediated in 1821 between Holkar and the Dhar State. Both States brought forward claims for lands near Bijaur and Dipalpur, and as it was impossible to ascertain the boundary correctly, it was agreed that the lands should be left neutral for the purpose of pasturing cattle.

Ramchandrar Puar was succeeded by his adopted son, Jaswant Rao Puar, who died in 1857, and was succeeded by his half-brother, Anand Rao Puar, then 13 years of age. The Dhar State rebelled in 1857, and was in consequence confiscated. It was subsequently restored to Raja Anand Rao Puar, with the exception of the Bairsia pargana, as narrated above, but was retained under British management till the Chief should attain the age of 18 years, or until he should become competent to manage his own affairs. The administration of the State was entrusted to the Chief in October 1864.

In 1862 a Sanad (note to No. LXXVI) was granted by the Government of India, conceding to the Chiefs of Dhar the right of adoption.

In 1869 Raja Anand Rao Puar expressed a wish to adopt an heir. He was informed that Government would sanction any adoption of a qualified person which he might make in accordance with Hindu law and the customs of his race, but that the adoption once made could not be set aside so as to allow him to adopt another heir. Government, however, had no objection, in the event of a legitimate son being born to the Raja, to recognize his succession in preference to that of any heir whom the Raja might have adopted.

In 1877, on the occasion of the Imperial Assemblage at Delhi, the title of Maharaja was conferred upon Raja Anand Rao Puar, as a personal distinction, and he was also appointed a Knight Commander of the Star of India. In 1883 the further decoration of Companion of the Indian Empire was conferred upon him.

In 1864 the Chief of Dhar engaged (No. CCXXXI) to cede to the British Government, with sovereign rights, such land as may be required for the construction of a railway through his State, and to exempt all through traffic from transit duties. He further abolished all transit duties in the State on the 16th February 1887, on the occasion of the Jubilee of the Queen-Empress.

Capital sentences passed by the Chief require the confirmation of the British Government before they are carried out, but he can pass sentences of life imprisonment without confirmation.

In 1886 the Government of India acknowledged the jurisdiction (civil and criminal) of the Chief of Dhar over the guaranteed Thakurs within his State in all cases where such jurisdiction could be fairly proved to have become an established prescriptive right by reason of its long continuance. This agreement has now been accepted by all guaranteed holders.

The Maharani, the only wife of the late Chief, died in January 1890, and the Maharaja then expressed a wish to adopt his nephew, Udaji Rao Puar, younger son of the Chief's half brother, Sambaji Rao Puar Appa Sahib of Multhan. This was sanctioned by Government. The Maharaja married again in 1890.

In 1894 the Darbar adopted the British rupee as the sole legal tender of the State.

The State has abolished customs duties and inaugurated in lieu thereof town or octroi duty.

Anand Rao Puar died in 1898, and was succeeded by his adopted son, Udaji Rao Puar, who was born on the 30th September 1886. The succession being in the direct line no nazarana was levied.

The Darbar have forest and abkari rights in the subsidiary Bhumias in respect of the villages and Bhil paras that they hold from Dhar.

The Darbar have granted civil and criminal powers to their subordinate Thakurs and Bhumias, guaranteed and unguaranteed, in respect of their holdings from the State.

In 1904 agreements in connection with the long standing dispute between the Darbar and the four guaranteed Thakurs of Multhan, Kachi Baroda, Dotria, and Bakhtgarh, regarding the collection of sayar revenues, were amicably arrived at.

A mutual agreement was also concluded between the Darbar and the ten guaranteed Bhumias in regard to the right of the Darbar to levy sayar or royalty on the forest produce of the forests of the Bhumias' villages held from the Dhar Darbar when it is removed from the land on which it grows and is exported elsewhere.

The area of the Dhar State is 1,775 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 142,115; and the revenue is about Rs. 9,00,000, excluding that of the alienated holdings. Dhar pays an annual contribution of Rs. 7,656-0-4 towards the maintenance of the Malwa Bhil Corps, the payment of a sum of Rs. 12,000 having been capitalized by the Darbar in 1880 by the surrender of Government promissory notes aggregating Rs. 3,00,000.

The military force of the State consists (1905) of 101 cavalry, 236 infantry, 19 artillery men with 5 guns, and 293 police men.

The Chief is entitled to a salute of 15 guns, which was finally approved in Her Majesty's Order in Council, dated the 26th June 1867.

The State is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules.

TRANSLATION of an ENGAGEMENT executed between HOLKAR and DHAR in regard to Mouza Bijore in Pergunnah Dhar and Mouza Sungrode in Pergunnah Depalpore in Indore, in the time of GENERAL MALCOLM. Dated 19th Shual 1236, A.H., corresponding with 20th July 1821.

For many years there has been a dispute between the zemindars of mouza Bijore in pergunnah Dhar and mouza Sugrod in pergunnah Depalpore regarding lands situated on the boundaries of these two villages. As no agreement could be come to, Maharajah Mulhar Rao Holkar and Rajah Ramchunder Rao Puar of Dhar referred the case for decision to Major General Sir John Malcolm who deputed Captain Dangerfield to the boundaries of the villages to enquire into the merits of the case. Captain Dangerfield, having surveyed the disputed lands, submitted a report to General Malcolm, who finally decided that both parties should at all times respect the boundaries fixed and agreed to by the disputants in the time of the late Ahilia Bai and raise no objection thereto; and that both parties should agree to the measurement made by Captain Dangerfield and recorded in the Government office. For their guidance this deed recording the boundary settlement made by the Bai Sahiba is written. The lands lying between the bank of the Chumbul and the point which the Bai Sahiba has marked by sugar mill stones have, after due enquiries, been reserved as grazing land for the cattle of the aforesaid two villages. Neither of the contending parties will ever in future raise any dispute in respect to the boundaries of the above lands, or bring forward any claim thereto. The cattle of both villages shall graze without let or hindrance on those lands. No person shall be permitted to cultivate the above grazing lands. The Bijore people will cultivate the remaining land and none of the contending parties shall interfere with such cultivation. The lands of the village of Sugrod having been measured under the superintendence of Janardan Trimbak Amil of mouza Sugrod in pergunnah Depalpore, Sundar Ramaji, karkoon of Holkar, Beniram in the employment of the Puar Circar, and the patail and patwari of Bijore in pergunnah Dhar the boundaries thereof have been defined as follows :—

The eastern boundary extends to the bank of the Chumbul and the western boundary to the mosque. Boundary pillars have been erected on the east, west, north and south. The lands which lie between the mosque and the boundary pillars measure 80½ beegahs. The lands which formed the subject of dispute, and which have been reserved as pasturage for cattle and will ever continue so, stretch eastward to the pillars erected on the boundary of Bijore in pergunnah Dhar ; westward to the pillars erected on the boundary of the arable lands of mouza Bijore in pergunnah Dhar ; southwards to the pillars erected on the boundary of Sheogarh in pergunna Depalpore ; and northward to the pillars erected on the boundary of mouza Shahada in pergunnah Depalpore. The above terms define the boundaries which have been fixed.

This engagement has been executed by the contending parties.

Endorsed in English.

Exchanged through me on the 1st of August 1821.

Such compensation as it may be necessary to award to private individuals for lands so taken up will be given by the Dhar State.

2nd.—All residents within the railway limits, whether subjects of the British Government or of the Dhar State, shall be under the jurisdiction of the railway officers and Government authorities.

3rd.—All disputes between the officers and dependants of the railway and the subjects of the Dhar State outside the railway limits shall be heard and settled by the officer in political charge of the Dhar State.

4th.—The disposal of cases of criminals of the Dhar State who may go within the railway limits shall be settled according to the rules observed generally in such cases.

5th.—All “through” traffic to be free from transit or other duties. Goods under transport by rail, breaking bulk en route through the Dhar State, to be liable to the ordinary duties leviable on such, unless a special tariff be hereafter fixed for traffic of the latter nature.

(II).—GUARANTEED CHIEFS IN THE BHOPAWAR AGENCY.

1. JHABUA.

Jhabua was the principal guaranteed Chiefship under the Bhil Agency as formerly constituted, and was originally tributary to Holkar. The family are Rathor Rajputs, and are descended from one of the former Rajas of Jodhpur.

Kesho Das, a Rathor Rajput, did good service in the time of Jehangir in suppressing the lawless bands in south western Malwa. In return for his services he was granted certain lands in the district. The finest districts of this State were wrested from it by Holkar, but it is remarkable that Holkar left to its rulers the right to collect in these districts the chauth, or one-fourth of the revenues, which the Marathas exacted as a rule from the countries which they conquered. There are about twenty families of rank in this State, who pay Rs. 15,000 a year as tribute to Holkar, and Rs. 25,000 to their own Chief. In lieu of the tribute of Rs. 35,000 which Holkar formerly claimed from this State, lands were assigned to him through the mediation of the British Government, but no written engagement was made. In 1821, in consequence of the disturbed state of the country and the imbecility of the Raja, Bhim Singh, the Raja was required to abdicate in favour of his son, Partab Singh. The arrangements for the administration of the country were made through the mediation and under the Guarantee (No. CCXXXII) of the British Government. At a later period the State was for some years taken under the direct superintendence of the British Government.

In 1865 the Chief of Jhabua having permitted the mutilation of a person confined under suspicion of theft was fined Rs. 10,000, and required to settle a pension of Rs. 15 a month on the injured man, this pension being under the guarantee of the British Government. The Chief's mother was banished from Jhabua for a year, and the kamdar and others were expelled from the State. As a further mark of the abhorrence with which Government regarded the conduct of the Chief, his salute was discontinued, but was restored at the expiration of a year from the date of its discontinuance, in consequence of the administration having been favourably reported on.

Before 1870 the States of Jhabua and Indore exercised a joint jurisdiction in the towns of Thandla and Pitlawad and in some of the neighbouring villages. The sayar or customs dues were also conjointly collected. As this arrangement caused frequent and vexatious disputes between the two Darbars, an exchange of lands and villages was brought about in 1871, by which Pittlawad remained with the Indore State and Thandla with Jhabua. All sayar duties are now collected by the latter State, which pays annually to Indore the sum of Salim Shahi Rupees 1,278 as compensation for the share formerly accruing to Indore. A further sum of Rs. 1,400 is also paid to Indore to equalize the revenues of some of the transferred villages.

Raja Gopal Singh did good service during the mutiny of 1857, in consideration of which he was allowed to exercise limited criminal powers within his State. All heinous offences are reported by the Darbar to the Political Agent in Bhopawar, who ordinarily tries murders and other cases of exceptional importance in his own court, but has a discretionary power of making over to the Darbar for trial such cases as may seem advisable. The proceedings of the Darbar in such cases are subject to revision by the Political Agent. All sentences of death require confirmation by the Agent to the Governor-General in Central India.

Transit dues on cotton have long been abolished in the State, and in commemoration of the Jubilee of the Queen-Empress in 1887 all transit duties were remitted.

The Chief agreed in 1864 (No. CCXXXIII) to cede in full sovereignty such lands as may be required for a railway through his territories and to abolish all transit dues on through traffic. In 1891 the Chief agreed to cede, free of cost and with full sovereignty, all the land required for the Ratlam-Godhra Railway which passes through his State.

Gopal Singh died in January 1895, and was succeeded by his adopted son, Udai Singh, son of Thakur Raghunath Singh of Khawasa, a tributary of Jhabua. A nazarana of Rs. 25,850, equal to a quarter of the average net revenue of the State during the preceding five years, was levied on the succession, and a Khilat of the value of Rs. 6,462 was presented to the Chief on the part of the Government of India by the Political Agent.

Raja Udai Singh, who was born in 1876, was granted full administrative powers in 1898. But these were curtailed in 1900. The Chief is required to abide by the advice of the diwan of the State, who is appointed by the Political Agent in Bhopawar, and to submit the annual budget for the approval of the Agent to the Governor-General in Central India.

The Darbar have concluded an agreement with Messrs. Kiddle, Reeve and Company of Bombay for working the manganese deposits at Kajli, Dungri and Rambhapur. A mining lease for thirty years, commencing from June 1904, was granted by the Darbar to the firm with the sanction of the Government of India.

The area of Jhabua is 1,336.48 square miles ; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 80,889, of whom the majority are Bhils ; and the revenue is about Rs. 1,10,000. The State pays Rs. 1,474-3-2 towards the cost of the Malwa Bhil Corps. It makes no other payment to, and receives none from, the Government of India.

The military force, including irregulars, consists (1905) of 46 cavalry, 206 infantry, 4 artillery men with 4 guns (the guns are almost unserviceable), and 37 armed police.

The State pays nazarana to the British Government, though governed by the rules for the mediatised Chiefships.

The Raja receives a salute of 11 guns, which was finally approved in Her Majesty's Order in Council, dated the 26th June 1867.

2. ALI-RAJPUR.*

The early history of this State is very uncertain ; but it appears to have been founded by one Anand Rao Rathor about 1440. When the British power was established in Malwa the State was under the control of an adventurer named Musafir Makrani. Partab Singh, the Chief of Ali-Rajpur, had died, leaving a nephew, Kesari Singh, who endeavoured to supplant Partab Singh's posthumous son, Jaswant Singh. Kesari Singh was driven out by Musafir, who was the only Makrani leader allowed by the British Government to settle in Malwa. He had long been manager of Ali-Rajpur and made himself useful in expelling his countrymen and other foreigners, and was therefore recognised as manager of the State during the minority of Jaswant Singh. An Engagement (No. CCXXXIV) was mediated in 1818 between him and the Dhar Government, by which, in lieu of tribute alleged to have formerly been Rs. 20,000, the sayar duties in Ali-Rajpur were made over to Dhar.

The sayar duties, however, were not only unproductive, but the collection of them by Dhar officials led to disputes. To remedy these difficulties, the first arrangement effected was an agreement on the part of the Dhar State to pay a sum of Rs. 1,200 a year to Ali-Rajpur in commutation of all claims of individuals on the sayar duties. By this settlement, all pretext for interference on the part of the officials of Ali-Rajpur was obviated. Disputes, however, still continued. For this reason, and with a view of promoting facilities of commerce with Guzarat, the British Government procured from Dhar the cession of the tribute of Ali-Rajpur at the time when Dhar made over Bairsia to British management,* and agreed to pay Dhar the sum of Rs. 10,000 a year in lieu of the tribute claimed by Dhar from Ali-Rajpur.

* Malcolm's "Malwa," No. 10 of Schedule No. I and No. 2 of Schedule No. III.

The sum collected from the Ali-Rajpur State by the British Government is Rs. 11,000 a year, of which Rs. 10,000 are paid to Dhar, and the remaining Rs. 1,000, subsequently reduced to Rs. 250, are paid as a contribution to a police fund. This fund was subsequently abolished. The tribute having been alienated from Dhar, all supremacy of that State as regards Ali-Rajpur ceased.

Jaswant Singh died on the 17th March 1862, leaving a will by which he divided the State between his two sons. It was a question whether this partition should be admitted. The neighbouring Chiefs were consulted by the Political Agent, and it was at last decided by the British Government that the will should be set aside, and that Gangadeo, the elder son, should be recognized as heir to the Chiefship, subject to a provision in land for his younger brother. On the succession of Gangadeo a dress of honour was conferred on him by the British Government, and a nazarana of Rs. 1,500 was taken.

The incompetency of Gangadeo, and the anarchy which had prevailed since he was entrusted with power, compelled the British Government in 1869 to depose him and take the State under management. Muhammad Najaf Khan was appointed superintendent, and Rupdeo, the Chief's younger brother, was associated with him in the administration in view to his being properly trained for the duties which would ultimately devolve upon him as Chief. The allowance of the deposed Chief was fixed at Rs. 1,000 a month. The presence of Kazi Abdur Rauf, the former minister, was considered objectionable, and he was directed to leave the country. To assist in liquidating the various pressing claims on the State, the debts of which amounted to about Rs. 1,40,000, a loan of Rs. 20,000, repayable in two years, was granted.

Gangadeo, whose excesses had rendered him imbecile for several months previous to his death, died in March 1871. His younger brother, Rupdeo, was recognized as his successor, but it was decided to make no change in the management of affairs, under which the State had been freed from debt, until the Chief should prove himself capable of administering the State. Rana Rupdeo was entrusted tentatively with the management of affairs in 1873, on the understanding that his continuance in power would depend on the manner in which he carried on the administration. He died on the 29th October 1881 without male issue.

As the privilege of adoption had not been granted to the deceased Chief the State might have been treated as an escheat to Government. It was, however, decided to forego the right, and to appoint a successor to the gadi. After carefully investigating the qualifications and claims of several persons, including the Chiefs of Dharampur and the Thakurs of Mayagaon and Phulwal, the choice of Government fell upon Bijai Singh, the Thakur of Sondwa, whose family was an off-shoot of the direct line of the Ali-Rajpur Chiefs, and whose claims were warmly supported by the Ranis and the most influential persons in the State. He was then a minor, being educated at the Daly College, Indore.

The succession of Bijai Singh was, however, displeasing to Jit Singh, Thakur of Phulwal, who in the time of the previous Chief had, on account of his wealth and influence, ranked above the Sondwa Thakur. Owing to the lax administration of the diwan, Rai Bahadur Venkat Ram, and more particularly by reason of his interference with the hereditary customs of the Bhil Patels and Tarwis, the Bhil population had for some time been in a discontented state. Thakur Jit Singh taking advantage of this induced the Bhil and Bhilala leaders, Bhawan and Chitu, to join him in a rising in which many Makranis, headed by Dad Muhammad, joined, as well as a number of Vilayatis from Guzarat and Khandesh. The malcontents plundered the towns of Nanpur, Bhabra, and Chaktalla and threatened Ali-Rajpur; but on the arrival of the Malwa Bhil Corps they dispersed, and Dad Muhammad, the Makrani leader, was shot in a skirmish.

Eventually the leaders, Chitu and Bhawan, were captured and brought to justice. Thakur Jit Singh escaped into Guzarat, where he soon after died, and his estate was forfeited and lapsed to the State. When the rising had been put down, the claims of all concerned were examined, and the hereditary rights of the Bhil Patels and Tarwis were restored. Thakur Jawan Singh, of Jhaknaoda, in Jhabua, was appointed superintendent of Ali-Rajpur. He received the title of Rao Bahadur in 1890.

Bijai Singh remained at the Daly College, Indore, till 1888, when he returned to Ali-Rajpur, the administration remaining as before with Thakur Jawan Singh. In July 1890 Government sanctioned the tentative administration by the Rana of the parganas of Nanpur and Katoli, but before he could be invested with these limited powers he died on the 16th August 1890. The elder Rani gave birth to a daughter on the 2nd September 1890.

Partab Singh, of Sondwa, cousin of the late Chief, was selected in 1891 by the Government of India to succeed him. At the same time it was intimated that as there were no heirs, direct or adopted, the State had again become liable to be treated as an escheat, as when the late Rana Bijai Singh was selected; and that Partab Singh succeeded in virtue of his selection by the Government of India, and not as a consequence of any relationship, natural or artificial, to the late Chief. A claim to the Chiefship which was advanced by the Dharampur family on this occasion was rejected. As a matter of grace, and out of consideration for the financial embarrassments of the State, the Government of India consented to waive the payment of nazarana on this succession. Partab Singh, who was born in 1878, was formally installed in March 1892. During his minority the State was managed by a kamdar under the supervision of the Political Agent. The Chief was granted administrative powers in January 1904 subject to certain restrictions.

Transit duties on cotton were abolished some years ago by the Chief of Ali-Rajpur. On the occasion of the Jubilee of the Queen-Empress in 1887 all transit duties throughout the State were remitted.

In 1864 the Chief engaged (No. CCXXXV) to give, with full jurisdiction, any lands which might be required for the construction of a railway.

The State of Ali-Rajpur, like Jhabua, contributes Rs. 1,474-3-2 a year towards the cost of the Malwa Bhil Corps. This was arranged in 1868.

The area of Ali-Rajpur is 836 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 50,185; and the revenue is about Rs. 1,00,000.

The military force, including irregulars, consists (1905) of 13 cavalry, 186 armed police, and 4 guns classed as serviceable.

The State is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules.

The Chief receives a salute of 9 guns, which was finally approved in Her Majesty's Order in Council, dated the 26th June 1867.

3. BARWANI.

The Ranas of this State are Sisodiya Rajputs of the Udaipur family, who separated from the parent stock about the fourteenth century. From the beginning of the eighteenth century the power of the Ranas of Barwani gradually declined; their country, originally of considerable extent and situated between the Narbada and the Tapti, was devastated by the Marathas, and at length only a strip of the Satpura range, 80 miles in length, with the lowlands on either side, remained to them. They did not, however, become tributary to any of the Malwa Chiefs. Mohan Singh was Rana at the time of Sir John Malcolm's settlement of Malwa. He was succeeded by his son, Jaswant Singh.

In 1861, owing to the incapacity of Rana Jaswant Singh, the State was taken under British management and remained so until 1873, when it was restored to the Rana, on the understanding that his continuance in power would depend on his ability to administer his State rightly. On the death of Jaswant Singh he was succeeded by his younger brother, Indrajit Singh, the administration of the State remaining in the hands of the diwan, Muhammad Najaf Khan. In 1883 Rana Indrajit Singh, in order to test his capacity for ruling, was put in charge of the Anjar pargana of his State. The experiment proving fairly successful, he was recommended for further powers, and in January 1886 full administrative authority in his State was conceded to him, on the distinct understanding that the measure was tentative, and that, should it fail, it would be necessary to revert to the former arrangement.

A claim was preferred by Maharaja Holkar in 1868 to sovereignty over the village of Datwara, situated in the heart of Barwani, on the ground of possession at the time of Sir John Malcolm's settlement. This was disproved by the evidence, which showed that the village had been granted by the Chief of Barwani in 1771 as a service jagir to Naro Ganeshji, diwan of Ahalya Bai of Indore, and that for some years after 1812 the Barwani State having resumed the jagir received the revenues of the village. There was no evidence to show how the village passed from the successors of the diwan to the Maharaja of Indore; but as the grant to the diwan did not include sovereignty, and as the Maharaja failed to show that he held it on a different tenure, Government pronounced his claim to be untenable. In 1886 the right of Maharaja Holkar to collect excise revenue in the village of Datwara was disputed by the Barwani State, and it was decided that as the status of the Maharaja in that village was simply that of a jagirdar, he, in common with other jagirdars, had no title to the excise revenue of Datwara.

Rana Indrajit Singh died in 1894, and was succeeded by his son the present Rana, Ranjit Singh, who was installed in January 1895. Ranjit Singh was born in December 1888. Since his accession the administration of the State has been carried on by a superintendent under the direct control of the Political Agent.

The area of Barwani is 1,178 square miles; the population according to the census of 1901, is 76,136; and the revenue about Rs. 4,50,000

The State pays no tribute to, and receives no allowances from, the Government of India. It, however, pays Hali Rupees 4,000 a year (British Rupees 3,931 3-3) towards the cost of the Malwa Bhil Corps. This was settled in 1865.

The military force of Barwani consists (1905) of 27 cavalry, 271 armed police, and 13 guns, of which 11 are classed as unserviceable.

The State is liable to the operation of the nazaran rules.

The Rana receives a salute of 9 guns, which was finally approved in Her Majesty's Order in Council, dated the 26th June 1867.

4. JOBAT.

The Jobat family are Rathor Rajputs, being an offshoot of the Ali-Rajpur family. Rana Ranjit Singh died in 1874, when the succession of his son, Sarup Singh, a minor, was recognised by the Government of India. During the minority the Estate remained under management, and it was intended to place the young Chief in charge of it as soon as he showed himself qualified.

An Agreement (No. CCXXXVI) was made in 1864 by Rana Ranjit Singh to cede such land as might be required for a railway passing through his territories.

All transit duties, including those on cotton, have been abolished in the Estate.

Sarup Singh died in 1897, after a brief exercise of modified powers, and the succession of his son, Indrajit Singh, who was born on the 6th March 1889, was recognised by the Government of India. The administration of the State has since been carried on by a superintendent under the direct orders of the Political Agent.

The area of Jobat is 140 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 9,443; and the revenue is about Rs. 21,000.

The Estate maintains 5 cavalry, and 45 police men.

Nazarana is taken on succession.

5. KATHIWARA.

On the death of Thakur Zorawar Singh in 1865 he was succeeded by his brother, Bahadur Singh, with the consent of the Government of India.

Bahadur Singh died in June 1903, and the Government of India recognised the succession of Onkar Singh, grandson of the late Thakur. Onkar Singh was born in 1892. The Estate is under the superintendence of the Agency,

The area of Kathiwar is 69 square miles ; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 3,425, almost entirely Bhils ; and the revenue about Rs. 4,000.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules.

6. MATHWAR.

On the death of the Thakur of Mathwar in 1865 Government recognised the succession of his infant son, Ranjit Singh, and entrusted the management of the Estate temporarily to the Ali-Rajpur Darbar as desired by the deceased Thakur.

On the deposition of Gangadeo, Chief of Ali-Rajpur, in 1869, the care of Mathwar was entrusted to the superintendent, Muhammad Najaf Khan, who was then in charge of Ali-Rajpur. Thakur Ranjit Singh was entrusted with the full charge of his Estate in May 1883. The elder of the two widows of the late Thakur was murdered by the younger, for which the latter was executed with three others, accomplices in the crime.

Thakur Ranjit Singh died in 1901, and the Government of India recognised the succession of Bakht Singh, brother of the Jagirdar of Partabpura, and the nearest relative of the late Thakur. He manages the Estate under the general control of the Political Agent. Bakht Singh was born in 1871.

The area of Mathwar is 65 square miles ; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 1,022, almost entirely Bhils ; and the revenue is about Rs. 4,000.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules.

7. RATANMAL.

On the death of the late Thakur, Abhe Singh, in June 1878, he was succeeded by his son, Dhirap Singh, a minor. The latter died in 1899, and the Government of India recognised the succession of his son, Dasrath Singh, who was born in August 1894. The management of the Estate has been placed in the hands of a kamdar under the supervision of the Political Agent.

The area of Ratanmal is 32 square miles ; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 1,200, nearly all Bhils ; and the revenue is about Rs. 5,000.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules.

8. MULTHAN.*

Thakur Sawai Singh died in 1849, and was succeeded by his son, Dalpat Singh, who died in 1900 without leaving any heirs, natural or adopted. Kunwar Bharat Singh, the younger son of the Raja of Sailana, who was born in 1893, was eventually adopted by the Dowager Thakurani of Multhan and was selected by the Government of India as the successor of the late Thakur. During the minority of Bharat Singh the Estate is under the superintendence of the Agency.

The Thakur pays to the Dhar State Hali Rupees 18,044 under a Settlement (No. CCXXXVII) made in 1818. The payment is made direct to the Dhar State, and is not subject to any deductions. The Thakur holds no villages except those mentioned in his sanad. He makes his reports of crime to the Darbar.

The Dhar Darbar have conferred on the Thakurate specified civil and criminal jurisdiction within its own borders.

The area of Multhan is 91 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, 7,644; and the revenue about Rs. 60,000.

The Thakurate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

9. KACHHI BARODA.†

On 14th December 1818, a Settlement (No. CCXXXVIII) was made by Sir John Malcolm with Bhagwant Singh of Kachhi Baroda, by which the Thakur received sixteen villages, subject to an annual payment of Rs. 9,459 to Dhar, and engaged to be responsible for the peace of the villages. The Thakur died in 1856 without direct heirs. The matter was not reported to the Government of India, but under instructions from Sir R. Hamilton, then Agent to the Governor-General at Indore, the Dhar State was informed that as the Thakurate had become vacant, the guarantee of the British Government was at an end. The widow of Bhagwant Singh, however, adopted Dalel Singh and the adoption was confirmed by the Dhar State.

When the case came under the notice of Government in 1864, it was decided that the abolition of the guarantee was contrary to the policy and previous practice of the British Government. The guarantee was therefore restored. The relations of the Thakur to the Dhar State are precisely the same as those of the Chief of Multhan.

* Malcolm's "Malwa," No. 1 of Schedule No. III.

† Malcolm's "Malwa," No. 9 of Schedule No. I.

Thakur Dalel Singh died in 1896, and the Government of India recognised the succession of his eldest son, Zalim Singh. Zalim Singh died in June 1906, and was succeeded by his son, Beni Madho Singh, who was born on the 14th December 1904. The Estate has been placed under the management of the Agency owing to the minority of Beni Madho Singh.

The Thakurate having been in uninterrupted possession for over a hundred years of the two villages of Bhat Bamanda and Barodia, which are mentioned in the sanad of the Bakhtgarh Thakurate, it was decided to allow these villages to remain in the possession of Kachhi Baroda.

The area of Kachhi Baroda is 44 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 2,783; and the revenue about Rs. 30,000.

The Thakurate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

10. BAKHTGARH.*

The relations of the Thakur of Bakhtgarh to Dhar are the same as those of the Thakur of Multhan. He pays annually Hali Rupees 16,502 under a Settlement (No. CCXXXIX) made in 1818. In 1819 a dispute between the Thakurs of Bakhtgarh and Kachhi Baroda was settled (No. CCXL) through British mediation, by which the claims of the Bakhtgarh Thakur on the villages of Dhangikheri and Dudwal were recognised. That portion of the engagement which relates to these two villages is still in force, but the former part of the engagement, regarding the Mandloi dues, is said to have been modified by Sir Claud Wade in 1842. This question was re-opened in 1889.

In 1853 the late Thakur, Bhagwant Singh, succeeded his elder brother, Sawai Singh, who was the son and successor of Pirthi Singh, the Chief with whom the settlement was originally made. Bhagwant Singh had been accorded permission to adopt an heir on the understanding that if he should have a son he would pay his adopted son Rs. 400 a year for his maintenance. Bhagwant Singh died in 1869 without having adopted an heir, and left the selection to his widow. Her choice, with the consent of the Dhar Darbar, fell on Partab Singh, and was confirmed by the British Government. In accordance with the wishes of the late Thakur the Estate was managed under British supervision until 1882, when, on Partab Singh attaining his majority, he was placed in full charge of the Estate.

Partab Singh died in 1892, having adopted Sardar Singh of the Bham-bori family, to which Partab Singh also belonged; and the succession of

* Malcolm's "Malwa," No. 7 of Schedule No. I and Nos. 18 and 45 of Schedule No. III

Sardar Singh, who was born in 1868, was sanctioned by the Government of India.

The Thakur claimed that the villages of Bhat Bamanda and Barodia, which are mentioned in his Sanad (No. CCXXXIX), but which have long been in the possession of Kachhi Baroda, should be restored to him. Government decided not to admit the claim because Kachhi Baroda had been in uninterrupted possession of these villages for over a hundred years.

The area of the Bakhtgarh Estate is 65 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 6,774; and the revenue is about Rs. 60,000.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

11 BHAISOLA or DOTRIA.

Under a Settlement (No. CCXLI) made in 1818, Thakur Chandra Singh engaged to pay annually Rs. 2,501 to Dhar. Chandra Singh was succeeded in 1839 by his brother, Hamir Singh, and Hamir Singh, in 1842, by his adopted nephew, Bhim Singh. The latter died in 1892, and was succeeded by his minor son, Onkar Singh, who was born in 1886.

The relations of this Thakurate to Dhar are the same as those of Multhan. The Thakur holds from Gwalior the village of Pittanda on istamrari tenure (unguaranteed).

The area of Bhaisola is 16 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 3,040; and the revenue is about Rs. 12,000.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

The following settlement was concluded between the Maharaja Bheem Sing and the Kuar Pertab Sing at Jhabooa on the 22nd August 1821, viz., that the Maharaja Bheem Sing shall make over to his son Pertab Sing the charge of the concerns of the country, together with sayer duties and pergunnahs and executive authority according to the following detail :—

 " " Thandla.

 Kalia Pital.

Bhet Umraos, or the contributions of the nobles.

As aforesaid, the whole of the talookas, including Bhet Umraos, is made over to Kuar Sahib as well as Sebundeas, Mutasaddees, servants, &c.

The Maharaja retains in personal charge three talookas over and above the village of Kardawud of which he is to receive possession at the expiration of twelve months,—the talooka of Ranapoor, the talooka of Kanas, talooka of Bhagor; the kamdar of these villages to be nominated by the Rajah and to be under his control and obey his orders. The Kuar to attend to the Rajah's desires with respect to the talookas reserved by the Rajah and not to exercise direct authority in the Rajah's talookas. The Kuar is not to raise questions with regard to villages given to Paswanjee and Bapoo Lachmun, Motijee, Salim Sing, &c. The above to be adhered to, and any neglect on either the Rajah or the Kuar's side will be known to the Circar (meaning British Government) who will make on the occasion what arrangements it deems most proper. The above is conclusive.

TRANSLATION of a LETIER from RANA RANJIT SING, Chief of Jobut and his mother MAJEE SAHEB GUNGA SAROOP SREE JEET KUAR BAH, to MAJOR CUMMING, BHEEL AGENT, dated Chet Sudi 10th, Sambat 1920 (16th April 1864). No. 89.

Your letter No 396 has been received desiring that the terms of the second Article of the engagement which ceded "full authority" should be changed into one giving "full sovereignty," and that the condition of the engagement being binding on the succeeding generations might be added.

In accordance therewith the following six Articles, with answers, are appended:—

1. It is proper that as much land as is required for the railway, workshops, houses, &c, be given free of all charge in the same manner as is given by the British Government

Answer.—Any demand on this point consistent with the dimensions of our estate will meet with compliance.

2. The British Government to have full sovereignty over all lands required for the railway and its buildings, such condition being already agreed to by the Maharajahs Guicowar, Rewah, &c.

Answer.—We also agree to this condition in compliance with your wish that we should do so.

3. You have written that any disputes arising between persons connected with the railway and those belonging to the Darbar territory should be decided before the Political Officer.

Answer—This is correct.

4. You have written that all persons residing within the limits of the railway, whether subjects of the British Government or of the Darbar, will be amenable to the jurisdiction of the railway officer or to that of the British Government.

Answer.—This is correct.

5. The Darbar would profit much by the extension of the railroad into its territory, therefore should any one suffer loss owing to his house, land, &c., coming within railway limits, the Darbar should make it good.

Answer.—This is correct.

6. You say that through traffic by rail in the State limits will be free of duty, but the State will levy dues on goods imported into or exported from the State by Railway.

Answer.—Yes, but it would be better if a tariff for each article be fixed. You say that you will address me on the subject, and I beg that when doing so, you will take my State and its resources into consideration, and do as you think best.

No. CCXL.

SETTLEMENT between the THAKOORS of BUKHTGURH and KACHEE BARODA.

Whereas there has been a dispute between the Rajah Bhugwunt Sing of Kachee Baroda and the Thakoor Pirthee Sing of Bukhtgurb Mundloi of Budnawur relative to his zemindaree rights and the village of Dhangee Kheree and the produce of some cultivated land at the village of Doodwall, the Rajah Bhugwunt Sing not having paid the dues for the space of forty years and continuing not to pay them, and having a jaghire grant of the village of Dhangee Kheree on which a tankha of ₹375 annually was established in favour of Mundloi, and which he (the Rajah Bhugwunt Sing) paid according to the burbust or annual usage of assessment of the pergannah, I have on enquiry found that according to this method of proceeding the dispute will never be terminated; and therefore to settle the difference, the Rajah Bhugwunt Sing of Kachee Baroda shall pay a tankha for the village of Dhangee Kheree from the beginning of the year Sumbut 1875, which shall be fixed at Oogcin ₹694 annually including mall abwaub and extra charges, and shall pay Oogcin ₹250 yearly on account of the produce of the 250 beegahs of cultivated ground of the village of Doodwall; total Oogcin ₹944 shall be paid annually by the aforesaid Rajah to the aforesaid Mundloi and no excuse or evasion shall be made. If the aforesaid Rajah or his heirs shall make any evasion or raise difficulties in paying the sum on account of the village and the produce of the cultivated ground to the Mundloi or his issue, from that time the village and the portion of ground shall be taken out of the hands of the Rajah and given to the Mundloi, and the Rajah shall have no further claim upon the village or the ground.

Dated 15th October 1819, corresponding with 24th of Zulhij 1234 Hijree or 11th Kartick Boodee Sumbut 1876.

This agreement was concluded through my mediation this 11th October 1819.

and the last mentioned sum of Rupees 2,501 has been fixed as the full amount of revenue to be paid every year from 1878 Sumbut : therefore I will without objection continue to discharge the revenue and pay other usual dues of the Circar as I have hitherto done. (III) GUARANTEED BHUMIAS IN THE BHOPAWAR AGENCY.

There are altogether ten guaranteed Bhumias (alluvial proprietors) in this Agency.

1. KALI BAORI.

Two engagements were mediated by Sir John Malcolm between this Bhumia and the Dhar State. By the one mediated in 1821 (No. CCXLII), the Bhumia receives Hali Rupees 1,377 as well as Rs. 123 zamindari from the pargana of Dharampuri, in return for which he undertakes to guard the pargana and to be answerable for robberies. By the other (No. CCXLIII) he pays Hali Rupees 501 yearly in perpetuity to the Kamasdar of Dharampuri in consideration of which he holds six villages, and is answerable for the prevention of robberies.

The payments are made direct by, and to, the Dhar State without deductions.

Since 1845, the Chief has received annually Rs. 150 from Sindhia for the district of Bakaner (No. CCXLIV), and is answerable for robberies in 17 villages. The payment is made direct from Bakaner without deductions. He also holds the village of Kherwa in inam.

Bhumia Tej Sing died in 1874, and was succeeded by his son, Sher Singh, who was third in descent from Sawant Singh, for whom the original engagements were mediated by Sir John Malcolm. During the minority of Sher Singh the Estate was placed under the management of the Agency. The management was entrusted to Sher Singh in 1890. On his death, on the 27th March 1905, he was succeeded by his son, Bhagwant Singh, the present Bhumia, who was born on the 7th February 1887.

The area of this holding is 12 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 1,646; and the revenue is about Rs. 6,000.

The Thakurate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

2. RAJGARH.*

By a Sanad (No. CCXLV) concluded in 1819 the Bhumia relinquished 10 out of 12 villages in the Dharampuri pargana, which had been leased to him two years previously, and retained possession of the remaining two villages of Chandawar and Bhawania on a yearly payment of Rs. 302, and an agreement to keep the roads free from thieves, and to be answerable for all robberies.

But shortly after the conclusion of this engagement the Chief entered into a new arrangement with Dhar (No. CCXLVI), without the knowledge of the British Government, for only one of the villages on a payment of Rs. 101. The guarantee is held still to extend to that portion of the original agreement that is still in force under the subsequent modified agreement.

By another Engagement (No. CCXLVII), mediated by Sir John Malcolm in 1821, the Bhumia receives Rs. 500 from the Dharampuri Kachahri in addition to Rs. 58 from the zamindars. In return he is held answerable for all robberies in the pargana.

In 1846 Sir R. Hamilton mediated for the Bhumia a confirmation of his hakks in Hasilpur (vide Engagement No. CCXLVIII) under which he now receives Rs. 50 yearly from that Kachahri, and has possession of bighas of irrigated land in Sihod, together with other dues in that village.

In 1869 the claims of Holkar and Dhar to the villages of Rajgarh and Dhal, which had been in the undisputed possession of the Bhumia of Rajgarh since the settlement of Malwa, were investigated, and it was decided by Government that the Bhumia should enjoy the same authority as he had hitherto exercised in the villages in question, subject only to the control of the Political Agent, Bhopawar, and without any interference on the part of Indore or Dhar. A Sanad (No. CCXLIX) was granted to the Bhumia in 1871 confirming him in the possession of these villages.

The Bhumia was dispossessed of his villages held under the Indore Darbar (Hilabawar and Bhedlia with their hamlets) in 1860. The Indore Darbar had for many years contested his right to their possession, and it was only in 1887 that he was again put in possession of them on the same terms as he enjoyed from Dhar in the corresponding village of Jamanjheri.

The original tankhadars were Mohan Singh and his son, Fateh Singh, Hathi Singh succeeded his father, Fateh Singh, and Chain Singh succeeded his brother, Hathi Singh, in 1864. Chain Singh died in 1899, and was succeeded by his eldest son, Ratan Singh, who was born in 1871. He is tenth in descent from Tantaji who first settled in Rajgarh.

The area of Rajgarh is 20 square miles ; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 682 ; and the revenue is about Rs. 5,000.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

3 GARHI OR BHIAISAKHO.*

By the mediation of Sir John Malcolm in 1819, Barjor Singh and Hathi Singh of Kothide were jointly granted by the Dhar Darbar six villages in the pargana of Dharampuri, viz., Pipalda, Balwari, Lodhipura, Dudhi, Kailabao, and Bhodal. In return they were to be answerable for robberies committed by Bhils of their villages and were not to harbour robbers. Their claims on ten "paras" or hamlets were also recognised. Hathi Singh, however, relinquished his claim on the villages; three were given up to the Dhar State and the remaining three, Pipalda, Balwari and Lodhipura, were granted on lease to Barjor Singh (No. CCL). The guarantee is held still to extend to that portion of the original agreement which is in force by the terms of the subsequent modified agreement.

The late Bhumia, Nalar Singh, was fourth in descent from Jujhar Singh, the first of the Rajgarh family who settled in Kothide. He was the son of Barjor Singh, who was included in Sir John Malcolm's settlement, and succeeded his brother, Lachhman Singh, in 1864. He died at the close of 1890, and was succeeded by Raghunath Singh, born in 1880, whose succession was sanctioned by the Government of India in February 1892. At the same time the status of Garhi as a guaranteed Bhumiat was affirmed.

The area of this Estate is 6 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 564; and the revenue is about Rs. 3,000.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

4. KOTHIDE.

The Bhumia of Kothide is descended in a direct line from the eldest son of Jujhar Singh, the ancestor of the Bhumia of Garhi or Bhaisakho (vide supra).

Bhumia Moti Singh was the grandson of Hathi Singh of Garhi, mentioned in Sir John Malcolm's settlement. A reference to the account of Garhi will show that Hathi Singh relinquished his claim on the villages which he held in Dharampuri. The Bhumia is now in possession of the hamlets of Kothide, Malipura, Ambughati, Jhirnia, Temria, and Bhaisakho.

Moti Singh died in June 1895, and was succeeded by his brother, Daulat Singh, who died in 1901. The Government of India recognised the succession of Daulat Singh's eldest son, Mohan Singh, who was born in 1886.

* Malcolm's "Malwa," No. 7 of Schedule No. III.

Mohan Singh being a minor, the Estate is under the management of the Agency.

The area of Kothide is 10 square miles ; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 328 ; and the revenue is about Rs. 1,400.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

5. BHARUDPURA.*

Two engagements were mediated with the Dhar State by Sir John Malcolm on behalf of Manrup Singh, Bhumia of Bharudpura. By the first Engagement (No. CCLI) he was to receive Rs. 500 annually from the Dharampuri pargana, and was answerable for all robberies between the Manand Karam rivers. The second Engagement (No. CCLII) grant six villages in pargana Dharampuri in perpetuity on an annual payment of Rs. 525, and one village on an annual payment of Rs. 201 ; but by a subsequent agreement between the Bhumia and the Dhar State, without the mediation of the British Government, the Chief pays now only Rs. 327 for three villages, the rest having been giving up. The guarantee is held still to extend to that portion of the original settlement that is still in force by the terms of the subsequent modified engagement.

The Bhumia also holds the village of Kunripura in Mandu in perpetuity, paying Rs. 50 a year, and in return holds himself responsible for all robberies in the village, and is liable to render military service (vide Engagement No. CCLIII).

Bhumia Udai Singh, like the Kothide Bhumia, was also a descendant of Jujhar Singh of Garhi, and was the grandson of Manrup Singh, for whom Sir John Malcolm mediated engagements. Udai Singh died in 1893, and was succeeded by his eldest son, Sawai Singh, who died in 1895. On his death the Government of India recognised the succession of his son, Mogat Singh, who was born in 1893. The Estate is under management owing to the minority of the Bhumia.

The area of Bharudpura is 22 square miles ; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 1,259 ; and the revenue is about Rs. 6,000.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

6. CHIKTIABAR.*

The late Bhumia, Umed Singh, was a grandson of Manrup Singh of Bharudpura (supra) whose younger son, Amar Singh, was granted Chiktiabar and other lands by his brother, Bishan Singh, under the mediation of Captain Sandys in 1839 (CCLIV).

Umed Singh died in November 1903, and was succeeded by his eldest son, Kishen Singh, who was born in 1875. His succession was recognised by the Government of India.

The Bharudpura Bhumiat is responsible to the Dhar Darbar for the tankha payable on account of the village, and Chiktiabar enjoys no civil or criminal powers.

The area of the Estate is 2 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 283; and the revenue is about Rs. 825.

Chiktiabar is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

7. JAMNIA.†

The Bhumia of Jamnia is descended from Nadir Singh, the principal freebooter in the western Vindhya at the time of the settlement of Malwa.

Sir John Malcolm concluded an engagement with Nadir Singh, by which he was to receive from Holkar a tankha of Rs. 2,564, and to protect the country from Jam to Nalchha.

On Nadir's expulsion from Malwa, an engagement was made with his son, Bhiman Singh, on the 8th May 1820 (No. CCLV), guaranteeing to him from the Holkar State all the tankhas which his father received, and the Indore Darbar has furnished Parwanas (No. CCLVI), by which the Bhumia receives tankhas amounting to Rs. 2,505 from several districts. A lease (Nos. CCLV and CCLVII) of the village of Kheri is also held from Holkar at a rent of Rs. 701, from which an abatement of Rs. 150 is made for the protection of the Durjanpur pass. It has been decided by Government that the rights of the Bhumia of Jamnia in the village of Kheri, as secured by the mediation of Sir John Malcolm in 1820, were guaranteed in perpetuity.

* NOTE.—This Estate was not included in the edition of 1876. Of the four Estates of Sillani, Changarh, Jamti, and Chhota Kasrawad which were then described, but are now omitted here, the first three are now under the administration of the Central Provinces Government. The last lapsed in 1867, and was made over to Holkar in 1868.

It has since been held (1908) that Chiktiabar has been wrongly shown as separately guaranteed and that it is an integral part of the Bharudpura Estate.

† Malcolm's "Malwa," Nos. 4 and 5 of Schedule No. II, and Nos. 15, 16 and 22 of Schedule No. III.

Two Engagements (No. CCLV) were also mediated between Sindhia on the one hand and Nadir Singh and his son, Bhiman Singh, on the other. The first engagement granted in perpetuity to Nadir Singh four villages in Dikthan on payment of Rs. 251 annually. The second granted the village of Kanjrod to Bhiman Singh on payment of Rs. 401 a year.

An Engagement (No. CCLVIII and note to CCLI) was also mediated between Bhiman Singh and the Dhar State, under which he received Rs. 65 from the Dharampuri district on condition of being responsible for robberies. He also received (No. CCLV) the village of Dabir in Dharampuri on a quit-rent of Rs. 150.

In 1868 an enquiry was made into the claims of Sindhia, Holkar and Dhar to some of the 47 hamlets or "paras" held by the Bhumia of Jamnia, independently of the lands guaranteed to him by Sir John Malcolm, and over which Nadir Singh and his successors had exercised a quasi-independent jurisdiction ever since the settlement of Malwa. Looking to the length of time which had elapsed, and to the inconclusive and doubtful nature of much of the documentary evidence that had been adduced in support of these claims, Government decided to maintain the existing arrangements and to continue to the Bhumia the exercise of jurisdiction within the 47 "paras," subject only to the control of the Political Agent and without interference on the part of the authorities of the adjoining States. A Sanad (No. CCLIX) was subsequently (in 1871) granted to the Bhumia confirming him in the possession of the 47 hamlets. An appeal against this decision was preferred by Holkar, but Government declined to re-open the case.

Bhiman Singh was succeeded by his son, Moti Singh, and the latter in 1863 by the present Bhumia, Hamir Singh, who was born in 1846.

The area of the Estate is 40 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 2,877; and the revenue is about Rs. 24,000.

The Bhumiat is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

8. MOTA BARKHERA.*

This Chief has relations both with Dhar and Sindhia which were settled by Sir John Malcolm in 1820. By the settlement with Dhar (No. CCLX) the Bhumia was to hold in the pargana of Dharampuri seven villages on a payment of Rs. 1,526 yearly; in the pargana of Nalchha three villages on a perpetual rent of Rs. 201; and in the pargana of Jahangirpur one village in perpetuity on payment of Rs. 61 annually. He was to be answerable for robberies within his limits, under penalty of forfeiting his villages. The Bhumia now pays Rs. 866 only for three villages in Dharampuri, four having been given back, and the payment having been reduced by agreement with the Dhar State without the knowledge or consent of the British Government. The guarantee, however, is held still to extend to that portion of the original settlement that is still in force under the subsequent modified engagement. The tankha is paid direct to Dhar without any deductions. The Bhumia furnishes reports of crime to the Dhar Darbar.

* Malcolm's "Malwa," Nos. 8 and 14 of Schedule No. III.

The original sanad of the settlement with Sindhia Nos. (CCLXI and CCLXII) was given to the present Bhumia's father, Hate Singh. By this sanad the Bhumia is to hold certain villages in the Sagor pargana in perpetuity, paying a revenue of Hali Rupees 1,503 besides dues, which raise the amount of his payments to Rs. 1,641. The tankha is paid direct without deductions. The Bhumia also holds (No. CCLXIII) in perpetuity five villages in Sindhia's pargana of Dikthan; for these villages he pays Rs. 1,403-8.

The late Bhumia, Bharat Singh, was the grandson of Fateh Singh, who was the grandson of Bakht Singh, fifth in descent from Tanaji, and the first of the family who came from Mandu and settled in Barkhera. He succeeded his father, Hate Singh. Bharat Singh died in 1896, and was succeeded by his adopted son, Daulat Singh, whose succession was recognised by the Government of India. Daulat Singh was born in 1874.

In 1855 the Estate was, on account of its indebtedness, placed under the superintendence of the British authorities, and remained so for three years.

The area of the Estate is 44 square miles; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 6,027; and the revenue is about Rs. 25,000.

The Bhumia is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

Kathoria.—The family of Kathoria is a recent offshoot of the Mota Barkhera family.

The present Bhumia, Kishor Singh, was born about 1872, and is third in descent from Chain Singh, the younger brother of Fateh Singh of Mota Barkhera. The gross revenue of the Estate is Rs. 2,000.

In 1834, owing to disputes between Chain Singh and the son of Fateh Singh, a Settlement (No. CCLXIV) was effected by Captain Sandys, under which the village of Kathoria (one of the villages held from Dikthan by Mota Barkhera through Sir John Malcolm's mediation) was awarded to Chain Singh in return for an annual payment of Rs. 361-8-0 to Mota Barkhera. The Bhil " para " of Shikarpura (one of the fifteen " paras " held jointly from Dhar by Mota and Chhota Barkhera through Sir John Malcolm's mediation) was also awarded to Chain Singh, who became responsible for the yearly payment of Rs. 2 per plough to the Darbar, and also for the payment of zamindars' haks. Two hundred and fifty bighas of cultivated land in two villages of Mota Barkhera were also granted rent-free to the Bhumia, and Rs. 14 yearly on account of bhet in seven villages.

9. CHHOTA BARKHERA. *

The original Settlement (No. CCLXV) of Chhota Barkhera was effected by Sir John Malcolm in 1820. The Bhumia holds two villages in inam ; and he was to have one village on payment of Hali Rupees 752 to commence after seven years. By mutual agreement between the Bhumia and the Dhar State in 1822, without the knowledge of the British Government, the arrangement was altered, and Rs. 151 only are now paid for four villages, the others having been given up. In the original sanad the Bhumia was also made answerable, jointly with the Bhumia of Mota Barkhera under penalty of forfeiture of his villages, for robberies in fifteen villages. The guarantee is held still to extend to that portion of the original settlement that is still in force under the subsequent modified engagement. The Bhumia has no power to reduce the tankha. He furnishes reports of crime to Dhar.

The late Bhumia, Mogat Singh, was the great-grandson of Prithi Singh, who was sixth in descent from Tanaji, the original settler in Barkhera. He succeeded in 1889, with the consent of the Government of India, on the death of his father, Moti Singh. Mogat Singh died in March 1904, and was succeeded by his eldest son, Bherun Singh, who was born in 1889. The Estate is under the management of the Agency.

The area of this holding is 23 square miles ; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 1,929 ; and the revenue is about Rs. 5,000.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

10. NIMKHERA. †

Under a Settlement (No. CCLXVI) effected by Sir John Malcolm, the Bhumia holds the village of Tirla in hereditary succession, paying annually Hali Rupees 500 tankha, and is answerable for all robberies between Dhar and Sultanpur under penalty of forfeiture of the village. His tribute is paid direct to Dhar, and no deductions are made from it. Criminal reports are also sent to the Dhar Darbar. The Bhumia further pays Rs. 60 as zamindari and dami bhet.

*Malcolm's "Malwa," No 5 of Schedule No. III.

†Malcolm's "Malwa," No. 4 of Schedule No. III.

The original grantee was Sheo Singh, who was succeeded by his son, Bhima Singh, and he by his adopted son, Kanak Singh. In 1863 Government sanctioned the adoption by Kanak Singh of his cousin, Daryao Singh, as his successor in the event of failure of direct male heirs. Kanak Singh died in 1864 without issue, and Daryao Singh accordingly succeeded to the tankha. Daryao Singh died in 1894, and his eldest son, Indrajit Singh, who was born in 1888, succeeded him. No nazarana was levied, the succession being in the direct line.

The Bhumias of Nimkhera are Bhilalas by descent, and their ancestors, according to tradition, originally came from Marwar. They hold the Hindola pargana by prescriptive right without payment, and they also hold the village of Kuar in inam from the Jagir of Bag.

The area of this holding is 91 square miles ; the population, according to the census of 1901, is 4,641 ; and the revenue is about Rs.18,000.

The Estate is liable to the operation of the nazarana rules for guaranteed and mediatized Chiefships.

We, Dugro Sah, putwaree of Nanpore in elaka Rajpore ; Jey Sing, Thakoor of elaka Jobut ; Bapoojee Gungadhur, karkoon of Kooksee ; and Balajee, putwaree of talooka Soosaice in pergunnah Chiculda, beg to report that the case connected with the claim of Kalee Bowree to the cesses, "bhet" and "ghoogree," receivable from the pergunnah of Bankaneer subject to the elaka of Sindia, having been referred to us by you, Kalee Bowree submitted to us a statement of the above claim, and the kamaisdar of Bankaneer also laid before us a statement respecting the "tuhnamah," or engagement written in 1851 Sumbut. After the perusal of these two statements, we the arbitrators have decided that the kamaisdar of Bankaneer should pay yearly Rupees 150 to the Bhoomias, Puddum Sing and Ubhoy Sing of Kalee Bowree, on account of the cesses, "bhet" and "ghoogree," as well as of the money levied at the nakahs or chowkeys. It is also proper that the said Bhoomias should keep three men in attendance, and adopt such measures as may prevent the commission of thefts in the 17 villages situated in Bankaneer. They shall have no claim whatever on the aforesaid pergunnah on account of the cesses, "bhet" and "ghoogree," or on account of the money realized at the nakahs or chowkeys. If I fail to account for a theft committed in the elaka, the usual cesses such as bhet, ghogree, etc., receivable by me, may be resumed by the Circar, I will make no dispute on account of bhets, etc., for villages for which there may be no receipts extant among the records. TRANSLATION of an ENGAGEMENT executed by FUTTEH SING, Potal, and his brother KOONWUR CHAEN SING of Barkhera, in Pergunnah Naulcha attached to the fort of Mandoo, to RAMCHUNDER RAO PUAR, through BAPOOJEE RAGHOONATH.

Whereas the Circar has issued an order to make arrangements in killa Mandoo, Naulcha, Dhurrumpooree, Pergunnah Dhar, to prevent the predatory excursions of the Bheels : therefore I represented that, in consequence of my villages having been laid waste, I have no means of employing sebundeeds for the purpose of checking the Bheels ; and request that the Circar may be pleased to advance me such amount of money as may enable me to entertain 50 sebundeeds for six months. I also promise that after six months, when my villages shall have been improved, I will serve the Circar and pay the sebundeeds out of the income of the said villages, and if I fail to put a stop to the raids of the Bheels and Bhamas, I will refund from Bagree the amount paid to them in the six months. The sebundeeds shall locate at the thannahs of Naulcha and Dhurrumpooree. I will without any objection act up to the orders of the Circar's Karkoon at the thannah. I will neither employ nor dismiss a sebundee without report to the karkoon. I will draw pay according to the rules of the mehal. I will serve wherever and whenever the Circar may direct me. I will adopt measures to prevent the Bheels and Bhamas committing plunder ; I will reside at the thannahs of Naulcha and Dhurrumpooree and serve the Circar. If I fail to put a stop to the robberies and plunders of the Bheels and Bhamas and to protect the roads, the Circar shall resume all the inam and Peshcush villages which I hold. And as the Circar has got the village of Pagara in Pergunnah Dhurrumpooree improved through a banker, I will give security for the amount of money which the said banker may have disbursed on account of the above village, and redeem in the course of two months, from 1st Maugh Boodee, the document which has been given to the banker for the purpose of its being returned to the Circar.

TRANSLATION of a ROOBOKAREE issued by CAPTAIN EVANS,
Agent at Dhar, on the 16th September 1847.

Gobind Rao Karkoon and Mugun Lall Kanoongoe presented to me a petition on the part of the kamaisdar of Sagore, stating that Bhoomia Hutteh Sing of Barkhera holds three villages situated in the aforesaid pergunnah and praying that, besides the sum of Rupees 1,503, which has been laid down in the lease and engagement as the amount of rent for the above three villages, the said Bhoomia might be directed to pay the cesses or bhets due to amlahs, zemindars, furnavees, girassiahs etc., as mentioned in the decision. With the petition they submitted a memorandum of the cesses for Rupees 144, viz., Rupees 72 on account of the bhet of the troops; Rupees 18 on account of the bhet of mehal kamaisdar; Rupees 48 on account of the bhet of zemindar; and Rupees 6 on account of the bhet of furnavees; and mentioned that out of the above amount of Rupees 144 a sum of Rupees 72 only was paid yearly during the last four years, and that the remainder was due. The said Gobind Rao Karkoon and Mugun Lall Kanoongoe were then asked to state why no petition was made before this, as the decision in question was passed four years ago, and to give proofs that they received the cesses according to the memorandum. They said in reply that they used to take cesses, "babtee," etc., from the aforesaid Bhoomia, and the local arbitrators having told them not to levy cesses, they wrote to their employer at Lashkar on the subject, but, not having received any answer from him, they were unable to act up to the decision. They also mention that they now, having received orders from the Lashkar to take cesses according to the decision, have waited upon me. In order to prove that they received the cesses yearly, according to the memorandum, for 16 years from the date of the lease to the date of the aforesaid decision, they submitted statements for that period. It appears that the bhet was paid every year. The said Bhoomia in answer asserted that, besides the rent laid down in the lease, he paid the sum of Rupees 72 on account of "bhets" due to amlahs, zemindars, and furnavees, from the date of the said decision to 1903 Sumbut. He further alleged that before the date of the above decision the kamaisdar used to take by force from him yearly Rupees 100 on account of "babtee kirkol," etc.; Rupees 197 on account of "doanni;" Rupees 54 on account of "amlah bhet," etc.; and Rupees 1,503 on account of rent, etc., after deduction of a trifling amount of "chuhoot" and "siropah." The Bhoomia also said that, with the exception of "zemindaree" and "furnavees bhets," all other cesses are paid.

The fact that the cesses, "amlah bhet," etc., were paid to the kamaisdar of Sagore has, in my opinion, been established by usage, and is borne out in documents. Hutteh Sing holds no paper in support of his assertion. He acknowledged to have paid the bhet. No proof was given to show that the statements submitted by the kamaisdar were false.

It is therefore ordered that the said Bhoomia be directed to pay yearly into the cutcherry at Sagore Rupees 72 on account of amlah bhet as well as the cesses or bhets due to zemindar, furnavees, girassia, &c., according to the established usage of the pergunnah, and that a copy of this be given to the plaintiff and defendant respectively.

TRANSLATION of a ROOBOKAREE issued by CAPTAIN EVANS, Agent at Dhar, on the 7th January 1846.

Hutteh Sing, Bhoomia of Burkhera, represented to me that he holds five villages in Pergunnah Dekthan in istumraree tenure; and that the kamaisdar realized from him, as rent of those villages, a sum more than mentioned in the lease and engagement; and prayed that the kamaisdar might be directed to collect from him such an amount of rent as is laid down in the engagement. The said Bhoomia having been desired by me to produce the perpetual lease of the five villages held by him said that the lease had been lost for some years. With a view to make an enquiry into the matter the kamaisdar of Dekthan was ordered to produce the engagement executed by the said Bhoomia as well as the annual statements of rent collected from him.

Ballajee Punt Dewan, on the part of the aforesaid kamaisdar, submitted this day to the Court statements of rent realized from the said Bhoomia from 1244 to 1252 Fuslee. From these it appeared that from 1246 to 1252 Fuslee the said Bhoomia paid yearly, as rent for the above five villages, a sum of Rupees 1,403-8 inclusive of cesses such as "sarkaree babtee," "zemin-daree bhet," "girass," "bhet farkhatee," bhet, &c. The statements also showed that in 1244 and 1245 the Bhoomia paid yearly a sum more than the above amount.

It is therefore ordered that the said Bhoomia pay into the treasury at Dekthan the same amount of money as he has hitherto done.

No. CCLXVI.

TRANSLATION of an ISTAMRAR PATTa granting in perpetuity the village of TIRLA in DHAR on the part of RAMCHANDAR RAO PUAR, Chief of DHAR, to SHEO SING BHUMIA of NIMKHERA in the HINDOLA PARGANA.

The above-mentioned village has been continued to the Bhumia and his predecessors by the Kamasdar and the Dhar Government in accordance with the royal grants enjoyed by them from ancient date on the following conditions :—

To protect the villages of the Dhar district from the borders of Sultanpur to the town of Dhar. None of the Bheels or robbers, etc., were to be permitted to rob the villagers and the inhabitants of Dhar of their cattle and property. No travellers or merchants were to be subjected to any injury or molestation.

The predecessors of the Bhumia held this village on the above conditions and paid annually to the Dhar State a tankha amounting to Hali Rupees 350 or three hundred and fifty only.

The Bhumia having failed to observe the conditions above specified during the present anarchy, the ryots, merchants and others suffered serious losses. The Dhar State in consequence confiscated the village of Tirla, and was put to great expenses on account of its management and repopulation and in erecting a fort and a wall.

As peace has now been restored to the country by the grace of God and the interference of the British Government, the Bhumia has been forced to fall back on the Dhar State. He requests that his ancestral village may be given back to him on the following conditions:—

That he will protect the road between Sultanpur and Dhar. That the inhabitants of the intervening villages as well as travellers will be protected by him from injury. That he will put down the robberies committed by Bheels and others. That he will be responsible for and make good all losses that may be caused by Bheel robbers to travellers, traders and ryots. That he will be always obedient to this Government, and will afford no shelter or refuge to robbers and malefactors. That he and his successors, generation after generation, will remain true to the above engagements. In default of which the Government is at liberty to confiscate the village.

In consideration of the services rendered to the State in former times by the Bhumia, it has been settled, through the mediation of Sir John Malcolm, that the village be restored to him on the above conditions in perpetuity, he paying to the Dhar State an annual sum of Rupees 500, Ujjain or Indore Currency, as tankha.

The terms of the settlements are as follows:—

APPENDIX No. I.—Page 31.

MEMORANDUM OF AGREEMENT MADE THE FIFTEENTH DAY OF JULY ONE THOUSAND EIGHT HUNDRED AND NINETY-SIX BETWEEN THE GOVERNMENT OF HIS HIGHNESS THE MAHARAJAH SINDIA OF GWALIOR (HEREINAFTER CALLED HIS HIGHNESS' GOVERNMENT) OF THE FIRST PART, AND THE INDIAN MIDLAND RAILWAY COMPANY, "LIMITED" (HEREINAFTER CALLED THE COMPANY) OF THE OTHER PART, FOR THE WORKING OF HIS HIGHNESS' BINA-GUNA RAILWAY (HEREINAFTER CALLED THE RAILWAY).

1. This Agreement shall remain in force for a period of ten years from the date of the opening of the Railway for public traffic of all kinds, and shall be terminable then, or on the 30th June or 31st December in any year thereafter, on twelve months' notice in writing being given by either party to this Agreement.

2. The Railway during the term of this Agreement is to be worked by the Company as part of its own undertaking, subject to the same arrangements as are in force with the Company itself under its contract with Government except as hereinafter modified.

3. All communications between His Highness' Government and the Company under this Agreement shall pass through the Resident at Gwalior and the Consulting Engineer to the Government of India, Lucknow Circle, or such other Consulting Engineer as the Government of India may from time to time appoint for the purpose. The said Consulting Engineer shall also, for the purposes of this Agreement, undertake the same general duties with respect to the Railway as are entrusted to him by Government of India in respect to the Indian Midland Railway.

4. The Railway shall be constructed, in every respect, in a substantial and satisfactory manner, and the works, permanent-way, buildings, fixed machinery, etc., on it shall be in every particular up to the standard applicable to State Railways, or equal to that on which the Company's own line has been built, and stations and other buildings shall be fully equipped with the usual fittings, furniture and appliances.

5. To meet the loss of ballast resulting from the subsidence of embankments during the period following the opening of the Railway, all embankments shall be fully ballasted, in the first instance, with sand or sound moorum temporary ballast; the cost of any additional ballast found necessary during the twelve months subsequent to opening being provided at the cost of His Highness' Government.

6. When the Railway is declared to be completed, it shall be inspected by the Consulting Engineer, and shall be passed by him as fit for the conveyance of passenger and goods traffic, before it shall be made over to the Company under the terms of this Agreement. Further : schedules shall be prepared by the representatives of the Railway and the Company of alterations and additions to existing works, fixed machinery, etc., and of additional works, fixed machinery, etc., that may be necessary for the proper completion of the Railway, in accordance with the requirements above noted or the orders of the Consulting Engineer, in view to the works, fixed machinery, etc., in question being provided at the cost of the Railway. A list giving particulars of all furniture and moveable equipment at stations shall be prepared at the same time.

7. Such schedules and list shall be submitted to the Agent of the Company in India, and when they are finally accepted by him on behalf of the Company, and by the Consulting Engineer, His Highness' Government shall hand over the Railway to the Company, and the Company will accept the Railway for the purposes of this Agreement, and will forthwith open the Railway for public traffic,—His Highness' Government guaranteeing to the Company full and undisturbed possession of the Railway at all times during the continuance of this Agreement.

8. All additional works, and alterations in existing works that are not of the nature of repairs, which may from time to time be agreed upon, between His Highness' Government and the Company, as necessary for the efficient working of the Railway, shall be carried out by the Company at the cost of His Highness' Government on estimates sanctioned and approved by His Highness' Government and the Consulting Engineer.

9. The Company shall maintain the Railway in good repair and in good working order and condition up to the standard of its own Line, and to the satisfaction of the Consulting Engineer, upon the following terms—that is to say, the costs and expenses of such maintenance shall be borne by the Company so far only as such maintenance shall be necessary to make good damage caused by the ordinary wear and tear incidental to the use and working of the said Railway and works by the Company, and the conveyance of traffic thereon by the Company, and not further or otherwise ; and the Company shall not bear nor be put to any cost or expense for or in respect of any repair, restoration, renewal, or replacement necessary to make good any damage that may occur to the said Railway and works, or any portion thereof, which may arise from defective original construction, or may be caused by any extraordinary casualty not due to defects in the maintenance or working of the railway by the Company, and to the occurrence of which the Company shall not have in any way contributed by any act, neglect, or default of their own. Provided, that if in any case His Highness' Government and the Company shall not agree as to the liabilities of the Company under this section, the matter in question shall be referred to arbitration as hereinafter provided, and the decision arrived at on such arbitration shall be binding on both parties to the reference.

10. All additional works and additions to and alterations of existing works within the Company's boundaries, as may be necessary at Bina Junction in consequence of the connection of the Railway with the Company's Line, shall be carried out by the Company at its own cost, on estimates sanctioned and approved by His Highness' Government and the Consulting Engineer, and the Company shall receive from His Highness' Government rent at the rate of 4 per cent. per annum on all such expenditure as may be so incurred in respect to works for the sole use of the Railway; as also on the Capital cost of existing works which may be used solely by the Railway. Similarly: rent shall also be paid at the same rate by His Highness' Government to the Company on a proportion (to be arranged in accordance with established practice) of the cost of existing works or expenditure which may be incurred in additions to or alterations of such works, or in providing additional works which may be used jointly by the Railway and the Company. It shall be understood that by reason of the payment of rent in respect to works in sole or joint use within the Company's premises, His Highness' Government shall acquire no right of property thereby.

11. During the continuance of this contract the Company shall have entire control of the Railway, shall supply all staff required for the supervision and working, including that for audit and accounts, and shall supply all locomotives and other rolling stock, fuel and working stores required for the efficient working of the Railway.

12. The Company shall charge such rates, fares, and tolls and shall make such rules, conditions, and arrangements in respect of the traffic on the Railway as are now, or shall be from time to time in force on the Indian Midland Railway; and it shall be understood that the Company will not make or give any undue or unreasonable preference or advantage to, or in favour of, any particular person or Company, or any description of traffic, or subject any particular person or Company to any undue or unreasonable prejudice or disadvantage, but shall do all in its power to develop traffic on the Railway.

13. All costs, charges and expenses incurred by the Company, in connexion with the maintenance, management, use and working of the Railway, and the conveyance of traffic thereon shall be paid by the Company; provided that in the event of the telegraph lines and instruments not being the property of the Railway, the cost of rent (and maintenance)* of the same shall be a charge against the Railway.

14. The gross receipts of the Railway are to be collected and treated as receipts of the Company, and the Company shall pay the same into the Government Treasury in the same way as their own earnings. The expression "gross receipts" in this Agreement means and includes gross earnings from coaching and goods traffic and moneys received by the Company from the working of any telegraphs or telegraphic appliances which are the property of the Railway or of which the Government of India have allowed the Company the exclusive use for the purposes of the Railway; also all sums received as rent, and all other sundry receipts usually treated as Railway Revenue.

* The words "and maintenance" were subsequently omitted.

15. For working and maintaining the Railway, as hereinbefore provided, the Company shall retain 50 per cent. of the Gross Receipts of the Railway of each half-year; and shall receive rent for works, etc., in sole and joint use at Bina Junction as laid down in clause 10 of this Agreement.

16. The Company shall keep a distinct and separate account of the gross receipts of the Railway. Such accounts shall be made up half-yearly to the 30th day of June and the 31st day of December in each year, or to such other days as may at any time be prescribed for Indian State Railways, and so soon as the half-yearly accounts of the Company have been passed by the Consulting Engineer, and not later than three months after the close of each half-year, the Company shall render to His Highness' Government through the Consulting Engineer a summary of the accounts of the Railway signed by the Consulting Engineer and by the Government Examiner of Accounts attached to the Indian Midland Railway, and shall pay over to His Highness' Government the amount shown therein as due to them. Every revenue account shall be considered as settled at the expiration of three calendar months after the same shall have been submitted to His Highness' Government, but nevertheless any error which may subsequently be discovered therein shall be corrected in the next or in any subsequent revenue account.

17. If His Highness' Government and the Railway Company shall fail to agree touching any matter with respect to which their agreement is required by this contract, or if, in any case not herein specially provided for, any dispute, question, or controversy shall at any time arise between His Highness' Government and the Company, touching this contract, or any clause or thing herein contained, or the construction thereof, or any matter connected with this contract or the operation thereof or the rights, duties, or liabilities of either party in relation to the contract, then and in every such case the matter to which His Highness' Government and the Company shall fail to agree, or the matter in difference, as the case may be, shall be referred for the decision of the Government of India.

APPENDIX No. IV.—Page 32.

COPY OF LETTER NO. 365 R. T., DATED THE 27TH MARCH 1900, FROM THE GOVERNMENT OF INDIA TO THE AGENT TO THE GOVERNOR GENERAL FOR CENTRAL INDIA.

I am directed to inform you that Her Majesty's Secretary of State for India has decided that the Rajputana-Malwa Railway and connected lines shall continue to be worked by the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway Company, during the interval between the 30th June 1900, when the present agreement for working the Rajputana-Malwa Railway will terminate, and the 30th June 1906, when the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway Company's contract is determinable.

2. Under the terms which the Secretary of State has accepted to form the basis of a revised agreement, the working expenses of the whole of the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway System including all branch and subsidiary lines, except those of different gauge to the portion of the main lines — Rajpipla and the Gaekwar's Dhaboi Railways — with which they are connected, are to be charged to one account and divided pro rata over the various component sections of the system in proportion to their respective shares in the gross earnings.

3. As, however, the agreement which was approved of in the Government of India letter No. 1251 R. T., dated the 16th December 1899, provides for the working of the Nagda-Ujjain Railway at the same percentage of gross earnings as obtains on the standard gauge system, worked by the Bombay, Baroda and Central India Railway Company, I am to request that His Highness the Maharaja Scindia may be asked if he will agree to the slight modification involved by the arrangement accepted by the Secretary of State in the basis for calculating the working expenses of the Nagda-Ujjain Railway during the period referred to in the first paragraph of this letter.

SCHEDULE I.

Cost of joint works at Nagda station, interest and maintenance charges on which, at the rates specified below, are to be divided between the Godhra-Rutlam-Nagda Railway and the Nagla-Ujjain Railway in proportion to the weight of traffic of each line dealt with at Nagda, vide Clause 9 (a) of the Agreement.

No copy of the document shown in this Volume as No. LIII is forthcoming at present from the Darbar's records ; nor has the counterpart been found which Sir John Malcolm engaged to deliver, duly ratified by the Hon'ble the Governor-General in Council, within one month. All that has been found is the following copy of a document in Persian dated four days later, viz, the 6th Shawal 1220 A H, from camp near Amritsar which may possibly be a copy of a document delivered by Jeswant Rao Holkar in pursuance of Article 9. It contains 15 articles of which the first 8 reproduce the first eight articles of the treaty as printed, but with certain additions and a few differences. The subjects of the remaining seven articles are respectively :—

9. The Company to compose the differences between Holkar and the Peshwa.
10. The Nagpurwala (Bhousla Raja) to be made to return certain property of which he had cheated Holkar.
11. Certain Jagirs.
12. Holkar's relations with Daulat Rao Scindia.
13. Holkar resigns his possessions in Hindustan.
14. The Company not to interfere between Holkar and the Raja of Jaipur.
15. Return of certain property.

A Hindi copy of the same document, bearing the Maharaja's seal, has also been found. It is dated the 7th Shawal and substitutes for the 14th and 15th articles above described, and article providing that the Company shall not interfere with Holkar's enjoyment, as of old, of Sardeshmukhi, Patelki, and other rights in Khandesh and the Deccan.

The additions which these documents make in the first eight articles are :—

ARTICLE 3.

The passage "Mewar Chambal" is replaced by the words "Malwa, Nimar, Kanjiwara, Umatwara, Bhopal and other States like those of Mewar, Marwar, Haraoti and Sopur and other States in the South of the Chambal."

ARTICLE 4.

Contains a provision reserving Alampur and Salone to Holkar.

ARTICLE 8.

Contains a provision that the Company should not interfere with Holkar's friendship with Ranjit Singh and the Sikh Khalsa, and other Chiefs in the Punjab.

If however, this document was not presented, or, if presented, was withdrawn and replaced by a copy of the Treaty as negotiated, its only practical interest lies in indicating certain mistakes in the treaty as now printed, vis.—

- (a) In Article 2 “Dase” is a mis-spelling for Dahi or Daee as it was then spelt, cf. the note below on article 5 of No. LIV in the original of which the word is spelt Daee.
- (b) In Article 3, “fort.....of Chanderee” should be “fort..... of Chandore”, and “Senghan” should be “Sheogaon”. Further on in the same article “port” of Chanderee should clearly be, as before “fort” of Chandore.

In Article 8, the words “his own country” are used in this document instead of “Hindustan” in both places where it occurs.

TRANSLATION.

A treaty for the establishment of the foundation of peace and amity between the authorities of the Honourable British Company and Maharaja Jaswant Rao Holkar has been concluded to the following effect:—

Whereas some disagreement and discord recently arose between the Honourable British Company and the aforesaid Maharaja and it is now the desire of both parties to restore mutual harmony and concord, the following articles are concluded through Colonel John Malcolm in accordance with the authority given to him by Nawab Samsam-ud-Daulah Ashja-ul-Mulk Khan-i-Dauran Khan General Lord Lake, Commander-in-Chief, Fateh Jang, who has been invested with authority for this purpose by the Honourable Sir George Hilario Barlow, Governor-General and Administrator of the provinces of India belonging to the Honourable English Company, and through Sheikh Habib Ullah and Bala Ram Seth, invested with powers on the part of Maharaja Jaswant Rao Holkar:—

ARTICLE 1.

The British Government engages to abstain from the prosecution of hostilities against Maharaja Jaswant Rao Holkar and to consider the said Maharaja henceforward as one of the friends of the said Government. Accordingly the said Maharaja agrees on his part to abstain from all measures and proceedings of hostile nature against the Honourable British Company and its friends and allies, and from doing any act which may cause harm or injury to the Honourable British Company or its friends and allies. This article is agreed to by both parties in accordance with the conditions laid down.

ARTICLE 2.

The Honourable Company are masters of the Country and just. Now that relations of friendship have been established and all discord has been removed why should not the places Tonk, Rampur, Bundi Lakheri, Samdhi, Bowangaon, Dai and others, situated to the north of Bundi hills, which have been from times immemorial the ancestral property of the State be given up. Owing to friendship it is fitting that they should be restored.

ARTICLE 3.

The Honourable British Company hereby engages to have no concern with the country which belongs from ancient times to the Holkar family in Malwa Nimar, Khichiwar, Umatwara, Bhopal and in other States such as Mewar, Marwar, Haroti, Supor and States situated to the south of the Chambal, nor to interfere with the affairs of those places. And the said Company also agrees to restore to Maharaja Jaswant Rao Holkar such of the possessions of the Holkar family as are situated in the Deccan south of the river Tapti which are as present in the occupation of the said Company with the exception of the fort and parganah of Chandor, parganah Ambar, parganah Sheogaoan and the parganahs and villages situated to the south of the river Ganga Godavari which will remain in the possession of the said Company. In consideration, however, of the greatness of the family of Holkar an engagement is hereby given that in case relations of union and friendship are maintained by Maharaja Jaswant Rao Holkar and no act is committed by him which may be productive of evil in the territories of the Honourable British Company and its friends and allies, the said country, i.e., the fort and parganah of Chandor, parganahs of Ambar, Sheogaoan and villages situated to the south of the river Ganga Godavari, will at the expiration of eighteen months, be made over to Maharaja Jaswant Rao. These places which are [the Maharaja's] ancestral property from ancient times will now, that friendship and union have been established between the parties and all hostilities have been removed, be restored so that there may be no cause for any dispute. And in Malwa, Khichiwar, Umatwara, Bhopal and other States of Mewar, Marwar, Haroti, Supor, Thaiwah, Dewlia Partabgarh and in the country situated in the Deccan to the south of the river Tapti, the Honourable British Company shall not offer any hindrance or interference.

ARTICLE 4.

The Honourable British Company renounces all claims to the pargana Kunch and the Bundelkhand district. In case relations of union and friendship are maintained intact by the Maharaja towards the Honourable British Company and its friends and allies, the Honourable British Company shall, after the expiry of two years, give the parganah of Kunch in jagir to Bhiman Bai, the worthy daughter of the said Maharaja to be held by her under the Honourable British Company similar to that now enjoyed by Bala Bai. The family of Maharaja Jaswant Rao Holkar represents that the parganahs of Kunch and Alsanpur Saulon have from ancient times belonged to that family and that the chhatra (sic) of the late Maharaja Subedar is also at that place. These should be restored without delay in consideration of their being ancestral property. And as regards the remainder of the Bundelkhand district, the Honourable British Company are at liberty (to do as they please).

A jagir similar to that given to Bala Bai should be granted to Bhiman Bai in Hindustan territory.

ARTICLE 5.

Maharaja Jaswant Rao Holkar hereby engages to renounce all claims of every description on the Honourable British Company and to the territories occupied by the said Company and its friends and allies. This article is agreed to by both parties in accordance with the conditions laid down.

ARTICLE 6.

Maharaja Jaswant Rao Holkar hereby engages never to entertain in his service, Europeans of any description without the consent of the Honourable British Company. It is proper that the British Company should not entertain in their service any of the brothers, friends or servants of this family. If any one should apply to that Company it should have nothing to do with him.

ARTICLE 7.

Maharaja Jaswant Rao Holkar hereby engages that as Sarji Rao Khorkhia has created mischief which has wrought such havoc in the country, and as he has particularly been guilty of unbecoming conduct towards the Honourable British Company who have consequently sent proclamations to their friends proclaiming that perfidious man as their enemy, he shall, in view of these facts, never allow him to enter his territory or admit him into his counsels regarding the affairs of his State or entertain him in his service. This is agreed to in accordance with the writing of the Honourable British Company.

ARTICLE 8.

The British Company engages that in case peace is established and the conditions laid down in the above articles are accepted by Maharaja Jaswant Rao Holkar, the Honourable British Company will permit the said Maharaja to return to his own territory without let or hindrance. And the said Company will not interfere or have anything to do with the affairs of the said Maharaja. It is, however, stipulated that immediately upon the treaty being ratified, the said Maharaja shall proceed by continued marches to his own country by the route which leaves the States of Patiala, Kaithal, Jind, the possessions of the Company and the territory of the Raja of Jaipur on the left, and shall take strict precautions against the territory of the Honourable Company, etc., on his route, being plundered by his troops.

Maharaja Holkar represents that he will take precautions on the road at the time of the return journey, but that he will take revenue (Mu'amla) from Lahore. As the traffic of troops has been by way of Shekhawati, the return journey will be made by that route. It is, however, stipulated that the Honourable British Company shall not in any way molest or injure in the Punjab, etc., Raja Ranjit Singh, Sardars Fateh Singh, Tara Singh, Dewa Singh, Budh Singh, Jodh Singh Ramgarhia, Karam Singh, Mahtab Singh, Jail Singh, Bhogwan Singh, Baghel Singh, Gurdit Singh, Jodh Singh Kalsia, Kutb-ud-din Khan Kasuria, Raja Sansar Chand of Nadaun, Sahib Singh of Gujrat, Mir Ahmad of Jakranwan, the Chief of Kot Maler and others, who have been the Maharaja's friends from ancient times.

ARTICLE 9.

The Honourable British Company engages that it will bring about a reconciliation between the Peshwa and Maharaja Jaswant Rao Holkar between whom some discord has arisen. It is agreed that reconciliation should be speedily effected.

ARTICLE 10.

The Maharaja Holkar represents that the Honourable English Company should cause to be restored to him the goods, saddlery, elephants' trappings and baggage, etc., which were treacherously taken possession of by the Chief of Nagpur. If, however, the said Raja should not return these at the instance of the Honourable Company, the latter should not protect or assist him if the Maharaja takes such steps as he may deem necessary to recover his property.

ARTICLE 11.

Maharaja Jaswant Rao Holkar represents that the Honourable British Company should arrange that the Jagirs enjoyed by officials and Udak servants and others from the Peshwa from old times, should be restored to them. The zemindari rights should be restored to those who have hitherto enjoyed them.

ARTICLE 12.

Maharaja Jaswant Rao Holkar represents that brotherly feeling exists between Daulat Rao Sindhia and Maharaja Jaswant Rao. But owing to interests of the parties in the country and the instigations of certain officials, misunderstandings sometimes arise. In such a case the Honourable British Company should bear in mind that if by any chance some misunderstandings should occur between them, the Company should rest assured that they will themselves settle their differences.

ARTICLE 13.

Whatever territory belongs to this side in India from ancient times shall be restored.

ARTICLE 14.

Maharaja Jaswant Rao Holkar represents that the revenue (Mu'amala) of Jaipur State belongs to him of right from ancient times that he will take it according to ancient practice, and that the Honourable British Company should not interfere in this matter.

ARTICLE 15.

Considering the fact that from the very first day of my friendship with brother Nawab Amir-ud-Daula Muhammad Amir Khan Bahadur, the arrangement was that at the time a treaty is concluded with the Honourable British Company, I shall have the country of Khetar, which belongs to Afghans, released and restored to him, now that no hostility exists between us, and I and brother Amir Khan Bahadur have all become supporters of the Company, it behoves the Honourable British Company to be so considerate as to restore the heritage of the Afghans, so that the persons concerned may receive their rights. The reason is that my said brother is as much a friend of the Honourable Company as he is of mine.

- (2) The railways mentioned in the Schedule to these presents.
- (3) Any other line or lines of railway which shall for the time being during the continuance of this Contract be worked and maintained by the Company as a component part of the Company's railway system, including the Patri Branch, the Rewari-Phalera Chord, and the Palanpur-Deesa Railway, and also any railway worked by the Company which belongs to a Native State.

The expression "net receipts" for any half-year means, as to the Company's undertaking, such moneys as in accordance with clause 6 of the Indenture of the 1st of February 1901 mentioned in the said Schedule would be applicable as net receipts of the Bombay and Baroda Railway for the time being under clause 18 of the said Indenture of the 2nd of February 1859 or any modification thereof in force immediately before the 31st of December 1905; and the said expression means as to the railways mentioned in the first part of the Schedule hereto, together with the Rewari-Phalera

Chord and the Palanpur-Deesa Railway, the receipts of the said railways for such half-year after deducting working expenses, as mentioned in the 7th clause of the said Indenture of the 1st of February 1901, and also deducting the sums mentioned in sub-clauses (1) and (2) of such 7th clause, and all other charges, if any, to revenue account (not being working expenses) properly attributable to that half-year, and the said expression means as to each of the railways mentioned in the second part of the said Schedule, the gross earnings of such railway for the half-year less the working expenses thereof for the half-year, as calculated under clause 5 (5) of the said Contract of 1st February 1901, and less all other charges, if any, to revenue account (not being working expenses) properly attributable to such half-year.

And the said expression means as to every other railway included in the Company's railway system the gross earnings of such railway for the half-year less all expenses which are treated under the Contracts affecting the same respectively as working expenses thereof for the half-year, and less all other charges, if any, to revenue account (not being working expenses) properly attributable to such half-year.

The expression "gross earnings" means and includes all sums which have heretofore been treated as gross earnings of the undertaking or railway in question in the accounts relating thereto kept by the Company, and does not include any sums payable to any railway by way of rebate in respect of traffic interchanged between such railway and any other part of the Company's railway system.

PART I.

2. The Secretary of State under the powers of the East India Loans (Railways) Act, 1905, shall create and issue to the Company on the 31st of December 1905, 3 per cent. India Stock to the amount of 10,089,146*l.* 8*s.* 5*d.* in satisfaction of 9,685,580*l.* 11*s.* 3*d.* part of the said purchase money of 11,685,580*l.* 11*s.* 3*d.* being 100*l.* of such stock for every 96*l.* of the purchase money so satisfied. The said stock shall carry interest payable by equal quarterly payments on the 5th of January, the 5th of April, the 5th of July, and the 5th of October, the first quarterly dividend to be paid on the 5th of April 1906, in respect of the period commencing on the 5th of January 1906, and the interest for the five days from the 1st of January to the 5th of January 1906 shall be paid to the Company separately, and the said stock shall be accepted by the Company in satisfaction of the said sum of 9,685,580*l.* 11*s.* 3*d.* part of the said purchase price, and the residue of the said purchase price of 11,685,580*l.* 11*s.* 3*d.* shall be paid or satisfied as herein-after mentioned.

3. The Company's undertaking (herein-after referred to as "the undertaking") and the engines, carriages, stock, plant, and machinery belonging thereto, and all plans, surveys, sections, books, printings, drawings and writings, and documents whatsoever in any way connected with the undertaking, and also all rolling stock, plant, stores, and things, if any, belonging to the Company in use for or pertaining to the Patri Branch, and also the rolling stock respecting which provision is made by clause 6 of the Contract of the 5th of October 1893, and the application thereof by the said Contract of the 1st of October 1897 to the last-mentioned Contract, shall, as from the 31st of December 1905, belong to the Secretary of State, and the Company shall execute and do and procure to be executed and done by all necessary persons all instruments and things which may be required to vest the same in the Secretary of State or such person or persons as he shall require. And in case any lands or premises in Great Britain are then held by the Company for the purpose of their business, the same shall be thenceforth held by them in trust for the Secretary of State, and to be disposed of as he shall direct, and until he shall so direct shall not be sold as provided by the 22nd clause of the said Indenture of the 2nd of February 1859, and as from the said 31st of December 1905 all interest payable by the Secretary of State to the Company, or in respect of their existing capital, or under any of the said Indentures of the 2nd of February 1859, the 21st of November 1855, the 1st of February 1859, and the 17th of November 1871, shall cease.

4. The Company shall, on a date to be named by the Secretary of State, pay over to him any moneys in their hands representing unclaimed guaranteed interest and dividends on and in respect of the shares and stock of the Company, and unclaimed interest on debentures, and unclaimed portions of any moneys advanced by the Secretary of State to the Company for the repayment of principal sums secured by any debentures of the Company, and thereupon the Secretary of State shall be bound to indemnify the Company against all claims to the moneys so paid over.

PART II.

5. During the continuance of Part II of this Contract the Company shall maintain, manage, and work the Company's railway system on the terms herein-after mentioned, and for that purpose shall, from and after the 31st of December 1905 until Part II shall cease to be in operation, retain possession of the railways, works and premises constituting the undertaking, and the rolling stock, plant, machinery, and appliances belonging thereto or then used for the purposes thereof, and the Company shall also be entitled to hold and receive all stores in hand or in course of delivery for the purposes of the undertaking.

6. As soon as may be reasonably possible an inventory of the undertaking and an inventory and valuation of the rolling stock, plant, and machinery belonging thereto, as on the 31st of December 1905, shall be made and signed by or on behalf of the Secretary of State and the Company, the valuation being based on the sums outstanding on that day on the Company's capital account.

7. During the period aforesaid the Company shall, save as herein expressed, maintain, manage and work the undertaking and every part thereof in the same manner as the same was maintained and worked by them immediately before the 31st of December 1905, and shall observe and perform in relation thereto all the duties and obligations imposed upon the Company by the Contracts affecting the same in force before that date.

8. The Company shall, in the management of the Company's undertaking, and with regard thereto, comply with and conform and give effect to the provisions contained in clauses 8, 10, 11, 13, 19, and 28 of the said Indenture of the 2nd of February 1859 and clause 8 of the said Indenture of the 17th of November 1871, so far as such provisions are not inconsistent with any of the terms herein expressed.

9. The several Contracts mentioned in the Schedule hereunder written, and in force immediately before the 31st of December 1905, shall, save as herein provided and notwithstanding the provisions of clause 64 of the Contract of 24th September 1884, clause 27 of the Contract of 30th October 1896, clauses 2 and 3 of the Contract of 1st February 1901, and clause 26 of the Contract of 18th July 1902, continue in force as from the 31st of December 1905 until determined in pursuance of any of the provisions thereof respectively other than the above-mentioned respective clauses, or until the provisions of Part II of these presents shall be determined.

10. Sub-clauses (3) and (4) of clause 7 of the said Contract of 1st February 1901 shall cease to have effect. Clauses 4, 5, and 6 of the Contract of the 5th of October 1893, and the application thereof by the Contract of the 1st of October 1897 to the last-mentioned Contract, shall cease to have effect. The Company shall, during the continuance of Part II of these presents retain possession for the purposes of these presents of the rolling stock referred to in the said clause 6 and application thereof.

11. The Patri Branch, the Rewari-Phalera Chord, and the Palanpur-Deesa Railway shall continue to be worked by the Company as at present.

12. The net receipts of the undertaking for every half-year shall belong to the Secretary of State.

13. All moneys which the Company shall, with the sanction of the Secretary of State, require for the purposes of Part II of these presents shall be supplied to the Company by the Secretary of State, according to such arrangements as shall from time to time be made between the Secretary of State and the Company.

14. The Secretary of State shall, so long as the provisions of Part II of these presents shall continue in force, pay to the Company in London half-yearly, on the 1st July and 1st January, a sum equal to interest at the rate of 3 per cent. per annum on the sum of 2,000,000*l.*, and also, as soon as may be after the accounts of the Company's system for each year shall be completed, pay to the Company, if this part of these presents shall have continued in operation during the whole of such year, a certain proportion as hereinafter expressed of the amount, if any, by which the aggregate net receipts of the Company's railway system for the two half-years comprised in such year shall exceed the aggregate of the following, namely, (a) 215 lakhs, and (b) the amount of interest accrued due in such year on further capital, if any, which shall for the time being have been provided by the Company with the sanction of the Secretary of State, or by the Secretary of State, for the purposes of the Company's railway system beyond the said sum of 2,000,000*l*.

The said proportion shall be as follows, that is to say: if such excess shall not exceed ₹15,00,000, then one-tenth part of such excess; if such excess shall exceed ₹15,00,000, but not exceed ₹30,00,000, then one-tenth of the first ₹15,00,000 of such excess, and one-fifteenth part of the residue of such excess; and if such excess shall exceed ₹30,00,000, then one-tenth of the first ₹15,00,000 of such excess, and one-fifteenth of the next ₹15,00,000, and one-twentieth part of the residue of such excess.

15. If Part II of this Contract shall be determined at any other date than on the 31st of December in any year, then the Secretary of State shall, as soon as may be after the accounts of the Company's railway system for the portion of the year elapsed before the date of such determination shall have been settled, pay to the Company a proportion of the amount, if any, by which the net receipts of the Company's railway system for such portion of a year shall exceed the aggregate of the following amounts, namely:—

(a) An apportioned part of 215 lakhs in the ratio which the said portion of a year shall bear to a full year.

(b) The amount of interest accrued due in respect of the said portion of a year on any further capital, if any, which shall for the time being have been provided by the Company with the sanction of the Secretary of State, or by the Secretary of State, for the purposes of the Company's railway system beyond the said sum of 2,000,000*l*.

The said proportion shall be as follows, that is to say: If such excess shall not exceed a sum bearing the same proportion to ₹15,00,000 as the length of the said portion of a year shall bear to a full year (which sum is hereinafter called the first sum) then one-tenth part of such excess; if such excess shall exceed the first sum but shall not exceed a sum bearing the same proportion to ₹30,00,000 as the said portion of a year bears to a full year (which sum is hereinafter referred to as the second sum) then one-tenth of the amount of the first sum and one-fifteenth part of the residue of such excess, and if such excess shall exceed the second sum, then one-tenth of the amount of the first sum and one-fifteenth of the amount of the difference between the second sum and the first sum and one-twentieth part of the residue of such excess.

16. The sums so to be paid by the Secretary of State to the Company as aforesaid shall be accepted by them in and as full satisfaction and remuneration for the performance by the Company of all the duties and obligations undertaken by them under Part II of this Contract with reference to the Company's railway system. Provided always, that in substitution for the remuneration provided by clauses 14 and 15 hereof, the parties may, in any further Contract to be entered into by them for the working of the Company's system, agree upon any other scale or basis of remuneration to the Company for their services under Part II of this present Contract, or any of such services, for the whole or any part of the period of such services, and any further amounts which ought under such future agreement to be paid or allowed to the Company by the Secretary of State, and any recoupment which ought thereunder to be made by the Company to the Secretary of State, shall be paid, allowed, made, and adjusted after such agreement shall have come into operation or as shall be thereby provided.

17. The Company shall, so long as the provisions of Part II of these presents shall continue in force, keep all accounts relating to the Company's railway system, and every part thereof, and all lines worked by the Company, in accordance with the present practice and the several Contracts now in force relating thereto.

18. The foregoing provisions of Part II of this Contract shall continue in force until a further contract between the parties for the working of the Company's system by the Company, on behalf of the Secretary of State, shall come into operation (all necessary powers for that purpose having been previously obtained by the Company from Parliament), or until the determination of the said Part II by three calendar months' notice, expiring on or after the 1st of April 1907, as hereinafter provided.

PART III.

19. Upon a contract being entered into by the Company and the Secretary of State for the working by the Company of the Company's railway system for a further term of years, determinable as may be agreed, and upon such conditions as shall be agreed, the Company shall issue new capital stock to the amount of 2,000,000*l.* and shall allot the same as fully paid up to shareholders of the Company in satisfaction of an equal nominal amount to which they would be entitled of the said purchase money of 11,685,580*l.* 11*s.* 3*d.* and the Secretary of State shall guarantee payment to the Company during such term of the amount of interest on the said new capital stock at the rate of 3 per cent. per annum, and of such remuneration by way of share of earnings or otherwise as shall be agreed, and in consideration of such guarantee and of the premises the Secretary of State shall be discharged and released by the Company from payment of the 2,000,000*l.* balance of the said purchase price remaining after the issue of India stock mentioned in clause 2 of these presents.

20. If such new Contract as aforesaid shall not have been entered into on or before the 31st of December 1906, either of the said parties hereto shall be at liberty, by giving three calendar months' notice in writing, expiring on or at any time after the 1st of April 1907, to determine Part II of this Contract, whereupon the Secretary of State shall pay to the Company in cash the said sum of 2,000,000*l.*, and the Company shall give to the Secretary of State possession of the Company's undertakings with the rolling stock, plant, machinery, and appliances belonging thereto, or then used for the purposes thereof, and all stores in hand or in course of delivery, and all plans, books, surveys, sections, printings, writings and documents whatsoever connected with the undertaking, and all other property, if any, in the Company's possession or power belonging or appertaining thereto, and all other matters of which the Company shall have retained possession under clauses 5 and 10 of these presents, and shall pay to him all moneys in their possession on account of the undertaking, and after such possession shall have been given, and after all moneys which, under this Contract, shall have become payable to the Secretary of State shall have been duly paid, the Secretary of State shall be bound to indemnify the Company, their property, and effects against all such debts and liabilities (if any) as they may have incurred with the sanction of the Secretary of State, and which shall be then subsisting.

21. Upon and after the determination of Part II of this Contract under the last preceding clause hereof, the provisions of clause 66 of the Contract of 24th September 1884 shall have effect with regard to that Contract and the subject matter thereof, and also the several State railways mentioned in the first part of the Schedule hereto, and the Contracts relating thereto respectively, as if the Contract of 24th September 1884 had been determined as mentioned in the said clause 66 thereof, and the Company shall also, if required, give up to the Secretary of State possession of all or any other lines worked by the Company on behalf of the Secretary of State, with the rolling stock, plant, machinery, stores, documents, and property belonging or appertaining thereto, and pay to him all moneys in the Company's possession on account thereof, and shall thereupon be indemnified by the Secretary of State against all debts and liabilities, if any, incurred by the Company with his sanction in relation thereto which shall be then subsisting.

22. During the continuance of Part II of this Contract, or after the determination thereof, the Secretary of State shall not be required to pay to the Company any part of the said sum of 2,000,000*l.* balance of the said purchase money or to issue any India stock in respect thereof, or to pay any interest in respect thereof except as provided by these presents or by such new Contract as aforesaid.

23. In case any dispute, question, or controversy shall at any time arise between the Secretary of State and the Company touching these presents, or any clause or thing herein contained, and the construction hereof, or the rights, duties, and liabilities of either party in relation to the premises, then and in every such case the matter in difference shall be referred to two arbitrators, one to be appointed by each party, pursuant to and so as with regard to the mode and consequences of the reference and in all other respects to conform to the provisions in that behalf contained in the Arbitration Act, 1889, or any subsisting statutory modification thereof.
